You acknowledge that:

- you have been afforded an opportunity to request from us, and to review, all additional information considered by you to be necessary to verify the accuracy of, or to supplement, the information contained in this offering memorandum;

- you have not relied on the initial purchasers or any person affiliated with the initial purchasers in connection with your investigation of the accuracy of such information or your investment decision;
- you have made your own assessment concerning the relevant tax, legal, currency and other considerations relevant to investment in the notes;
- you have sufficient knowledge and experience to be capable of evaluating the merits and risks of a prospective investment in the notes; and
- no person has been authorized to give any information or to make any representation concerning us or the notes, other than as contained in this offering memorandum and, if given or made, any such other information or representation should not be relied upon as having been authorized by us or the initial purchasers.

This offering memorandum is for distribution only to and is directed only at (i) persons who are outside the United Kingdom or (ii) investment professionals falling within Article 19(5) of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (Financial Promotion) Order 2005 (the “Order”) or (iii) high net worth companies and other persons to whom it may lawfully be communicated, falling within Article 49(2)(a) to (d) of the Order (all such persons together being referred to as “relevant persons”). The notes are only available to, and any invitation, offer or agreement to subscribe, purchase or otherwise acquire such notes will be engaged in only with relevant persons. Any person who is not a relevant person should not act or rely on this offering memorandum or any of its contents.

The notes are not intended to be offered, sold, or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area (“EEA”). For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, “MiFID II”); (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97 (as amended, the “Insurance Distribution Directive”), where the customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (as amended, the “Prospectus Regulation”); and the expression of an “offer” includes the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the notes to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe for the notes. Consequently, no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended, the “PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling the notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA, has been prepared and therefore the offering or selling of the notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

The notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the UK. For these purposes, a “retail investor” means a person who is one (or more) of the following: (i) a “retail client” as defined in point (8) of Article 2 of Regulation (EU) No 2017/565 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 (“EUWA”); (ii) a customer within the meaning of the provisions of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (the “FSMA”) and any rules or regulations made under the FSMA to implement Directive (EU) 2016/97, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA; or (iii) not a “qualified investor” as defined in the Article 2 of Prospectus Regulation as it forms a part of UK domestic law by virtue of the EUWA. Consequently, no key information document required by the PRIIPs Regulation as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (the “UK PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling the securities or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the UK has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the securities or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the UK may be unlawful under the UK PRIIPs Regulation.

See “Risk Factors” beginning on page 20 for a description of certain risks you should consider before investing in the notes.

NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This offering memorandum contains forward-looking statements. We may from time to time make forward-looking statements in (i) our annual report; (ii) prospectuses, press releases and other written materials; or (iii) oral statements made by our officers, directors or employees to analysts, institutional investors, representatives of the media and others. Examples of these forward-looking statements include:

- projections of revenues, profit (loss), capital expenditures, dividends, capital structure or other financial items or ratios;
- statements of our plans, objectives or goals, including those relating to anticipated trends, competition, regulation and rates;
- statements about our future economic performance or that of Chile or other countries in which we have investments; and
- statements of assumptions underlying these statements.

Words such as “believe,” “could,” “may,” “will,” “anticipate,” “plan,” “expect,” “intend,” “target,” “estimate,” “project,” “potential,” “guideline,” “should” and similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements, but are not the exclusive means of identifying these statements.

Forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties. We caution you that a number of important factors could cause actual results to differ materially from the plans, objectives, expectations, estimates and intentions expressed in these forward-looking statements. These factors, some of which are discussed under “Risk Factors,” include economic and political conditions and government policies in Chile or elsewhere, inflation rates, exchange rates, regulatory developments and changes in Chilean law, customer demand, competition, unanticipated mining and production problems, commodity prices, relations with employees and contractors, variances in ore grade, adverse weather conditions, natural disasters and the outbreak of coronavirus (“COVID-19”) and its potential impact on our business. We caution you that the foregoing list of factors is not exclusive and that other risks and uncertainties may cause actual results to differ materially from those in forward-looking statements.

You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements which reflect our views only as of the date they are made, and we do not undertake any obligation to update them or publicly to release the result of any revisions to these forward-looking statements in light of new information or future developments after the date of this offering memorandum.

By their nature, forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks and uncertainties because they relate to events and depend on circumstances that may or may not occur in the future. Forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance.

New risk factors emerge from time to time, and it is not possible for us to predict all such risk factors. We cannot assess the impact of all risk factors on our business or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statements. Given these risks and uncertainties, you should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements as a prediction of actual results.

ENFORCEABILITY OF CIVIL LIABILITIES

CODELCO is a state-owned enterprise organized under the laws of Chile. All of its directors and executive officers and certain experts named in this offering memorandum reside outside the United States (principally in Chile), and all or a substantial portion of the assets of CODELCO and of such persons are located outside the United States. As a result, it may not be possible for investors to effect service of process within the United States on, or bring actions or enforce foreign judgments against, CODELCO or such persons in U.S. courts. In addition, CODELCO has been advised by its Chilean counsel, Carey y Cía. Ltda., that no treaty exists between the United States and Chile for the reciprocal enforcement of foreign judgments. There is also doubt as to the enforceability in Chilean courts of judgments of U.S. courts obtained in actions predicated upon the civil liability provisions of U.S. federal securities laws. Chilean courts, however, have enforced judgments rendered in the United States by virtue of the legal principles of reciprocity and comity, subject to the review in Chile of the U.S. judgment in order to ascertain whether certain basic principles of due process and public policy have been respected, without reviewing the merits of the subject matter of the case. If a U.S. court grants a final judgment for the payment of money, enforceability of this judgment in Chile will be subject to obtaining the relevant exequatur (i.e., recognition of enforceability of the foreign judgment) in a proceeding before the Chilean Supreme Court, according to Chilean civil procedure law in effect at that time and satisfying certain legal requirements. Currently, the most important of these requirements are (except when a treaty between the United States and Chile exists for the reciprocal enforcement of foreign judgments):

- the judgment will be enforced if there is reciprocity, as to the enforcement of judgments (i.e., the relevant U.S. court would enforce a judgment of a Chilean court under comparable circumstances). If reciprocity cannot be proven, the foreign judgment will not be enforced in Chile;
- if reciprocity cannot be proven, the foreign judgment will be enforced, nonetheless, if: (i) it does not contain anything contrary to Chilean law, notwithstanding the differences in procedural rules; (ii) it is not contrary to Chilean jurisdiction and public policy; (iii) it has been duly served, although the defendant may prove that, for other reasons, he or she was prevented from using a defect in service of process as a defense; and (iv) it is final under the laws of the country where the judgment or arbitral award, as the case may be, was rendered. With respect to service of process, the Chilean Supreme Court has decided that, to determine that process was duly served, service should be considered valid in the jurisdiction where the case was decided and it can be proven that the defendant had actual knowledge of the suit; and
- in any event, the foreign judgment must not be contrary to the public policy of Chile or Chilean jurisdiction and must not affect in any way any property located in Chile, which, as a matter of Chilean law, are exclusively subject to the jurisdiction of Chilean courts.

If the exequatur is granted, then the judgment may be enforced by a lower court through a collection proceeding under Chilean civil procedure law.

In addition, it may be necessary for investors to comply with certain procedures, including evidence of timely payment of the stamp taxes (currently at a rate of 0.066% per month or fraction thereof elapsed between the issuance and the maturity of the notes, calculated over the principal amount of the notes, with a maximum 0.8% over the principal amount, which would be the stamp tax rate applicable to this case to be paid by CODELCO), to file a lawsuit concerning the Notes in a Chilean court.

Also, foreign judgments specifically related to properties located in Chile, including the attachment of liens on such properties, could be considered to violate Chilean law because such properties are exclusively subject to Chilean law and to the jurisdiction of Chilean courts.

Lastly, CODELCO has been advised by Carey y Cía. Ltda. that there is doubt as to the enforceability in original actions in Chilean courts of liabilities predicated solely upon U.S. federal securities laws.

The notes, the indenture and the purchase agreement will provide that CODELCO will appoint Cogency Global Inc. in New York City as its agent upon whom process may be served in any action arising out of or based upon, respectively, the notes, the indenture, the purchase agreement or the transactions contemplated thereby, which may be instituted in any federal or state court having “subject matter” jurisdiction. See “Description of Notes.”

Pursuant to the Chilean Mining Code, mining concessions as well as certain raw materials and other property or assets permanently dedicated to the exploration or extraction of minerals cannot be subject to an order of attachment, except with respect to mortgages, in the case that the debtor consents to the attachment in the same enforcement proceeding or when the debtor is a stock corporation. In addition, pursuant to the Chilean constitution (the “Constitution”), mining concessions corresponding to mining deposits exploited by CODELCO upon its creation in 1976 cannot be subject to attachment nor to any act of disposition by CODELCO. As a result, the rights of holders to attach property of CODELCO in the event of a default under the notes would be limited by such provisions. See “Regulatory Framework—Mining Regulations.”

CODELCO, as an issuer of publicly traded securities in Chile, is required by Circular No. 368 (Oficio Circular No. 368) of October 2006, as amended, of the Chilean Market Commission (Comisión para el Mercado Financiero, the Chilean securities authority, or “CMF”) to prepare and report consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRS Accounting Standards (“IFRS”) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”).

The audited consolidated financial statements as of and for the years ended December 31, 2021 and 2022 and the audited consolidated financial statements as of and for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2023 included herein are referred to as the “2021-2022 Consolidated Financial Statements” and the “2022-2023 Consolidated Financial Statements”, respectively. The 2021-2022 Consolidated Financial Statements and the 2022-2023 Consolidated Financial Statements (together, the “Audited Annual Consolidated Financial Statements”) are presented in accordance with IFRS issued by the IASB.

The unaudited interim consolidated financial statements as of September 30, 2024 and for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2023 and 2024 included herein (the “Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements”) are presented in accordance with IAS 34 “Interim Financial Reporting.” The Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements and the Audited Annual Consolidated Financial Statements are referred to together as the “Consolidated Financial Statements.”

The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements are consistent with those applied in the preparation of the Audited Annual Consolidated Financial Statements.

Unless otherwise indicated, the Consolidated Financial Statements and other financial information concerning CODELCO included herein are presented in U.S. dollars in conformity with Decree Law No. 1,350 of 1976 (“Decree Law No. 1,350”), published in the Diario Oficial de la República de Chile (“Official Gazette”) on February 28, 1976, as amended by Law No. 20,392 (“Law 20,392”) published in the Official Gazette on November 14, 2009, and for periods after January 1, 2009, in accordance with IFRS. Decree Law No. 1,350 is the Chilean law pursuant to which CODELCO was created and which provides for its governance.

Because the notes offered hereby have not been and will not be registered with the SEC, this offering memorandum does not and is not required to comply with the applicable requirements of the Securities Act, and the related rules and regulations adopted by the SEC, which would apply if the notes offered hereby were being registered with the SEC.

The U.S. dollar is the currency used in the primary economic environment in which CODELCO operates. Nevertheless, as an international company operating primarily in Chile, as well as in several other Latin American countries, several European countries and China, a portion of CODELCO’s business is transacted in Chilean pesos and other non-dollar currencies.

The body of generally accepted accounting principles is commonly referred to as “GAAP.” A non-GAAP financial measure is generally defined by the SEC as one that purports to measure historical or future financial performance, financial position or cash flows but: (i) excludes amounts, or is subject to adjustments that have the effect of excluding amounts, that are included in the most directly comparable measure calculated and presented in accordance with GAAP in the issuer’s statement of income, balance sheet or statement of cash flows (or equivalent statements); or (ii) includes amounts, or is subject to adjustments that have the effect of including amounts, that are excluded from the most directly comparable measure so calculated and presented.

In this offering memorandum, CODELCO discloses several non-GAAP financial measures, including “Adjusted EBIT,” “Adjusted EBITDA,” “cash cost,” “total costs and expenses” and “financial debt.” Adjusted EBIT is calculated by adding finance cost, impairment charges and income tax expense to profit (loss) for the period. Adjusted EBITDA is calculated by adding finance cost, income tax expense, depreciation and amortization of assets plus export taxes and impairment charges to profit (loss) for the period. Impairments include charges and reversals related to charges of investment projects, research projects and investment in associates and joint ventures and exclude impairment charges related to definite-lived tangible assets which show indicators of impairment under International Accounting Standard No. 36. Cash cost is calculated in accordance with the methodology specified by Brook Hunt & Associates for the determination of C1 cost (cash cost) and includes all direct cash costs of mining, including costs associated with extraction, leaching, smelting and further processing of copper ores into refined metal, as well as labor, electricity, diesel, finance costs, third-party services, other costs, transportation and physical plant costs associated with those processes, net of income from sales of byproducts. Cash cost is presented as a nominal dollar amount, usually expressed as cents per pound, and excludes provisions, amortization, depreciation and central office costs. Total cost and expenses includes all cost and expenses that the cash cost calculation includes, plus other non-cash direct expenses such as depreciation expenses, among others. Financial debt is calculated as loans from financial institutions plus bonds issued. Total debt to capitalization includes total financial debt divided by total financial debt plus total equity.

Adjusted EBIT and Adjusted EBITDA data are included in this offering memorandum because such data are used by investors to assess: (i) the operating trends and financial performance of the Company and (ii) the ability of the Company to (a) service its existing debt, (b) incur new debt and (c) fund its capital expenditures.

CODELCO believes that Adjusted EBIT and Adjusted EBITDA, while providing useful information, should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for profit for the period as an indicator of operating performance or as an alternative to cash flow as a measure of liquidity. Adjusted EBIT and Adjusted EBITDA are not measures of financial performance in accordance with IFRS. Additionally, CODELCO’s calculation of Adjusted EBIT and Adjusted EBITDA may differ from the calculation used by other companies and, therefore, comparability may be affected.

Cash cost is disclosed in this offering memorandum because it is a widely used measure of costs in the mining industry. CODELCO believes that cash cost, while providing useful information, should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for cost of sales, cost of selling and administrative expenses or as an indicator of costs. Cash cost is not a measure of financial performance in accordance with IFRS.

CODELCO also presents certain ratios and margins that are derived using Adjusted EBITDA, including the ratio of debt to Adjusted EBITDA, the Adjusted EBITDA coverage ratio and earnings to fixed charges (adjusted). CODELCO believes that these ratios are widely used by investors to measure our performance. In the section titled “Summary Consolidated Financial Data,” CODELCO provides a reconciliation of Adjusted EBIT and Adjusted EBITDA to profit, along with the ratio of debt to Adjusted EBITDA, Adjusted EBITDA coverage ratios and ratio of earnings to fixed charges (adjusted), for the relevant periods.

These non-GAAP financial measures may not be comparable to similarly titled measures of other companies. The assumptions underlying the non-GAAP financial measures have not been audited in accordance with International Standards on Auditing or any other generally accepted auditing standards.

In evaluating the non-GAAP financial measures, investors should carefully consider the financial statements of the Company included in this offering memorandum. Although certain of this data has been extracted or derived from the financial statements included in this offering memorandum, this data has not been audited or reviewed by the independent auditors.

Under the accounting policies adopted by CODELCO, gross profit is calculated before the provision for a 10% special export tax. Under Law No. 21,174 of 2019, as amended, that repealed Law No.13,196 of 1958 (the “Copper Reserve Law”), CODELCO is required to pay a special export tax on the sales revenues that CODELCO derives from the export of copper sourced and related byproducts produced by CODELCO. In addition, CODELCO is subject to the new mining royalty tax under Law 21,591 (the “Mining Royalty Law”), which generally comprises an Ad Valorem component which applies a tax rate of 1% on annual copper sales, and a mining margin component which applies a progressive tax rate (i.e., 8%-26%) on the adjusted taxable mining operating margin. In addition, a maximum potential tax burden of 46.5% is established on the mining entity’s operating profitability, measured as the adjusted pre-taxable mining operating income. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO’s Relationship with the Government of Chile—CODELCO is subject to special taxes” for additional information on these special taxes, including the mining tax rate effective for 2020, 2021, 2022 and 2023. Certain figures included in this offering memorandum and in the Consolidated Financial Statements have been rounded for ease of presentation. Percentage figures included in this offering memorandum have in some cases been calculated on the basis of such figures prior to rounding. For this reason, certain percentage amounts in this offering memorandum may vary from those obtained by performing the same calculations using the figures in the Consolidated Financial Statements. Certain other amounts that appear in this offering memorandum may not sum due to rounding.

The Observed Exchange Rate (as defined herein under “Exchange Rates”) reported by the Central Bank of Chile (i) as of January 4, 2021 was Ch$710.95 = U.S.$1.00; (ii) as of January 3, 2022 was Ch$844.69 = U.S.$1.00; (iii) as of January 3, 2023 was Ch$855.86 = U.S.$1.00; (iv) as of October 3, 2023 was Ch$902.26 = U.S.$1.00; (v) as of January 2, 2024 was Ch$877.12 = U.S.$1.00; and (vi) as of October 1, 2024 was Ch$897.68 = U.S.$1.00. This offering memorandum contains translations of certain Chilean peso amounts into dollars at specified rates solely for the convenience of the reader. These translations should not be construed as representations that the Chilean peso amounts actually represent such dollar amounts or could, at this time, be converted into dollars at the rate indicated. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York does not report a noon buying rate for Chilean pesos. Unless otherwise indicated, such dollar amounts have been converted from Chilean pesos at an exchange rate of Ch$877.12 per U.S.$1.00, which corresponds to the Observed Exchange Rate on January 2, 2024. As of January 8, 2025, the Observed Exchange Rate was Ch$1,005.85 per U.S.$1.00. See “Exchange Rates.”

In this offering memorandum, all tonnage information is expressed in metric tons and all references to ounces are to troy ounces, in each case, unless otherwise specified. Except where otherwise noted, tonnage information in this offering memorandum does not include: (i) CODELCO’s 49.0% direct share of the El Abra deposit, which is mined by Sociedad Contractual Minera El Abra and 51.0% owned by Cyprus El Abra Corporation, a subsidiary of Freeport-McMoRan Inc., (ii) CODELCO’s 20.0% share of Anglo American Sur S.A. (“Anglo American Sur”), or (iii) CODELCO’s 10% share of Compañía Minera Teck Quebrada Blanca S.A. deposit, which is mined by Teck Resources Ltd. (“Teck Resources”), Sumitomo Metal Mining Co., Ltd. (“Sumitomo Metal Mining”) and Sumitomo Corporation (“Sumitomo Corporation”), unless otherwise specified. See “Business and Properties—Copper Production—Associations, Joint Ventures and Partnerships—SCM El Abra”, “—Anglo American Sur”, and “—Compañía Minera Teck Quebrada Blanca S.A.” for a description of these interests. Certain terms relating to the copper mining business are defined in “Glossary of Certain Mining Terms.”

Market information regarding CODELCO’s share of copper production and relative cost position has been derived by CODELCO from third-party sources, including reports from Brook Hunt & Associates, and from CODELCO’s own industry research. Brook Hunt & Associates publishes periodic reports containing global copper production data and cost analysis by mine site. SUMMARY

This summary must be read as an introduction to this offering memorandum and any decision to invest in the notes should be based on a consideration of the offering memorandum as a whole.

The following summary is qualified in its entirety by the more detailed information and financial statements appearing elsewhere in this offering memorandum. Except as otherwise disclosed herein or indicated, financial information with respect to CODELCO provided in this offering memorandum has been presented in U.S. dollars and prepared in accordance with IFRS.

CODELCO is the world's largest copper producer and one of the largest companies in Chile in terms of revenues (U.S.$16.4 billion in 2023). As of December 31, 2023, CODELCO's total assets were U.S.$46.9 billion and equity amounted to U.S.$11.0 billion. As of September 30, 2024, CODELCO's total assets were U.S.$49.6 billion and equity amounted to U.S.$11.3 billion.

CODELCO engages primarily in the exploration, development and extraction of ores bearing copper and byproducts, the processing of ore into refined copper and the international sale of refined copper and byproducts. CODELCO is wholly-owned by the Government of Chile and controls approximately 4.7% of the world's proved and probable copper reserves, as such terms are defined by the U.S. Geological Survey.

In 2023, CODELCO had an estimated 6.4% share of total world copper production, with production amounting to approximately 1.424 million metric tons, including: (i) CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit, which is mined by Sociedad Contractual Minera El Abra and owned 49.0% by CODELCO and 51.0% by Cyprus El Abra Corporation (a subsidiary of Freeport-McMoRan Inc.); and (ii) CODELCO's share of Anglo American Sur (of which CODELCO owns a 20.0% indirect share), and an estimated 6.2% share of the world's molybdenum production, with production amounting to approximately 17.3 metric tons excluding CODELCO's share of Anglo American Sur.

CODELCO's main commercial product is Grade A cathode copper. In 2023 and for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2024, CODELCO derived 90.1% and 92.4% of its total sales from copper and 9.9% and 7.6% of its total sales from byproducts of its copper production, respectively.

CODELCO's sales of copper in 2023 were geographically diversified, with approximately 55.2% of sales made to Asia, including approximately 41.7% to China, as well as approximately 34.4% to North and South America and 10.4% to Europe. CODELCO's top ten customers purchased approximately 26.4% of its total copper sales volume in 2023.

CODELCO's copper operations are divided into the following eight divisions:

- The El Teniente Division operates the El Teniente mine, which is the world's largest underground copper mine and has been in operation for more than 100 years. The El Teniente Division includes the Caletones smelter. In 2023, this division produced 351,874 metric tons of copper, or 24.7% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 138.0 cents per pound, compared to 105.2 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$1,059.7 million in 2023, compared to U.S.$930.5 million in 2022. In 2023, this division produced 248,495 metric tons of copper cathodes, or 17.5% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 158.5 cents per pound, compared to 127.4 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$851.7 million in 2023, compared to U.S.$740.7 million in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, this division produced 194,846 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 137.1 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$578.6 million.

- The Mina Ministro Hales Division was created in 2010 for the operation of the Mina Ministro Hales ore body, which first began producing copper at the end of 2013. In 2023, this division produced 126,010 metric tons of copper, or 8.9% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 200.7 cents per pound, compared to 129.6 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$539.4 million in 2023, compared to U.S.$420.1 million in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, this division produced 64,665 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 268.2 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$370.7 million.
- The Andina Division operates the Andina and Sur-Sur mines with production split among open-pit and underground mines. It does not have independent smelting capacity. Andina has been in operation since 1970. In 2023, this division produced 164,545 metric tons of copper, or 11.6% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 230.3 cents per pound, compared to 187.5 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$806.9 million in 2023, compared to U.S.$707.0 million in 2022. - The Gabriela Mistral Division was created in 2013 and operates the Gabriela Mistral mine, which uses SX-EW technology. The Gabriela Mistral mine produced its first copper cathodes in 2008 after a 26-month construction period. In 2023, this division produced 105,825 metric tons of copper, or 7.4% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 292.5 cents per pound, compared to 275.8 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$682.4 million in 2023, compared to U.S.$665.9 million in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, this division produced 77,132 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 263.5 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$448.0 million.
- The Salvador Division operates the Salvador mine and concentrator and the smelter/refinery complex at Potrerillos, which has the capacity to treat 671,000 metric tons of concentrate. In 2023, this division produced 13,000 metric tons of copper cathodes, or 0.9% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 575.5 cents per pound, compared to 389.6 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$164.3 million in 2023, compared to U.S.$271.7 million in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, this division did not produce any copper as it is in the process of the ramp-up of the Inca Pit project. As of September 30, 2024, the project was under construction and was approximately 88% complete.
- The Ventanas Division was created in connection with the acquisition of the Ventanas smelter/refinery complex from Chile's state-owned mining company Empresa Nacional de Minería ("ENAMI") in 2005. In 2023, this division refined 357.2 thousand metric tons of copper, compared to 370.6 thousand metric tons of copper in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, the Ventanas Division refined 204.5 thousand metric tons of copper. Pursuant to the terms of the acquisition, CODELCO is required to provide on market terms the necessary smelting and refining capacity for the treatment of copper concentrate delivered by the small- and medium-sized mining industry that ENAMI serves. In May 2023, Law No. 21,546 permitted the gradual closure of the Ventanas smelter/refinery complex and after almost 60 years of operation, the furnaces at Ventanas Division smelting plant were shut down. The transition of its former workers successfully concluded, with 58.8% of workers opting for an exit plan, 26.9% retrained for new roles at the Ventanas division, and 14.3% relocated to other divisions, following the smelter's closure. CODELCO will continue to operate in the area through its refinery.
- The Chuquicamata Division, the Radomiro Tomic Division, the Mina Ministro Hales Division, the Gabriela Mistral Division and the Salvador Division form part of CODELCO's Northern Operations (Operaciones Norte). The Andina Division, the El Teniente Division and the Ventanas Division form part of CODELCO's Central Southern Operations (Operaciones Centro Sur). For a description of CODELCO's associations with other companies, see "Business and Properties—Copper Production—Associations, Joint Ventures and Partnerships."

Competitive Strengths

CODELCO believes that it has certain distinguishing competitive strengths:

- Copper Reserves. CODELCO controls approximately 4.7% of the world's proved and probable copper reserves. In 2023, CODELCO's proved and probable reserves represented at least 30 years of future production at current levels.
- Market Presence. CODELCO is the largest copper producer in the world, with an estimated 6.4% share of the total world copper production and 1.42 million metric tons (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur) of production in 2023. CODELCO is also one of the largest producers of molybdenum in the world, with an estimated 6.2% share of total world molybdenum production, producing 17,254 metric tons in 2023 (excluding CODELCO's share of Anglo American Sur). CODELCO believes that its significant market presence gives the Company certain advantages in the marketing of its products.
- Research and Technological Innovation. CODELCO remains competitive by developing and incorporating new technologies into its production processes, which aim to improve overall operations, including mining processes, efficiency, productivity, environmental protection and worker safety.
- Stable, Long-term and Geographically Diverse Customer Base. CODELCO has developed long-term relationships with the majority of its customers, including some of the leading manufacturers in the world.
- Financial Strength. In 2023, CODELCO's Adjusted EBITDA amounted to U.S.$3.9 billion, total debt to capitalization as of December 31, 2023, was 64.6%, and the ratio of net financial debt to Adjusted EBITDA was 3.6. As of September 30, 2024, CODELCO's Adjusted EBITDA amounted to U.S.$4.0 billion and total debt to capitalization as of September 30, 2024, was 66.5%.
- Management Efficiency and Flexibility. CODELCO believes that it has a highly experienced workforce and executive team with a proven track record of managing long-life copper reserves that is able to respond to market changes by adjusting the allocation of its resources and operations among several different methods of production and ore deposits.
- One of the Leading Companies in Chile. CODELCO is one of the largest companies in Chile in terms of revenues as of December 31, 2023 (U.S.$16.4 billion) and is a key contributor to the budget of the Government of Chile. In 2023, CODELCO contributed U.S.$1.4 billion to the Chilean Treasury and accounted for approximately 15.2% of Chile's total exports. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources—Distributions to the Chilean Treasury" and "Regulatory Framework."

Business Strategy

CODELCO's mission is to maximize the value of its mineral resources for the benefit of its shareholder, the Chilean state, by fully developing its vast mining resources on a timely basis, leveraging CODELCO's experienced workforce, utilizing its advanced technological assets in key areas and by executing the following key strategic initiatives:

- Capital Expenditure Program. We seek to maintain and improve our competitive position in the industry through our three-year capital expenditure program. CODELCO expects to make capital expenditures of approximately U.S.$16.3 billion between 2024 and 2026 (current project portfolio and mine development) in addition to U.S.$840 million in its subsidiaries. This includes the acquisition of Lithium Power International in March 2024 for U.S.$244 million, and a 10% stake in Quebrada Blanca for U.S.$520 million, of which, U.S.$182 million was paid in September 2024 and the remaining U.S.$338 million was paid in December 2024. We expect these expenditures to be funded with a combination of internal and external resources. For a complete list of planned capital expenditures, see "Business and Properties—Copper Production—Operations." CODELCO's expansion and development of major projects between 2024 and 2026 are expected to include:

- o The Chuquicamata Underground Project, the gradual transformation of the Chuquicamata mine from an open pit mine to an underground operation. This project considers the exploitation of the mine in three levels. The first level started production in 2019 and comprised an initial investment of approximately U.S.$5.9 billion, and considers additional investments in infrastructure and mine development. The second and third levels are still in early engineering stages.

Within 2024-2026, CODELCO expects an investment of U.S.$800 million on the continuity infrastructure of the first level (Phase I Project – construction progress of 67.2%) and will spend U.S.$434 million in mine development. Plans for the second phase of infrastructure continuity are currently being discussed. The reallocation of a part of the Andina concentrator plant, which involves maintaining the treatment capacity of the plant using two production lines has an overall progress of 99.8% as of September 30, 2024. The project's Line 1 started production in 2021, and Line 2 started production in 2024. Only minor works remain outstanding for the project's completion.

- o The development of a new production level in the existing El Teniente underground mine (an approximate investment of U.S.$2.33 billion between 2024 and 2026) to maintain El Teniente's annual copper production at its current level. The new mining level has been divided into three separate projects: (i) Andes Norte, (ii) Diamante, and (iii) Andesita. As of September 30, 2024, completion progress at the Andes Norte, Diamante and Andesita works was 60.0%, 46.2% and 57.6%, respectively.
- o The development of the Inca Pit project is designed to extend the production of the Salvador Division, and requires an approximate investment of U.S.$1.17 billion between 2024 and 2026. As of December 2024, although some works remain pending, construction of key infrastructure, equipment commissioning, and a unified system for processing 15,000 tons daily is fully complete and production has begun.
- o Radomiro Tomic expects the completion of the feasibility stage of its new sulfide operation and concentrator plant, and the start of the execution of this project (an approximate investment of U.S.$472 million between 2024 and 2026).
- Focus on curbing production costs. For many years, CODELCO was within the first or second quartiles in the industry with respect to costs. This position was primarily attributable to the quality of its ore bodies, its economies of scale and the experience of its workforce and management. Currently, CODELCO is in the third quartile of the industry's cost curve. The Company intends to make every effort, through investment and management, to be within the first or second quartiles of the industry's cost curve in the long-term. In 2023, CODELCO's total costs and expenses increased by 24.2 cents per pound (7.8%) to 335.1 cents per pound, compared to 310.9 cents per pound in 2022 and 254.3 cents per pound in 2021, mainly due to lower copper production volume, higher operating costs, and the foreign exchange rate appreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar. For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's total costs and expenses increased by 9.6 cents per pound (2.6%) to 373.2 cents per pound, compared to 363.6 cents per pound for the same period in 2023, mainly due to lower production, partially offset by foreign exchange rate depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar, and a slightly decreased of the operating costs. In 2023, CODELCO's total costs and expenses increased to U.S.$10.7 billion, compared to U.S.$9.9 billion in 2022, and to U.S.$9.1 billion in 2021, mainly due to higher labor and third-party services costs as a consequence of the foreign exchange rate appreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar for 2023 compared to 2022 and due to lower production. and higher input prices and depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar for 2022 compared to 2021.
- For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's total costs and expenses amounted to U.S.$7.5 billion, compared to U.S.$7.7 billion for the same period in 2023, primarily due to lower operating costs, partially offset by increased expenses for bonuses resulting from the negotiation of 25 collective bargaining agreements in 2024. In 2023, CODELCO's cash cost of production was 203.1 cents per pound, compared to 165.4 cents per pound in 2022 and 132.7 cents per pound in 2021.
- For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's cash cost of production was 205.0 cents per pound, compared to 204.5 cents per pound for the same period in 2023 primarily due to lower production, compounded by reduced by-product credits resulting from decreased molybdenum prices and lower sales volumes. In 2023, CODELCO'S total cash cost was U.S.$5.8 billion, compared to U.S.$5.2 billion in 2022 and U.S.$4.7 billion in 2021.

