SUPERINTENDENCIA
VALORES Y SEGUROS

SVS INAUGURATES ENGLISH VERSION OF ITS WEBSITE

Today the Superintendencia de Valores y Seguros (SVS) inaugurated the English version of its website, which is a replica of the current SVS webpage, in order to make it easier for its English-speaking public to navigate, access and understand the content of the site.

The site, which can be accessed through the  icon, located at the top of the page, will allow the English-speaking public to find information about the SVS as well as the entities and markets under its supervision, in addition to gaining access to statistical, educational and legal information, among others.

The site has been completely translated and allows for full navigation of pages related to investor and policyholder education and institutional information about the SVS.

You can also find translated versions of Decree Law N° 3,538 (Organic Law of the SVS), Law N° 18,045 on Corporations, and Law N° 18,046 on the Securities Market, as well as updated information about the IFRS adoption process.

The SVS Chairman, Guillermo Larraín, has indicated that, since one of the goals set by the SVS is to improve access to information, “we are very satisfied to be able to make this type of contribution, since in a “globalized” world it is essential that we facilitate access to our site for the English-speaking public. This benefits both the SVS and the markets and entities that we regulate”.

He highlighted that this initiative goes along with another carried out at the beginning of the year, when this entity inaugurated a handicapped section of its website, “since they both point the same direction: to extend to the public greater access to the securities and insurance markets supervised by the SVS”.
