CMF amends regulation on knowledge accreditation

May 8, 2020 – The Financial Market Commission (CMF) published an amendment to General Rule No. 412 to incorporate commodity brokers as parties subject to accreditation. Furthermore, considering the impact of the sanitary situation due to the Covid-19, certain requirements of said General Rule are eased to postpone or modify their compliance.

To access the details of the new regulation, you can visit the Rules and Norms section of the CMF website. In addition, the Commission also makes available to interested parties a Frequently Asked Questions document and a Presentation summarizing the core elements of this amendment.