- For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's total cash cost was U.S.$4.1 billion, as compared to U.S.$4.3 billion for the same period in 2023 (such total cash cost includes certain cash cost incurred at the corporate level). See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Overview."
- Improvement in Operations. A number of improvement initiatives are underway to adopt best industry practices, most notably in the areas of labor productivity, asset utilization rates and process efficiency. Together with its capital expenditure program, these initiatives are expected to enhance CODELCO's competitive position. The Company operates in a cyclical business and CODELCO's strategy is to ensure that it is able to take full advantage of high copper prices. The Company is developing a number of plans to achieve production targets in the coming years. These plans mainly focus on reducing the risk of disruptions to production and providing increased flexibility to its operations.
- Exploration Efforts. CODELCO controls the largest copper reserves worldwide, the Company's single most important long-term competitive advantage. The discovery of new mining resources and improving its ability to locate existing ore bodies and prospects are critical to maintain this preeminent position in the industry. Accordingly, the Company's exploration program will continue to be a key part of its business strategy.
- Investment in Human Capital. The successful execution of CODELCO's business strategy relies on attracting and retaining a world-class management team and professionals of the highest caliber, as well as promoting a culture of diversity and inclusion. The mining industry faces increased competition for workforce talent. As a result, the Company intends to continue improving career development opportunities for its staff and the overall attractiveness of CODELCO as a preferred employer.
- Mining Association with Third Parties. CODELCO seeks to continue to develop and operate assets in association with third parties where these associations will add value to CODELCO's business. A few examples of the Company's willingness and ability to do so are: (i) the association with Freeport-McMoRan Inc. in the El Abra copper mine (CODELCO owns 49.0%), (ii) the association with Anglo American plc ("Anglo American"), Mitsui & Co., Ltd. ("Mitsui") and Mitsubishi Corporation ("Mitsubishi Corporation") in Anglo American Sur (CODELCO owns an indirect 20.0% interest), (iii) the association with Teck Resources, Sumitomo Metal Mining and Sumitomo Corporation in Compañía Minera Teck Quebrada Blanca S.A. (CODELCO owns 10.0%), and (iv) the association with Sociedad Química y Minera de Chile ("SQM") in the new lithium joint venture in Salar de Atacama (CODELCO will control 50% plus one share of the new venture once the specific conditions are fulfilled). CODELCO believes its large mining reserve is a strong platform from which to establish such associations. CODELCO may expand mining associations with third parties where it helps to optimize the operation of their respective mines.
- Sustainability is an integral part of our strategy. CODELCO has set sustainability targets, which it hopes to reach by December 2030, and include: (i) 70.0% reduction of greenhouse gas emissions from 2019 levels; (ii) 60.0% reduction of unitary continental water consumption from 2019 levels; (iii) recycling 65.0% of industrial waste; (iv) implementation of online monitoring and infiltration control systems to all tailing storage facilities; (v) 60.0% increase of goods and services provided by local suppliers from 2019 levels; and (vi) 25.0% reduction of particulate matter emissions from 2019 levels.

Recent Developments

New Role of CODELCO related to Lithium

On April 20, 2023 the Government of Chile announced the National Lithium Strategy (the "Lithium Strategy"), which seeks to transform Chile into a world leading lithium producer. The main measures announced include:

- Creation of a National Lithium Company (Empresa Nacional del Litio): This company will be 100% state-owned and will be created with the purpose of increasing the wealth of the country, to develop a sustainable industry for the country and the world as well as developing technology and productive chains, among others. The bill for the creation of the National Lithium Company has not been submitted to Congress.

- Creation of the “CORFO Committee for Productive Transformation” (Comité CORFO de Transformación Productiva): This committee will be led by the Ministry of Mining, and its purpose will be to promote productive transformation through scientific-technological and industrial development policies.
- Public-private collaboration: Until the creation of the National Lithium Company, the state-owned mining companies, CODELCO and ENAMI, shall play an initial role as representatives of the Government of Chile in the exploitation and exploration of lithium. Notwithstanding, to this date, the government of Chile has not submitted a bill for the creation of the National Lithium Company for discussion at the Chilean Congress, and the Government of Chile is seeking to enhance alliances with the private sector, such as the CODELCO and Sociedad Química y Minera de Chile S.A. Partnership Agreement, referred in the paragraph below “- New Public-Private Partnership between CODELCO and Sociedad Química y Minera de Chile S.A.”.
- Incorporation of the Government of Chile into the productive activity of the Atacama Salt Flat: CODELCO has been entrusted with assessing alternatives to accomplish the state of Chile’s participation in the exploitation of lithium in the Atacama Salt Flat (Chile’s largest lithium deposit) in anticipation of the expiration of the lease agreements currently in force between CORFO and Sociedad Química y Minera de Chile S.A., which allow the exploitation of the lithium located in the Atacama Salt Flat, until 2030. The Government of Chile announced that the lease agreements currently in force will be fully honored, so involvement of the state of Chile in exploiting lithium in the Atacama Salt Flat before the termination of those lease agreements, would be by virtue of a negotiated agreement with Sociedad Química y Minera de Chile S.A. The first step for the subscription of such agreement was announced on December 27, 2023, and consists of a memorandum of understanding executed by CODELCO and Sociedad Química y Minera de Chile S.A. through which both parties agreed on the main terms to negotiate an association to explore, exploit and commercialize lithium and other substances available in the Atacama Salt Flat, that would commence in 2025. The association agreement was executed on May 31, 2024, although its effectiveness is subject to certain conditions precedent, which are expected to be fulfilled during 2025.
- Creation of protected salt flats and ensuring low environmental impact technologies: In line with the obligations established in the Convention on Biological Diversity, ratified by Chile in 1994, the Lithium Strategy contemplates the creation of a network of protected salt flats to safeguard ecologic sustainability, which objective is to have at least 30% of salt flats protected by 2030. Also, the Lithium Strategy seeks to promote the use of new technologies for lithium extraction that minimize environmental impact on salt flats.
- Creation of the Public Research and Technological Institute of Lithium and Salt Flat (Instituto Tecnológico y de Investigación Público del Litio y Salares): This institute was incorporated in June 2024, and is expected to be located in the Atacama and Antofagasta Regions, with the aim of collaborating in the development of more sustainable technologies in the extraction of lithium, promoting the conservation of salt flats through biodiversity research.

Within the measures to implement the Lithium Strategy, the Government of Chile mandated CODELCO to support CORFO (Corporación de Fomento de la Producción) for the development of lithium on the Atacama Salar.

On May 19, 2023, CODELCO established two subsidiaries for these purposes: Salares de Chile SpA (“Salares de Chile”), which is set to streamline and consolidate the lithium-related activities of CODELCO’s companies, and Minera Tarar SpA (“Minera Tarar”) which is planned to be exclusively focused on operations within the Atacama Salar and with SQM.

On May 22, 2023, CORFO officially formalized the role of CODELCO as Chile’s representative in the negotiation and definition of future contracts with companies interested in the lithium industry in the country starting in 2030.

Also as part of the Lithium Strategy, the Government of Chile mandated CODELCO to find the best alternative to enable the development of lithium projects in the Maricunga salt flat. In accordance with such mandate, on October 17, 2023, CODELCO reached an agreement to acquire 100% of Lithium Power International (“LPI”) shares for approximately U.S.$244 million equivalent (AU$ 385 million). LPI owned the Salar Blanco project in the Maricunga salt flat, which is adjacent to CODELCO’s property. In March 2024, CODELCO successfully closed the acquisition of LPI through its wholly-owned subsidiary Salar de Maricunga SpA, following approvals from authorities, reinforcing its lithium strategy to become a leading supplier of critical minerals.

New Public-Private Partnership between CODELCO and Sociedad Química y Minera de Chile S.A.

On December 27, 2023, CODELCO and Sociedad Química y Minera de Chile S.A. (“SQM”) announced the execution of a memorandum of understanding setting forth the bases to negotiate a public-private partnership that would commence in 2025 (the “Memorandum of Understanding” and the “SQM Partnership Agreement”, respectively). This announcement is aligned with the mandates of the Chilean government and CORFO to secure state participation in mineral exploitation. The SQM Partnership Agreement was executed on May 31, 2024, although its effectiveness is subject to certain conditions precedent, which are expected to be fulfilled during 2025. The SQM Partnership Agreement establishes in detail all the steps, stages, rights, obligations, terms, and conditions of the public-private partnership that will take responsibility for production of refined lithium from the Atacama Salt Flat from 2025 to 2060. The partnership, composed of CODELCO through its subsidiary Minera Tarar, and SQM through SQM Salar, will become effective once all the legal, regulatory, technical, and environmental requirements and the respective indigenous consultation process have been fulfilled, all of which are planned to be completed in the first months of 2025. This new joint venture, which will be majority-owned by the Chilean state, is also expected to allow for the transition from contracts with SQM, in effect from January 2025 to December 2030, to new agreements with CODELCO’S subsidiary, Minera Tarar, which would be in effect from January 2031 to December 2060. The SQM Partnership Agreement provides that, from January 2025 to December 2030, CODELCO will be entitled to receive a profit corresponding to the benefit from the commercialization of 201,000 tons of lithium carbonate equivalent. From January 2031 to December 2060, each party will receive as economic benefits a pro-rata portion corresponding to its shareholding, which for CODELCO is expected to be 50.00% plus one share. The SQM Partnership Agreement aims to ensure continuous lithium production, aligning with global energy transition goals. The partnership focuses on the Salar Futuro Project (i.e. the exploitation of lithium in the Atacama Salt Flat by virtue of the new agreements in effect from 2031 to 2060) and is expected to incorporate environmental sustainability and technological advancements. CODELCO’s early involvement would allow engagement in project stages and participation in a tripartite board for ecosystem sustainability.

New Public-Private Partnership between CODELCO and a potential partner in Maricunga Salt flat

After the LPI purchase process was completed, a process of integration of geological and hydrogeological information from CODELCO and Minera Salar Blanco S.A. was carried out, which culminated in the update of the conceptual hydrogeological model and the estimation of mineral resources and preliminary lithium reserves of the project. The execution of a complementary feasibility study of the integrated project is planned to start in 2025.

On May 31, 2024, the partner search process for the Maricunga Salt Flat was launched. This process is being developed in parallel to the activities required by the project in its environmental, community, exploratory and technical aspects. The partner selection process is expected to be completed during the first months of 2025. Subsequently, regulatory authorizations from the antitrust authorities in Chile and other countries around the world may be required in order to develop this project.

Acquisition of ENAMI’s 10% Stake in Quebrada Blanca

On September 5, 2024, with the unanimous agreement of its board of directors, CODELCO completed the purchase of 10% of Quebrada Blanca, an asset owned by the ENAMI (Empresa Nacional de Minería or National Mining Enterprise). The agreement involved the immediate acquisition of the shares against the disbursement of U.S.$520 million in two payments, the first of which in an amount of U.S.$182 million was paid upon signing of the sale agreement, while the remaining U.S.$338 million was paid in December 2024, following the completion and fulfillment of certain conditions.

Quebrada Blanca is a mega copper deposit, with a resource base of 10 billion tons, with a grade of 0.38% Cu and opportunities for future growth. In full operation of its second phase, it will be positioned among the 20 operations with the highest copper production in the world and at national level it will be ranked as the sixth producer after Escondida, Collahuasi, El Teniente, Radomiro Tomic and Los Pelambres, considering its 2023 production.

Main New Environmental Bills Submitted to the Chilean Congress

On January 10, 2024, the Chilean government submitted the following bills to the Chilean Congress:

Bill No. 16552-12. The bill updates the environmental approval system by restricting the powers of political bodies involved in the environmental approval process such as the Committee of Ministers and the Evaluation Commissions and establishes a single mechanism to challenge environmental approvals. It also allows the early participation and voluntary intervention of affected communities in the approval process, strengthens the Strategic Environmental Assessment (EAS by its acronym in Spanish) and, among others, establishes that the State Defense Council (Consejo de Defensa del Estado or CDE) will have legal standing to file a claim for environmental damage.

Bill No. 16566-03. The bill creates a new common framework law on sectorial permits, expedites the approval of a substantial number of non-environmental permits required for the development of projects and activities in regulated areas, and provides increased legal certainty to investors.

Bill No. 16553-12. The bill strengthens the Superintendence of the Environment (Superintendencia del Medioambiente or “SMA”) and improves certain aspects of its operation. Among other matters, it enhances the SMA’s precautionary powers, and strengthens the incentives for compliance as well as the sanctioning regime.

Main New Environmental Laws

On May 18, 2023, the General Environmental Law was amended by Law No. 21,562, which introduced new requirements and standards for economic activities with environmental impact on “saturated” or “latent” environmental areas. Such law also granted additional authority to the Ministry of Environment to take action in order to protect zones with high environmental or health risk due to pollution relating to economic activity.

On September 6, 2023, Law No. 21,600 that “Creates the Biodiversity and Protected Areas Service and the National System of Protected Areas” (Crea el Servicio de Biodiversidad y Áreas Protegidas y el Sistema Nacional de Áreas Protegidas) was enacted. Among other matters, the new public service will be in charge of the National System of Protected Areas, will manage a National Fund for Biodiversity, and have the power to apply sanctions in case of infringement of this new law. The initiative for this new legislation comes from the recommendations of the OECD (Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development), and the Escazú Agreement, and also to complete the environmental institutional framework in Chile, which currently includes the Environmental Superintendency (Superintendencia del Medio Ambiente) and the Environmental Assessment Service (Servicios de Evaluación Ambiental).

The Water Code was amended by Law No. 21,671, published in the Official Gazette on May 30, 2024, to accelerate the entry into force of the declarations of water shortage zones. Among other changes, it sets forth that the supreme decrees and resolutions issued by the General Water Bureau shall be complied with immediately.

Fatal Accident at Radomiro Tomic Division

On March 8, 2024, a CODELCO worker passed away in a workplace accident while operating an extraction truck at the Radomiro Tomic Division. Activities in the sector were immediately suspended, and the authorities were notified. The pit remained closed for over a month, following standard procedures after a fatal accident, until authorities authorized the resumption of activities. This closure resulted in an estimated production loss of approximately 30,000 tons. Additionally, workers initiated a strike demanding enhanced safety measures. The strike ended after 48 hours upon reaching an agreement with the Company, in which CODELCO committed to implementing and fulfilling a series of concrete actions to improve the safety of workers at the Radomiro Tomic Division. An investigation has been initiated to determine the cause of the accident.

CODELCO Secures Climate Finance Deal

On June 28, 2024, CODELCO entered into a climate finance loan for U.S.$532 million, granted by Crédit Agricole CIB and guaranteed by the World Bank's Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA). This financing will fund CODELCO's plan to fully decarbonize its energy matrix by 2030. The plan includes the renewal of power purchase agreements with renewable sources. With CODELCO consuming around 9% of Chile's total energy, this shift is critical in reducing greenhouse gas emissions and supporting a sustainable future for the country. Since 2018, CODELCO has signed major agreements with providers like Engie, Colbún, AES Andes, and others to steadily increase its use of renewable energy. Full decarbonization of its energy purchase is expected by 2030.

- (1) “Cost of sales” for any period includes direct and indirect costs, depreciation and amortization associated with the production of copper and byproducts, as well as purchase costs of third-party copper, sold by CODELCO in that period.
- (2) “Other expenses” is comprised principally of costs related to the 10.0% special export tax paid by the Company, retirement plan and severance indemnities and fixed indirect costs below production level. See note 22.b of the Consolidated Financial Statements and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.”
- (3) CODELCO is subject to the new mining royalty tax, which generally comprises an Ad Valorem component which applies a tax rate of 1% on annual copper sales, and a mining margin component which applies progressive tax rates of between 5.0% and 14.0% under Law No. 20,026 (i.e., 8%-26%) on the adjusted taxable mining operating margin. In addition, a maximum potential tax burden of 46.5% is established on the mining entity’s operating profitability, measured as the adjusted pre-taxable mining operating income. In addition, CODELCO is subject to the corporate income tax rate of 25.0% since 2017 (pursuant to the tax reform in 2014) and a 40.0% tax on net earnings applicable to state-owned enterprises as specified by Decree Law No. 2,398, Article 2. See “Taxation—Chilean Taxation” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources—Distributions to the Chilean Treasury” for additional information. See note 5 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources—Distributions to the Chilean Treasury” and “Regulatory Framework.” See also “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO’s Relationship with the Government of Chile—CODELCO is subject to special taxes” for information regarding the mining tax rate effective in 2016 and information regarding the new Mining Royalty Law, effective as of January 1, 2024.
- (4) See note 9 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and the Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.”
- (5) All other assets includes other non-current financial assets; other non-current non-financial assets; accounts receivable from related parties, non-current; non-current inventories; intangible assets other than goodwill; investment property; non-current tax assets and deferred tax assets.
- (6) For the purpose of calculating CODELCO’s ratio of earnings to fixed charges (adjusted), (i) “earnings” consist of Adjusted EBIT and (ii) “fixed charges” consist of finance cost. The ratio of earnings to fixed charges (adjusted) is calculated by dividing Adjusted EBIT by finance cost. Adjusted EBIT is calculated by adding finance cost, impairment charges net of reversals (as defined in note (1) of the following table) and income tax expense to profit (loss) for the period. Adjusted EBIT, while not a financial performance measure under IFRS, is presented as an indicator of funds available to service debt. Adjusted EBIT and Adjusted EBITDA data are included in this offering memorandum because such data are used by investors to assess: (i) the operating trends and financial performance of the Company and (ii) the ability of the Company to (a) service its existing debt, (b) incur new debt and (c) fund its capital expenditures. The Company believes that Adjusted EBIT, while providing useful information, should not be considered in isolation as a substitute for profit for the period, as an indicator of operating performance, or as an alternative to cash flow as a measure of liquidity. Additionally, the Company’s calculation of Adjusted EBIT may be different than the calculation used by other companies and therefore, comparability may be affected. See notes 8, 20 and 23 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” for further information about impairment charges and reversals and other non-cash charges.
- (7) Average price on the LME for Grade A cathode copper during period.
- (8) Adjusted EBITDA is calculated by adding finance cost, income tax expense, depreciation and amortization of assets plus export taxes and impairment charges net of reversals (as defined in note (1) of the following table) to profit (loss) for the period. Adjusted EBITDA is presented because it is a widely accepted indicator of funds available to service debt, although it is not an IFRS-based measure of liquidity or performance. Adjusted EBIT and Adjusted EBITDA data are included in this offering memorandum because such data are used by investors to assess: (i) the operating trends and financial performance of the Company and (ii) the ability of the Company to (a) service its existing debt, (b) incur new debt and (c) fund its capital expenditures. The Company believes that Adjusted EBITDA, while providing useful information, should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for profit as an indicator of operating performance, or as an alternative to cash flow as a measure of liquidity. Additionally, the Company’s calculation of Adjusted EBITDA may be different than the calculation used by other companies and therefore, comparability may be affected. See notes 8, 20 and 23 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” for further information about impairment charges and reversals and other non-cash charges.
- (9) The ratio of debt to Adjusted EBITDA is calculated by dividing debt by Adjusted EBITDA. Debt is defined as loans from financial institutions plus bonds issued.

- (10) The ratio of debt to LTM Adjusted EBITDA is calculated by dividing debt by the last twelve months of Adjusted EBITDA. Debt is defined as loans from financial institutions plus bonds issued.
- (11) Adjusted EBITDA coverage ratio is the ratio of Adjusted EBITDA to finance cost net of finance income. See note 8 above for further information about Adjusted EBITDA and notes 20 and 23 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” for further information about impairment charges and reversals and other non-cash charges.
- (12) The amounts for property, plant, and equipment in the table above include property, plant and equipment and right-of-use assets.

The following table shows CODELCO’s earnings, Adjusted EBIT, ratio of earnings to fixed charges (adjusted), Adjusted EBITDA and reconciliation of Adjusted EBIT and Adjusted EBITDA for the periods indicated.

- (1) Impairments include charges and reversals related to charges of investment projects, research projects and investment in associates and joint ventures and exclude impairment charges related to definite-lived tangible assets which show indicators of impairment under International Accounting Standard No. 36. See notes 8, 20 and 23 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” for further information about impairment charges and reversals and other non-cash charges.
- (2) Adjusted EBIT is calculated by adding finance cost, impairment charges net of reversals (as defined in note (1) above) and income tax expense to profit (loss) for the period. Adjusted EBIT, while not a financial performance measure under IFRS, is presented as an indicator of funds available to service debt. Adjusted EBIT and Adjusted EBITDA data are included in this offering memorandum because such data are used by investors to assess: (i) the operating trends and financial performance of the Company and (ii) the ability of the Company to (a) service its existing debt, (b) incur new debt and (c) fund its capital expenditures. The Company believes that Adjusted EBIT, while providing useful information, should not be considered in isolation as a substitute for profit for the period, as an indicator of operating performance, or as an alternative to cash flow as a measure of liquidity. Additionally, the Company’s calculation of Adjusted EBIT may be different than the calculation used by other companies and therefore, comparability may be affected. See notes 8, 20 and 23 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” for further information about impairment charges and reversals and other non-cash charges.
- (3) For the purpose of calculating CODELCO’s ratio of earnings to fixed charges (adjusted), (i) “earnings” consist of Adjusted EBIT and (ii) “fixed charges” consist of finance cost. The ratio of earnings to fixed charges (adjusted) is calculated by dividing Adjusted EBIT by finance cost.
- (4) See note 20 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and the Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements.
- (5) The Copper Reserve Law currently requires the payment of a 10.0% special export tax on receivables of the sales proceeds that CODELCO receives and transfers to Chile from the export of copper and related by products produced by CODELCO. For further information, see “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO’s Relationship with the Government of Chile— CODELCO is subject to special taxes.”

RISK FACTORS

Prospective purchasers of the notes offered hereby should carefully consider all of the other information contained herein, including the risk factors set forth below. As a general matter, investing in the securities of an issuer, substantially all of whose operations are in a developing country such as Chile, involves a higher degree of risk than investing in securities of issuers with substantially all of their operations in the United States and other jurisdictions.

Risks Relating to CODELCO's Operations

CODELCO has in the past recognized significant impairment charges for certain assets and, if market and industry conditions deteriorate, further impairment charges may be recognized.

A substantial amount of CODELCO's total assets are property, plant and equipment. As of December 31, 2023, 73.9% of our total assets were property, plant and equipment. In accordance with IFRS as issued by the IASB, we review the carrying amount of our assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. CODELCO uses the value-in-use methodology to ensure that the recoverable amount of our property, plant and equipment is not impaired. In assessing the value-in-use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments at the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

In 2022, CODELCO recorded an impairment of the value of the Ventanas Smelter assets in the amount of U.S.$89.4 million before taxes. In 2023, CODELCO performed an evaluation of the value of its investment in the associate Anglo American Sur and determined that the recoverable amount of the asset is less than the carrying value recorded, recognizing an impairment of U.S.$522.4 million, which is recognized under the caption "Equity in earnings (losses) of associates and joint ventures accounted for using equity method" in the statement of comprehensive income for the year 2023. We may write off capitalized expenses for engineering and other costs for certain projects that do not go forward or certain mining rights that we determine may no longer be commercialized, which we would not expect to have a material effect on the Company's financial results or operating position. Because the impairment calculation is directly associated with the outlook of copper prices and operating performance, a downturn in the copper price outlook or a decline in operating performance could require further impairment losses on our plant, property and equipment. Such impairment charges could be material to our financial statements.

CODELCO's business is highly dependent upon the price of copper.

CODELCO's financial performance is significantly affected by the market prices of copper. These prices have been historically subject to wide fluctuations and are affected by numerous factors beyond the control of CODELCO, including international economic and political conditions, levels of supply and demand, the availability and costs of substitutes, inventory levels maintained by producers and others and actions of participants in the commodities markets. To a lesser extent, copper prices are also subject to the effects of inventory carrying costs and currency exchange rates. In addition, the market prices of copper have occasionally been subject to rapid short-term changes. See "Overview of the Copper Market."

In 2023, copper prices averaged 384.5 cents per pound, a decrease from 399.0 cents per pound in 2022 (which could be attributable to lower growth in China and the stabilization of the economy post pandemic). In 2021, copper prices averaged 422.6 cents per pound. China has been the main driver of copper consumption in recent years, and in 2021, 2022 and 2023, 32.4%, 37.7% and 41.7% respectively, of CODELCO's sales were made to China. If economic conditions deteriorate in China or other emerging markets, demand from customers in those markets could decline and the market price of copper could fall. A decline in copper prices would have an adverse impact on CODELCO's revenues and financial results. In 2023, each one-cent change in CODELCO's average annual copper price per pound sold caused a variation in revenue of approximately U.S.$31.4 million. If CODELCO's average annual copper price per pound declines significantly for an extended period of time, CODELCO may, subject to other factors such as operating costs, be required to recognize asset impairments.

In the event of a sustained decline in prices, CODELCO has in the past and could again determine to curtail operations or suspend certain of its mining and processing operations. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations."

CODELCO faces competition in the copper market from other copper producers.

CODELCO faces competition from other copper mining companies and producers of copper around the world. Although CODELCO continues to focus on reducing costs, there can be no assurance that competition from lower cost producers will not have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects of CODELCO.

The mining industry has experienced significant consolidation in recent years, including consolidation among some of CODELCO's main competitors, as a result of which an increased percentage of copper production is from companies that also produce other products and are, consequently, more diversified. There can be no assurance that the result of current or further consolidation in the industry will not have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects of CODELCO.

Most of CODELCO's copper output is dependent upon production from three of its main mining complexes.

Three of CODELCO's mining complexes produced over 64.3% of its copper output in 2023 (including CODELCO's share in the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur). The El Teniente Division, including the Caltones smelter, produced an aggregate of 351.9 metric tons of copper in 2023. The Radomiro Tomic mine produced an aggregate of 314.8 metric tons of copper and the Chuquicamata mine produced an aggregate of 248.5 metric tons of copper, each during the same period. If operations in any of these three mining complexes were significantly reduced, interrupted or curtailed, CODELCO's financial condition and its ability to make the required payments on the notes could be materially and adversely affected. CODELCO cannot assure you that production interruptions will not occur or that any such incident would not materially adversely affect its production. See "Business and Properties—Operations—Chuquicamata Division," "—Radomiro Tomic Division" and "—El Teniente Division."

The business of mining is subject to risks, some of which are not completely insurable.

The business of mining, smelting and refining copper is generally subject to a number of risks and hazards, including industrial accidents, labor disputes, unexpected geological conditions, mine collapses, vandalism, theft, changes in the regulatory environment and pollution, environmental hazards, weather and other natural phenomena, such as earthquakes, fires and floods. Such occurrences could result in damage to, loss of, or destruction of, mineral properties or production facilities, human exposure to pollution (e.g., public exposure to sulfur dioxide emissions), personal injury or death, environmental and natural resource damage, delays in mining, monetary losses and possible legal liability. CODELCO maintains insurance consistent with copper mining industry standards and in amounts that it believes to be adequate, but which may not provide complete coverage in certain circumstances. Insurance against certain risks (including certain liabilities for environmental pollution and other hazards as a result of exploration and production) is not generally available to CODELCO or to other companies within the industry.

Under each of CODELCO's copper sales agreements, CODELCO or its customer may suspend or cancel delivery of copper during a period of force majeure. Events of force majeure under the agreements include acts of nature, strikes, fires, floods, wars, transportation delays, governmental actions or other events that are beyond the control of the parties. Any suspension or cancellation of deliveries under copper sales agreements that are not replaced by delivery under new contracts or sales on the spot market could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects of CODELCO.

CODELCO's water supply could be affected by geological changes or environmental regulations.

CODELCO's business is dependent on the availability of water for the production of copper and subject to environmental regulations regarding water usage. In the past, Chile has experienced droughts severe enough to adversely affect the energy sector of the economy in the central and southern regions of Chile. CODELCO's access to water may also be impacted by changes in geology or other natural factors that CODELCO cannot control. If Chile were to experience a drought or CODELCO was otherwise unable to obtain adequate water supplies, CODELCO's ability to conduct its operations could be impaired according to the latest studies, CODELCO's operations are located in areas of high water stress, with the exception of El Teniente, which operates in a region with lower levels of scarcity.

On April 6, 2022, Law No. 21,435, which reforms the Water Code was published in the Official Gazette (the “Water Code Reform”). The Water Code Reform reaffirms that water rights are a public asset, acknowledging the right to access water and sanitation as an essential and inalienable human right. However, water rights granted post Water Code Reform will be limited in time, as the concessions will be granted for 30 years. The concession will be automatically renewed, unless Chile’s General Water Bureau sets out that the relevant water right is not being used effectively upon its expiration date or that a renewal could affect the sustainability of the water source. Furthermore, the Water Code Reform added the concept of “public interest” as a requirement for the granting of new water rights. Additionally, the Water Code Reform prioritizes human consumption over other uses; recognizes the constitution of rights for non-extractive uses such as environmental conservation and tourism; restricts the use of certain water use rights in situations of scarcity; and reforms the current regulation of mining waters, among other matters. On July 13, 2023, Law No. 21,586, was enacted to amend Law No. 21,435 by extending the term to register certain water rights set forth therein, and to amend the Water Code to introduce an administrative procedure to clarify and complete titles of water rights.

The Water Code was amended by Law No. 21,671, published in the Official Gazette on May 30, 2024, to accelerate the entry into force of the declarations of water shortage zones. Among other changes, it sets forth that the supreme decrees and resolutions on this subject matter issued by the General Water Direction (Dirección General de Aguas) shall be complied with immediately.

Relatedly, with the objective of confronting hydric stress and climate change, and considering the need to regulate the desalination industry, on January 25, 2018, a bill was submitted to Congress. The purpose of the bill is to regulate the sustainable development of seawater desalination projects. This is relevant considering that many desalination projects are destined for the mining industry. Currently, the draft bill is in its first constitutional state of discussion in Congress -in an early development stage- and we cannot foresee whether this bill will pass. There are also other bills related to desalination pending in Congress, referring to the obligation of large mining companies to desalinate water for their production processes, or establishing concession systems, among others. This is a topic that is trending, since, according to information from the Chilean Copper Commission (COCHILCO), it is expected that by 2034, 69.8% of the water supply for copper mining in Chile will come from the sea.

The enactment of these laws and/or other regulatory projects related to water resources currently under discussion in the Chilean Congress may negatively affect CODELCO’s water supply.

Also, CODELCO’s activities are subject to compliance with obligations, measures and conditions set forth in several environmental authorizations (“Resoluciones de Calificación Ambiental”), including those related to water consumption and supply. Environmental authorizations for future expansions or modifications of current activities may set forth stricter limitations to water use and supply. The enactment of these laws and/or other regulatory projects related to water resources currently under discussion in Congress may eventually affect CODELCO’s water supply, which in turn may have a material adverse effect on CODELCO’s financial condition and results of operations.

CODELCO’s compliance with environmental, health and safety laws may require increased costs, including capital commitments, and non-compliance may subject it to significant penalties, legal liabilities, and detrimental financial, business and reputational impacts. Additionally, delays in receiving environmental and safety permits or related suspensions could impact project development and have an impact on CODELCO’s operations and revenue.

Chile has adopted environmental, health and safety regulations requiring industrial companies operating in Chile, including CODELCO, to undertake programs to reduce, control or eliminate various types of pollutants and to protect natural resources, including water and air, among other requirements. If the Ministerio del Medio Ambiente (the Ministry of the Environment) declares an area to be polluted or potentially polluted, a prevention or decontamination plan is required. Either type of plan may contain measures that may increase the costs of developing new facilities or expanding existing ones in the designated area. Some of the areas where CODELCO operates have been declared polluted. The measures currently included in the prevention or decontamination plans that govern these areas are subject to change and may become more stringent over time. CODELCO must comply with certain air quality environmental regulations regarding particulate matter (PM10 and/or MP2.5) and sulfur dioxide (SO₂) in the areas surrounding the Potrerillos, Caletones, Ventanas and Chuquicamata smelting plants. The Chuquicamata, Potrerillos and Caletones smelting plants and Ventanas copper refinery have decontamination plans for such pollutants. In addition, in 2023, the environmental authority initiated the review of the Chuquicamata, Potrerillos and Caletones decontamination plans. CODELCO is currently unable to fully assess what may be required of it or the cost of compliance with the revised PM10 pollution reduction plans, the SO₂ prevention plan or any future changes to the other plans covering the areas where CODELCO operates. As of the date of this offering memorandum, the impact of operating in latent and saturated zones has not been material to CODELCO; however, it could have a material effect in the future.

An air emissions standard for smelters was enacted by the Ministry of the Environment in 2013. This standard involves arsenic (As), SO₂, PM₁₀ and mercury (Hg) emissions. Since 2013, CODELCO's cost of complying with this standard was U.S.$2.2 billion. The revision of the emission standard was initiated in 2020. Recently, the preliminary draft was published. As of the date of this offering memorandum, El Teniente, Chuquicamata and Salvador smelters meet the requirements of this standard. See "Regulatory Framework—Environmental Regulations."

In May 2022, the Ministry of the Environment approved the Preliminary Draft on Emission Standards Applicable to Heavy Motor Vehicles, which aims to reduce the accumulative exposure of the emissions from heavy vehicles.

On July 5, 2024, Supreme Decree No. 50 of 2023 from the Ministry of the Environment was published in the Official Gazette. This decree modifies Supreme Decree No. 55 of 1994 from the Ministry of Transport and Telecommunications, which establishes emission standards applicable to heavy motor vehicles.

Specifically, it adds a single article to Supreme Decree No. 55 stating that heavy motor vehicles whose initial registration with the Civil Registry's Motor Vehicle Registry is requested after the article comes into effect can only circulate in the country if they are mechanically capable of meeting the maximum emission levels for carbon monoxide (CO), non-methane hydrocarbons (NMHC), nitrogen oxides (NO_x), particulate matter (PM), total hydrocarbons (THC), methane (CH₄), ammonia (NH₃), particle mass, and particle number (PN).

The regulation outlines the maximum emission levels from the exhaust system, which will be measured, as applicable, using standardized methods defined by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (US-EPA) or through globally harmonized driving cycles for transient or stationary conditions, in accordance with Regulation (EC) No. 595 of 2009 of the European Parliament and Council, concerning the approval of motor vehicles and engines with respect to emissions from heavy vehicles (Euro VI) and access to vehicle repair and maintenance information.

