

CMF launches new institutional website

June 22, 2026 — The Financial Market Commission (CMF) announces that its new institutional website, www.cmfchile.cl, is now available.

The new website improves navigation and content presentation through easier-to-use menus and highlighted shortcuts for its two main audiences: Services for Citizens and Services for Supervised Parties. It also includes significant usability, accessibility, and site structure improvements — such as search engines, procedure categorization and content order — to facilitate access to all available information.

We invite you to visit the new Financial Market Commission website and participate in the content evaluation survey available on the homepage.
