CMF updates, simplifies regulatory references on Simplified Sanctioning Procedure

The amendment to General Rule No. 426 updates references to regulations that were either replaced or repealed.

November 16, 2026 — The Financial Market Commission (CMF) issued today an amendment to General Rule No. 426, which determines lesser-degree infractions to be subject to a Simplified Sanctioning Procedure. This amendment updates references to regulations that were either replaced or repealed and does not alter infractions subject to said Procedure.

This regulation aims to give certainty to supervised parties about the infractions subject to a Simplified Sanctioning Procedure.

Details of the regulation are available on the CMF website.