This regulation will take effect 18 months after its publication in the Official Gazette on January 5, 2026.

In February 2023, a water quality standard for the Aconcagua river basin was published in the Official Gazette. In addition, the authorities are developing water quality standards for other water bodies that CODELCO currently or may in the future discharge into, including the Loa and the Cachapoal rivers. Such standards could require CODELCO to incur additional costs to manage liquid waste discharges.

Environmental, health and safety laws and regulations are complex, change frequently and have tended to become increasingly stringent over time. For example, changes to current environmental laws and regulations, and additional environmental laws and regulations, have been adopted, including mine closure legislation that requires financial guarantees, and have recently been proposed, including green taxes, climate change, environmental crimes and glacier protection laws that could (i) prevent expansion of our operations into certain areas, (ii) require us to obtain additional permits and (iii) result in increased cost and potential delays. Moreover, certain changes to environmental, health and safety laws and regulations are pending, and other new laws or regulations may be adopted in Chile in the future. In addition, community and environmental activist groups have protested the development of certain mines of our competitors in Chile and may increase demands for socially responsible and environmentally sustainable practices, and their efforts may lead to operational delays and the creation or revision of government regulations and policies with respect to the mining industry in Chile, litigation and increased costs.

Finally, as a result of the Paris Agreement reached during the 21st Conference of the Parties to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change in 2015, a number of governments have pledged "Nationally Determined Contributions" to control and reduce greenhouse gas emissions. Assuming that the Chilean economy grows at the same rate it has grown over the previous ten years, excluding the years of the global financial crisis, and such growth rate is sufficient, Chile has committed to reducing its CO₂ emissions per GDP unit by 30.0% below 2007 levels by 2030 and, subject to an international monetary grant, reducing its CO₂ emission per GDP unit by 2030 until it reaches a 35.0% to 45.0% reduction with respect to the 2007 levels. In addition, the Paris Agreement resulted in increased international pressure for the establishment of a global carbon price, and on companies to adopt carbon pricing strategies. In 2019, during the 25th Conference of the Parties to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change in Madrid, the Chilean government announced an update to its Nationally Determined Contribution, which includes the reduction of its CO2 emissions per GDP unit by 45.0% below 2016 levels by 2030.

In June 2022, Law No. 21,455 on climate change was published in the Official Gazette. This law creates a legal framework for the management and implementation of climate change mitigation and adaptation measures, aiming to face its challenges and to decrease greenhouse gas emissions, until reaching greenhouse gas emissions neutrality by 2050. In addition, this law aims to reduce the country's vulnerability and to increase the level of resilience to the adverse effects of climate change, as a solution to comply with the international commitments assumed by Chile and to ensure access to information on climate change.

Any of these new laws or regulations could result in significant additional environmental compliance costs or delays in expansion projects. As of September 30, 2024, CODELCO had provisions of U.S.$2.4 billion for future decommissioning and site restoration costs, primarily related to tailing dams, closures of mine operations and other mining assets. CODELCO's operations outside Chile are also subject to extensive international, national and local environmental, health and safety laws and regulations.

Besides the aforementioned laws and regulations, CODELCO's operations are regulated by several environmental authorizations which set forth specific obligations, conditions and measures that have to be fulfilled. Environmental authorizations for future expansions or modifications of current activities may set forth obligations, conditions and measures that entail increased costs. Failure to comply with the applicable environmental regulations and related obligations, conditions and measures can result in civil, administrative, or criminal fines or sanctions, claims for environmental damages, remediation obligations, the revocation of environmental authorizations or the temporary or permanent closure of facilities.

CODELCO's environmental permits may be revoked, annulled or delayed through judicial action brought by interested parties to challenge environmental licenses (recurso de reclamación) or other remedies set forth in general administrative regulations that are frequently used to seek the revocation of granted environmental approvals (solicitud de invalidación).

CODELCO has implemented an ISO 14001 certified environmental management systems at each of its divisions to monitor and achieve compliance with applicable environmental laws and regulations. While CODELCO has budgeted for future capital and operating expenditures to maintain compliance with these laws and regulations, there is no guarantee that current levels of expenditures and capital commitments will be sufficient to achieve future compliance. There also can be no assurance that CODELCO has been or will be at all times in complete compliance with environmental laws and regulations, or that proceedings or civil actions will not be brought, or that fines and other sanctions will not be imposed for such noncompliance in the future. In addition, there can be no assurance that more stringent enforcement of, or changes in, existing laws and regulations, the adoption of additional laws and regulations or the discovery of new facts resulting in increased liabilities would not have a material adverse effect on CODELCO's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

For further information on environmental matters, and current and proposed environmental laws and regulations, see "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources—Environmental" and "Regulatory Framework—Environmental Regulations."

CODELCO's failure to meet investor, consumer or societal expectations related to environmental, social or governance ("ESG") matters could adversely affect its reputation, investor opinion and access to new capital.

Sustainability is an integral part of CODELCO's strategy. CODELCO has set sustainability targets, which it hopes to reach by December 2030, and include (i) 70.0% reduction of greenhouse gas emissions from 2019 levels; (ii) reduction in the unit consumption of continental water for sulfides in high water stress basins by 60% compared to 2019 levels; (iii) recycling 65.0% of industrial waste; (iv) implementation of online monitoring and infiltration control systems to all tailing storage facilities; (v) 60.0% increase of goods and services provided by local suppliers from 2019 levels; and (vi) 25.0% reduction of particulate matter emissions from 2019 levels. Although CODELCO is committed to reaching such sustainability targets by 2030, not reaching them may affect CODELCO's reputation, investor opinion and access to new capital.

CODELCO is committed to operating in a socially responsible manner, however our reputation and social license to operate may be affected by our perceived impact on the environment and society in which CODELCO operates, and CODELCO may face opposition from local communities with respect to its ongoing and future projects. Such perception could adversely affect our reputation, investor opinion and access to new capital and thus our results or operations and financial condition.

CODELCO is subject to legal proceedings and legal compliance risks that may adversely impact its financial condition, results of operations and liquidity.

CODELCO spends substantial resources ensuring that it complies with local regulations, contractual obligations and other legal standards. Notwithstanding this, CODELCO is subject to a variety of legal proceedings and compliance risks in respect of various matters, including tax, environmental- and labor-related matters that arise in the course of its business and in its industry as well as disputes with governmental agencies. For example, CODELCO is subject to various labor proceedings in which workers and families of deceased workers allege that working conditions caused the workers to contract silicosis. Although CODELCO has undertaken precautionary measures, there have been fatalities involving CODELCO personnel in the past and there may be additional fatalities in the future. Serious accidents, including fatalities, may subject CODELCO to substantial penalties, civil litigation or criminal prosecution. Claims for damages to persons, including claims for bodily injury or loss of life, could result in substantial costs and liabilities, which could materially and adversely affect CODELCO's financial condition, results of operations or cash flows. If CODELCO's safety record were to substantially deteriorate over time or CODELCO were to suffer substantial penalties or criminal prosecution for violation of health and safety regulations, CODELCO's contracts may be cancelled or it may not be awarded future business. In addition, CODELCO has filed administrative appeals against three decisions issued by the General Comptroller of Chile (the "Comptroller") against CODELCO in 2017. CODELCO estimates that these statements have had, as of the date of this offering memorandum, a negative effect in our profits of approximately U.S.$100.0 million. In December 2022, CODELCO and the Comptroller entered into a collaboration agreement aimed at safeguarding probity and transparency in the operations carried out by CODELCO in the market, ending the dispute with the withdrawal of the lawsuit by CODELCO. A negative outcome in an unusual or significant legal proceeding or compliance investigation could also adversely affect our financial condition and results of operations. For information regarding CODELCO's current significant legal proceedings, see "Business and Properties—Comptroller General of the Republic" and "Business and Properties—Legal Proceedings."

Earthquake damage to CODELCO's properties and operations could negatively affect CODELCO's results.

Chile is located in a seismic area that exposes CODELCO's operations to the risk of earthquakes. Chile has been adversely affected by powerful earthquakes in the past, including, most recently, (i) in 2015 when an earthquake struck the coast of Chile, (ii) in 2014 when an earthquake struck the north of Chile and (iii) in 2010 when a severe earthquake struck the southern central region of Chile. The 2015 earthquake measured 8.3 on the Richter scale and affected the coast of Chile just north of Santiago, with no significant consequences for the rest of the country. The 2014 earthquake measured 8.2 on the Richter scale and affected mainly the Arica and Tarapacá Regions, with no significant consequences for the rest of the country. The 2010 earthquake and its aftershocks, as well as tsunamis from adjacent coastal waters, caused severe damage to Chile's infrastructure, including roads, bridges, ports and Santiago's international airport, affecting areas across the country.

Although the 2015, 2014 and 2010 earthquakes did not have any substantial effect on CODELCO or its results of operations, and although CODELCO's mining operations are subject to, and designed to withstand, damage from significant seismic events, an earthquake occurring closer to CODELCO's operations in northern Chile could cause damage to its mining operations that would not be covered by insurance, except to the extent that its production ceased for more than 30 days. Any such damages caused by an earthquake that were not covered by insurance could have an adverse effect on CODELCO's results of financial condition, results of operations or cash flow.

If these and other natural phenomena occur in the future, CODELCO may suffer damage to, or destruction of, properties and equipment, which may negatively affect its business, particularly if those problems affect its computer-based data processing, transmission, storage and retrieval systems and destroy valuable data. In addition, if a significant number of its local employees and managers were unavailable in the event of a disaster, CODELCO's ability to effectively conduct business could be severely compromised. An earthquake, or another natural disaster could damage some of CODELCO's mining operations, force it to close damaged facilities or locations, increase recovery costs as well as cause economic damage, which in turn may have a material adverse effect on CODELCO's business.

Future compliance with a changing and complex regulation scheme may require changes in CODELCO's business.

CODELCO's exploration, mining, milling, smelting and refining activities are also subject to non-environmental Chilean laws and regulations (including certain industry technical standards), which change from time to time. Matters subject to regulation include, but are not limited to, concession fees, transportation, production, reclamation, export, taxation and labor standards.

While CODELCO does not believe that compliance with such laws and regulations will have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects, there can be no assurance that more stringent enforcement of, or change in, existing laws and regulations, the adoption of additional laws and regulations, including increased government supervision and control over the management of CODELCO's business and its awarding of contracts, or the discovery of new facts resulting in increased liabilities or costs would not have a material adverse effect on CODELCO's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

CODELCO's business plans are based on estimates of the volume and grade of CODELCO's ore deposits, which could be incorrect.

CODELCO's ore deposits (its resources and reserves) described in this offering memorandum constitute estimates based on standard evaluation methods generally used in the international mining industry and on assumptions as to production costs and market prices. The actual ore deposits may not conform to geological, metallurgical or other expectations, and the volume and grade of ore recovered may be below the estimated levels. Lower market prices, as well as increased production costs, reduced recovery rates and other factors, may render CODELCO's ore deposits uneconomic to exploit and may result in revision of its reserve and resource estimates from time to time. Reserve and resource data are not indicative of future results of operations. See "Business and Properties—Ore Reserves."

CODELCO's business requires substantial capital expenditures.

CODELCO's business is capital-intensive. Specifically, the exploration and exploitation of copper reserves, mining, smelting and refining costs, the maintenance of machinery and equipment and compliance with applicable laws and regulations require substantial capital expenditures. CODELCO expects to make capital expenditures of approximately U.S.$16.3 billion between 2024 and 2026 (current project portfolio and mine development) in addition to U.S.$840 million in its subsidiaries. This includes the acquisition of Lithium Power International in March 2024 for U.S.$244 million, and a 10% stake in Quebrada Blanca for U.S.$520 million, of which U.S.$182 million was paid in September 2024 and the remaining U.S.$338 million was paid in December 2024. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources—Capital Expenditure Program." There can be no assurance that CODELCO will be able to maintain its production levels or generate sufficient cash flow, capitalize a sufficient amount of its profit or have access to sufficient investments, loans or other financing alternatives to finance its capital expenditure program at a level necessary to continue its exploration, exploitation and refining activities at or above its present levels.

CODELCO's future performance depends on the results of current and future innovation and exploration.

CODELCO has a two-pronged exploration program that is focused on increasing reserves of its existing divisions and exploring for new deposits outside of its current operations. As the ore quality of CODELCO's reserves continues to decline over time, innovation and exploration are increasingly important to CODELCO's success. CODELCO expects to maintain its production levels through its expansion and development projects for the next three years. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources—Capital Expenditure Program" for more detail. While initial results have been favorable, there can be no guarantee that CODELCO's exploration program will continue to be successful. In addition, there may be some degree of execution risk associated with the expansion of operations into deeper mines or mines at higher altitudes. CODELCO's expansion program could also experience delays or be negatively impacted by higher costs. If CODELCO's expansion program is not successful, it would materially and adversely affect its copper production levels. For a description of CODELCO's current development programs, see "Business and Properties—Resource Development."

CODELCO has experienced high energy costs and may experience higher energy costs in the future.

Energy represents an important part of CODELCO's production costs. The main sources of energy for CODELCO's operations are electricity, liquid fuels (such as diesel, fuel oil and gasoline) and natural gas. With respect to liquid fuels and natural gas, these commodities are subject to price fluctuations as a result of external factors. For example, their cost significantly increased due to the COVID-19 pandemic and the ongoing war in Ukraine. As a result, CODELCO's profits and cash flows have been adversely affected and may continue to be adversely affected in the future. With the purpose of decarbonizing its electricity supply and reducing costs with new technologies, in January 2023, CODELCO launched an electricity supply bidding process focusing on renewable sources to procure approximately 2,500 GWh/year (which represents, approximately, 30% of CODELCO's electricity requirements) starting in January 2026. In March 2024, CODELCO successfully concluded the renewable energy public bidding process undertaken in 2023, in which more than 50 national and international companies participated. The bid was awarded to Colbún, Atlas and Innergex, for a total of 1.8 terawatt hours per year (TWh/year), equivalent to the consumption of approximately 222 thousand households. In May 2024, CODELCO and Engie announced modifications to the power purchase agreement signed in 2007 with Central Termoeléctrica Andina (CTA), which currently supplies electricity to the Gabriela Mistral Division and part of Chuquicamata. Under the revised agreement, CODELCO is expected to have the option to transition from CTA's coal-based energy supply to renewable energy starting January 1, 2026, ahead of the original 2032 timeline. Thanks to these processes CODELCO is expected to be supplied from 100% renewable sources, thus moving toward achieving its strategic plan goal of decarbonizing its power grid before 2030.

Any interruption or destruction or loss of data in CODELCO's information technology systems due to technical or operational malfunctions or cyber-attacks could have a material adverse effect on its reputation, business, financial condition and results of operations.

CODELCO is subject to a variety of information technology and system risks as a part of its normal course of operations, including potential breakdown, invasion, virus, cyber-attack, cyber-fraud, security breach, and destruction or interruption of CODELCO's information technology systems by third parties or CODELCO's own personnel. Although CODELCO has security measures and controls in place that are designed to mitigate these risks, a breach of its security measures or a loss of information could occur and result in a loss of material and confidential information, breach of privacy laws and a disruption to its business activities. In addition, information systems could be damaged or interrupted by natural disasters, force majeure events, telecommunications failures, power loss, acts of war or terrorism, computer viruses, malicious code, physical or electronic security breaches, intentional or inadvertent user misuse or error, or similar events or disruptions. Any of these or other events could cause interruptions, delays, loss of critical or sensitive data or similar effects, which could have a material adverse impact on the protection of intellectual property, confidential and proprietary information, and on CODELCO's business, financial condition and results of operations.

On November 15, 2023 CODELCO experienced a cyberattack in Gabriela Mistral Division, leading to a three-day operational halt. Nevertheless, CODELCO managed manual operations, conducted proactive maintenance, and concurrently recovered the autonomous system. The cybersecurity controls implemented by CODELCO successfully contained the malware, preventing its spread to other operations. Additionally, CODELCO enlisted Unit 42 of Palo Alto, a specialized incident response company based in the United States, for forensic analysis. The forensic analysis process confirmed that the attacker did not breach CODELCO's network directly but instead exploited a remote access point used for manufacturer support. During the cyberattack response, manufacturer support was restored using a security block featuring advanced remote access technologies and robust perimeter protection. Additionally, other measures recommended by the forensic analysis were implemented, including zero-day anti-malware controls for the Gabriela Mistral Division's autonomous trucks, which had been pre-validated by the autonomy provider.

CODELCO has not experienced any material economic impact as a result of this cyberattack. However, future cyberattacks could have an adverse effect on our results of operations or financial condition.

Labor disruptions involving CODELCO's employees or the employees of its independent contractors could affect CODELCO's production levels and costs.

As of December 31, 2023, CODELCO employed 15,673 employees, approximately 93% of whom were covered by collective bargaining agreements with labor unions. Most of these collective bargaining agreements have terms of two to three years. CODELCO has experienced material work slowdowns, work stoppages and strikes in the past. In 2019, CODELCO experienced a 14-day strike involving 3,200 union workers in the Chuquicamata Division (or approximately 67.0% of the total work force). The 14-day strike diminished production by approximately 17,600 metric tons. In 2021, CODELCO experienced a 21-day strike involving two labor unions from the Andina Division and a 24-day strike involving one labor union also from the Andina Division, both of which diminished production by approximately 12,000 metric tons. In 2022, CODELCO experienced a one-day strike involving two labor unions from the Ventanas Division. In March 2024, following the fatal accident that occurred in the Radomiro Tomic division, that division's workers went on strike demanding an increase in safety measures. This closure resulted in an estimated production loss of approximately 30,000 tons. The strike ended after 48 hours upon reaching an agreement with the Company, in which CODELCO committed to implement and fulfill a series of concrete actions to improve the safety of workers at the Radomiro Tomic Division. An investigation has been initiated to determine the cause of the accident.

CODELCO negotiated two collective bargaining agreements in 2022. CODELCO negotiated 24 collective bargaining agreements and seven collective bargaining agreements in 2021 and 2020, respectively. In 2024, CODELCO successfully negotiated 25 collective bargaining agreements, most of them before the start of the legal negotiation period as early settlements.

CODELCO has experienced work disruptions in the past, and there can be no assurance that a work slowdown or work stoppage will not occur prior to or upon the expiration of the current collective bargaining agreements. Management is unable to estimate the effect of any such work slowdown, stoppage or strike on CODELCO's production levels. While none of the strikes described in this risk factor had a material impact in CODELCO's results of operations, work slowdowns, stoppages or other labor-related developments affecting CODELCO could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects of CODELCO in the future. In particular, work slowdowns, stoppages and other labor-related events could increase CODELCO's independent contracting costs. In addition, pursuant to the Código del Trabajo (the "Labor Code of Chile"), CODELCO could be held liable for the payment of labor and social security obligations owed to the employees of independent contractors (or their subcontractors) if the independent contractors (or their subcontractors) do not fulfill those payment obligations. For further information on employee and independent contractor matters, including recent work disruptions, see "Business and Properties—Employees."

CODELCO is subject to an extensive labor reform law that could affect its business and operating result.

In 2016, the Government of Chile promulgated an extensive labor reform law (the "Labor Reform Law"), which became effective in 2017. The Labor Reform Law prevents Chilean companies from hiring temporary replacements for striking employees and also prevents the replacement of such employees with other existing workers of the company. This may have an adverse effect on our overall employment and operating costs, and may increase the likelihood of business disruptions in Chile. However, it has not been a practice of CODELCO to replace employees on strike, and there has not been an increase in labor disruptions in Chile since the law became effective.

In addition, under the Labor Reform Law, CODELCO and its labor unions negotiate from time to time the minimum services and emergency teams that the labor unions must provide in case of a strike during a collective bargaining process. Currently, and according to the Labor Reform Law, the following minimum services may be agreed: (i) services that are strictly necessary to protect the physical assets and premises of the Company and to prevent accidents; (ii) services strictly necessary to guarantee the rendering of all services of public utility, and the attention of the population and basic needs, including those related to life, safety and health; and (iii) services strictly necessary to guarantee the prevention of sanitary or environmental damage. If there is any disagreement between CODELCO and its labor unions regarding such minimum services and emergency equipment, the parties may resolve such disagreement through administrative proceedings before the Dirección Regional del Trabajo (Regional Labor Board), which are subject to challenge by the parties before the Director Nacional del Trabajo (National Labor Board).

As of December 31, 2023, CODELCO employed 15,673 employees, approximately 93% of whom were covered by collective bargaining agreements with labor unions. CODELCO currently has positive labor relations with these unions. CODELCO is currently unable to estimate the impact that the Labor Reform Law or similar reforms will have on its labor relations with respect to labor unions, or on its business, financial condition, operating results and prospects.

Recent bills of law on labor and social security matters could affect CODELCO's operations and employee costs.

- Reform to the Pensions Act: In November 2022, the Chilean government proposed a bill to create a new Combined Pension System and a Social Insurance in the contributory pension component, improve the Guaranteed Universal Pension (“GUP”) and establish benefits and regulatory amendments.

Currently, the social security system in Chile is composed of: (i) a mandatory contribution of the employee’s burden, equal to 10.0% of the employee’s monthly remuneration, which is transferred to the employee’s individual capitalization account with the Pension Fund Administrator (“AFP”). In case of dependent employees, the employer has the obligation to retain the corresponding sums and transfer them to the respective AFP; (ii) a voluntary contribution, that enables employees to voluntarily complement their pension funds; and (iii) a welfare contribution or pension aid (“pilar solidario”), which is a State’s contribution to complement the pension funds of the poorest 60.0% of the population in Chile.

Main topics of the pension reform include: (i) a gradual increase of the GUP from Ch$194,000 (U.S.$200 approximately) to Ch$250,000 (U.S.$257 approximately); (ii) a new contribution of the employer’s charge of 6.0% of the employee’s gross income, in addition to the aforementioned 10.0% corresponding to the mandatory contribution of the employee’s burden, of which as of July 2024, the government proposed the following distribution regarding the new 6% burden: 1% for an insurance to equalize pensions between men and women, 2% for a contribution that will be reimbursed to the employee upon retirement and 3% to increase savings in the individual account; and (iii) the elimination of the AFPs and reorganization of the industry in the contributing pension aid.

The pension reform bill is currently advancing through its legislative process. The Senate has authorized the Labor and Social Security Commission to discuss and vote on the bill in general and in detail. A protocol has been agreed upon between the ministers and senators, setting clear timelines and a methodology for the discussion, with a focus on increasing pension savings, improving the competitiveness of pension funds, and ensuring a fairer distribution of pensions. It is uncertain what the impact of this reform will be on CODELCO because: (i) it is still under discussion, and thus its final text may vary significantly, and (ii) if passed into law, in the terms currently under discussion, the bill would have different effective dates, with the most relevant being that corresponding to the 25th month following its publication.

- Reduction of the weekly working schedule: On April 26, 2023, Law No. 21,561 was published in the Official Gazette, introducing changes to the Labor Code of Chile, mainly consisting in the reduction of the weekly working hours from 45 to 40 hours. This 5-hour reduction will enter into force gradually over a five-year period. On April 26, 2024, the ordinary working hours limit was reduced to 44 hours, in 2026 it will be reduced to 42 and, finally, to 40 hours in 2028.

The impact that this law could have on CODELCO’s operations will depend on the applicable type of employee (administrative, miners, etc.), the different workday schemes in place on each labor site and the capacity of CODELCO to maintain productivity levels despite its approval. Additionally, it could also impact CODELCO’s operations and labor-related costs. The uncertainties facing CODELCO with regard to the implementation of this law are similar to those faced by other affected Chilean companies.

- Distribution of Profit Sharing: On September 2, 2021, the Chamber of Deputies of the Chilean Congress approved a bill to change the distribution of profit sharing in companies. According to this bill, companies will have to distribute to their employees between 8.0% to 15.0% of their annual net profits, a percentage that will depend on the amounts invoiced by the company during the respective annual period. The amount payable to each employee annually is capped at 20 times the monthly minimum income (“MMI”). Furthermore, companies will have to make monthly payouts equal to 25.0% of the employee’s monthly remuneration, capped annually at six times the MMI. This monthly payment will be attributable to the annual payment, in case the latter turns out to be higher.

The draft is currently being discussed at the Chilean Congress and has not progressed since 2021. It is possible that the draft could be substantially modified when it continues its discussion and approval process, thus its impact on CODELCO is unknown at this time.

- New MMI: Pursuant to the provisions of Law No. 21,578, as of July 1, 2024, the MMI was increased to Ch$500,000 (approximately U.S.$538.0). The MMI will be readjusted in January 2025 according to the variation experienced by the CPI between July 1, 2024, and December 31, 2024. An increase in the MMI could lead to an increase in CODELCO's labor-related costs.

- "Karin Act": Effective August 1, 2024, Law 21,643 on prevention, investigations and sanctioning of sexual and labor harassment and workplace violence (unofficially known as the "Karin Act"), introduced several amendments to the Labor Code of Chile and/or new regulations on said matters. Although these changes may not have a direct impact on CODELCO's costs, they could potentially lead to higher administrative expenses and an increase in litigation or claims.

Recent bills of law on tax matters could affect CODELCO's operations and employees costs.

On August 10, 2023, Law No. 21,591, also known as the Mining Royalty Law, was published in the Official Gazette. This law eliminates the specific mining tax (currently applicable to CODELCO) and establishes a special tax for the establishment of copper mining activities. A maximum tax rate of 46.5% is established over the operational income of the mining producers of over 80,000 metric tons of fine copper per year and a maximum tax rate of 45.5% for mining producers with production of up to 80,000 metric tons of fine copper per year. Part of the funds obtained with this tax will be used for special funds to benefit different and vulnerable communities or communities in which mining activities are performed in Chile. CODELCO's current mining tax rate is 5% and CODELCO expects it to increase to 8% in the coming years. Nonetheless, for CODELCO, there should not be significant impact on free cash flow as higher taxes are expected to lead to lower net income and therefore lower dividend payout. Starting January 1, 2025, under Law No. 21,420 and Law No. 21,649, mining concession holders in Chile must pay annual fees of approximately U.S.$4.5 per hectare for exploration concessions and U.S.$29.9 per hectare for exploitation concessions during the first five years, however, those mining concessions considered to be in productive mining operations may opt to maintain a payment of U.S.$7.5 per hectare with exploitation fees increasing to U.S.$897.3 per hectare by the 31st year since the law came into effect. Concession holders actively undertaking mining works or involved in projects with environmental approvals may apply for a reduced exploitation fee of U.S.$7.5 per hectare by providing evidence to the National Geology and Mining Service (SNGM). Annual fees are due in March, and failure to pay can result in loss of the concession through auction or the termination of the mining concession through a declaration of open land. Certain exploitation fees may also be credited against income taxes.

On October 24, 2024, Law No. 21,713 was published in the Official Gazette, establishing rules to ensure compliance with tax obligations. The provisions of this law came into effect on November 1, 2024, notwithstanding specific effective dates established by the law for certain provisions. The key aspects of this law, among others, are related to: (i) corporate reorganizations, including the legal recognition of international reorganizations and the requirements for the Chilean Internal Revenue Service power of appraisal not to apply; (ii) international taxation, including the strengthening of transfer pricing rules, modifications regarding the relationship rules in the case of provisions associated with controlled foreign corporations, and the substitution of the definition of jurisdictions with a preferential tax regime; (iii) a specific voluntary disclosure program regarding assets and income abroad that were not timely declared or taxed in Chile; (iv) modifications regarding the procedure for requesting information subject to bank secrecy; (v) multiple modifications regarding audit matters, including reporting obligation for digital platforms, the calculation of default interest, audit processes, tax penalties and infractions, among others; (vi) value added tax ("VAT"), including modifications on VAT regarding digital services and regarding the export VAT request procedure; (vii) multiple modifications regarding the Tax Ombudsman; and (viii) General Anti Avoidance Rules, maintaining a judicial procedure but including a stage before the Executive Committee, a newly created body responsible for recommending whether or not the General Anti-Avoidance Rule should be applied.

In addition, a bill proposing an income tax reform is expected to be presented by the current Government in January 2025.

CODELCO engages in hedging activity from time to time, particularly with respect to its copper production, which may not be successful and may result in losses to CODELCO.

CODELCO from time to time hedges certain future copper delivery commitments and production in order to manage the risks associated with copper price volatility. CODELCO currently does not have any production hedging commitments. See notes 28 and 29 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

CODELCO's production hedging activities could cause it to lose the benefit of an increase in copper prices if copper prices increase over the level of CODELCO's hedge position, as occurred in 2012. The cash flows from and the mark-to-market values of CODELCO's production hedges can be affected by factors such as the market price of copper, copper price volatility and interest rates, which are not under CODELCO's control.

CODELCO's production hedging agreements contain events of default and termination events that could lead to early close-outs of CODELCO's hedges. These include failure to pay, breach of the agreement, misrepresentation, default under CODELCO's loans or other hedging agreements and bankruptcy. In the event of an early termination of CODELCO's hedging agreements, the cash flows from the affected hedge instruments would cease and CODELCO and the relevant hedge counterparty would settle all of CODELCO's obligations at that time. In that event, there could be a lump sum payment to be made either to or by CODELCO. The magnitude and direction of such a payment would depend upon, among other things, the characteristics of the particular hedge instruments that were terminated and the market price of copper and copper price volatility and interest rates at the time of termination.

In addition to its production hedging activities, CODELCO has hedged a portion of its exchange rate and interest rate exposure by entering into forward exchange contracts to hedge against fluctuations in the UF to U.S. dollar exchange rate for its outstanding UF-denominated bonds. CODELCO also periodically enters into futures contracts with respect to certain sales of its own copper. No assurance can be given that CODELCO will be adequately protected by its hedging activities.

See "Business and Properties—Marketing—Pricing and Hedging," notes 28 and 29 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further information on CODELCO's hedging activity.

Global economic, political and regulatory developments may adversely affect CODELCO.

Revenue from international sales constitutes a material portion of our total revenue, and we anticipate it will continue to for the foreseeable future. This year, the U.S. administration has intensified its trade policies, implementing new tariffs and restrictions, particularly impacting trade with China. Additionally, escalating geopolitical tensions, including the conflict in the Middle East and the conflict in Ukraine and economic sanctions on Russia, have further strained global supply chains. These factors, combined with uncertainties in U.S.-China relations, could disrupt the global economy and negatively affect our revenues. If our revenues generated from international sales decline significantly as a result, it could have a material adverse effect on CODELCO's business and results of operations. Additionally, in light of the recently held elections in the U.S. and various international jurisdictions, there is considerable uncertainty regarding reforms of various aspects of existing laws, regulations, and enforcement priorities and strategies that could affect trade policies, labor matters, taxes, and technological advancements, among other areas, and have a material effect on our business and results of operations.

CODELCO's new role in the lithium industry set by the National Lithium Strategy involves numerous risks, many of which are different to the risks derived from the businesses CODELCO has traditionally engaged in.

CODELCO has been designated as the Republic of Chile's representative and is working with CORFO in the negotiation and definition of future contracts with private companies for the development of lithium production in the Atacama and Maricunga Salt Flats. See "Summary—Recent Developments—New Role of CODELCO related to Lithium."

While CODELCO already explores and exploits copper, its new role in, and increased focus on, the lithium industry could prove difficult to integrate with our other lines of business, resulting in unknown or unforeseen liabilities, disrupt our business, dilute stockholder value and ownership and adversely affect our operating results and financial condition.

Being one of Chile's agents for the development of the country's lithium industry involves numerous risks, many of which are different from the risks derived from the other businesses we have traditionally engaged in. Those risks include, among others:

- potential failure to achieve the expected benefits of engaging in the new businesses;
- difficulties in, and the cost of, integrating operations, technologies, services, platforms and personnel;
- diversion of financial and managerial resources from existing operations;
- the potential entry into new markets in which we have little or no experience or where competitors may be stronger;
- reputational risk;
- failure to increase or maintain our market position due to, among others;
- unavailability of external financing beyond CODELCO's control, required to make additional investments and take on additional costs;
- inability to generate sufficient revenue to offset investment costs;
- potential unknown liabilities associated with the new lines of business, including regulatory noncompliance; and
- ineffective or inadequate controls, procedures and policies in connection with the new business.

Any of these risks could have an adverse effect on our business, operating results and financial condition. To perform this new role in the lithium industry we may be required to make additional investments and take on additional costs, which may be higher than expected and may not be recoverable. To finance such investments and costs, we may seek additional debt financing, which may not be available on terms favorable to us, or at all, which may affect our ability to complete investments. If we finance these investments by incurring additional debt, we could face constraints related to the terms of, and repayment obligations related to, the incurrence of indebtedness.

Risks Relating to CODELCO's Relationship with the Government of Chile

Important corporate governance matters, the annual budget and financing programs are determined by or subject to the approval of the President of Chile and the Ministries of Finance and Mining.

