

CMF launches BEST+, its new platform to access Chilean financial market statistics

BEST+ improves the query experience by introducing search, exploration, and visualization tools, incorporating integrated methodological information to contents, and enabling automated access to data through APIs.

August 12, 2026 — The Financial Market Commission (CMF) announces the launch of BEST+, the new version of its Time Series Statistical Platform, to facilitates queries, visualization, and reuse of Chilean financial market information.

This initiative is part of the CMF's effort to modernize its means of statistical dissemination to offer a more agile, transparent, and efficient access to published information. It also promotes its use by citizens, researchers, supervised entities, and other specialized users.

The platform offers simpler, more intuitive browsing; better search and filtering tools; interactive visualizations; and methodological information incorporated into queries of statistical series. It also includes new automated access capabilities through APIs, thus facilitating its integration with analytical systems, tools, and applications.

The CMF invites users to get acquainted with the new BEST+ platform and its key functions on <https://best.cmfchile.cl/> through the Start, Series, Data and Visualization, API, and Search sections.