CODELCO is a mining, industrial and commercial state-owned enterprise of indefinite duration with its own legal personality and capital. CODELCO's relationship with the Government of Chile is through the Ministry of Mining, and is governed by Decree Law 1,350, as amended by Law 20,392, its bylaws and other applicable legislation. The President of Chile is vested with the authority analogous to that of the shareholders of a corporation (sociedad anónima) under Chilean law, which may be delegated in whole or in part to the Ministers of Finance and Mining, jointly. Pursuant to such authority, the President of Chile (i) participates in the designation of the Board of Directors by designating three directors without external input and by electing six directors on the basis of third-party short lists; (ii) appoints the Chairman of the Board of Directors; and (iii) may approve and amend the bylaws of the Company, by means of an executive decree issued jointly by the Ministries of Finance and Mining. In 2021, Gabriel Boric was elected as President of Chile. Mr. Boric's administration began on March 11, 2022. Senior management and administration of the Company are vested in its Board of Directors and further delegated to its Chief Executive Officer. Pursuant to Decree Law 1,350, CODELCO's Board of Directors must submit its proposed annual budget to the Ministries of Finance and Mining for approval and possible revision. In addition, Decree Law 1,350 requires CODELCO to include as part of its proposed annual budget a debt amortization budget that includes interest and principal payments on CODELCO's debts, including the notes. CODELCO must also submit a three-year Plan de Negocios y Desarrollo (a Business Development Plan, or "BDP") report, approved by the Company's Board of Directors, to the Ministries of Finance and Mining by March of each year. There is no guarantee that actions taken with respect to the appointment of CODELCO's directors, amendments to its bylaws, and revision and approval of its budget, including CODELCO's capitalization of profit, will be adopted by the administration of the new President and/or will be the same as they would be in a privately owned company. See "Management" and "Regulatory Framework."

CODELCO's funding through retention of profits is restricted and is subject to the approval of the Ministries of Finance and Mining.

As a state-owned enterprise and according to its governing law, CODELCO's profit is required to be transferred to the Chilean Treasury. Before June 30 of each year, the Ministries of Finance and Mining are required to determine, by means of a joint decree, the amount, if any, that the Company shall allocate to the creation of capitalization and reserve funds as retention of profits. Between 2014 and 2019, the Government of Chile authorized the capitalization by capital injection and retention of profit within CODELCO in an aggregate amount of U.S.$3.3 billion. Although CODELCO currently expects the Ministries of Finance and Mining to make available a substantial amount of its pre-tax profit over the next three years, a joint decree of the Ministries of Finance and Mining is required each year and the amounts approved in any given year, if any, could vary significantly. Since 2022, the Chilean Government is allowing CODELCO to annually reinvest 30.0% of its 2021-2024 profits. This represents a change in CODELCO's dividend policy, which previously consisted of 100% net-profit distribution policy. This profit-reinvestment plan is expected to strengthen CODELCO's financial balance sheet and reduce the need for additional financial debt. The 30.0% profit-reinvestment plan resulted in an additional U.S.$583.0 million which CODELCO was allowed to allocate against profits from 2022 and an additional U.S.$103.7 million which CODELCO was allowed to allocate against profits from 2023, in each case to the formation of a "Capitalization and Reserve Funds" reserve. The amount is calculated over the net profit of the previous year and is charged in the current year or the following year until the amount is completed. A similar exercise is expected to be carried out in 2024. As of December 31, 2023, no funds were allocated to such reserve due to CODELCO losses. As of September 30, 2024, CODELCO had allocated U.S.$346 million to such reserve.

If CODELCO's funding through capitalization and retention of profits, depreciation, amortization and deferred taxes are insufficient to fund capital expenditures and if it is unable to otherwise finance planned expenditures, CODELCO's business would be adversely affected. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources." In addition, if the Government of Chile does not authorize additional capitalization or the retention of profits, our credit rating may be adversely affected, which could have a material adverse effect on our business and financial condition.

CODELCO is subject to special taxes.

Law No. 21,174, that repealed Law No. 13,196, the Copper Reserve Law, exclusively requires CODELCO to pay a 10.0% special export tax on receivables of the sales proceeds received and transferred to Chile from the export of copper and related by-products the Company produces. As a result, the Banco Central de Chile (the "Central Bank of Chile") retains 10.0% of the amounts from such sales that CODELCO transfers to its Chilean account. The Copper Reserve Law has an adverse effect on our ability to retain earnings for purposes of capital expenditures. In July 2019, the Chilean Congress issued a new resolution to repeal the Copper Reserve Law. Under this resolution, CODELCO will remain subject to the 10.0% special export tax until 2028. Beginning in 2029, the tax will be reduced annually by 25.0% until 2032 when CODELCO will no longer be subject to such tax. As of April 1, 2020, CODELCO is paying the taxes owed pursuant to the Copper Reserve Law on a monthly basis, following a response measure from the Government of Chile to the economic effects of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Chilean income tax law (the "Income Tax Law") contemplates thin capitalization rules which are applicable to CODELCO. As such, under article 41 F of the Income Tax Law, interest, premiums, remuneration for services, financial expenses and any other contractual surcharges under credit facilities which are paid or credited to an account or made available to "related entities" (as defined below) of CODELCO in respect of loans or liabilities, are subject to a 35.0% tax (applied to the debtor) if the debtor is considered to be in an "excessive indebtedness" situation by the year's end. The withholding tax applicable to the interest payments made by CODELCO (for example, the 4% Chilean Withholding Tax), can be used as a credit against such 35.0% sole tax. Indebtedness will be considered to be excessive when at the end of the corresponding fiscal year the "total annual indebtedness" granted by entities incorporated, domiciled or established in a foreign country or in Chile, either related or not, exceeds three times CODELCO's tax adjusted equity, calculated pursuant to the provisions of the Income Tax Law. Only short-term debt (i.e., with maturity of less than 90 days, including extensions or renewals) with non-related parties may be excluded from the "total annual indebtedness” calculation. Under the “Excessive Indebtedness” rules, a lender or creditor will be deemed to be related to CODELCO if: (i) the beneficiary is incorporated, domiciled, resident or established in one of the territories or jurisdictions listed in section 41 H of the Income Tax Law; (ii) the beneficiary and CODELCO belong to the same corporate group or the beneficiary or debtor directly or indirectly, owns or participates in 10% or more of the capital or the profits of the other, or if the beneficiary and debtor have a common partner or shareholder which, directly or indirectly, owns or participates in 10% or more of the capital or the profits of one or the other, and that the beneficiary is incorporated, domiciled, resident or established outside Chile; (iii) the indebtedness is guaranteed directly or indirectly by a third-party related to CODELCO, in the terms of clauses (i) or (ii) above, or (iv) hereafter, provided that such third-party is domiciled or resident abroad and is a final beneficiary (beneficiario final) of the financing; (iv) the relevant financial instruments documenting such indebtedness are placed and acquired by independent entities and such indebtedness is subsequently acquired or transferred to a related entity according to subsections (i) to (iii) above; or (v) one party (i.e., beneficiary or CODELCO) conducts one or more operations with a third-party who, in turn, directly or indirectly conducts one or more similar or identical operations with a related party of such party, whatever the capacity in which said third party and the parties intervene in such operations. The debtor will be required to issue an affidavit in this regard in the form set forth by the Chilean tax authorities.

Since the 2012 fiscal year and pursuant to Law No. 20,026, as amended, CODELCO has been subject to a mining tax (Impuesto Específico a la Actividad Minera) on operating income generated during the operating year at progressive rates between 5.0% and 14.0%. During 2023, CODELCO distributed a total of U.S.$1.4 billion (including income tax, and export tax payments and distributions) to the Chilean Treasury. See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources—Distributions to the Chilean Treasury” and “Regulatory Framework.” The statutory rate of the mining tax for CODELCO was calculated at 5.0% for 2021 and 2022. However, no assurances can be made that such rate will remain in place.

On January 1, 2024, Law No. 21,591 came into effect, “Mining Royalty Law”. Under this law, CODELCO is subject to this new mining royalty tax, which generally comprises an Ad Valorem component which applies a tax rate of 1% on annual copper sales, and a mining margin component which applies a progressive tax rate (i.e., 8%-26%) on the adjusted taxable mining operating margin. In addition, a maximum potential tax burden of 46.5% is established on the mining entity’s operating profitability, measured as the adjusted pre-taxable mining operating income. This limit considers jointly the mining royalty tax, the corporate tax and final taxes. The royalty must be adjusted correspondingly if the sum of those taxes exceeds the maximum potential tax burden.

CODELCO’s corporate tax rate has gradually increased from 21.0% in 2014 to up to 25.0% since 2017. In addition, CODELCO is subject to a 40.0% tax on net earnings applicable to state-owned enterprises as specified by Decree Law 2,398, Art. 2.

The revenue generated by CODELCO transferred to the Chilean state for the year ended December 31, 2023 was U.S.$1.4 billion, approximately, compared with U.S.$2.8 billion, approximately for the year ended on December 31, 2022.

Constitutional amendments could be proposed that would allow private ownership of CODELCO.

CODELCO is 100% owned by the Government of Chile and a constitutional amendment approved by the Chilean Congress would be required to allow private participation in CODELCO’s ownership. Although there has been no formal governmental action to permit private investment in CODELCO, no assurance can be given that such a constitutional amendment will not be proposed to the Chilean Congress in the future. See “Regulatory Framework—Overview of the Regulatory Regime.”

Risks Relating to Chile

CODELCO’s growth and profitability depend on political stability and economic activity in Chile and other emerging markets.

Almost all of CODELCO’s revenues are derived from its operations in Chile. Accordingly, CODELCO’s results of operations and general financial condition depend in part on Chilean markets for labor and certain materials and equipment, and on factors relating to Chilean political stability generally. The Chilean economy has been influenced, to varying degrees, by economic conditions in other countries, especially the United States and China. Changes in Chilean economic growth in the future or developments affecting the Chilean economy, including consequences from a monetary policy normalization in the United States or a deceleration of economic growth in China or other developed nations to which Chile exports a majority of its goods, could materially and adversely affect CODELCO's business, financial condition or results of operations. CODELCO's results of operations and financial condition could also be affected by changes in economic or other policies of the Chilean Government, which has exercised and continues to exercise a substantial influence over many aspects of the private sector, or other political or economic developments in Chile.

The continuing trade war between the United States and China as well as the evolution of the Chinese economy and the impact that a slowdown would have on the price of copper may have an adverse effect on international trade. Persistent declines in the price of copper would impact negatively the Chilean economy.

CODELCO's business performance is subject to the effects of inflation and changes in the value of the peso.

Although Chilean inflation rates have been low during the last decade, Chile has in more recent years experienced higher levels of inflation, as a consequence of the COVID-19 pandemic on the global and local economy, and other geopolitical tensions such as the war in Ukraine and Middle East. High levels of inflation in Chile could adversely affect the Chilean economy and have an adverse effect on CODELCO's results of operations if the high inflation is not accompanied by a matching devaluation of the local currency. Although inflation levels have been decreasing since 2023 and have remained stable in 2024, there can be no assurance that Chilean inflation will not revert to prior levels in the future. In addition, the measures taken by the Central Bank of Chile to control inflation have often included maintaining a tight monetary policy with high interest rates, thereby restricting the availability of credit and economic growth.

The following table shows the annual rate of inflation (as measured by changes in the Chilean consumer price index and as reported by the Instituto Nacional de Estadísticas, or the "Chilean National Institute of Statistics"):

Year	Inflation (CPI) (in percentages)
2019	3.0
2020	3.0
2021	7.2
2022	12.8
2024 (through November 30, 2024).....	4.7

A significant portion of CODELCO's operating costs is denominated in pesos and could therefore be significantly affected by the rate of inflation in Chile. If inflation in Chile were to increase without a corresponding depreciation of the peso, or if the value of the peso were to appreciate relative to the U.S. dollar without the peso experiencing corresponding deflation in Chile, the financial position and results of operations of CODELCO as well as the value of the notes could be materially and adversely affected. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources."

The variation of the U.S. dollar against the peso constitutes CODELCO's main foreign exchange rate exposure. The mismatch between assets and liabilities denominated in pesos and UF amounts to a net liability for the Company of U.S.$2.5 billion (6.4% of the total amount of liabilities on a consolidated basis) as of December 31, 2023, and U.S.$2.8 billion (10.7% of the total amount of liabilities on a consolidated basis) as of December 31, 2022. In order to cover this risk, CODELCO has, and currently is, engaged in hedging transactions to partially mitigate the effects of the volatility of foreign exchange rates. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO’s Operations—CODELCO engages in hedging activity from time to time, particularly with respect to its copper production, which may not be successful and may result in losses to CODELCO.”

CODELCO’s business is exposed to fluctuations in currency exchange rates. Any future changes in the value of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar will affect the U.S. dollar value of our securities. The Chilean peso has been subject to large depreciations and appreciations in the past and could be subject to significant fluctuations in the future. The main drivers of exchange rate volatility in past years were the significant fluctuations of commodity prices, general uncertainty and trade imbalances in the global markets, the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, and political uncertainty surrounding Chile’s new constitution and tax and pensions reforms.

Any downgrading of Chile’s debt credit rating for domestic and international debt by international credit rating agencies may also affect our ratings, our business, our future financial performance, and the value of our securities, and any downgrading of our credit ratings could increase our cost of funding and adversely affect our interest margins and results of operations.

In July 2024, Fitch Ratings (“Fitch”) affirmed the credit rating of Chile’s long-term foreign currency as A-, with stable outlook. In October 2024, S&P Global Ratings affirmed its A-1 long-term foreign currency and its A/A-1 long-term local currency sovereign credit ratings on Chile and changed the outlook from stable to negative due to weaker political consensus on the key parameters of Chile’s political and economic agenda. In November 2024, Moody’s confirmed the Government of Chile’s long-term local and foreign-currency issuer to A2 with stable outlook.

However, any adverse revisions to Chile’s credit ratings for domestic and international debt by international rating agencies may adversely affect CODELCO’s ratings, business, future financial performance, stockholders’ equity and the value of CODELCO’s securities.

In addition, credit ratings affect the cost and other terms upon which CODELCO is able to obtain funding. Rating agencies regularly evaluate CODELCO and their ratings of its debt are based on a number of factors, including our financial strength and conditions affecting the financial services industry generally. There can be no assurance that the rating agencies will maintain the current ratings or outlooks, and any downgrading in CODELCO’s debt credit ratings would likely increase CODELCO’s borrowing costs and could limit its access to capital markets and adversely affect its operating results and financial condition.

Risks Relating to the Offering

In case of a default under the notes, the ability of holders to attach property of CODELCO may be limited by Chilean law.

CODELCO’s activities in Chile are dependent on concessions granted by the Chilean Ordinary Courts. These concessions are granted for indefinite terms in the case of exploitation concessions and for four-year periods in the case of exploration concessions (renewable with certain limitations). As a general matter, the Ordinary Courts, through legal proceedings brought by third parties (or by the Chilean Treasury in case of noncompliance with the obligation to pay annual fees), have the legal right to terminate or annul the concessions. Pursuant to the Chilean Mining Code, all mining concessions, as well as certain raw materials and other property or assets permanently dedicated to the exploration or extraction of minerals, cannot be subject to an order of attachment, except with respect to mortgages, where the debtor consents to the attachment in the relevant legal proceeding or when the debtor is a stock corporation. In addition, pursuant to the Constitution, mining concessions corresponding to mining deposits currently exploited by CODELCO can be subject neither to attachment nor to any act of disposition by CODELCO. As a result, the rights of holders to attach property of CODELCO in the event of a default under the notes would be limited by such provisions. See “Regulatory Framework—Mining Regulations.”

CODELCO is permitted to incur additional indebtedness ranking equally to the notes or certain secured indebtedness.

The indenture governing the notes will not contain any restrictions on the amount of additional indebtedness which may be incurred by CODELCO or its subsidiaries; however, the notes contain restrictions on the ability of CODELCO and its subsidiaries to incur certain secured indebtedness as set forth in “Description of Notes—Limitations on Liens” below. As a result, CODELCO is permitted to issue additional unsecured debt that ranks on an equal basis with the notes. If CODELCO incurs any additional unsecured debt that ranks on an equal basis with the notes, the holders of that debt will be entitled to share with the holders of the notes in any proceeds distributed in connection with an insolvency, liquidation, reorganization, dissolution or other winding-up of CODELCO subject to satisfaction of certain debt limitations. This may have the effect of reducing the amount of proceeds paid to the holder of the notes under such an event. The indenture does not require CODELCO to make payments under the notes ratably with payments being made under any other obligations.

We may not be able to generate sufficient cash flows from operating activities to fund our operations, service our indebtedness and pay our liabilities, including the notes, and may be forced to take other actions to make such payments, which may not be successful.

Our inability to generate sufficient cash flows to satisfy our liabilities and debt obligations, or to refinance our indebtedness on commercially reasonable terms or at all, would materially and adversely affect our business, financial position, and results of operations and our ability to satisfy our obligations under the notes.

Our ability to fund and honor our liabilities and service our indebtedness, including the notes, depends on our ability to generate sufficient cash flows. This, in turn, depends on our financial condition and operating performance, which are subject to prevailing economic and competitive conditions and to financial, business, legislative, regulatory and other factors beyond our control. We might not be able to maintain a level of cash flows from operating activities, or generate sufficient profits, to permit us to pay the principal, premium, if any, and interest on our indebtedness, including the notes.

In addition, we conduct part of our operations through our subsidiaries, however they will not be guarantors of the notes or our other indebtedness. Our subsidiaries have no obligation to pay amounts due on the notes or our other indebtedness or to make funds available for that purpose.

If our cash flows and capital resources are insufficient to fund our liabilities or debt service obligations, we could face substantial liquidity problems and could be forced to reduce or delay investments and capital expenditures or to dispose of material assets or operations, seek additional debt or restructure or refinance our indebtedness, including the notes. We may not be able to effect any such alternative measures on commercially reasonable terms or at all and, even if successful, those alternative actions may not allow us to meet our scheduled debt service obligations. The notes contain restrictions on the ability of CODELCO to incur certain secured indebtedness as set forth in “Description of Notes—Limitations on Liens” below. Because of these restrictions, we may not be able to raise additional indebtedness and to obtain proceeds in an amount sufficient to meet any debt service obligations then due.

If certain changes to tax law were to occur, CODELCO would have the option to redeem the notes of an affected series. CODELCO may also redeem the Notes before maturity at its option at the prices set forth in this offering memorandum.

Under current Chilean law and regulations, payments of interest to holders of the notes that are not residents of Chile for purposes of Chilean taxation generally will be subject to Chilean withholding tax at a rate of 4.0%. Subject to certain exceptions, CODELCO will pay Additional Amounts (as defined in “Description of Notes—Payments of Additional Amounts”) so that the amount received by the holder after Chilean withholding tax will equal the amount that would have been received if no such taxes had been applicable. Each series of notes are redeemable at the option of CODELCO in whole, but not in part, at any time, at the principal amount thereof plus accrued and unpaid interest and any Additional Amounts due thereon if, as a result of changes in the laws or regulations on or after the date of this offering memorandum affecting Chilean taxation, CODELCO becomes obligated to pay Additional Amounts with respect to interest on such notes in respect of withholding or deduction of Chilean tax at a rate in excess of 4.0%. CODELCO is unable to determine whether such an increase in the withholding tax rate will ultimately be presented to or enacted by the Chilean Congress; however, if such an increase were enacted, the notes would be redeemable at the option of CODELCO. See “Description of Notes—Redemption—Tax Redemption” and “Taxation—Chilean Taxation.”

We may redeem the 2035 notes at our option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time prior to the date that is three months prior to the maturity date of the 2035 notes, at a redemption price equal to the greater of 100% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2035 notes to be redeemed and a redemption price based on a “make-whole” premium, plus accrued and unpaid interest to the date of redemption. We may redeem the 2055 notes at our option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time prior to the date that is six months prior to the maturity date of the 2055 notes, at a redemption price equal to the greater of 100% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2055 notes to be redeemed and a redemption price based on a “make-whole” premium, plus accrued and unpaid interest to the date of redemption. In addition, we may redeem the 2035 notes at our option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time, beginning on the date that is three months prior to the maturity date of the 2035 notes, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2035 notes to be redeemed, plus accrued and unpaid interest to the date of redemption. We may redeem the 2055 notes at our option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time, beginning on the date that is six months prior to the maturity date of the 2055 notes, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the outstanding principal amount of the 2055 notes to be redeemed, plus accrued and unpaid interest to the date of redemption. See “Description of Notes—Tax Redemption” and “—Optional Redemption”.

An investor may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds in other securities with interest rates similar to that applied to the notes redeemed.

Our obligations under the notes will be subordinated to certain statutory liabilities.

Under Chilean bankruptcy law, the obligations under the notes are subordinated to certain statutory preferences. In the event of a liquidation, such statutory preferences, including claims for salaries, wages, secured obligations, social security, taxes and court fees and expenses, will have preference over any other claims, including claims by any investor in respect of the notes. The aforementioned statutory preferences have not been included in a legal order. In addition, the liabilities of our subsidiaries are structurally senior to the Notes.

In addition, the Issuer’s creditors may hold negotiable instruments or other instruments governed by local law that grant rights to attach the assets of the Issuer at the inception of judicial proceedings in the relevant jurisdiction, which attachment is likely to result in priorities benefitting those creditors when compared to the rights of holders of the Notes.

The market value of the notes may depend on economic conditions in other countries over which CODELCO has no control.

The market value of securities of Chilean companies, including CODELCO, is affected to varying degrees by economic and market conditions in other emerging market countries. Although economic conditions in such countries may differ significantly from economic conditions in Chile, investors’ reactions to developments in any of these other countries may have an adverse effect on the market value of securities of Chilean issuers. International financial markets have in recent years experienced volatility due to a combination of international political and economic events. There can be no assurance that the deterioration of emerging market economies or other events in or outside of the region will not adversely affect the market value of the notes.

The perception of higher risk in other countries, especially in Latin American or other emerging economies, may adversely affect the Chilean economy, CODELCO’s business and the market price of Chilean securities issued by Chilean issuers, including the Notes.

Emerging markets like Chile are subject to greater risks than more developed markets, and financial turmoil in any emerging market could disrupt business in Chile and adversely affect the price of the Notes. Moreover, financial turmoil in any important emerging market country may adversely affect prices in stock markets and prices for debt securities of issuers in other emerging market countries as investors move their money to more stable, developed markets. An increase in the perceived risks associated with investing in Latin American or other emerging markets could dampen capital flows to Chile and adversely affect the Chilean economy in general, and the interest of investors in securities issued by Chilean issuers. CODELCO cannot assure you that the value of the notes will not be negatively affected by events in Latin American or other emerging markets or the global economy in general.

The transferability of the notes may be limited by the absence of an active trading market and restrictions on transfer under applicable securities law.

The notes have not been registered under the Securities Act or any state securities laws. CODELCO does not intend to list the notes on any national securities exchange or to seek admission of the notes for trading on any securities exchange in the United States; however, we intend to apply to list the notes on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. Furthermore, CODELCO does not intend to exchange the notes for notes that are registered under the Securities Act. The initial purchasers are not obligated to make a market in the notes. No assurance can be given about the liquidity of any markets that may develop for the notes, the ability of holders to sell the notes or the prices at which the notes could be sold. Future trading prices of the notes will depend on many factors, including prevailing interest rates, CODELCO's operating results and the market for similar securities. There can be no assurance that any active trading market will develop for the notes or that holders of the notes will be able to transfer or resell the notes without registration under applicable securities laws.

We cannot assure you that our credit rating, or the credit ratings for a series of notes, will not be lowered, suspended or withdrawn by the rating agencies.

Our credit rating is subject to change in the future, and the credit ratings of the notes may change after issuance. Such ratings do not address all material risks relating to an investment in CODELCO, or its notes, but rather reflect only the views of the rating agencies at the time the ratings are issued. An explanation of the significance of such ratings may be obtained from the rating agencies. CODELCO cannot assure you that such credit rating will remain in effect for any given period of time or that such ratings will not be lowered, suspended or withdrawn entirely by the rating agencies, if, in the judgment of such rating agencies, circumstances so warrant. Our credit rating is an important part of maintaining our liquidity. Credit ratings are not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold any security. Each agency's rating should be evaluated independently of any other agency's rating, as each agency has different evaluation criteria. Any lowering, suspension or withdrawal of such ratings may potentially increase our borrowing costs, and may have an adverse effect on our financial results and business operations and the market price and marketability of the notes.

Payments claimed in Chile on the notes, pursuant to a judgment or otherwise, may be in pesos.

In the event that proceedings are brought against CODELCO in Chile, either to enforce a judgment or as a result of an original action brought in Chile, CODELCO would not be required to discharge those obligations in a currency other than Chilean currency. Such obligation may be satisfied in Chilean currency at the exchange rate in effect on the date on which payments are made. As a result, holders of the notes may suffer a U.S. dollar shortfall if judgment in Chile is obtained.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The estimated total net proceeds from the offering of the notes are U.S.$1,484,547,692, after deducting commissions to the initial purchasers, payment of the Chilean stamp tax of U.S.$12,000,000 and payment of legal fees and all other expenses related to the offering. CODELCO intends to use the net proceeds from the sale of the 2035 notes and the 2055 notes, in each case, for general corporate purposes. See “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources” and “Capitalization.”

The following table sets forth the capitalization of CODELCO as of September 30, 2024 (i) on an actual historical basis, (ii) as adjusted to give effect to the offering of the notes and application of the estimated net proceeds from the offering of the notes as described under “Use of Proceeds.” This table is qualified in its entirety by reference to, and should be read together with, CODELCO’s Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements, including the notes thereto, included elsewhere in this offering memorandum.

EXCHANGE RATES

As a general matter, prior to 1989, Chilean law permitted the purchase and sale of foreign exchange only in those cases explicitly authorized by the Central Bank of Chile. Law No. 18,840, the Central Bank of Chile Act, liberalized the rules that govern the purchase and sale of foreign currency. The act empowers the Central Bank to determine that certain purchases and sales of foreign currency specified by law must be carried out in the Mercado Cambiario Formal (the “Formal Exchange Market”). The Formal Exchange Market is formed by the banks and other entities so authorized by the Central Bank. The exchange rate of the transactions conducted in the Formal Exchange Market is freely agreed upon by the parties thereto. For more information, see “Foreign Investment and Exchange Controls in Chile.” The observed exchange rate for any given day equals the average exchange rate of the transactions conducted in the Formal Exchange Market on the immediately preceding banking day, as certified by the Central Bank (the “Observed Exchange Rate”). Even though the Central Bank is authorized to carry out its transactions at the rates it sets, it generally uses the spot rate for its transactions. Authorized transactions by other banks are generally carried out at the spot rate. Purchases and sales of foreign exchange, which may be effected outside the Formal Exchange Market, can be carried out in the Mercado Cambiario Informal (the “Informal Exchange Market”). There are no limits imposed on the extent to which the exchange rate in the Informal Exchange Market may fluctuate above or below the Observed Exchange Rate.

The following table sets forth, for the periods indicated, the high, low, average and period-end Observed Exchange Rate for U.S. dollars for each year beginning in 2016 as reported by the Central Bank of Chile. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York does not report a noon buying rate for Chilean pesos.

- (1) “Cost of sales” for any period includes direct and indirect costs, depreciation and amortization associated with the production of copper and byproducts, as well as purchase costs of third-party copper, sold by CODELCO in that period.
- (2) “Other expenses” is comprised principally of costs related to the 10% special export tax paid by the Company, retirement plan and severance indemnities and fixed indirect costs below production level. See note 22.b of the Consolidated Financial Statements and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.”
- (3) CODELCO is subject to a mining tax on operating income at progressive rates of between 5% and 14%. The tax is imposed on operating income generated during the operating year. The statutory rate of the mining tax for CODELCO was 5.0% for each year between 2017 and 2019. In addition, CODELCO is subject to the corporate income tax rate of 24% in 2016 and 25% since 2017 (pursuant to the tax reform in 2014) and a 40% tax on net earnings applicable to state-owned enterprises as specified by Decree Law No. 2,398, Article 2. See “Taxation—Chilean Taxation” and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources—Distributions to the Chilean Treasury” for additional information. See note 5 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources—Distributions to the Chilean Treasury” and “Regulatory Framework.” See also “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO’s Relationship with the Government of Chile—CODELCO is subject to special taxes” for information regarding the mining tax rate effective in 2016 and information regarding the new Mining Royalty Law, effective as of January 1, 2024.
- (4) See note 8 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and the Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations.”
- (5) All other assets includes other non-current financial assets; other non-current non-financial assets; accounts receivable from related parties, non-current; non-current inventories; intangible assets other than goodwill; investment property; non-current tax assets and deferred tax assets.
- (6) For the purpose of calculating CODELCO’s ratio of earnings to fixed charges (adjusted), (i) “earnings” consist of Adjusted EBIT and (ii) “fixed charges” consist of finance cost. The ratio of earnings to fixed charges (adjusted) is calculated by dividing Adjusted EBIT by finance cost. Adjusted EBIT is calculated by adding finance cost, impairment charges net of reversals (as defined in note (1) of the following table) and income tax expense to profit (loss) for the period. Adjusted EBIT, while not a financial performance measure under IFRS, is presented as an indicator of funds available to service debt. Adjusted EBIT and Adjusted EBITDA data are included in this offering memorandum because such data are used by investors to assess: (i) the operating trends and financial performance of the Company and (ii) the ability of the Company to (a) service its existing debt, (b) incur new debt and (c) fund its capital expenditures. The Company believes that Adjusted EBIT, while providing useful information, should not be considered in isolation as a substitute for profit for the period, as an indicator of operating performance, or as an alternative to cash flow as a measure of liquidity. Additionally, the Company’s calculation of Adjusted EBIT may be different than the calculation used by other companies and therefore, comparability may be affected. See notes 8, 21 and 22 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements and “Management’s Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations” for further information about impairment charges and reversals and other non-cash charges.
- (7) Average price on the LME for Grade A cathode copper during period.
- (8) Adjusted EBITDA is calculated by adding finance cost, income tax expense, depreciation and amortization of assets plus export taxes and impairment charges net of reversals (as defined in note (1) of the following table) to profit (loss) for the period. Adjusted EBITDA is presented because it is a widely accepted indicator of funds available to service debt, although it is not an IFRS-based measure of liquidity or performance. Adjusted EBIT and Adjusted EBITDA data are included in this offering memorandum because such data are used by investors to assess: (i) the operating trends and financial performance of the Company and (ii) the ability of the Company to (a) service its existing debt, (b) incur new debt and (c) fund its capital expenditures. The Company believes that Adjusted EBITDA, while providing useful information, should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for profit as an indicator of operating performance, or as an alternative to cash flow as a measure of liquidity. Additionally, the Company's calculation of Adjusted EBITDA may be different than the calculation used by other companies and therefore, comparability may be affected. See notes 8, 21 and 22 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" for further information about impairment charges and reversals and other non-cash charges.

- (9) The ratio of debt to Adjusted EBITDA is calculated by dividing debt by Adjusted EBITDA. Debt is defined as loans from financial institutions plus bonds issued.
- (10) Ratio of debt to LTM Adjusted EBITDA is calculated by dividing debt by the last twelve months of Adjusted EBITDA. Debt is defined as loans from financial institutions plus bonds issued.
- (11) Adjusted EBITDA coverage ratio is the ratio of Adjusted EBITDA to finance cost net of finance income. See note 9 above for further information about Adjusted EBITDA and notes 21 and 22 of the Consolidated Financial Statements and Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" for further information about impairment charges and reversals and other non-cash charges.
- (12) The amounts for property, plant, and equipment in the table above include property, plant and equipment and right-of-use assets.

The following table shows CODELCO's earnings, Adjusted EBIT, ratio of earnings to fixed charges (adjusted), Adjusted EBITDA and reconciliation of Adjusted EBIT and Adjusted EBITDA for the periods indicated.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion should be read in conjunction with CODELCO's Consolidated Financial Statements, including the notes thereto, included elsewhere in this offering memorandum, as well as the data set forth in "Selected Consolidated Financial Data." Except as otherwise disclosed herein or indicated, the Consolidated Financial Statements and other financial information included in this offering memorandum are presented in accordance with IFRS.

Overview

CODELCO is the world's largest copper producer and one of the largest companies in Chile in terms of revenues. CODELCO engages primarily in the exploration, development and extraction of ore-bearing copper and byproducts, the processing of ore into refined copper and the international sale of refined copper and byproducts. In 2023, CODELCO derived 90.4% of its total sales from copper and 9.6% of its total sales from byproducts of its copper production, primarily molybdenum, anodic slimes, and sulfuric acid.

Since its inception in 1976, CODELCO has contributed approximately U.S.$160.9 billion (in 2022 currency) to the Chilean Treasury. Approximately 63.0% of this amount was generated in the last 20 years, representing 8.4% of the revenues of the Government of Chile. In 2023, CODELCO accounted for 15.2% of all Chilean exports.

CODELCO's financial performance is significantly affected by the market prices of copper. As with prices for other commodities, copper prices have historically been subject to wide fluctuations. LME copper prices averaged 384.5 cents per pound in 2023 compared to 399.0 cents per pound in 2022 and 422.6 cents per pound in 2021. Copper prices averaged 414.3 cents per pound in the first nine months of 2024, compared to 389.6 cents per pound in the first nine months of 2023. Prices have been affected by the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020, following by the recovery of the global economy during 2021 and a lower growth in China in 2022 and 2023. In 2024, prices experienced a recovery primarily driven by challenges faced by copper producers in meeting market demand. For more information, see "Overview of the Copper Market."

CODELCO continues to focus on controlling and limiting production cost increases. For many years, CODELCO was within the first or second quartiles in the industry with respect to costs. This position was primarily attributable to the quality of its ore bodies, its economies of scale and the experience of its workforce and management.

Currently, CODELCO is in the third quartile of the industry's cost curve. The Company intends to make every effort, through investment and management, to be within the first or second quartiles of the industry's cost curve in the long-term.

In 2023, CODELCO's total costs and expenses increased by 24.2 cents per pound (7.8%) to 335.1 cents per pound, compared to 310.9 cents per pound in 2022 and 254.3 cents per pound in 2021, mainly due to lower copper production, higher operating costs, and the foreign exchange rate appreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar.

For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's total costs and expenses increased by 9.6 cents per pound (1.8%) to 373.2 cents per pound, compared to 363.7 cents per pound for the same period in 2023, mainly due to lower production, partially offset by foreign exchange rate depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar, and a slight decrease of the operating costs.

In 2023, CODELCO's total costs and expenses increased to U.S.$10.7 billion, compared to U.S.$9.9 billion in 2022, and to U.S.$9.1 billion in 2021, mainly due to higher labor and third-party services costs as a consequence of the foreign exchange rate appreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar for 2023 compared to 2022 and due to lower production. and higher input prices and depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar for 2022 compared to 2021. For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's total costs and expenses amounted to U.S.$7.5 billion, compared to U.S.$7.7 billion for the same period in 2023, primarily due to lower operating costs, partially offset by increased expenses for bonuses resulting from the negotiation of 25 collective bargaining agreements in 2024. In 2023, CODELCO's cash cost of production was 203.1 cents per pound, compared to 165.4 cents per pound in 2022 and 132.7 cents per pound in 2021.

For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's cash cost of production was 205.0 cents per pound, compared to 204.3 cents per pound for the same period in 2023 primarily due to lower production, compounded by reduced by-product credits resulting from decreased molybdenum prices and lower sales volumes. In 2023, CODELCO'S total cash cost was U.S.$5.8 billion, compared to U.S.$5.2 billion in 2022 and U.S.$4.7 billion in 2021. For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's total cash cost was U.S.$4.1 billion, as compared to U.S.$4.3 billion for the same period in 2023 (such total cash cost includes certain cash cost incurred at the corporate level).

CODELCO conducts hedging operations from time to time to reduce the risks associated with copper price volatility. CODELCO also periodically enters into futures contracts with respect to certain sales of its own copper. Since 2005, CODELCO has occasionally hedged certain future copper delivery commitments and production in order to manage the risks associated with copper price volatility. As of September 30, 2024, CODELCO did not have any production hedging commitments and, accordingly, there was no related impact on pre-tax income for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2024. See notes 28 and 29 to the Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements.

CODELCO has hedged a portion of its exchange rate and interest rate exposure by entering into forward exchange contracts to hedge against fluctuations in the UF to U.S. dollar exchange rate for its outstanding UF-denominated bonds. See "Business and Properties—Marketing—Pricing and Hedging" and "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO's Operations—CODELCO engages in hedging activity from time to time, particularly with respect to its copper production, which may not be successful and may result in losses to CODELCO." See also notes 27 and 28 to the Consolidated Financial Statements and notes 28 and 29 to the Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements for further information on CODELCO's hedging activity.

Sale prices for CODELCO's products are established principally by reference to prices quoted on the LME and the New York Commodity Exchange ("COMEX") in the case of copper, or prices published in "Metals Weekly" in the case of molybdenum. The substantial majority of copper produced by CODELCO is sold under annual contracts to customers who have long-term relationships with CODELCO. Pricing under such contracts is based on prevailing average copper prices for a quotation period, generally for the month following the scheduled month of shipment. Revenue under such contracts is recorded at provisional prices determined at the time of shipment. Usually, an adjustment is then made after delivery of the copper, based on the pricing terms contained in the applicable contract.

CODELCO's financial performance is also significantly affected by the relationship of copper prices to production costs. In 2023, CODELCO's annual production, including its investment in El Abra and Anglo American Sur, was 1.42 million metric tons from 1.55 million metric tons in 2022 and 1.73 million metric tons in 2021. The production in 2023 was lower mainly due to lower production at Chuquicamata, El Teniente, Gabriela Mistral and Ministro Hales, partially offset by the higher production at Radomiro Tomic.

In 2023, each U.S.$0.01 change in CODELCO's average annual copper price per pound caused a variation in revenue of approximately U.S.$31.4 million. CODELCO expects production to decrease in the near future resulting from lower average ore grades and lower reclamations levels and to stabilize over time. CODELCO continues to develop its project pipeline with the goal of increasing its production marginally in the long-term, by overcoming certain non-permanent disruptions, such as inclement weather and other natural events. See "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO's Operations—Earthquake damage to CODELCO's properties and operations could negatively affect CODELCO's results."

CODELCO continues to develop and refine its mine management practices and programs to limit and reduce its costs. These include the following: (i) improved deposit identification and mining techniques; (ii) the implementation of early retirement plans and workforce reduction programs; (iii) an investment in human capital and continuing to attract and retain a world-class management team and professionals of the highest caliber; (iv) improved utilization of equipment and inputs used in the processes of copper production to increase productivity and efficiency; and (v) the development of key projects, specifically the new mine level at El Teniente, the Andina plant reallocation and the Chuquicamata underground mine projects. Production cash costs are influenced by mining and production practices, as well as the type of ore from which copper is produced, production levels and market prices of byproducts, and foreign exchange rates.

In 2023, CODELCO invested U.S.$2.7 billion mainly in expansion and development projects, including the new El Teniente mine level, the Chuquicamata underground mine expansion and the execution of the Inca Pit project. See “Business and Properties.”

In addition to selling its current production of copper, CODELCO may sell copper in its inventory from past production cycles to meet the demand of its customers. CODELCO also purchases copper from third parties in the spot market for resale. The Company makes these purchases and sales of third-party copper to meet the requirements under sales contracts and to participate in the spot market for copper based on its evaluation of market conditions. CODELCO has no long-term commitments regarding third-party copper purchases or sales other than pursuant to the joint venture with China Minmetals Non-Ferrous Metals Co. Ltd. (“Minmetals”), a Chinese state-owned metals company. This joint venture ended in April 2016 and the related selling commitment ended in February 2021. For more information on Minmetals, see “Business and Properties—Associations, Joint Ventures and Partnerships.” CODELCO also engages in copper transactions with its affiliates at market terms. In addition, CODELCO purchases copper from its affiliates for further processing and resale.

Impact of COVID-19

The COVID-19 pandemic and the resulting economic impact have primarily contributed to a decrease in copper prices in 2020. However, in 2021, LME copper prices increased to 424.5 cents per pound compared to 279.8 cents per pound in 2020, which was attributable to the Chinese and global economies' recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic during 2021. In 2022, LME copper prices averaged 399.0 cents per pound in 2022 compared to 424.5 cents per pound in 2021, mainly due to a lower growth in China and the slowdown of the economy post pandemic. Copper prices averaged 390.0 cents per pound in the first nine months of 2023, compared to 411.1 cents per pound in the first nine months of 2022, due to global economic uncertainty and lower growth mainly in China due to strong anti-COVID measures that have slowed the recovery. CODELCO's financial results and prospects are largely dependent on the prices of copper. If economic conditions further deteriorate in China or other emerging markets, demand from customers in those markets could decline and the market price of copper could fall. A decline in copper prices would have an adverse impact on CODELCO's revenues and financial results.

CODELCO has taken steps and implemented several measures to safeguard its employees, businesses and the communities surrounding its operations from the threats posed by the COVID-19 pandemic. Although these steps and measures have not materially affected CODELCO's production or its financial results in 2020 or 2021, the ultimate impact of COVID-19 on CODELCO's financial and operating results is unknown and will be reflected in CODELCO's results of operations over several periods in the future in a disaggregated manner.

Results of Operations for the nine-month Periods Ended September 30, 2023 and 2024

The following table sets forth CODELCO's summarized results of operations for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2023 and 2024:

	For the nine-month period ended September 30,		% Change 2023/2024

Revenue. The following table sets forth CODELCO's revenue for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2023 and 2024:

	For the nine-month period ended September 30,		% Change
	(in millions of U.S.$)
Revenue	12,218	12,315	0.8
Sales of CODELCO's own copper	9,802	10,350	5.6
Sales of third-party copper	1,208	1,024	(15.2)
Sales of byproducts and other	1,208	941	(22.1)

Revenues increased by 0.8% to U.S.$12.3 billion in the first nine months of 2024, compared to U.S.$12.2 billion for the same period in 2023. This increase was primarily attributable to a 10.2% increase in copper prices during the first nine months of 2024 compared to the same period in 2023. While CODELCO's own copper sales volume increased by 5.6%, this was offset by a decrease in third-party volumes, leading to an overall decline in total sales volume.

Third-party copper sales totaled U.S.$1.0 billion in the first nine months of 2024, compared to U.S.$1.2 billion for the same period in 2023, attributable to a decrease of sales volume. In general, changes in the volume of third-party copper sales are dependent upon CODELCO's need to meet requirements under sales contracts and, to a lesser extent, purchasing copper under spot market terms if CODELCO's own production is insufficient to cover the quantities that it has agreed to supply its customers.

Sales of byproducts and other decreased 20.1% to U.S.$0.9 billion in the first nine months of 2024, compared to U.S.$1.2 billion for the same period in 2023. This decrease was primarily due to the 20.5% decrease in average realized price of molybdenum from 20.9 cents per pound in the first nine months of 2024 compared to 26.3 cents per pound for the same period in 2023.

Cost of sales. CODELCO's cost of sales in any period includes both the mining and production costs of its own copper and byproducts and the purchase costs of copper, as well as gold, silver and other byproducts, at market prices from third parties and processed and sold by CODELCO in that period. The following table sets forth CODELCO's total cost of sales for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2023, and 2024:

	(in millions of U.S.$)
Cost of sales	(9,899)	(9,231)	(6.7)
Cost of CODELCO's own copper	(8,118)	(7,705)	(5.1)
Cost of third-party sales	(1,200)	(1,011)	(15.8)
Cost of byproducts and other	(581)	(516)	(11.2)

CODELCO's total cost of sales decreased by 6.7% to U.S.$9.2 billion (75.0% of sales) in the first nine months of 2024, compared to U.S.$9.9 billion (81.0% of sales) for the same period in 2023, primarily due to a decrease of 15.8% of cost of third-party sales with respect to the same period last year. Lower operational costs in local currency due to the depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar (for the nine months ended September 30, 2024, the average exchange rate was CLP 937 per U.S. dollar compared to CLP 821 per U.S. dollar for the same period in 2023) decreased cost of sales. Some of the minerals that CODELCO sells are purchased at market prices, and CODELCO also purchases mineral ore from third parties at market prices which it processes and sells as copper.

CODELCO's cost of sales of its own copper decreased by 5.1% to U.S.$7.7 billion during the first nine months of 2024, compared to U.S.$8.1 billion for the same period in 2023. This decrease is primarily attributable to the depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar that impacted salaries and contracts, contributing to an overall decrease in costs.

The cost of copper purchased from third parties decreased by 15.8% in the first nine months of 2024 to U.S.$1.0 billion, compared to U.S.$1.2 billion for the same period in 2023. The decrease was mainly caused by a lower sales volume of third-party copper.

The cost of byproducts and other decreased by 11.2% to U.S.$515.7 million in the first nine months of 2024, compared to U.S.$580.0 million for the same period in 2023, primarily due to lower operational costs, and a depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar that impacted salaries and contracts, contributing to an overall decrease in cost. Depreciation and amortization expenses remained relatively flat at U.S.$1,652 million during the first nine months of 2024, compared to U.S.$1,672 million for the same period in 2023.

Gross profit. Gross profit amounted to U.S.$3.1 billion for the first nine-months of 2024, compared to U.S.$2.3 billion for the same period in 2023. This 24.8% increase was primarily attributable to the decrease in sale costs due to a depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar positively impacting salaries and contracts, and the higher copper prices for the period, partially offset by lower production.

Other income. The largest components of other income are other miscellaneous income, miscellaneous sales and penalties to suppliers. Other income decreased 2.8% to U.S.$62.8 million in the first nine months of 2024, compared to U.S.$64.5 million for the same period in 2023.

Administrative expenses. Administrative expenses decreased to U.S.$370.2 million (3.0% of total revenues) during the first nine months of 2024, compared to U.S.$393.0 million (3.2% of total revenues) for the same period in 2023. This decrease was primarily attributable to the effect of the depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar and a decrease in the Consumer Price Index (CPI) that impacted salaries and contracts contributing to an overall decrease in costs.

Other expenses, by function. Other expenses, by function amounted to U.S.$1.8 billion (14.2% of total revenues) during the first nine months of 2024, compared to U.S.$1.5 billion (12.1% of total revenues) for the same period in 2023. This increase was primarily attributable to disbursements for the negotiation of collective bargaining agreement bonuses.

The following table sets forth the principal components of CODELCO's other expenses, by function for the periods indicated:

	For the nine-month period ended September 30,
	2023	2024
	(in millions of U.S.$)
Copper Reserve Law	949	943
Bonus for the end of collective bargaining and other employee benefits	44	261
Other non-cash charges	79	34
Other expenses	404	430
Total other expenses by function.....	1,477	1,752

CODELCO recorded other expenses by function of U.S.$1.5 billion and U.S.$1.7 billion in the first nine months of 2023 and 2024, respectively, pursuant to the Copper Reserve Law, which levies a 10.0% tax on CODELCO's exports of its own copper and related byproducts. Under the accounting policies adopted by CODELCO, this export tax is accounted for in "other expenses, by function". The decrease of this tax recorded in the first nine months of 2024 compared to the same period in 2023 is primarily attributable to lower revenues from sales of molybdenum.

Bonuses for the end of collective bargaining and other employee benefits increased to U.S.$260.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024, from U.S.$44.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2023, due to the negotiation of 25 collective bargaining agreements in 2024, which resulted in increased expenses for termination bonuses.

Other expenses (as a sub-category of other expenses as a whole) increased from U.S.$404.4 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2023, to U.S.$430.0 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2024, mainly due to an increase in study expenses, which include exploration expenses, pre-investment studies, research and technological innovation expenses, and write-offs of investment projects.

Finance costs. Finance costs increased to U.S.$686.0 million in the first nine months of 2024, compared to U.S.$570.4 million for the same period in 2023. This increase was primarily attributable to higher average debt amount in 2024 than in 2023 mainly related to the issuance of bonds in January 2024 and higher average interest rate. The average interest rate was 4.8% as of September 30, 2024, compared to 4.6% as of September 30, 2023. As of September 30, 2024, 90.6% of our debt had a fixed rate and 9.4% had a floating rate.

Share of profit/(loss) of associates and joint ventures accounted for using equity method. CODELCO's net equity participation in related companies increased to a net profit of U.S.$84.4 million in the first nine months of 2024, compared to a net loss of U.S.$134.3 million for the same period in 2023, primarily attributable to an improved accrued result from the participation in Anglo American Sur compared to the loss recorded in the same period in 2023.

Foreign exchange differences. According to Decree Law 1,350, CODELCO maintains its accounting records in U.S. dollars, recording transactions in currencies other than U.S. dollars at the exchange rate current at the date of each transaction and, subsequently, for monetary assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the U.S. dollar, at the closing exchange rate determined by the Central Bank of Chile. CODELCO experienced a gain from foreign exchange differences of U.S.$69.1 million in the first nine months of 2024, compared to a gain from foreign exchange differences of U.S.$36.4 million in the same period of 2023. The gain recorded in the first nine months of 2024 is primarily attributable to the depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar during the nine-month period ended September 30, 2024 as compared to December 31, 2023.

Profit (loss) before income tax. Profit before income tax was U.S.$612.2 million during the first nine months of 2024, compared to the loss before income tax of U.S.$75.6 billion for the same period in 2023, due to higher gains from operating activities primarily attributable to lower costs.

Income tax expense. During the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO had a statutory tax rate of 65.0% in accordance with applicable regulations, comprised of (i) a corporate income tax rate of 25.0% and (ii) a 40.0% tax on net earnings applicable to state-owned enterprises as specified by Decree Law 2,398, Art. 2. During the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO was subject to the same statutory tax rate of 65.0%. CODELCO is subject to the mining royalty tax under Law No. 21,591, which generally comprises an Ad Valorem component which applies a tax rate of 1% on annual copper sales, and a mining margin component which applies a progressive tax rate (i.e., 8%-26%) on the adjusted taxable mining operating margin. In addition, a maximum potential tax burden of 46.5% is established on the mining entity's operating profitability, measured as the adjusted pre-taxable mining operating income. CODELCO's statutory rate of the mining tax for 2021, 2022 and 2023 was 5.0%. CODELCO's taxes on income amounted to an expense of U.S.$384.8 million during the first nine months of 2024 and an income of U.S.$94.1 million during the same period in 2023. The increase in expense from taxes on income was primarily due to the profit before tax generated during the first nine months of 2024.

Profit for the period. As a result of the factors described above, CODELCO's profit after tax was U.S.$227.4 million during the first nine months of 2024, compared to a profit after tax of U.S.$18.5 million for the same period in 2023.

Revenue. The following table sets forth CODELCO's revenues for the years ended December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023:

	Year ended December 31,			% Change
	2021	2022	2023	2021/2022	2022/2023
	(in millions of U.S.$)
Revenue	21,025	17,018	16,393	(19.1)%	(3.7)%
Sales of CODELCO's own copper	17,715	13,853	13,149	(21.9)%	(5.1)%
Sales of third-party copper	1,846	1,640	1,673	(11.1)%	2.0%
Sales of byproducts and other	1,464	1,526	1,571	4.6%	2.4%

In 2023, revenues decreased by 3.7% to U.S.$16.4 billion, compared to U.S.$17.0 billion in 2022. This decrease was primarily attributable to a lower sales volume in 2023 compared to 2022. Our own copper sales decreased by 5.1% mainly due to lower sale volume due to lower production. In 2022, revenue decreased by 19.1% to U.S.$17.0 billion, compared to U.S.$21.0 billion in 2021. This decrease was primarily attributable to a lower sales volume and a decrease in CODELCO's average copper price from U.S.$4.36 per pound in 2021 to U.S.$3.76 per pound in 2022.

In 2023, our own copper sales decreased by 21.9% mainly due to lower sale volume resulting from lower production levels in 2022. In 2022, our own copper sales increased by 50.4% mainly due to the increase in CODELCO's average copper price in 2021.

Third-party copper sales totaled U.S.$1.7 billion in 2023 compared to U.S.$1.6 billion in 2022, attributable to higher copper prices. In 2021, third-party copper sales totaled U.S.$1.8 billion, which was higher than 2022 as a result of higher average price of copper and sales volume in 2021.

In general, changes in the volume of third-party copper sales are dependent upon CODELCO's need to meet requirements under sales contracts and, to a lesser extent, purchasing copper under spot market terms if CODELCO's own production is insufficient to cover the quantities that it has agreed to supply its customers.

Sales of byproducts and other increased 2.4% to U.S.$1.6 billion in 2023, compared to U.S.$1.5 billion in 2022. This increase was primarily due to the 34.0% increase in molybdenum prices offsetting the decrease in molybdenum sale volume and other byproducts income. In 2022, these sales increased by 4.6% to U.S.$1.4 billion, compared to U.S.$1.5 billion in 2021. This increase was primarily due to an increase in molybdenum prices by 18.6% in 2022.

Cost of sales. CODELCO's cost of sales in any period includes both the mining and production costs of its own copper and byproducts and the purchase costs of copper, as well as gold, silver and other byproducts, at market prices from third parties and processed and sold by CODELCO in that period. The following table sets forth CODELCO's total cost of sales for the years ended December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023:

	2021	2022	2023	2021/2022	2022/2023
	(in millions of U.S.$)
Cost of sales.....	12,186	12,285	13,273	0.8%	8.0%
Cost of CODELCO's own copper	9,611	9,932	10,835	3.3%	9.1%
Cost of third-party sales	1,823	1,647	1,658	(9.7)%	0.7%
Cost of byproducts and other.....	752	706	780	(6.0)%	10.4%

CODELCO's total cost of revenue increased by 8.0% to U.S.$13.3 billion (81.0% of revenue) in 2023, compared to U.S.$12.3 billion (72.2% of revenue) in 2022, and compared to U.S.$12.2 billion (58.0% of revenue) in 2021, primarily due to higher input prices and lower production.

Some of the minerals that CODELCO sells are purchased at market prices, and CODELCO also purchases mineral ore from third parties at market prices which it processes and sells as copper.

CODELCO's cost of sales of its own copper increased 9.1% to U.S.$10.8 billion in 2023 compared to U.S.$9.9 billion in 2022 mainly due to lower sales volume, and higher operational costs. In 2022 cost of sales increased to U.S.$9.9 billion, compared to U.S.$9.6 billion in 2021. This increase was primarily attributable to lower sales volume and higher operational costs.

In 2023, the cost of copper purchased from third parties increased by 0.7% to U.S.$1.7 billion compared to U.S.$1.6 billion in 2022, due to a higher average copper price. In 2022, the cost of copper purchased from third parties decreased by 9.7% to U.S.$1.6 billion compared to U.S.$1.8 billion in 2021, due to lower volume and average copper price.

In 2023, cost of byproducts and other increased 10.4% to U.S.$780 million primarily due to an increase in sales volume of gold and silver, mainly due to an increase in production at El Teniente and Ministro Hales of these byproducts. In 2022, cost of byproducts and other decreased 9.7% to U.S.$706 million compared to U.S.$752 million in 2021, due to a decrease in volume sale of molybdenum, mainly due to reduced production at Salvador.

In 2023, depreciation and amortization expenses increased by 1.4% to U.S.$2.3 billion compared to U.S.$2.2 billion in 2022 and U.S.$2.3 billion in 2021.

Gross profit. In 2023, gross profit amounted to U.S.$3.1 billion which is a 34.1% decrease compared to the same period 2022, mainly due to lower revenues. In 2022, gross profit amounted to U.S.$4.7 billion which is a 46.6% decrease compared to gross profit in 2021 primarily attributable to lower revenues due to lower production and reduced copper price. In 2021, gross profit amounted to U.S.$8.8 billion.

Other income, by function. In 2023 other income, by function increased by 43.7% to U.S.$93.0 million compared to U.S.$64.7 million in 2022, primarily due to the income related to insurance compensation for accidents. Other income, by function decreased by 44.1% to U.S.$64.7 million in 2022 compared to U.S.$115.7 million in 2021 primarily attributable to the income related to the prepayment of U.S.$0.2 million of the debt of Gacru in 2021. See note 22a to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Administrative expenses. In 2023, administrative expenses increased by 8.3% to U.S.$544.1 million (3.3% of revenues) compared to U.S.$502.3 million (3.0% of revenues) in 2022 due to lower volume sale and higher input prices. Administrative expenses increased to U.S.$502.3 million (3.0% of revenues) compared to U.S.$459.3 million (2.2% of revenues) in 2022 compared to 2021 respectively due to lower volume sale and higher input prices offset by a positive effect of the depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar.

Other expenses. In 2023 other expenses amounted to U.S.$2.1 billion (12.6% of revenues) compared to U.S.$2.1 billion (12.4% of revenues) in 2022 and compared to U.S.$2.7 billion (12.9% of revenues) in 2021. The decrease in 2023 was mainly attributable to a decrease in expenses payable under the Copper Reserve Law, and lower bonuses paid related to collective bargaining processes and mining properties fair value adjustment. The decrease in 2022 was mainly attributable to a decrease in expenses payable under the Copper Reserve Law, and lower bonuses paid related to collective bargaining processes and mining properties fair value adjustment.

	Year ended December 31,
	2021	2022	2023
	(in millions of U.S.$)
Copper Reserve Law	(1,572)	(1,273)	(1,256)

Employee Benefits	(293)	(110)	(76)
Asset impairments	(125)	(89)	-
Other non-cash charges	(132)	(48)	(151)
Other expenses	(595)	(582)	(579)
Total	(2,717)	(2,103)	(2,062)

CODELCO recorded other expenses of U.S.$1.3 billion, U.S.$1.3 billion and U.S.$1.6 billion in 2023, 2022, and 2021, respectively, pursuant to the Copper Reserve Law, which levies a 10.0% tax on receivables of the sales proceeds that CODELCO receives and transfers to Chile from the export of copper and related byproducts produced by CODELCO. The decrease of this tax recorded in 2023 compared to 2022 is primarily attributable to lower volume sold and lower revenues.

Other expenses decreased to U.S.$579.0 million in 2023 compared to U.S.$582.0 million in 2022 mainly due to the decrease in the mining property value adjustment in 2023 compared to 2022. Other expenses decreased to U.S.$582.0 million in 2022 compared to U.S.$595.0 million in 2021 mainly due to the decrease in the mining property value adjustment in 2022 compared to 2021.

Finance costs. In 2023, finance costs increased 36.9% to U.S.$778.9 million from U.S.$569.0 million in 2022, compared to U.S.$641.0 million in 2021, primarily attributable to higher interest expenses of bonds during 2023 and lower interest expenses of bonds during 2022. CODELCO's debt level was U.S.$20.2 billion as of December 31, 2023, compared to U.S.$17.0 billion as of December 31, 2022, and U.S.$17.2 billion as of December 31, 2021.

CODELCO's average interest rate remained at 4.6% as of December 31, 2023. As of December 31, 2023, 92.8% of our debt had fixed rate and 7.2% a floating rate, as of December 31, 2022, 94.2% of our debt had fixed rate and 5.8% a floating rate and, as of December 31, 2021, 94.3% of our debt had fixed rate and 5.7% a floating rate. See "Selected Consolidated Financial Data" for information regarding debt during the years ended December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023.

Share of profit/(loss) of associates and joint ventures accounted for using equity method. In 2023, CODELCO's net equity participation in related companies was a net loss of U.S.$658.1 million, compared to a net profit of U.S.$51.9 million in 2022 and a net profit of U.S.$415.0 million in 2021. The decrease in 2023 compared to 2022 was primarily attributable to an impairment loss on its investment in Anglo American Sur due to lower-than-expected production and cost performance. The decrease in 2022 compared to 2021 was primarily attributable to a decrease in Sociedad Contractual Minera El Abra and Anglo American Sur's profitability. See note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Foreign exchange differences. CODELCO experienced a loss from foreign exchange differences of U.S.$45.0 million in 2023 compared to 2022, primarily attributable to the depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar during 2023 as compared to 2022. In 2022, foreign exchange differences experienced a loss of U.S.$237.7 million compared to a gain from foreign exchange differences of U.S.$313.7 million in 2021, primarily attributable to the depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar during 2022 as compared to 2021.

Profit (loss) before tax. In 2023, loss before tax reached U.S.$757.0 million, compared to a profit of U.S.$1.5 billion in 2022. This decrease was primarily attributable to lower sales volume in 2023. In 2022, profit before tax increased to U.S.$1.5 billion compared to U.S.$5.9 billion in 2021 primarily due to lower sales volume.

Income tax expense. In 2023, CODELCO had a statutory tax rate of 65.0% in accordance with applicable regulations, comprised of (i) a corporate income tax rate of 25.0% (a 17.0% historic corporate tax rate applied to income earned in and prior to 2011 but changed by means of the 2014 tax reform) and (ii) a 40.0% tax on net earnings applicable to state-owned enterprises as specified by Decree Law 2,398, Art. 2. During 2022 and 2021, CODELCO was subject to the same statutory tax rate of 65.0%. Since January 1, 2024, CODELCO is subject to the new mining royalty tax under Law No. 21,591, which generally comprises an Ad Valorem component which applies a tax rate of 1% on annual copper sales, and a mining margin component which applies a progressive tax rate (i.e., 8%-26%) on the adjusted taxable mining operating margin. In addition, a maximum potential tax burden of 46.5% is established on the mining entity's operating profitability, measured as the adjusted pre-taxable mining operating income. CODELCO's statutory rate of the mining tax for 2023, 2022 and 2021 was 5.0%. CODELCO's taxes on income amounted to an income of U.S.$165.9 million in 2023, compared to an expense of U.S.$1,134 million in 2022 and U.S.$3,855 million in 2021, primarily as a result of a decrease in CODELCO's pre-tax profit in 2023. For more information regarding this payment, see note 5 to the Consolidated Financial Statements and "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO's Relationship with the Government of Chile—CODELCO is subject to special taxes."

Profit for the period. As a result of the factors described above, CODELCO recorded a loss after tax of U.S.$591.2 million in 2023, a profit of U.S.$362.0 million in 2022 and a profit of U.S.$2,051 million in 2021.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

CODELCO's primary sources of liquidity are funds from (i) operations, (ii) domestic and international borrowings from banks and (iii) debt offerings in the domestic and international capital markets. CODELCO is generally required to transfer its profit to the Chilean Treasury. The calculation of profit and other comprehensive income includes certain non-cash generating charges or benefits. Significant non-cash generating charges or benefits are deferred tax expense/benefit and amortization and depreciation recorded against other comprehensive income and/or profit and loss. For the nine-month period ended September 30, 2024, non-cash charges were U.S.$135.0 thousand in amortization and U.S.$1,653 million in depreciation. Non-cash deferred tax charges of U.S.$182.0 thousand in amortization and U.S.$1,672 million in depreciation were recorded for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2023. Specifically with respect to deferred taxes, non-cash charges or benefits are generated by recording the fluctuation of the deferred tax assets and liabilities, which may be recorded against other comprehensive income in equity or through profit and loss. Amortization and depreciation are recorded directly in profit and loss.

In June 2014, the Ministries of Finance and Mining approved the capitalization of U.S.$200.0 million through a retention of CODELCO's profits from 2013. In October 2014, the multi-year capitalization law approved by the Chilean Congress was promulgated and became effective following its publication in the Official Gazette. This law allocates a maximum of U.S.$3.0 billion to CODELCO in the form of a capital injection by the Chilean Treasury over the period from 2014 to 2018. Pursuant to this law, CODELCO must present a yearly progress report on the BDP for the 2014-2018 period to the Ministries of Finance and Mining and to the Finance Committee of both the Upper House and the Lower House of Congress by March 30 of each year. The BDP report details the progress of CODELCO's investments, including information about their financing and execution, covering each of the structural projects and their corresponding investments. The BDP report also discusses CODELCO's progress with respect to production, costs and results. On the same date that the multi-year capitalization law was promulgated, the President of Chile announced a commitment to authorize the retention by CODELCO of up to an additional U.S.$1 billion of profit (which includes the U.S.$200.0 million that had been authorized in June 2014) over the 2014-2018 period.

In accordance with this commitment, in June 2015, the Ministries of Finance and Mining approved the capitalization of U.S.$225.0 million of 2014 profit, but charged to 2015 profits. However, due to CODELCO's operating losses in 2015, this capitalization has not been implemented. Nonetheless, pursuant to the multi-year capitalization law, the Government of Chile authorized a capital injection of U.S.$600.0 million (out of the maximum U.S.$3.0 billion for the 2014-2018 period), which was received in U.S. dollars in December 2015. In December 2016, the Ministries of Finance authorized the capitalization of U.S.$975.0 million, U.S.$500.0 million of which related to a capital injection to finance CODELCO's investment plan and was received in December 2016. The remaining U.S.$475.0 million was authorized pursuant to a new law (Law 20,989), effective as of January 2017, which provided for additional capitalization of a maximum of U.S.$950.0 million for both 2016 and 2017 (up to U.S.$475.0 million for each year) in the event CODELCO does not have the required pre-tax profits to cover the 10.0% special export tax under the Copper Reserve Law. In April 2017, CODELCO received the U.S.$475.0 million capital injection in U.S. dollars for 2016.

Law 20,989 also extended the U.S.$3.0 billion capitalization commitment for the 2014-2018 period to 2019. While CODELCO did not expect additional capital injections in connection with Law 20,989 during 2017, in November 2017, the Government of Chile authorized a capital injection of U.S.$520.0 million (out of the maximum U.S.$3.0 billion for the newly extended 2014-2019 period), which was received in U.S. dollars in December 2017. In June 2018, the Government of Chile announced a final capital injection of U.S.$1.0 billion to complete the multi-year capitalization law approved in October 2014. Moreover, in October 2018, the Government of Chile authorized the disbursement of such amount in two installments completed on December 31, 2018 for U.S.$600.0 million and on February 28, 2019 for the remaining U.S.$400.0 million.

Since 2014, the Government of Chile has authorized the capitalization by capital injection and retention of profit within CODELCO in an aggregate amount of U.S.$3.5 billion, U.S.$225.0 million of which could not be implemented.

Since 2022, the Chilean Government is allowing CODELCO to annually reinvest 30.0% of its 2021-2024 profits. This represents a change in CODELCO's dividend policy, which previously consisted of 100% net-profit distribution policy. This profit-reinvestment plan is expected to strengthen CODELCO's financial balance sheet and reduce the need for additional financial debt. The 30.0% profit-reinvestment plan resulted in an additional U.S.$583.0 million to CODELCO's financial cash flow in 2022 and additional U.S.$103.7 million to CODELCO's financial cash flow in 2023. In 2023, CODELCO reported losses amounting to U.S.$591.2 million. As a result, despite the issued decree to retain 30% of profits, no additional funds were available for retention in 2024. The amount is calculated over the net profit of the previous year and charged in the current year or the following year until it is completed. A similar exercise is expected to be carried out in 2025.

See "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO's Relationship with the Government of Chile—CODELCO's funding through retention of profits is restricted and is subject to the approval of the Ministries of Finance and Mining."

Cash flows. In 2023, net cash flows from operating activities decreased by 45.0% to U.S.$2.4 billion from U.S.$4.3 billion in 2022. This decrease in net cash flows from operating activities during 2023 was primarily attributable to the decrease in cash received from the sales of goods and services due to a decrease of sales volumes of 5.3% as well as the increased use of cash to pay suppliers of goods and services. In 2022, net cash flows from operating activities decreased by 26.2% to U.S.$4.3 billion from U.S.$5.9 billion in 2021. During the first nine months of 2024, net cash flows from operating activities totaled U.S.$3.2 billion, which was 83.0% more than in the same period in 2023. The decrease in payments to suppliers in the period due to the foreign exchange rate depreciation of Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar, higher cash received and lower cash paid from other receipts from operating activities was the main explanation for this increase. See note 27 to the Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements and note 26 to the 2022-2023 and 2022-2023 Consolidated Financial Statements.

Bank debt. CODELCO's total financial debt (defined as loans from financial institutions plus bonds issued) as a percentage of its total capitalization was 59.8% as of December 31, 2021, 59.3% as of December 31, 2022, and 64.6% as of December 31, 2023, and 66.4% as of September 30, 2024. CODELCO's total outstanding financial debt as of December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023, and as of September 30, 2024 was U.S.$17.2 billion, U.S.$17.0 billion and U.S.$20.2 billion, and U.S.$22.2 billion, respectively.

In May 2012, CODELCO entered into a two-tranche U.S. dollar unsecured bilateral loan, each tranche with a commitment fee of 15.0 basis points per annum with a maturity date of (i) ten years for the Japan Bank for International Cooperation loan and (ii) seven years for The Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi UFJ, Ltd., to be disbursed by the lenders on a pro rata basis, for the development, construction and operation of a metals processing plant to be constructed in Mejillones and the export of certain metals to Japanese customers pursuant to long-term offtake agreements. In addition to the obligations set forth in the table above, CODELCO was a party to certain commitments primarily to secure the payment of (i) deferred customs duties and (ii) staff severance indemnities payable upon the retirement of individual employees, amounting to U.S.$36.0 million and U.S.$617.4 million, respectively, as of December 31, 2023 and to U.S.$41.0 million and U.S.$617.4 million, respectively, as of September 30, 2024. See notes 16 and 17 to the Consolidated Financial Statements and to the Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements. In addition, as of September 30, 2024, CODELCO believes that its net deferred taxes will reverse as follows: deferred tax benefit in the amount of U.S.$18 million in 2024, U.S.$59 million in 2025 and U.S.$9.725 billion after 2029, and deferred tax expense in the amount of U.S.$193 million in 2026, U.S.$339 million in 2027, U.S.$392 million in 2028 and U.S.$433 million in 2029. CODELCO currently has no hedges related to its production of copper through 2019. See “Business and Properties—Marketing—Pricing and Hedging” and “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO’s Operations—CODELCO engages in hedging activity from time to time, particularly with respect to its copper production, which may not be successful and may result in losses to CODELCO.”

CODELCO entered into an agreement with Mitsui on October 12, 2011, pursuant to which Mitsui made available to Inversiones Mineras Acrux SpA (“Acrux”) a short-term bridge financing facility of up to U.S.$6.75 billion, guaranteed by CODELCO and subsidiaries of Acrux, as a possible means to fund the exercise of the Sur Option (as defined in “Business and Properties—Copper Production—Associations, Joint Ventures and Partnerships”). CODELCO also entered into a separate agreement with Mitsui that provided CODELCO with the option to repay a portion of the bridge loan from Mitsui through a put option for an indirect 50.0% stake in the Anglo American Sur interest acquired, assuming a pre-determined value of U.S.$9.76 billion for the 49.0% interest in Anglo American Sur. The balance of the bridge loan would convert into a non-recourse five-year term loan between Acrux and Mitsui, which would not be guaranteed by CODELCO, and would be repayable only from cash distributions on the Anglo American Sur shares held by Acrux. In addition, CODELCO and Mitsui entered into a 10-year sale and purchase agreement for the equivalent of 30,000 tons of fine copper per year subject to market-based pricing terms. On May 20, 2021 the total amount owed by Acrux to Mitsui was paid in full.

- Capital Expenditure Program. We seek to maintain and improve our competitive position in the industry through our three-year capital expenditure program. CODELCO expects to make capital expenditures of approximately U.S.$16.3 billion between 2024 and 2026 (current project portfolio and mine development) in addition to U.S.$840 million from its subsidiaries, which includes the acquisition of Lithium Power International and 10% stake in Quebrada Blanca. We expect these expenditures to be funded with a combination of internal and external resources. For a complete list of planned capital expenditures, see “Business and Properties—Copper Production—Operations.” CODELCO’s expansion and development of major projects between 2024 and 2026 are expected to include:

- o The Chuquicamata Underground Project, the gradual transformation of the Chuquicamata mine from an open pit mine to an underground operation. This project considers the exploitation of the mine in three levels. The first level started production in 2019, comprised an initial investment of approximately U.S.$5.9 billion and considers additional investments in infrastructure and mine development. The second and third levels are still in early engineering stages.

Within 2024-2026 CODELCO expects an investment of U.S.$800 million on the continuity infrastructure of the first level (Phase I Project – construction progress of 67,2%) and will spend U.S.$434 million in mine development. Plans for the second phase of infrastructure continuity are currently being discussed.

- o The reallocation of a part of the Andina concentrator plant, which involves maintaining the treatment capacity of the plant using two production lines. The project has an overall progress of 99.8% as of September 30, 2024. The project’s Line 1 started production in 2021, and Line 2 started production in 2024. Only minor works remain outstanding for the project’s completion.
- o The development of a new production level in the existing El Teniente underground mine (an approximate investment of U.S.$2.33 billion between 2024 and 2026) to maintain El Teniente’s annual copper production at its current level. The new mining level has been divided into three separate projects: (i) Andes Norte, (ii) Diamante, and (iii) Andesita. As of September 30, 2024, completion progress at the Andes Norte, Diamante and Andesita works was 60.0%, 46.2% and 57.6%, respectively. The development of the Inca Pit project is designed to extend the production of the Salvador Division, and requires an approximate investment of U.S.$1.17 billion between 2024 and 2026. As of December 2024, although some works remain pending, construction of key infrastructure, equipment commissioning, and a unified system for processing 15,000 tons daily is fully complete and production has begun.
- o The completion of the feasibility stage of Radomiro Tomic’s new sulfide operation and concentrator plant, and the start of the execution of this project (an approximate investment of U.S.$472 million) is expected between 2024 and 2026.

CODELCO has already begun investing in the aforementioned projects. In 2023, CODELCO invested U.S.$2.7 billion mainly in expansion and development projects, including the new El Teniente mine level, the Chuquicamata underground mine expansion and, the execution of the Inca Pit project. CODELCO invested U.S.$2.3 billion and U.S.$1.9 billion in 2022 and 2021 respectively. For an additional description of CODELCO's principal planned capital expenditures, see "Business and Properties—Copper Production—Operations."

CODELCO expects that it will have sufficient resources from operations, including cash flows, capitalization and retention of profits, in addition to new borrowings from banks and the capital markets to fund its anticipated capital expenditures and investments.

As described under "Regulatory Framework—Overview of the Regulatory Regime" below, the Ministries of Finance and Mining are required to determine, by means of a joint decree, the amount, if any, that the Company shall allocate to the creation of capitalization and reserve funds. In June 2014, the Ministries of Finance and Mining approved the capitalization of U.S.$200.0 million through a retention of profits from 2013 profits. In October 2014, the multi-year capitalization law approved by the Chilean Congress was promulgated and became effective following its publication in the Official Gazette on October 30, 2014. This law allocates a maximum of U.S.$3.0 billion to CODELCO in the form of a capital injection by the Chilean Treasury over the period from 2014 to 2018. Pursuant to this law, CODELCO must present a yearly progress report on the BDP for the 2014-2018 period to the Ministries of Finance and Mining and to the Finance Committee of both the Upper House and the Lower House of Congress by March 30 of each year. The BDP report details the progress of CODELCO's investments, including information regarding their financing and execution, covering each of the structural projects and their corresponding investments. The BDP report also discusses CODELCO's progress with respect to production, costs and results. On the same date that the multi-year capitalization law was promulgated, the President of Chile announced a commitment to authorize the retention by CODELCO of up to an additional U.S.$1.0 billion of profit (which includes the U.S.$200.0 million that had been authorized in June 2014) over the 2014-2018 period.

In accordance with this commitment, in June 2015, the Ministries of Finance and Mining approved the capitalization of U.S.$225.0 million of 2014 profit, but charged to 2015 profits. However, due to CODELCO's operating losses in 2015, this capitalization has not been implemented. Nonetheless, pursuant to the multi-year capitalization law, the Government of Chile authorized a capital injection of U.S.$600.0 million (out of the maximum U.S.$3.0 billion for the 2014-2018 period), which was received in U.S. dollars in December 2015. In December 2016, the Ministries of Finance authorized the capitalization of U.S.$975.0 million, U.S.$500.0 million of which related to a capital injection to finance CODELCO's investment plan and was received in December 2016. The remaining U.S.$475.0 million was authorized pursuant to a new law (Law 20,989), effective as of January 2017, which provided for additional capitalization of a maximum of U.S.$950.0 million for both 2016 and 2017 (up to U.S.$475.0 million for each year) in the event CODELCO does not have the required pre-tax profits to cover the 10.0% special export tax under the Copper Reserve Law. In April 2017, CODELCO received the U.S.$475.0 million capital injection in U.S. dollars for 2016. Law 20,989 also extended the U.S.$3.0 billion capitalization commitment for the 2014-2018 period to 2019. While CODELCO did not expect additional capital injections in connection with Law 20,989 during 2017, in November 2017, the Government of Chile authorized a capital injection of U.S.$520.0 million (out of the maximum U.S.$3.0 billion for the newly extended 2014-2019 period), which was received in U.S. dollars in December 2017. In June 2018, the Government of Chile announced a final capital injection of U.S.$1.0 billion to complete the multi-year capitalization law approved in October 2014. Moreover, in October 2018, the Government of Chile authorized the disbursement of such amount in two installments completed on December 31, 2018 for U.S.$600.0 million and on February 28, 2019 for the remaining U.S.$400.0 million.

See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources" and "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO's Relationship with the Government of Chile—CODELCO's funding through retention of profits is restricted and is subject to the approval of the Ministries of Finance and Mining."

Since 2014, the Government of Chile has authorized the capitalization and retention of U.S.$2.5 billion within CODELCO, U.S.$225.0 million of which has not been implemented.

Since 2022, the Chilean Government is allowing CODELCO to annually reinvest 30.0% of its 2021-2024 profits. This represents a change in CODELCO's dividend policy, which previously consisted of 100% net-profit distribution policy. This profit-reinvestment plan is expected to strengthen CODELCO's financial balance sheet and reduce the need for additional financial debt. In 2021, net income attributable to its owners amounted to U.S.$1.9

billion and amounted to U.S.$345.6 million in 2022. Therefore, the 30.0% profit-reinvestment plan would contribute an additional U.S.$583.0 million to CODELCO's financial cash flow in 2022 and U.S.$103.7 million in 2023. In 2023, CODELCO reported losses amounting to U.S.$591.2 million. As a result, despite the issued decree to retain 30% of profits, no additional funds were available for retention in 2024. A similar exercise is expected to be carried out in 2025.

Cash flows from operating activities may be affected by a variety of factors, including copper price levels. In the event that CODELCO is unable to sell assets or obtain external financing with respect to such capital investments, it may be required to further curtail such expenditures.

Environmental. An important part of CODELCO's investment policy is its pollution abatement plan, which includes several environmental projects undertaken to comply with Chilean law and to achieve its own environmental performance goals. See "Regulatory Framework—Environmental Regulations."

CODELCO invested U.S.$3.6 billion in environmental projects from 2012 to 2019 and plans to continue implementing its pollution abatement plan through additional capital investments of approximately U.S.$1.0 billion in 2021 through 2023. In 2023, CODELCO invested U.S.$391.1 million in environmental projects in the Chuquicamata, Ventanas, Salvador and El Teniente Divisions in order to comply with the new regulation on atmospheric emissions from the smelters. In 2021, planned investments include the continuation of the projects for the abatement of atmospheric emissions in the Chuquicamata smelter and the continued enlargement of the tailing dams, among others.

The following table sets forth CODELCO's principal environmental investments in the years 2021-2023:

	Environmental Investments (in millions of U.S.$)			Total

Distributions to the Chilean Treasury. As a state-owned enterprise and according to its governing law, CODELCO's profit is due to be transferred to the Chilean Treasury. Before June 30 of each year, the Ministries of Finance and Mining determine, by means of a joint decree, the amount, if any, that the Company must allocate to the creation of capitalization and reserve funds. Amounts not allocated to the creation of capitalization and reserve funds are distributed to the Chilean Treasury.

In 2021 CODELCO distributed U.S.$2,033 million to the Chilean Treasury, in 2022 CODELCO distributed U.S.$260 million to the Chilean Treasury, and in 2023 no distributions were realized. While CODELCO makes advance payments to the Chilean Treasury throughout the year, funded by cash flows from operating activities, it generally has distributions payable to the Chilean Treasury at the end of each year. These distributions are paid in the first six-month period of the following year but are reflected in the prior year's financial statements.

The following table sets forth amounts paid in taxes (which due to the timing of payments may be different from tax amounts accrued) and payments and profit distributions made by CODELCO to the Chilean Treasury for each of the three years ended December 31, 2023 for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2024.

Production Hedging. CODELCO has hedged certain future copper delivery commitments and production in order to manage the risks associated with copper price volatility in the past. CODELCO currently does not have any hedged production commitments and therefore there is no relevant impact from hedging. See notes 27 and 28 to the Consolidated Financial Statements and notes 28 and 29 to the Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements. In 2023, CODELCO's production hedging activities had no negative impact on pre-tax income.

CODELCO's future production hedging activities could cause it to lose some of the benefit of an increase in copper prices if copper prices increase over the level of CODELCO's hedge position, as occurred in 2012. The cash flows from the mark-to-market values of CODELCO's production hedges can be affected by factors such as the market price of copper, copper price volatility and interest rates, which are not under CODELCO's control.

CODELCO's production hedging agreements contain events of default and termination events that could lead to early close-outs of CODELCO's hedges. These include failure to pay, breach of the agreement, misrepresentation, default under CODELCO's loans or other hedging agreements and bankruptcy. In the event of an early termination of CODELCO's hedging agreements, the cash flows from the affected hedge instruments would cease and CODELCO and the relevant hedge counterparty would settle all of CODELCO's obligations at that time. In that event, there could be a lump sum payment to be made either to or by CODELCO. The magnitude and direction of such a payment would depend upon, among other things, the characteristics of the particular hedge instruments that were terminated and the market price of copper and copper price volatility and interest rates at the time of termination.

See "Business and Properties—Marketing—Pricing and Hedging," "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO's Operations—CODELCO engages in hedging activity from time to time, particularly with respect to its copper production, which may not be successful and may result in losses to CODELCO," note 28 to the Consolidated Financial Statements and note 29 the Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements for further information on CODELCO's hedging activity.

Exchange Rates and Interest Rates. CODELCO's main currency exposure is between the Chilean peso and the U.S. dollar due to the fact that a significant portion of CODELCO's operating costs are denominated in Chilean pesos and paid pursuant to contracts providing for indexation to Chilean inflation, and approximately 100% of revenue is denominated in U.S. dollars or other foreign currencies. To cover a part of the risks associated with currency exposures and fluctuations in interest rates, CODELCO enters into interest rate futures contracts and foreign exchange forward contracts which reduce exposure to fluctuations in the Chilean peso to U.S. dollar exchange rate.

As of September 30, 2024, CODELCO had swap contracts in place to hedge the risk of future UF/U.S.$, HKD/U.S.$ and AUD/U.S.$ exchange rate fluctuations with respect to a notional amount of U.S.$614.7 million, U.S.$63.8 million and U.S.$49.3 million respectively, which were equivalent to, and sufficient to cover, 100% of CODELCO's foreign currency-denominated bonds outstanding as of September 30, 2024.

As of September 30, 2024, 9.4% of CODELCO's financial debt had a floating interest rate and 90.6% had a fixed rate.

Controls and Procedures

CODELCO's management conducted an assessment utilizing the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations (COSO) criteria of the effectiveness of its internal controls in the past years of 2019 and 2021. Since 2022, the company has implemented an improved integrated risk management framework based on COSO ERM guidelines and ISO 31000. This framework ensures a systematic and continuous approach to enhance the effectiveness of risk mitigating measures. In connection with the strategic goals, the ERM has been progressively integrated to the business aiming to ensure the proper application of the standards and compliance whilst strengthening its maturity and risk culture.

Critical Accounting Estimates

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the IFRS requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of assets and liabilities recognized as of the date of financial statements and the amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. It also requires CODELCO's management to exercise its judgment in the process of applying CODELCO's accounting principles. The areas involving a higher degree of judgment or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the consolidated financial statements, are below. For a full description of CODELCO's accounting policies, see Section II to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Useful Economic Lives and Residual Values of Property, Plant and Equipment. The useful lives and residual values of property, plant and equipment assets that are used for calculating depreciation are determined based on technical studies prepared by specialists (internal or external). When there are indicators that could lead to changes in the estimated useful lives of such assets, these changes are determined by using technical estimates considering specific factors related to the use of the assets.

Ore Reserves. The measurements of ore reserves are based on estimates of the ore resources that are economically exploitable and reflect the technical considerations of the Company regarding the amount of resources that could be exploited and sold at prices exceeding the total cost associated with extraction and processing.

CODELCO applies its judgment in determining its ore reserves and, as such, possible changes in these estimates could significantly impact the estimates of net revenues over time. For such reason, these changes would lead to modifications in the usage estimates of certain assets and of the amount of certain decommissioning and restoration costs.

CODELCO estimates its reserves and mineral resources based on the information prepared by the Competent Persons of the Company, as defined and regulated by Chilean Law No. 20,235. The estimates are based on the Joint Ore Reserves Committee (JORC) methodology, taking into consideration the historical information of the cost of goods sold and copper prices in the international market.

Impairment of non-financial Assets. CODELCO reviews the carrying amount of its assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the assets is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss with regard to the carrying amount. In the evaluation of impairment, the assets are grouped into cash generating units ("CGUs") to which the assets belong. The recoverable amount of these assets or CGUs is calculated as the present value of the cash flows expected to be derived from such assets, considering a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and risks specific to the asset. If the recoverable amount of the assets is less than their carrying amount, an impairment loss exists.

CODELCO defines the CGUs and also estimates the timing and cash flows that such CGUs should generate. Subsequent changes in the grouping of the CGU, or changes in the assumptions supporting the estimates of cash flows or the discount rate, could impact the carrying amounts of the corresponding assets.

Estimates of factors influencing the calculation of cash flows, such as the price of copper or treatment charges and refining charges, among others, are determined based on studies conducted by the Company, which are in turn supported by certain standards over time. Any changes to these criteria may impact the recoverable amount of the assets on which is performing the impairment tests. CODELCO's evaluations and definition of the CGUs are made at the level of each of its current operating divisions.

CODELCO has assessed and defined the CGUs that are constituted at the level of each of its current operating divisions, with the exception of the Ventanas Division Smelter and Refinery operations, which are analyzed separately.

In assessing impairment in subsidiaries and associates, CODELCO uses the higher of value in use or fair value less costs to determine the recoverable amount. This recoverable amount may consider elements such as Life of Mine (LOM), reserves and mining resources, among others, for mining operation evaluations. In addition, the evaluation may incorporate market variables such as the price of copper and other commodities, cost of production inputs, exchange rates, discount rates and other market information for long-term asset valuation.

Provisions for Decommissioning and Site Restoration Costs. CODELCO is obligated to incur decommissioning and site restoration costs when an environmental disturbance is caused by the development or ongoing production of a mining property. Costs are estimated on the basis of a formal closure plan and are reassessed annually or as of the date such obligations become known.

Significant estimates and assumptions are made in determining the provision for decommissioning and site restoration costs, as there are numerous factors that will affect the ultimate liability payable. In order to establish such estimates, CODELCO: (i) creates a defined list of mine sites, installations and other equipment assigned to this process, considered at the engineering level profile; (ii) evaluates the assets that will be subject to removal and restoration, weighted by a structure of market prices of goods and services, and reflecting the best knowledge at the time to carry out such activities; and (iii) examines the techniques and more efficient construction procedures to date. In addition, CODELCO must make certain assumptions about the exchange rate for tradable goods and services and the discount rate applied to update the relevant cash flows over time, which reflects the time value of money and includes the risks associated with liabilities, which is based on the currency in which disbursements will be made.

The provision as of a reporting date represents management's best estimate of the present value of the future decommissioning and site restoration costs required. Changes to estimated future costs are recognized in the statement of financial position by adjusting the provision for decommissioning and site restoration costs as well as the associated asset measured in accordance with IAS 16, "Property, Plant and Equipment." Any reduction in the decommissioning and site restoration liability, and therefore any deduction from the decommissioning and site restoration asset, may not exceed the carrying amount of that asset. If it does, any excess over the carrying value is immediately accounted for as profit or loss.

If the change in estimate results in an increase in the decommissioning and site restoration liability, and therefore an addition to the carrying value of the asset, the entity is required to consider whether this is an indication of impairment of the asset as a whole and test for impairment in accordance with IAS 36 "Impairment of Assets." If the revised asset net of decommissioning and site restoration provisions exceeds the recoverable value, that portion of the increase is charged directly to profit or loss statement. Any decommissioning and site restoration costs that arose as a result of the production phase of a mine should be expensed as incurred.

The costs arising from the installation of a plant or other site preparation projects are discounted at net present value, provided for and capitalized at the beginning of each project, as soon as the obligation to incur such costs arises. These decommissioning costs are charged to profit over the life of the mine through depreciation of the asset. The depreciation is included in operating costs, while the unwinding of the discount in the provision is included in finance costs.

Accrual for Employee Benefits. Employee benefits costs for severance payments and health benefits for services rendered by the employees are determined based on actuarial calculations using the projected credit unit method and are charged to profit or loss on an accrual basis.

We use assumptions to determine the best estimate for these benefits. Such estimates, as well as assumptions, are determined together with an external actuary. These assumptions include demographic assumptions, mortality and morbidity, discount rate and expected salary increases and rotation levels, among other factors. Although we believe that the assumptions used are appropriate, a change in these assumptions could affect profit.

Accruals for open invoices. The substantial majority of copper produced by CODELCO is sold under annual contracts. Pricing on such contracts is based on prevailing monthly average prices quoted on the LME for a quotation period, generally the month following the scheduled month of shipment. CODELCO uses information on future copper prices, through which it recognizes adjustments to its revenues and trade receivables due to its provisional invoicing. These adjustments are updated on a monthly basis. At the end of each month, CODELCO estimates and accounts for any change in the provisional sales price using information available at the time financial statements are generated. However, the amount estimated may differ from the amount received at settlement. Revenue is recorded at the time control of the asset is transferred to the customer according to the shipment or dispatch of the products, in conformity with the agreed-upon conditions and are subject to variations related to the content and/or sales price at their liquidation date. Notwithstanding the foregoing, there are certain contracts under which control of the product is transferred to the client based on receipt of the product at the buyer's destination point, and for these contracts' revenue is recorded at the moment of such transfer.

Sales contracts include a provisional price at the shipment date, which final price is generally based on the price recorded in the LME. In the majority of cases, the recognition of sales revenue for copper and other commodities is based on the estimates of the future spread of metal price on the LME and/or the spot price at the date of shipment, with a subsequent adjustment made upon final determination and presented as part of "Revenue." The terms of sales contracts with third parties contain provisional pricing arrangements whereby the selling price for metal in concentrate is based on prevailing spot prices on a specified future date after shipment to the customer (the "quotation period"). As such the final price will be fixed on the dates indicated in the contracts. Adjustments to the sales price occurs based on movements in the LME up to the date of final settlement. The period between provisional invoicing and final settlement can be between one and nine months. Changes in fair value over the quotation period and up until final settlement are estimated by reference to forward market prices for the applicable metals.

Sales in the national market are recorded in conformity with the regulations that govern domestic sales as indicated in Articles 7, 8 and 9 of Law No.16,624, modified by Article 15 of Decree Law No.1,349 of 1976, on the determination of the sales price for the internal market.

Additionally, we recognize revenue for providing services, mainly related to the processing of minerals bought from third parties. Revenue is recognized when the performance obligation has been satisfied.

See "Business and Properties—Marketing—Pricing and Hedging" for information regarding hedge accounting.

Fair Value of Derivatives and Other Instruments. Management may use its judgment to choose an adequate and proper valuation method for the instruments that are not quoted in an active market. In the case of derivative financial instruments, assumptions are based on the observable market inputs, adjusted in conformity with the specific features of the instruments.

Lawsuits and Contingencies. We assess the probability of lawsuits and contingency losses on an ongoing basis according to estimates performed by our legal advisors. No provision is recognized for cases in which management and our legal advisors believe that (i) a favorable outcome will be obtained, (ii) the probability of a loss is remote or possible, but not probable, or, if probable, (iii) the amount of the obligation cannot be measured reliably.

Application of IFRS 16: includes the following:

- Estimation of the lease term
- Determine if it is reasonably certain that an extension or termination option will be exercised
- Determination of the appropriate rate to discount lease payments

Revenue recognition: CODELCO determines appropriate revenue recognition for its contracts with customers by analyzing the type, terms and conditions of each contract or agreement with a customer. As part of the analysis, the management must make judgments about whether an agreement or contract is legally enforceable, and whether the agreement includes separate performance obligations. In addition, estimates are required to allocate the total price of the transaction to each performance obligation based on the stand-alone selling price of the promised goods or services underlying each performance obligation. (CODELCO applies the constraint on variable consideration as defined in IFRS 15, if applicable).

Stripping costs: Costs incurred from removing mine waste materials (overburden) in open pits that are in production and that provide access to mineral deposits are recognized in property, plant, and equipment when the following criteria set out in IFRIC 20 Stripping Costs in the Production Phase of a Surface Mine are met:

- it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the stripping activity will flow to the entity;
- it is possible to identify the components of an ore body for which access has been improved because of the stripping activity; and
- the costs relating to that stripping activity can be measured reliably.

The stripping costs are amortized based on the production units of production extracted from the ore body related to the specific stripping activity which generated this amount.

Although the abovementioned estimates have been made based on the best information available as of the date of issuance of these consolidated financial statements, it is possible that new developments could lead CODELCO to modify these estimates in the future. Such modifications, if applicable, would be adjusted prospectively, as required by IAS 8 “Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors.”

BUSINESS AND PROPERTIES

CODELCO is the world's largest copper producer and one of the largest companies in Chile in terms of revenues (U.S.$16.4 billion in 2023). As of December 31, 2023, CODELCO's total assets were U.S.$46.9 billion and equity amounted to U.S.$11.0 billion. As of September 30, 2024, CODELCO's total assets were U.S.$49.6 billion and equity amounted to U.S.$11.3 billion.

CODELCO engages primarily in the exploration, development and extraction of ores bearing copper and byproducts, the processing of ore into refined copper and the international sale of refined copper and byproducts. CODELCO is 100% owned by the Government of Chile and controls approximately 4.7% of the world's proved and probable copper reserves, as such terms are defined by the U.S. Geological Survey.

In 2023, CODELCO had an estimated 6.4% share of total world copper production, with production amounting to approximately 1.424 million metric tons, including: (i) CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit, which is mined by Sociedad Contractual Minera El Abra and owned 49.0% by CODELCO and 51.0% by Cyprus El Abra Corporation (a subsidiary of Freeport-McMoRan Inc.); and (ii) CODELCO's share of Anglo American Sur (of which CODELCO owns a 20.0% indirect share), and an estimated 6.2% share of the world's molybdenum production, with production amounting to approximately 17.3 metric tons excluding CODELCO's share of Anglo American Sur. CODELCO's main commercial product is Grade A cathode copper. In 2023 and for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2024, CODELCO derived 90.1% and 92.4% of its total sales from copper and 9.9% and 7.6% of its total sales from byproducts of its copper production, respectively. The following table sets forth certain production, cost and price information relating to CODELCO for the years ended December 31, 2021, 2022, and 2023 and the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2023 and 2024:

CODELCO's mission is to maximize the value of its mineral resources for the benefit of its shareholder, the Chilean state, by fully developing its vast mining resources on a timely basis, leveraging the Company's experienced workforce, utilizing its advanced technological holds in key areas and by executing the following key strategic initiatives:

Capital Expenditure Program. We seek to maintain and improve our competitive position in the industry through our three-year capital expenditure program. CODELCO expects to make capital expenditures of approximately U.S.$16.3 billion between 2024 and 2026 (current project portfolio and mine development) in addition to U.S.$840 million from its subsidiaries, which includes the acquisition of Lithium Power International and 10% stake in Quebrada Blanca. We expect these expenditures to be funded with a combination of internal and external resources. For a complete list of planned capital expenditures, see "Business and Properties—Copper Production—Operations." CODELCO's expansion and development of major projects between 2024 and 2026 are expected to include:

- o The Chuquicamata Underground Project, the gradual transformation of the Chuquicamata mine from an open pit mine to an underground operation. This project considers the exploitation of the mine in three levels. The first level started production in 2019 and comprised an initial investment of approximately U.S.$5.9 billion and considers additional investments in infrastructure and mine development. The second and third levels are still in early engineering stages.

- o Within 2024-2026 CODELCO expects an investment of U.S.$800 million on the continuity infrastructure of the first level (Phase I Project – construction progress of 67.2%) and will spend U.S.$434 million in mine development. Plans for the second phase of infrastructure continuity are currently being discussed. The reallocation of a part of the Andina concentrator plant, which involves maintaining the treatment capacity of the plant using two production lines has an overall progress of 99.8% as of September 30, 2024. The project's Line 1 started production in 2021, and Line 2 started production in 2024. Only minor works remain outstanding for the project's completion.
- o The development of a new production level in the existing El Teniente underground mine (an approximate investment of U.S.$2.33 billion between 2024 and 2026) to maintain El Teniente's annual copper production at its current level. The new mining level has been divided into three separate projects: (i) Andes Norte, (ii) Diamante, and (iii) Andesita. As of September 30, 2024, completion progress at the Andes Norte, Diamante and Andesita works was 60.0%, 46.2% and 57.6%, respectively.
- o The development of the Inca Pit project is designed to extend the production of the Salvador Division, and requires an approximate investment of U.S.$1.17 billion between 2024 and 2026. December 2024, although some works remain pending, construction of key infrastructure, equipment commissioning, and a unified system for processing 15,000 tons daily is fully complete and production has begun.
- o The completion of the feasibility stage of Radomiro Tomic's new sulfide operation and concentrator plant, and the start of the execution of this project (an approximate investment of U.S.$472 million) is expected between 2024 and 2026.

Improvement in operations. A number of improvement initiatives are underway to adopt best industry practices, most notably in the areas of labor productivity, asset utilization rates and process efficiency. Together with its capital expenditure investment program, CODELCO expects these initiatives to enhance its competitive position. CODELCO operates in a cyclical business and its strategy is to ensure that it is able to take full advantage of high copper prices. CODELCO is developing a number of plans to achieve production targets in the coming years. These plans mainly focus on reducing the risk of disruptions to production and providing increased flexibility to its operations.

Exploration Efforts. CODELCO controls the largest copper reserves worldwide, the Company's single most important long-term competitive advantage. The discovery of new mining resources and improving its ability to locate existing ore bodies and prospects are critical to CODELCO maintaining its preeminent position in the industry. Accordingly, the Company's exploration program will continue to be a key part of its business strategy.

Investment in Human Capital. The successful execution of CODELCO's business strategy relies on continuing to attract and retain a world-class management team and professionals of the highest caliber. The mining industry faces increased competition for workforce talent. As a result, the Company intends to continue improving career development opportunities for its staff and the overall attractiveness of CODELCO as a preferred employer.

Mining Association with Third Parties. CODELCO seeks to continue to develop and operate assets in association with third parties where these associations will add value to CODELCO's business. A few examples of the Company's willingness and ability to do so are (i) the association with Freeport-McMoRan Inc. in the El Abra copper mine (CODELCO owns 49.0%), (ii) the association with Anglo American, Mitsui and Mitsubishi Corporation in Anglo American Sur (CODELCO owns an indirect 20.0% interest), and (iii) the association with Teck Resources, Sumitomo Metal Mining and Sumitomo Corporation in Quebrada Blanca (CODELCO owns 10.0%). CODELCO believes its large mining reserve is a strong platform from which to establish such associations. CODELCO may expand mining associations with third parties where it helps to optimize the operation of their respective mines.

Copper Production

General

The copper deposits in CODELCO's mines exist in two principal forms—sulfide ore and oxide ore. The majority of CODELCO's mines, including Chuquicamata and El Teniente, yield primarily sulfide ore. The ore extracted from the Radomiro Tomic deposit is copper oxide and sulfides. CODELCO produces refined copper from oxide and sulfide ore using different processes. CODELCO believes that having these two different forms of copper deposits gives it a high level of flexibility to respond to market changes by adjusting its production and utilizing the refining processes described below.

Sulfide Ores. Sulfide ores are found in CODELCO's open-pit and underground mines. In open-pit mines, the process of producing copper from sulfide ores begins at the mine pit. Waste rock and ores containing copper are first drilled and blasted and then loaded onto diesel-electric trucks by electric shovels. Waste is hauled to dump areas. In underground mines, copper ore is deposited on rail cars and transported to a crushing circuit where gyratory crushers break the ore into sizes no larger than three-fourths of an inch. In both types of mines, the ore is then transported to rod and ball mills which grind it to the consistency of powder. In the conventional concentrator/smelter/refinery process for sulfide ore, this finely ground ore is agitated in a water and chemical solution and pumped as a watery mixture to the flotation separator. The solution is then aerated, producing a froth which carries the copper minerals, but not the waste rock, to the surface. The froth is skimmed off and filtered to produce copper concentrates. The waste rock, called tailings, is sent to a tailings storage facility. The copper concentrates (which contain a copper grade of approximately 30.0%) are then sent to the smelter.

At the smelter, the concentrates are blended with fluxes and fed into reverberatory furnaces or a Teniente converter (a technologically advanced type of converter designed by CODELCO) where they are melted, producing "matte" and "slag." Matte from reverberatory furnaces contains approximately 45.0% copper, and matte from a Teniente converter contains approximately 75.0% copper. Slag is a residue of the smelting process containing iron and other impurities, which the Company disposes of with its other industrial solid waste. The matte is transferred by ladles to the converters and is oxidized in two steps. First, the iron sulfides in the matte are oxidized with silica, producing slag that is returned to the reverberatory furnaces. Second, the impurities in the matte sulfide are oxidized to produce blister copper. The blister copper contains approximately 98.5% copper. Some of the blister copper is sold to customers. The remainder is transferred to the electrolytic refinery.

After additional treatment in the anode furnace, the copper is cast into anodes and then moved to the refinery's electrolytic tank house. This anode copper is approximately 99.0% copper. In the electrolytic tank house, anodes are suspended in tanks containing an acid solution and copper sulfate. An electrical current is passed through the anodes and chemical solution to deposit clean copper on pure copper plates. The resulting refined copper cathodes are 99.99% copper. Silver and small amounts of other metals contained in the anodes settle on the bottom of the tanks and are recovered in a separate process.

Oxide Ores. Oxide ore is scarcer than sulfide ore and is typically found closer to the surface of the earth. A different process (called the SX-EW process) is used to produce refined copper from oxide ores, which CODELCO employs at its SX-EW facilities in Chuquicamata, El Teniente, Salvador, Gabriela Mistral and Radomiro Tomic. In the first step of the SX-EW process, copper oxide ore is mined, crushed and deposited into large piles. The piles are leached for a period of several days with a solution of sulfuric acid, resulting in the effusion from the piles of a solution with a high-concentration of copper. The copper solution is collected into large pools, from which copper is then recovered by solvent extraction, followed by a second recovery method called electrowinning, to produce high-grade copper cathodes. The SX-EW process involves lower overall refining costs and can be used with a lower grade of ore, than the traditional concentrator/smelter/refinery process. The SX-EW process also enables CODELCO to recover copper by re-leaching waste material left over from prior copper extractions.

Operations

CODELCO's copper operations are divided into the following eight divisions:

- The El Teniente Division operates the El Teniente mine, which is the world's largest underground copper mine and has been in operation for more than 100 years. The El Teniente Division includes the Caletones smelter. In 2023, this division produced 351,874 metric tons of copper, or 24.7% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 138.0 cents per pound, compared to 105.2 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$1,059.7 million in 2023, compared to U.S.$930.5 million in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, this division produced 245,483 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 162.7 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$868.9 million.

- The Radomiro Tomic Division operates the Radomiro Tomic mine, which began its first full year of production in 1998. In 2023, this division produced 314,805 metric tons of copper cathodes, or 22.1% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 235.9 cents per pound, compared to 205.6 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$1,617.2 million in 2023 compared to U.S.$1,351.9 million in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, this division produced 196,520 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 243.3 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$1,039.3 million.
- The Chuquicamata Division operates the Chuquicamata mine, one of the largest copper producing mines in the world, which began its operations in 1915 and currently includes smelting and refining capacities. In 2023, this division produced 248,495 metric tons of copper cathodes, or 17.5% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 158.5 cents per pound, compared to 127.4 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$851.7 million in 2023, compared to U.S.$740.7 million in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, this division produced 194,846 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 137.1 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$578.6 million.
- The Mina Ministro Hales Division was created in 2010 for the operation of the Mina Ministro Hales ore body, which first began producing copper at the end of 2013. In 2023, this division produced 126,010 metric tons of copper, or 8.9% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 200.7 cents per pound, compared to 129.6 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$539.4 million in 2023, compared to U.S.$420.1 million in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, this division produced 64,665 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 268.2 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$370.7 million.
- The Andina Division operates the Andina and Sur mines with production split among open pit and underground mines. It does not have independent smelting capacity. Andina has been in operation since 1970. In 2023, this division produced 164,545 metric tons of copper, or 11.6% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 230.3 cents per pound, compared to 187.5 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$806.9 million in 2023, compared to U.S.$707.0 million in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, this division produced 139,602 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 212.7 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$632.3 million.
- The Gabriela Mistral Division was created in 2013 and operates the Gabriela Mistral mine, which uses SX EW technology. The Gabriela Mistral mine produced its first copper cathodes in 2008 after a 26 month construction period. In 2023, this division produced 105,825 metric tons of copper, or 7.4% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 292.5 cents per pound, compared to 275.8 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$682.4 million in 2023, compared to U.S.$665.9 million in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, this division produced 77,132 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 263.5 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$448.0 million.
- The Salvador Division operates the Salvador mine and concentrator and the smelter/refinery complex at Potrerillos, which has the capacity to treat 671,000 metric tons of concentrate. In 2023, this division produced 13,000 metric tons of copper cathodes, or 0.9% of CODELCO's total copper output (including CODELCO's share of the El Abra deposit and Anglo American Sur), with a cash cost of 575.5 cents per pound, compared to 389.6 cents per pound in 2022, and a total cash cost of U.S.$164.3 million in 2023, compared to U.S.$271.7 million in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, this division did not produce as the Rajo Inca project was under construction. As of September 30, 2024, the project was under construction and was approximately 88.0% complete.

- The Ventanas Division was created in connection with the acquisition of the Ventanas smelter/refinery complex from Chile's state-owned mining company ENAMI in 2005. In 2023, this division refined 357.2 thousand metric tons of copper, compared to 370.7 thousand metric tons of copper in 2022. During the first nine months of 2024, the Ventanas division refined 204.5 thousand metric tons of copper. Pursuant to the terms of the acquisition, CODELCO is required to provide on market terms the necessary smelting and refining capacity for the treatment of copper concentrate delivered by the small- and medium-sized mining industry that ENAMI serves. In May 2023, Law No. 21,546 permitted the gradual closure of the Ventanas smelter/refinery complex and after almost 60 years of operation, the furnaces at Ventanas Division smelting plant were shut down. The transition of its former workers successfully concluded, with 58.8% of workers opting for an exit plan, 26.9% retrained for new roles at the Ventanas Division, and 14.3% relocated to other divisions, following the smelter's closure. CODELCO will continue to operate in the area through its refinery.
- The Chuquicamata Division, the Radomiro Tomic Division, the Mina Ministro Hales Division, the Gabriela Mistral Division and the Salvador Division form part of CODELCO's Northern Operations (Operaciones Norte). The Andina Division, the El Teniente Division and the Ventanas Division form part of CODELCO's Central Southern Operations (Operaciones Centro Sur). For a description of CODELCO's associations with other companies, see "Business and Properties—Copper Production—Associations, Joint Ventures and Partnerships."

Beginning in late 2010, CODELCO implemented a corporate reorganization plan which divided the management of CODELCO's operations into Northern Operations (Operaciones Norte) and Central Southern Operations (Operaciones Centro Sur), to supervise the divisions in the north and center-southern regions, respectively. The reorganization was intended to simplify the organizational structure by causing all corporate administrative and support functions to report to a single vice president, and the productive divisions to concentrate on maximizing production, controlling costs and implementing safety measures. The Chuquicamata Division, the Radomiro Tomic Division, the Mina Ministro Hales Division and the Salvador Division are now supervised by the Vice President of Northern Operations (Operaciones Norte). The Andina Division, the El Teniente Division and the Ventanas Division are now supervised by the Vice President of Central Southern Operations (Operaciones Centro Sur).

CODELCO's copper production, including its share of the El Abra deposit and of Anglo American Sur, decreased to 1,423,785 metric tons during the twelve months of 2023 from 1,552,700 in 2022 and from 1,727,896 metric tons in the twelve months of 2021. This decrease was mainly due to lower copper production at Chuquicamata, El Teniente and Ministro Hales offset production declines mainly at Gabriela Mistral. Molybdenum production decreased by 15.8% in 2023 compared to 2022, from 20,498 to 17,254.

The table below shows the production of copper from CODELCO's mines, as compared to private sector production in Chile, for years ended December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023 and the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2023 and 2024:

(1) Expenditures have been invested in projects in the execution stage.

The figures above reflect the estimated investments that CODELCO expected to make under its 2024 BDP report. CODELCO continues to evaluate the strategy for continuity projects of the Chuquicamata underground mine and its second level, the project portfolio arising from new business venues (e.g. lithium), and the execution of projects in early engineering stages (e.g. expansion of Gabriela Mistral's operation, use of chloride leaching in Radomiro Tomic), among others. Therefore, this medium-term period more reliably reflects CODELCO's commitments than a longer-term period, especially considering current industry trends.

El Teniente Division

Mining Operations. The El Teniente Division is the largest division of CODELCO, based on 2018 production, and operates the El Teniente underground mine located 80 kilometers southeast of Santiago. With the production of 443,220 metric tons in 2020, it is the world's largest underground copper mine. For information regarding the new mine level at the El Teniente mine, see "Summary—Competitive Strengths."

The El Teniente deposit is also a porphyry-type ore body. The deposit covers a vertical span of over 1,500 meters. A tabular subvertical dacite porphyry intrusion two kilometers long by 200 meters wide is well exposed in the northern part of the deposit, and a quartz-diorite stock is located at the southeast side. Wall rock are mostly andesites, which are strongly mineralized, containing a high concentration of chalcopyrite and bornite. The size of the deposit is at least three kilometers north-south and close to one kilometer wide.

El Teniente primarily produces concentrates that are smelted at the Caletones smelter. In addition to the principal mine at El Teniente, the division performs mining operations at several other areas of the main deposit, with a production of approximately 140,000 metric tons of ore per day. The Esmeralda area of the mine is the main producing mine area, producing approximately 36,750 metric tons of ore per day.

As of September 30, 2024, the El Teniente Division employed 3,981 persons and produced 245,483 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 162.7 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$868.9 million, as compared to 261,692 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 134.4 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$767.1 million during the first nine months of 2023.

In 2023, this division produced 351,874 metric tons of copper, with a cash cost of 138.0 cents per pound, and a total cash cost of U.S.$1,059.7 million, compared to a production by 405,429 metric tons of copper, with a cash cost of 105.2 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$930.5 million in 2022. In 2021, the El Teniente Division produced 459,817 metric tons of copper at a cash cost of 108.6 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$1,088.3 million.

Smelting Operations. The El Teniente Division includes the Caletones smelter, which has the capacity to smelt 1.25 million metric tons of concentrate per year. The El Teniente mine supplies 1.29 million metric tons of concentrate per year to the Caletones smelter. The balance of concentrate processed by the smelter is brought by railway from the Andina Division, 300 kilometers away.

The Caletones smelter operates two Teniente modified converters, three Pierce Smith Converters and several refining furnaces and gas treatment plants. El Teniente has no electrolytic refining plant, and smelter output is sold as fire-refined copper or anodes to be refined at other facilities such as the Ventanas refinery or Chuquicamata.

Radomiro Tomic Division

The Radomiro Tomic deposit lies five kilometers north of the main pit at Chuquicamata. Radomiro Tomic began production at the end of 1997. The Radomiro Tomic mine is a state of the art facility, and the world's largest producer of copper using the highly efficient SX-EW process.

During the first half of 2010, the Sulfide Phase I project was completed, which enables the treatment of 100,000 metric tons per day of sulfides from Radomiro Tomic in the Chuquicamata processing plants.

As of September 30, 2024, the Radomiro Tomic Division employed 1,357 persons and produced 196,520 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 243.3 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$1,039.3 million compared to 239,134 metric tons and a cash cost of 231.9 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$1,207.6 million, in the same period of 2023.

In 2023, this division produced 341,805 metric tons of copper cathodes with a cash cost of 235.9 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$1,617.2 million compared to 301,062 metric tons of copper, a cash cost of 205.6 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$1,351.9 million in 2022. In 2021, this division produced 326,456 metric tons of copper at a cash cost of 138.6 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$989.0 million.

Chuquicamata Division

Mining Operations. Located in the Atacama Desert, 1,200 kilometers north of Santiago and 240 kilometers east of the Chilean city of Antofagasta, the Chuquicamata mine has been in continuous operation since 1915. The Chuquicamata mine is an open-pit operation that produces predominantly sulfide concentrates, which are smelted and refined on site. The pit size of the Chuquicamata mine is almost nine kilometers long in a north-south direction by five kilometers wide and one kilometer deep.

The Chuquicamata deposit is a porphyry-type ore body. The most important feature of the ore body is a north-south regional fault, the west fissure fault, which cuts the ore on the west side and creates a sharp limit on the deposit. An oxide ore zone was a large part of the deposit and has been almost totally mined out. The mine contains a supergene enrichment layer (a redeposit of copper, by natural forces, from higher to lower layers), which has a thickness of almost 800 meters near the center of the mine. Five kilometers north of Chuquicamata, the ore body narrows and merges with the Radomiro Tomic ore body. For information regarding the transformation of the Chuquicamata mine from an open pit mine to an underground operation, see “Summary—Competitive Strengths.”

Smelting Operations. Chuquicamata utilizes one Outokumpu flash furnace, five Pierce Smith converters and two Teniente converters to process 1.25 million metric tons of 29.6% copper concentrate per year. Chuquicamata performs all stages of copper production from the mining process through cathode production.

As of September 30, 2024, the Chuquicamata Division employed 3,913 persons and produced 194,846 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 137.1 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$578.6 million, compared to 177,888 metric tons with a cash cost of 148.5 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$553.1 million during the first nine months of 2023.

In 2023, this division produced 248,495 metric tons of copper cathodes, with a cash cost of 158.5 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$851.7 million, compared to 268,348 metric tons of copper at a cash cost of 127.4 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$740.7 million in 2022 and, compared to 319,280 metric tons of copper at a cash cost of 116.2 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$801.7 million in 2021.

Mina Ministro Hales Division

Mining Operations. The Mina Ministro Hales Division was created in September 2010 for the operation of the Mina Ministro Hales ore body and delivered its first tons of copper during the last quarter of 2013.

As of September 30, 2024, Mina Ministro Hales employed 821 persons and produced 64,665 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 268.2 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$370.7 million, compared to 80,653 metric tons with a cash cost of 249.1 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$428.3 million during the first nine-months of 2023.

In 2023, this division produced 126,010 metric tons of copper, with a cash cost of 200.7 cents per pound, and a total cash cost of U.S.$539.4 million compared to 152,167 metric tons of copper, with a cash cost of 129.5 cents per pound, and a total cash cost of U.S.$420.1 million in 2022, compared to 181.7 metric tons of fine copper at a cash cost of 89.2 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$345.5 million in 2021.

Smelting and Refinery Operations. The processing of minerals will be carried out in a stand-alone concentrator with processing capacity of 50,000 tons per day. Copper concentrates will be processed in a new roasting plant. The project also includes a new acid plant.

Gabriela Mistral Division

The Gabriela Mistral ore body is located in Chile’s Second Region and began production in May 2008. On January 1, 2013, CODELCO created the Gabriela Mistral Division, which operates the Gabriela Mistral mine. Gabriela Mistral uses SX-EW technology and produced its first copper cathodes in May 2008 after a 26-month construction period at a cost of U.S.$1.0 billion.

As of September 30, 2024, the Gabriela Mistral Division employed 485 persons and produced 77,132 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 263.5 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$448.0 million, as compared to 73,812 metric tons with a cash cost of 304.6 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$495.6 million during the first nine months of 2023.

In 2023, this division produced 105,825 metric tons of copper, with a cash cost of 292.5 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$682.4 million. In 2022, this division produced 109,523 metric tons of copper, with a cash cost of 275.8 cents per pound, compared to 100,908 metric tons of copper at a cash cost of 193.4 cents per pound in 2021, and a total cash cost of U.S.$665.9 million in 2022, compared to U.S.$430.3 million in 2021.

Andina Division

Mining Operations. The Andina Division operates the Andina mine and the Sur-Sur mine, which are located 50 kilometers northeast of Santiago. Production at the Andina Division is split among open-pit and underground mines. For information regarding the Andina plant reallocation project, see “Summary—Competitive Strengths.” The Andina Division does not operate a smelter. Its production is processed at the Caletones smelter of El Teniente, at the Ventanas refinery or at the Salvador Division, and some of its concentrate is sold to ENAMI or other purchasers.

As of September 30, 2024, the Andina Division employed 1,469 persons and produced 139,602 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 212.7 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$632,338 million, as compared to 120,081 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 229.9 cents per pound and a total cost of U.S.$588.0 million during the first nine months of 2023.

In 2023, the Andina Division produced 164,545 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 230.3 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$806.9 million. In 2022, this division produced 177,027 metric tons of copper, with a cash cost of 187.5 cents per pound, and a total cash cost of U.S.$707.0 million compared to 177,216 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 154.9 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$584.6 million in 2021. The Río Blanco-Los Bronces porphyry-type deposit, one of the largest copper ore bodies in Chile, is partially owned by the Andina Division. The northwest portion of this deposit is owned by the Andina Division; Anglo Sur owns and operates the mines at Los Bronces and El Soldado along with the Chagres smelter and various mineral resources, including Los Sulfatos and San Enrique Monolito, located in the southwest portion of the deposit. The deposit is characterized by plentiful tourmaline and breccia rock bodies mineralized with copper sulfides, mostly calcopyrite. CODELCO's portion of the deposit is four kilometers in length, in the northwest to southeast direction, with a maximum width of almost one kilometer.

With the aim to increase the processing output of the Andina Division, CODELCO completed the Andina Phase I Expansion Project in 2010. While the Andina Division had plans to continue investing to expand the mine and increase copper production by an additional 350,000 tons of copper per year, the Company is currently reformulating its plans in order to create an alternative that should require less investment, while at the same time seeking to minimize the environmental impact and prolong the life of the Andina Division.

Salvador Division

Mining Operations. The Salvador Division is the smallest of CODELCO's divisions. The complex includes the mine and concentrator at Salvador and a smelter/refinery at Potrerillos. The Salvador mine is located 900 kilometers north of Santiago and 120 kilometers east of the Chilean port of Chañaral. Concentrates are transported 67 kilometers from the mine to the smelter at Potrerillos via pipeline and truck.

The Salvador Division has the smallest base reserve of ore among all of CODELCO's divisions. The Salvador deposit is a typical medium-sized porphyry-type ore body. There is an 80- to 200-meter thick leached capping covering a lensoid-shaped enrichment layer roughly one kilometer in diameter that attains a maximum thickness of about 250 meters. This enrichment layer is almost completely mined out. Mining is currently focused on the primary ore located underneath the secondary enrichment (the so-called Inca levels).

As of September 30, 2024, Salvador employed 1,447 persons and had no copper production as it is focused on developing the Rajo Inca project, as compared to 12,278 metric tons of copper with a cash cost of 523.4 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$141.1 million during the first nine months of 2023.

In 2023, this division produced 13,000 metric tons of copper cathodes, with a cash cost of 575.5 cents per pound, and a total cash cost of U.S.$164.3 million compared to 32,065 metric tons of fine copper at a cash cost of 389.6 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$271.7 million in 2022 and 52,885 metric tons of fine copper at a cash cost of 268.0 cents per pound and a total cash cost of U.S.$311.4 million in 2021. As of December 2024, although some works remain pending, construction of key infrastructure, equipment commissioning, and a unified system for processing 15,000 tons daily is fully complete and production has begun.

Smelting Operations. The smelting and refining operation is located at Potrerillos. This facility includes one Teniente converter and four Pierce Smith converters for a rated annual capacity of 671,000 metric tons of concentrate. CODELCO increased capacity of the Potrerillos smelter in 2004.

Ventanas Division

Smelting and Refinery Operations. The Ventanas Division was created in connection with the acquisition of the Ventanas smelter/refinery complex from Chile's state-owned mining company ENAMI in 2005. In 2023, this division refined 357.2 thousand metric tons of copper, compared to 370.7 thousand metric tons of copper in 2022. During the nine months of 2024, the Ventanas division refined 204.5 thousand metric tons of copper. Pursuant to the terms of the acquisition, CODELCO is required to provide on market terms the necessary smelting and refining capacity for the treatment of copper concentrate delivered by the small- and medium-sized mining industry that ENAMI serves. As of September 30, 2024, the Ventanas Division employed 456 persons. In June 2022, CODELCO's Board of Directors approved the decommissioning of the smelter in Ventanas Division. In December 2022, a change in law was approved in Congress allowing CODELCO to smelt copper concentrates at smelters other than those of the Ventanas Division. In January 2023, the Mining and Energy Commission of the Upper House approved the articles particular to the bill setting definitions regarding the future installation of the new smelting capacity, and its compatibility with the environmental safety and the protection of people's health, among others. In May 2023, the bill was approved and after almost 60 years of operation, the furnaces at Ventanas Division smelting plant were shut down. The transition of its former workers successfully concluded, with 58.8% of 350 workers opting for an exit plan, 26.9% retrained for new roles at the Ventanas division, and 14.3% relocated to other divisions, following the smelter's closure. CODELCO will continue to operate in the area through its refinery.

Associations, Joint Ventures and Partnerships

CODELCO has undertaken several projects, business ventures and associations with certain private sector mining and non-mining enterprises, including:

- SCM El Abra: In 1994, CODELCO (49.0%) formed a company, SCM El Abra, with Cyprus El Abra Corporation (51.0%), a subsidiary of Freeport-McMoRan Inc., to develop the El Abra mine in northern Chile. The mine is a porphyry copper open-pit facility located 105 kilometers north of the city of Calama at an altitude of 3,900 meters above sea level. Constructed at a cost of U.S.$1.1 billion, it is designed to produce 225,000 metric tons of copper per year and includes one of the world's largest SX-EW facilities. The El Abra project was originally financed by a U.S.$850.0 million syndicated loan, which was repaid in full in 2004.
 - o In 2009, SCM El Abra approved resuming construction activities for the Sulfolix Project, which had been deferred as a result of market conditions at the end of 2008, to extract and process (by the leaching process) sulfide ores, which is expected to extend mine life by 13 years and enable El Abra to produce at least 125,000 metric tons of fine copper per year. This project contains approximately 1.2 billion metric tons of leachable oxide and sulfide copper, with an average ore grade of 0.4%. The project started producing sulfides, shifting from an oxide operation, during the first quarter of 2011 and includes milling mine ores until 2024, and is expected to generate the last cathode in 2029 by leaching heap remains. The Sulfolix Project requires approximately U.S.$565.0 million of initial equity and an additional U.S.$160.0 million to sustain the operations. The project is financed by SCM El Abra's retained earnings.

- o In 2023, SCM El Abra produced 98,414 metric tons of fine copper with a cash cost of 3.00 cents per pound. For the nine-month period ended September 30, 2024, the production was 72,954 metric tons of fine copper with a cash cost of 3.17 cents per pound. The project had delivered total dividends of U.S.$6.0 million in 2019 and CODELCO had received U.S.$3.0 million in dividends in 2019. The project did not deliver dividends in 2020. The project had delivered total dividends of U.S.$0.4 million in 2021, and CODELCO had received U.S.$0.2 million in dividends in 2021. The project had delivered total dividends of U.S.$51.4 million in 2022, and CODELCO had received U.S.$25.2 million in dividends in 2022. The project did not deliver dividends in 2023. As of September 30, 2024, the carrying value of SCM El Abra's ownership interest was equal to U.S.$718.2 million.
- Anglo American Sur: On December 19, 2008, CODELCO purchased from ENAMI for U.S.$175.0 million an option to purchase up to 49.0% of the equity interests of Anglo American Sur, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Anglo American, for a price to be determined by a prescribed formula based on a multiple of historic earnings (the "Sur Option"). Anglo American Sur owns and operates the mines at Los Bronces and El Soldado, the Chagres Smelter and various mineral resources, including Los Sulfatos and San Enrique Monolito. In October 2011, CODELCO announced that it had arranged for a bridge loan of up to U.S.$6.75 billion from Mitsui that would allow it to exercise the Sur Option and indicated its intent to exercise the Sur Option during the next window for its exercise, which would occur in January 2012. On November 9, 2011, Anglo American announced that it had sold 24.5% of the equity interests of Anglo American Sur to affiliates of Mitsubishi Corporation. Following this sale, CODELCO announced that it retained the right to acquire up to 49.0% of the equity interests of Anglo American Sur and requested from the Santiago Court of Appeals a legal order preventing further sales of equity interests of Anglo American Sur until CODELCO was able to exercise the Sur Option. The requested legal order was granted and, on January 2, 2012, CODELCO exercised the Sur Option to purchase 49.0% of the equity interests of Anglo American Sur. Prior to and after the exercise of the Sur Option, Anglo American and CODELCO were involved in additional legal proceedings relating to the exercise of the Sur Option, which were ultimately settled pursuant to the settlement agreement described below.
 - o On August 23, 2012, CODELCO and Anglo American entered into a settlement agreement to settle their respective claims in relation to the Sur Option. In connection with this settlement agreement, CODELCO and Anglo American agreed that Becrux, then a wholly-owned subsidiary of Acrux, an entity owned by CODELCO and Mitsui in the manner described below, would acquire 29.5% of the equity interests in Anglo American Sur pursuant to the following transactions:
 - On August 24, 2012, Becrux acquired (i) shares representing 24.5% of the equity interests of Anglo American Sur for a purchase price of U.S.$1.7 billion, which was financed through a draw down by an affiliate of CODELCO on the A&R Mitsui Bridge Loan Facility described under "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources—Other Debt;" and (ii) shares representing 0.9% of the equity interests of Anglo American Sur for a purchase price of U.S.$206.8 million, which was financed by cash contributions made by Mitsui; and
 - On September 14, 2012, Becrux acquired shares representing 4.0% of the equity interests of Anglo American Sur for a purchase price of U.S.$893.2 million, which was financed by cash contributions made by Mitsui.
 - o As part of the settlement agreement, Anglo American Sur transferred to CODELCO certain undeveloped mining properties, Los Leones and Profundo, which are located to the east of CODELCO's Andina mine, and the shareholders of Anglo American Sur entered into a shareholders' agreement that provides a framework for the ongoing governance of Anglo American Sur, which includes board representation and participation in certain decisions for Becrux.
 - o Immediately following the acquisition of 29.5% of the equity interests of Anglo American Sur, affiliates of CODELCO and Mitsui owned approximately 83.0% and 17.0%, respectively, of the equity interests of Acrux. In connection with the refinancing of the A&R Mitsui Bridge Loan Facility described above under "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Liquidity and Capital Resources—Other Debt," an affiliate of Mitsui exercised its right to acquire from an affiliate of CODELCO at the closing of the refinancing a number of equity interests of Acrux representing a 4.5% stake in Anglo American Sur for a purchase price equal to U.S.$998.0 million. This amount was used to prepay a portion of the bridge loan previously drawn down by an affiliate of CODELCO under the A&R Mitsui Bridge Loan Facility in connection with the transactions described above. Following the consummation of this transaction, affiliates of CODELCO and Mitsui owned approximately 67.8% and 32.2%, respectively, of the equity interests of Acrux. Consequently, CODELCO indirectly owns a 20.0% interest in Anglo American Sur.

- o On November 26, 2016, CODELCO signed a credit agreement with Oriente Copper, an affiliate of Mitsui, renegotiating the payment of principal at the end of the contract. The terms established an annual interest rate of LIBOR +2.5% with a five-year maturity to be payable in one installment at maturity with semi-annual interest payments. On May 26, 2017, CODELCO signed a new credit agreement with Mitsui renegotiating the following semi-annual payment, which was on the same terms as the first renegotiation done in November 2016.
- o On December 21, 2017, CODELCO and Mitsui agreed to merge Acrux into Becrux, as the surviving entity. The reorganization did not affect the interest that CODELCO and Mitsui indirectly hold in Anglo American Sur.
- o Anglo American Sur fine copper production was metric 255,041 tons in 2023 with a cash cost of 306 cents per pound, compared to 311,036 tons in 2022 with a cash cost of 213 cents per pound and 369,980 tons in 2021 with a cash cost of 165 cents per pound. In the nine-month period ended September 30, 2024, the production was 169,373 metric tons of fine copper with a cash cost of 2.52 cents per pound. Anglo American Sur distributed U.S.$22.7 million in 2020, U.S.$270.6 million in 2021, U.S.$138.4 million in 2022, zero in 2023 and zero as of September 30, 2024 in cash dividends to Becrux, which is an indirectly owned subsidiary of CODELCO. As of September 30, 2024, the carrying value of equity of Anglo American Sur was equal to U.S.$2.2 billion. As of December 31, 2023, the carrying value of equity of Anglo American Sur was equal to U.S.$2.1 billion. CODELCO has a 20.0% indirect participation in Anglo American Sur. See “Risk Factors.” A substantial amount of our total assets are property, plant and equipment.
- SCM Purén: CODELCO (35.0%) and Compañía Mantos de Oro (65.0%), a subsidiary of Kinross Gold Corp., own SCM Purén. SCM Purén’s mining activities, located in the Atacama Region, east of the city of Copiapó, began in November 2005, having produced over 801,839 ounces of equivalent gold. In 2015, the company distributed U.S.$2.5 million in dividends to CODELCO. During 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023 and the first nine months of 2024, this company did not issue dividends. SCM Purén mines two gold and silver ore bodies through open pits. Currently, SCM Purén is evaluating a second phase of the project.
- Nuevo Cobre S.A. (formerly Agua de la Falda S.A.): CODELCO (42.26%) and Rio Tinto Chile SpA (57.74%), a subsidiary of Rio Tinto plc, own Nuevo Cobre S.A., formerly named Agua de la Falda S.A., which was created in 1996 to explore and exploit the Agua de la Falda gold deposit that was in production until 2005. The new joint venture aims to explore and develop copper deposits.
- Inca de Oro S.A.: CODELCO (33.85%) and Minera PanAust IDO Limitada (66.15%) own Inca de Oro S.A., which was created in 2009 to explore, exploit and process mineral resources in Chile and abroad. The production of Inca de Oro S.A. is currently halted pending new market opportunities.
- Cobrex Prospeccao Mineral S.A.: CODELCO (42.06%) and Glencore Exploração Mineral do Brasil Ltda (57.94%), which was created in 2013 to engage in mining ventures in Brazil and abroad, including exploration, extraction, and commercialization of mineral resources, as well as managing its own or third-party assets. As of January 14, 2024, CODELCO’s ownership in Cobrex Prospeccao Mineral S.A decreased from 51% to 42.06%, transitioning it from a subsidiary to an associate, following the termination of an exploration contract that reduced CODELCO’s stake to 42.06%.
- Deutsche Giessdraht GmbH: CODELCO (40.0%) and Aurubis AG (60.0%) own Deutsche Giessdraht GmbH, a German corporation located in Emmerich, Germany. The company, which has been in existence since 1975, produces continuous copper cast wire rod. CODELCO indirectly supplies copper to Deutsche Giessdraht GmbH. On July 31, 2018, CODELCO sold its 40.0% ownership stake in Deutsche Giessdraht GmbH to its partner Aurubis AG after receiving approval of the transaction by Germany's federal antitrust regulator (Bundeskartellamt). The sale included an agreement which allowed CODELCO to produce wire rod until December 31, 2018 to fulfill its sales contract obligations that expired at the end of 2018. GNL Mejillones S.A.: Due to the decrease and eventual termination of natural gas supply from Argentina, electrical power generation companies have experienced diminished electricity generation. For this reason, CODELCO and Suez Energy Andino S.A. through GNL Mejillones constructed an LNG re-gasification plant, which has been operating since the beginning of 2010. GNL Mejillones has the capacity to receive, process and store natural gas, with a send-out capacity of 5.5 million of cubic meters of gas per day, originating in Trinidad and Tobago and purchased from SUEZ Global LNG Ltd. under a long-term supply contract. The LNG storage tank is currently in operation. GNL has entered into a long-term agreement with E-CL for the re-gasification and storage of approximately 15 trillion BTU (British Thermal Unit).

- o GNL Mejillones provides gas required by the electricity power plant in the Sistema Interconectado del Norte Grande, known as the Sistema Eléctrico Nacional (formerly known as SING), which supplies power to CODELCO's operations. The project partners have financed this project under existing take-or-pay contracts with CODELCO and other mining companies.
- o As of June 30, 2019, CODELCO owned 37.0% of the outstanding shares of the company, and Suez Energy Andino S.A. owned the remaining 63.0% of the shares.
- o On August 6, 2019, CODELCO completed the sale of its 37.0% stake in GNL Mejillones S.A. to Ameris Capital AGF, for an amount of U.S.$193.5 million.
- Planta Recuperadora de Metales SpA: In December 2012, CODELCO (34.0%) together with LS Nikko (66.0%) formed Planta Recuperadora de Metales SpA ("PRM"), the purpose of which is to process intermediate products derived from refining and processing copper and other metals, in order to recover copper, other metals and byproducts contained in these substances and transform them into commercial products, and also trading and distributing all classes of goods or supplies relating to such process. This entity developed and built a processing plant located in Mejillones, in the Antofagasta Region, which began its commissioning process during 2016. A 20-year contract regulates the treatment of anodic slimes produced at CODELCO refineries for the recovery of precious metals. During 2023, LS-Nikko Copper changed its corporate name to LS MnM Inc.
- Salar de Maricunga SpA: In April 2017, CODELCO formed Salar de Maricunga SpA ("Salar de Maricunga") to develop projects for the exploration and exploitation of lithium in Chile. In March 2018, Salar de Maricunga entered into a special lithium operating contract with Chile's Ministry of Mining which allows it to explore and exploit lithium (which is not subject to concession in Chile) from the Maricunga salt flat in the northern Atacama Region of Chile. In 2019, CODELCO started to gather environmental and social data in order to prepare the submission of an Environmental Impact declaration for exploring the Maricunga salt flat. In November 2020, CODELCO was granted the environmental authorization to explore lithium resources in some of its mining rights in the Maricunga salt flat. During 2021, CODELCO continued to receive the approvals of the different sectorial permits necessary to begin the exploration work in the Maricunga salt flat. The exploration campaign began in February 2022 and ended in June 2023. In March 2024, Salar de Maricunga indirectly acquired Minera Salar Blanco S.A., holder of the Blanco Project in the Maricunga salt flat, and is now looking for a partner to develop this lithium project.
- Compañía Minera Teck Quebrada Blanca S.A.: On September 5, 2024, CODELCO purchased from ENAMI for U.S.$520.0 million a 10.0% equity interest in Compañía Minera Teck Quebrada Blanca S.A. This company owns and operates the Quebrada Blanca mine in the Tarapacá Region, 240 kilometers from Iquique. In 2023, Quebrada Blanca completed the next stage of the original mine, called Quebrada Blanca Phase 2, which includes the operation of an open-pit mine, concentrator plant, and all supporting facilities. For the nine-month period ended September 30, 2024, production reached 147,100 metric tons of fine copper.
- Technology and Research and Development Partnerships and Associations: CODELCO has entered into associations with companies and organizations that are world leaders in research and development to increase the integration of knowledge and innovation into mining processes. The following is a representative list of such associations:

- o CODELCOTec SpA: CODELCO established CODELCOTec SpA (formerly, BioSigma S.A.) (“CODELCOTec”) in 2002 with the Japanese company JX-Nippon Mining and Metals Corporation (“JX-Nippon Mining”) and has since increased its participation to 99.0% following the exit of JX-Nippon Mining in 2016. CODELCOTec’s mission today is the development of mining and metallurgy technological innovations, commercial development of processes and technology in the field of genomics, proteomics, and bioinformatics for the mining sector, and, in general, application of systems based on microorganisms, analysis, research, invention and creation, development, and implementation of new applications, processes, and uses for copper, molybdenum, lithium, and other byproducts of mining processes, insofar as they are directly related to greater use of copper. CODELCOTec’s mission also includes technological monitoring of copper substitutes, representation of domestic or foreign companies and individuals or legal entities, sale and purchase, distribution, trading, import and export of such substitutes and other activities relating to the foregoing. During 2024, CODELCOTec was liquidated.
- o Kairos Mining S.A.: Kairos Mining S.A. is a company created in 2006 in association with Honeywell Chile S.A., which owns 60.0% (CODELCO owns the remaining 40.0%). Kairos Mining S.A.’s purpose is to provide services for the automation and control of industrial and mining activities, and to supply related technology and software licenses;
- o Ecosea Farming S.A.: CODELCO, through its subsidiary Innovaciones en Cobre S.A., was a 91.3% shareholder in EcoSea Farming (“EcoSea”), a technology-driven company setting the standard for aquaculture on a global scale. The company’s objective was to incorporate the use of metallic copper alloy meshes for fish cultivation systems, in order to take advantage of the various benefits of copper: antimicrobial, antifouling, anti-predator, mechanically strong and infinitely recyclable. In addition, EcoSea discovered new properties that allow for lower operational costs and the expansion of offshore aquaculture in exposed areas. During 2018, CODELCO sold the technology assets of EcoSea to a group of investors and EcoSea was liquidated and dissolved.

The following table sets forth the major mining and exploration agreements to which CODELCO is a party as of September 30, 2024:

CODELCO reports its inventory of mining assets, distinguishing mineral resources and mineral reserves, according to Chilean and international regulation. The system described below for categorizing mineral ore, which is widely used within the mining industry, is codified in Law No. 20,235 and is regulated by an independent Chilean private entity called the Comisión Calificadora de Competencias en Recursos y Reservas Mineras (the Commission for the Qualification of Competencies in Mineral Resources and Reserves, or “CQCMRR”). The CQCMRR is part of the Committee for Mineral Reserves International Reporting Standards (CRIRSCO).

Geological Resources

Geological resources are concentrations or occurrences of materials in such form, quantity (tonnage and ore grade) and quality, based on specific geological evidence and knowledge, which allow for the calculation of the amount, ore grade and quality of the material with some level of confidence. Geological resources are identified and evaluated through exploration, reconnaissance and sampling. They are estimated based on geological knowledge about the deposit, which is based on scientific concepts concerning the formation of minerals such as oxides, sulfides and mixed ores, as well as available knowledge concerning the geological continuity of the mineralized sectors. This is based on technical parameters, such as robustness of the genetic-geological model, and its validation through drillings. Geological resources are further categorized as measured, indicated and inferred.

A resource is considered to be measured if CODELCO’s knowledge of the resource is extensive and direct; if CODELCO’s knowledge of the resource is substantial but less extensive, it is considered to be indicated; and if CODELCO’s knowledge of the resource is only indirect, it is considered to be inferred.

Mineral Resources

Once CODELCO has achieved increased knowledge about its geological resources, it is able to generate a long-term mining plan for the exploitation of such resources, which are then considered to be mineral resources. Mineral resources, as well as geological resources, are sub-categorized as measured, indicated and inferred.

Ore Reserves

Ore reserves are defined as the economically mineable part of mineral resources. They include diluting materials and allowances for losses, which may occur when the material is mined. Appropriate assessments and studies have been carried out, which take into account rationally assumed mining, metallurgical, economic, marketing, legal, environmental, social and governmental factors. These assessments address at the time of reporting whether extraction is justified. Ore reserves are sub-divided in order of increasing confidence from probable ore reserves to proved ore reserves. Ore reserves are a subset of mineral resources in the same way as mineral resources are a subset of geological resources. The following diagram sets forth the relationships among the different categories of resources and reserves:

Resources and Reserves, CODELCO

Based on the methods and categories described above, CODELCO's proved and probable reserves include 47.1 million metric fine tons of copper as of December 31, 2023, an amount that represents at least 30 years of future production at current levels. In 2021 and 2022, CODELCO's proved and probable reserves included 135.2 and 47.5 million metric fine tons of copper, respectively. As of December 31, 2023, CODELCO's mineral resources include 164.5 million metric fine tons of copper, and its identified geological resources include 401.1 million metric tons of copper, for a cutoff grade of 0.2% copper. The following table sets forth the amount CODELCO's copper holdings by division according to the methodology described above, as of December 31, 2023:

Each year, the Board of Directors must approve a long-term BDP of the Company. The first three years are subject to the approval of the Ministries of Finance and Mining. This plan must include the annual investment and financing amounts in addition to the annual profits that the Company is estimated to generate during the period. The Ministries of Finance and Mining jointly issue a decree, pursuant to which a portion of CODELCO's profit may be allocated by CODELCO to the creation of capitalization and reserve funds.

The 2020 BDP enables CODELCO to develop a long-term mining plan. CODELCO reviews the terms of the BDP annually to update or modify it for changes in business trends.

The 2020 BDP uses inferred resources to define CODELCO's strategic vision for long-term resource development. However, the incorporation of such resources increases gradually over time, and the inferred resources become proved and probable reserves.

In the early stages of the 2020 BDP, production is almost exclusively based on proved and probable reserves and mining projects are at advanced stages of engineering or at the investment stage. Mining projects must support their economic evaluation based on pre-defined minimum proved and probable reserves in order to be approved for investment.

Resource Development

CODELCO controls approximately 4.7% of the world's proved and probable copper reserves, as such terms are defined by the U.S. Geological Survey.

Potential geological resources, which have been identified by our internal exploration division as the result of projects carried out through 2023, comprise resources incorporated at different stages of exploration and have not been added into CODELCO's copper holdings. CODELCO's total potential geological resources, according to our internal estimates, are approximately 9,400 million of metric tons of ore with a 0.44% average copper ore grade, and equivalent to 41.3 million metric tons of fine copper. As explorations progress and further estimates are completed, these resources could be incorporated into CODELCO's copper holdings. Production Costs of Copper CODELCO's production costs include all costs and expenses incurred in connection with the mining and production of its copper mix and related byproducts. These production costs do not include administrative and operating costs incurred in connection with the processing of other copper products purchased from third parties.

In 2023, CODELCO's total costs and expenses increased by 24.2 cents per pound (7.8%) to 335.1 cents per pound, compared to 310.9 cents per pound in 2022 and 254.3 cents per pound in 2021, mainly due to lower copper production, higher operating costs, and reduced sales of by-products, such as molybdenum. For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's total costs and expenses increased by 9.6 cents per pound (1.8%) to 373.2 cents per pound, compared to 363.6 cents per pound for the same period in 2023, mainly due to lower production, partially offset by foreign exchange rate depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar, and slightly decreased operating costs. In 2023, CODELCO's total costs and expenses increased to U.S.$10.7 billion, compared to U.S.$9.9 billion in 2022, and to U.S.$9.1 billion in 2021, mainly due to higher labor and third-party services costs as a consequence of the foreign exchange rate appreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar for 2023 compared to 2022 and due to lower production and higher input prices and depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar for 2022 compared to 2021. For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's total costs and expenses amounted to U.S.$7.5 billion, compared to U.S.$7.7 billion for the same period in 2023, primarily due to lower operating costs, partially offset by increased expenses for bonuses resulting from the negotiation of 25 collective bargaining agreements in 2024. In 2023, CODELCO's cash cost of production was 203.1 cents per pound, compared to 165.4 cents per pound in 2022 and 132.7 cents per pound in 2021. For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's cash cost of production was 205.0 cents per pound, compared to 204.3 cents per pound for the same period in 2023, 2023 primarily due to lower production, compounded by reduced by-product credits resulting from decreased molybdenum prices and lower sales volumes. In 2023, CODELCO'S total cash cost was U.S.$5.8 billion, compared to U.S.$5.2 billion in 2022 and U.S.$4.7 billion in 2021. For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's total cash cost was U.S.$4.1 billion, as compared to U.S.$4.3 billion for the same period in 2023 (such total cash cost includes certain cash cost incurred at the corporate level). See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations—Overview."

For the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO's total costs and expenses increased by 9.6 cents per pound (1.8%) to 373.2 cents per pound, compared to 363.6 cents per pound for the same period in 2023, mainly due to lower production, partially offset by foreign exchange rate depreciation of the Chilean peso against the U.S. dollar, and a slight decrease of the operating costs.

In 2013, CODELCO also implemented a productivity and cost structured project intended to lower costs and increase production. The initiative is comprised of: (i) performance optimization to minimize operational disruption; (ii) budget optimization to identify expendable and necessary contracts to control the budget for third-party services costs; (iii) energy and input costs optimization marked by a review of energy and main inputs contracts; and (iv) a review of hygienic factors and costs, such as travel expenses and consulting services. Moreover, CODELCO has also created a new Vice President for Productivity and Costs position with the aim of increasing productivity, reducing costs and enhancing the cost control program.

The main energy sources for CODELCO's operations are electricity, liquid fuels (such as diesel, fuel oil and gasoline) and natural gas. Since 2004, there has been a restricted supply of natural gas from Argentina. With respect to liquid fuels and natural gas, these commodities are subject to price fluctuations as a result of external factors, such as the COVID-19 pandemic and the ongoing war in Ukraine.

CODELCO's production costs have increased due to these shortages, having to rely on electricity generated from more expensive sources, such as diesel, oil or coal, and these increased costs have adversely affected CODELCO's results of operations. Notwithstanding the foregoing, CODELCO has been promoting a strategy to: (1) decarbonize its electricity supply; (2) adapt costs to current tariffs based in new available technologies; and (3) reduce its exposure to fluctuations in commodity prices. As a result, in 2023 CODELCO renewed its current supply agreement with Pampa Solar. During 2022, CODELCO renegotiated its current supply agreements with producers and distributors of electrical energy AES Andes S.A. and Colbún S.A., to progressively shift the power supply towards renewable energy sources which should help to decrease electricity costs.

In addition, in 2018, CODELCO reached an agreement with Engie Energía Chile S.A., which guaranteed that by 2026, 70.0% of CODELCO's electricity requirements will come from renewable sources, granting CODELCO independence from the constant fluctuation of commodity prices and any additional associated costs.

In late 2009 and early 2010, as a palliative measure given the adverse effects of Argentina's restriction and in order to stabilize future energy costs, CODELCO entered into electrical supply agreements at competitive prices for a 15-year period for its facilities in the Chuquicamata Division and for a 30-year period for facilities in the middle-south region of Chile, respectively. Both supply agreements include the creation of new electrical generation capacity based on coal. Notwithstanding, the latest supply agreement was renegotiated during 2022 to progressively shift the power supply towards renewable energy sources. Furthermore, in 2018, CODELCO entered into an extension of the Chuquicamata Division contract for an additional 11-year period. This new agreement, effective as of 2025, provides for the creation of new electrical generation capacity based on renewable sources.

In 2015, after the expiration of this contract, CODELCO entered into a new five-year supply contract for liquid fuels. In August 2011, CODELCO entered into two energy and power supply agreements with Norgener S.A. for the Mina Ministro Hales Division and the Radomiro Tomic Division. CODELCO began to receive energy under these contracts in 2011 for Mina Ministro Hales and began in 2017 for Radomiro Tomic, in each case lasting until 2028. During 2014, AES Gener S.A. took over Norgener S.A., assigning CODELCO's contract to AES Gener S.A., now AES Andes S.A. Both energy and power supply agreements were amended and restated on December 29, 2022. Additionally, on that same day, CODELCO and AES Andes S.A. entered into a new energy and power supply agreement for renewable sources, which became effective as of January 1, 2023, until December 31, 2040. In 2022, CODELCO and AES Andes S.A. renegotiated their agreements to replace the current supply of power based on coal with renewable energy. Similarly, during 2018, CODELCO and Engie Energía Chile S.A. renegotiated an electrical supply agreement. The contracts that were renegotiated by CODELCO with AES Andes S.A. and Engie Energía Chile S.A. guaranteed that by 2026, 70.0% of CODELCO's electricity requirements will come from renewable sources, granting CODELCO independence from the constant fluctuation of commodity prices and any additional associated costs. Additionally, in early 2010, CODELCO entered into a five-year supply contract for liquid fuels with the main Chilean fuel distributors. In 2015, after the expiration of this contract, CODELCO entered into a new five-year supply contract for liquid fuels. In April 2012, CODELCO renewed a contract with Pacific Hydro, involving the purchase of power generation of the Coya and Pangal hydroelectric plants, for 12 years. Since CODELCO's sale of the Coya and Pangal hydroelectric plants to Pacific Hydro in 2004, Pacific Hydro and CODELCO have entered into similar supply contracts to purchase the injected energy produced by these hydroelectric plants.

With the purpose of decarbonizing its electricity supply, in January 2023, CODELCO launched an electricity supply bidding process focusing on renewable sources to procure approximately 2,500 GWh/year (which represents, approximately, 30% of CODELCO's electricity requirements). The start supply date is January 2026. To this date, the electricity supply bidding process is in the stage of evaluation and assessment of the offers. CODELCO expects to sign the new power purchase agreements derived from this supply tender process by the end of 2023 or early 2024 at the latest. In March 2024, CODELCO successfully concluded the renewable energy public bidding process undertaken in 2023, in which more than 50 national and international companies participated. The bid was awarded to Colbún, Atlas and Innergex, for a total of 1.8 terawatt hours per year (TWh/year), equivalent to the consumption of approximately 222,000 households. In May 2024, CODELCO and Engie announced modifications to the power purchase agreement signed in 2007 with Central Termoeléctrica Andina (CTA), which currently supplies electricity to the Gabriela Mistral Division and part of Chuquicamata. Under the revised agreement, CODELCO is expected to have the option to transition from CTA's coal-based energy supply to renewable energy starting January 1, 2026, ahead of the original 2032 timeline. Thanks to these processes CODELCO is expected to be supplied from 100% renewable sources, thus moving toward achieving its strategic plan goal to decarbonize its power grid before 2030.

CODELCO continues to develop and refine its mine management practices and programs to limit and reduce its costs. These initiatives include the following: (i) improved deposit identification and mining techniques; (ii) the implementation of early retirement plans and workforce reduction programs; (iii) an investment in human capital and continuing to attract and retain a world-class management team and professionals of the highest caliber; (iv) improved utilization of equipment and inputs used in the processes of copper production to increase productivity and efficiency; and (v) the development of key projects, specifically the new mine level at El Teniente, the Andina plant reallocation and the Chuquicamata underground projects.

Marketing

General

Four of CODELCO's wholly-owned subsidiaries and 12 of its sales representatives cover over 35 countries around the world. The following table shows the breakdown of CODELCO's sales by product type including third-party products for the three years ended December 31, 2023 and the nine-month period ended September 30, 2024:

Copper Sales by Product Type
(in thousands of metric tons)

Concentrates	554	493	442	347
Total.....	1,914	1,732	1,664	1,172

CODELCO's marketing strategy is focused in three major areas:

- Establishing long-term relationships. CODELCO encourages sales through annual contracts and direct long-term relationships with copper consumers.
- Quality and sales service. CODELCO focuses on product quality and sales service based on timeliness, scheduling and conditions of product delivery.
- Diversification. CODELCO has a geographically diverse sales portfolio.

Pricing and Hedging

The substantial majority of copper produced by CODELCO is sold under long-term contracts of at least one year to customers that have long-term relationships with CODELCO. The specific commercial terms of these contracts are negotiated annually by the parties for the following calendar year. Recently, and as part of a revamped commercial strategy, CODELCO has agreed to sell copper under a rolling deal format known as "evergreen" contracts with certain key customers. CODELCO's evergreen contracts have an initial duration of three years from the effective date and, unless terminated by either party, are automatically renewed for an additional year at the end of the original term. The main advantage of evergreen contracts is to lock-in sales to key customers (and for customers to have a guaranteed supply of raw material from a key supplier) over a longer period of time. For both annual and evergreen contracts, the premium over the base price is negotiated annually and the base price is the LME cash settlement averaged over the quotation period, which according to CODELCO's commercial policy is the month following the contractual or scheduled month of shipment (referred to as M+1). Products that are not committed under long-term contracts (which represent a small percentage of CODELCO's annual volume) are sold throughout the year at the prevailing conditions of the spot market to either consumers or merchants.

CODELCO applies a premium policy in sales of its Grade A cathodes. Premium amounts for different markets are adjusted in accordance with prevailing ocean freight costs and keyed to the standard terms of payment in different markets, as well as to the individual characteristics and competitive conditions of those markets. For 2023, the base premium for CIF shipments (including shipping and insurance costs) to Rotterdam was set at U.S.$234 per metric ton, compared to U.S.$128 per metric ton in 2022 and U.S.$98 per metric ton in 2021. The base premium for 2024 is U.S.$234 per metric ton.

CODELCO sells its copper concentrates under long-term contracts. These contracts generally have three-year terms with fixed volume. As a general rule, contracts covering one-third of the terms on one-third of the volume are negotiated on a yearly basis. The sale price is based on world metal prices and is generally tied to the LME settlement prices for Grade A copper cathodes minus certain treatment and refining charges.

Molybdenum is sold mainly to steel producers and merchants under annual sale contracts. Sales prices are based on prevailing monthly averages of molybdenum dealer oxide high/low prices as quoted in “Metals Week” for a quotation period, generally the month following the scheduled month of shipment.

CODELCO has hedged certain future copper delivery commitments and production in order to manage the risks associated with copper price volatility in the past. CODELCO currently does not have any hedged production commitments and therefore there is no relevant impact from hedging. See notes 29 and 30 to the Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements.

CODELCO also periodically enters into futures contracts with respect to sales of its own copper in order to provide protection against fluctuation in the sale price paid by them in connection with such sales.

See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO’s Operations—CODELCO engages in hedging activity from time to time, particularly with respect to its copper production, which may not be successful and may result in losses to CODELCO,” notes 27 and 28 to the Consolidated Financial Statements and notes 28 and 29 to the Unaudited Interim Consolidated Financial Statements for further details regarding CODELCO’s hedging activity.

Major Export Customers

As discussed above, most of CODELCO’s customers receive shipments on a monthly basis. Consequently, CODELCO’s sales volume is relatively consistent throughout the year. CODELCO’s sales of copper in 2023 were geographically diversified, with approximately 55.2% of sales made to Asia, including approximately 41.7% to China, as well as approximately 34.4% to North and South America and 10.4% to Europe. CODELCO’s top ten customers purchased approximately 26.4% of its total copper sales volume in 2023.

The following table shows CODELCO’s copper sales for the years ended December 31, 2021, 2022 and 2023 to CODELCO’s top export markets and in Chile:

The sales to China increased in 2023 compared to 2022 primarily driven by stronger demand at the beginning of the year related to the recovery in the economy of China.

Competition

CODELCO believes that competition in the copper market is based upon price, quality of product and timing of delivery. CODELCO's products compete with other materials, including aluminum and plastics. CODELCO competes with other mining companies and private individuals in connection with the acquisition of mining concessions and mineral leases and in connection with the recruitment and retention of qualified employees.

Employees

On December 31, 2023, CODELCO employed 15,404 employees as compared to 15,973 employees as of December 31, 2022. CODELCO spent U.S.$10.6 million during 2023 on staff development and training. A total of 831,298 hours of training were held, with 13,804 employees attending multiple courses.

As of December 31, 2023, approximately 93% of CODELCO's employees were covered by collective bargaining agreements with labor unions. Most of these collective bargaining agreements have terms of two to three years.

In 2023, CODELCO negotiated five collective bargaining agreements and in 2022, CODELCO negotiated four collective bargaining agreements and one additional collective bargaining agreement signed in September 2021, with no conflicts or work stoppages. In 2021, CODELCO experienced a 21-day strike involving two labor unions from the Andina Division and 24-day strike involving one labor union also from Andina Division. During the first nine months of 2024, CODELCO negotiated 25 collective bargaining agreements with no conflicts or work stoppages for 2024 related to such negotiations. In March 2024, following the fatal accident that occurred in the Radomiro Tomic division, workers went on strike demanding more safety measures. This closure resulted in an estimated production loss of approximately 30,000 tons. The strike ended after 48 hours upon reaching an agreement with the Company, in which CODELCO committed to implementing and fulfilling a series of concrete actions to improve the safety of workers at the Radomiro Tomic Division. An investigation has been initiated to determine the cause of the accident. For recent information see "Summary—Recent Developments—CODELCO Reached Contract Agreements with Twenty-Five Labor Unions."

In 2022, CODELCO renewed the Strategic Pact for Chile, initially signed by the presidential administration and the Federation of Copper Workers (FTC) in 2015, which defined four key commitments for the future and the transformation of the company: competitiveness, human capital, sustainability, and diversity and inclusion.

CODELCO has experienced material work slowdowns, work stoppages and strikes in the past.

As of September 30, 2024, there were 40,312 employees of regular independent operating contractors and 18,886 employees of contractors involved in the development of CODELCO's investment projects.

Work slowdowns, stoppages and other labor-related events could increase CODELCO's independent contracting costs, which could have a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects of CODELCO. See "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO's Operations—Labor disruptions involving CODELCO's employees, or the employees of its independent contractors could affect CODELCO's production levels and costs." In addition, pursuant to the Labor Code of Chile, CODELCO could be held liable for the payment of labor and social security obligations owed to the employees of independent contractors (or their subcontractors) if the independent contractors (or their subcontractors) do not fulfill those payment obligations. CODELCO has agreed with a Government of Chile agency to provide a framework to facilitate this agency's supervision of the labor and social security obligations owed by the independent contractors to their employees.

As part of its compensation plan, CODELCO offers each employee the opportunity to partially finance the purchase of a first home or to obtain other personal loans granted through each employee's severance plan. Such home loans have a term of up to 15 years, and such personal loans have a term of less than one year. Loans of both kinds provide for interest rates of actual inflation plus a margin of between 1.0% and 5.0%. As of September 30, 2024, an aggregate principal amount of U.S.$151.8 million of these loans was outstanding.

Law No. 20,123 of 2007 (the “Chile Subcontracting Law”) governing subcontractors provides incentives for companies to ensure that contractors and subcontractors comply with labor, health and safety regulations and standards with respect to their own employees. The Chile Subcontracting Law gives companies the right to request that contractors provide information on the status of their payment of labor and social security obligations to their employees prior to the company’s payment of amounts due to contractors. Additionally, companies have the right to withhold payments due if the contractors cannot provide evidence that they have fulfilled their labor and social security obligations. Finally, companies are required to pay contractors’ pending labor and social security obligations with the amounts withheld from the contractors. It also regulates the provision of temporary services by contractors and subcontractors, enabling the creation of specialized and regulated companies for this specific purpose (Empresas de Servicios Transitorios) and defining the specific events under which companies may hire for temporary services.

Occupational Health and Safety

CODELCO, through its structural project on occupational safety and health, has established occupational health and safety performance indicators aimed at avoiding serious and fatal accidents and occupational illnesses. In 2024 and through the date of this offering memorandum, there were two fatalities involving CODELCO contractors or personnel. In 2021 there was one fatality; in 2022 there were two fatalities involving CODELCO personnel or contractors, including one fatal accident involving a contractor at Andes Norte, and in 2023 there were two fatalities involving CODELCO contractors.

In 2021, the current total number of “lost time” accidents was 94 and the accident frequency was 0.75 accidents per million hours worked. The total number of “lost time” accidents in 2022 was 86, and the accident frequency rate was 0.61 accidents per million hours worked. In 2023 “lost time” accidents was 81, and the accident frequency was 0.50 accidents per million hours worked. As of September 30, 2024, the current total number of “lost time” accidents is 68 and the accident frequency is 0.53 accidents per million hours worked.

Comptroller General of the Republic

During 2017, the Comptroller issued three declarations (Opinions No. 15.759 and No. 18.850, both from 2017, and Final Auditor Report (Informe Final de Auditoria) No. 900/2016, from a 2016 audit) that affect CODELCO. Two of these declarations are opinions related to labor relations that: (i) query whether CODELCO could provide greater benefits to its employees than those currently established by law and (ii) state that, although CODELCO may continue to engage in collective bargaining with its employees, the Comptroller reserves the right to evaluate the amounts agreed upon. The third declaration was the result of an audit report, which maintained that CODELCO was subject to the provisions of the Public Procurement Law (Law No. 19,886) that relates to: (i) the prohibition on contracts between related parties and (ii) the mandatory public tender of contracts through the rules that apply to public services. CODELCO has filed administrative appeals against all three declarations issued, and subsequently filed an action of annulment against the three declarations issued by the Comptroller. The action of annulment was denied and in October 2020 CODELCO appealed the decision. In December 2022, CODELCO withdrew the appeal after signing a joint agreement with the Comptroller that promotes the transparency and protection of integrity, as well as the commercial nature of a State-owned company's operations as it develops in a competitive market.

CODELCO had estimated a negative effect of approximately U.S.$100.0 million due to an unfavorable outcome of litigation, caused by the delay in awarding specific contracts and investments and related reduction in production. In December 2022, CODELCO and the Comptroller entered into a collaboration agreement aimed at safeguarding probity and transparency in the operations carried out by CODELCO in the market, ending the dispute with the withdrawal of the lawsuit by CODELCO.

Legal Proceedings

CODELCO is party to various legal proceedings in the ordinary course of business. Other than as disclosed in this offering memorandum, CODELCO is not currently involved in any litigation or arbitration proceeding, including any proceeding that is pending or threatened of which we are aware, which we believe will have, or has had, a material adverse effect on the Company. Other legal proceedings that are pending against or involve us and our subsidiaries are incidental to the conduct of our and their business. We believe that the ultimate resolution of such other proceedings individually or on an aggregate basis will not have a material adverse effect on our consolidated financial condition or results.

Labor-Related Proceedings

We are a party to various legal actions involving labor claims of unions and former and present employees. These labor disputes relate to working conditions, union practices, improper termination and discrimination. We do not expect these disputes to have a material adverse effect on our financial condition or future results of operations.

Other Proceedings

In August 2023, CODELCO filed a civil claim in an arbitration process in Chile against Consorcio Belaz Movitec SpA ("CBM") and its joint debtors, Movimiento de Tierra y Construcción S.A. ("Movitec") and Sociedad Anónima Abierta Belaz - Compañía Administradora del Holding ("Belaz"), for expenses related to delays, compensation for damages, reimbursement of severance payments and restitution of improperly charged general expenses. CODELCO's claims amount to approximately Ch$70,936,507,563 (approximately U.S.$79.4 million) plus interest. CBM and Movitec filed several counterclaims against CODELCO for compensation for damages, claiming a series of damages resulting from pending payment statements, unpaid change notices, additional resources used in the work, among others. The amount of the counterclaim filed by CBM amounts to Ch$176,575,220,314 (approximately U.S.$197.8 million) plus interest. Movitec reserved the determination of the nature and amount of the damages claimed for the stage of enforcement of the judgment. Currently, the arbitration is in the evidence stage.

In connection with an injunction request filed by CBM against CODELCO, the highest courts of justice (the Court of Appeals of Copiapó and the Supreme Court of Chile), have ordered CODELCO to pay Ch$11,734,559,342 (approximately U.S.$13.1 million), corresponding to Payment Statement No. 23, and to provision Ch$4,415,816,192 (approximately U.S.$4.9 million), plus Ch$1,026,602,196 (approximately U.S.$1.2 million, corresponding to taxes and readjustments), in order for CBM to proceed with the demobilization of the equipment, machinery and other assets still located at the El Salvador Division.

In July 2020, the State Defense Council (Consejo de Defensa del Estado, a public entity in charge of defending the Chilean Republic in courts) filed a claim against CODELCO seeking environmental rehabilitation measures for alleged environmental damage to water sources and vegetation surrounding the "Salar de Pedernales" due to surface and underground water use between 1994 and 2017 by CODELCO's El Salvador Division. On November 16, 2020, CODELCO filed its response, and subsequently the parties to this proceeding agreed to and filed a settlement agreement, which was approved by the Environmental Court. As of the date of this offering memorandum, CODELCO is in compliance with the committed measures.

In October 2019, CODELCO was served notice of a civil claim filed by relatives of 139 former employees from the Andina Division, alleging that working conditions caused the former employees to contract silicosis claiming compensation on behalf of the former employees. The claim requests compensation in an aggregate amount of approximately U.S.$15.1 million. A final ruling is still pending.

In July 2019, Ingeniería y Maquinarias Indak Limitada (“Indak”) filed a civil claim against CODELCO for contractual liability and payment of damages, loss of profits, loss of opportunities and moral damages, plus interest thereon, in the amount of approximately Ch$32,511,347,985 (approximately U.S.$36.3 million). The trial took place before the Diego de Almagro Court, and in the definitive judgment -dated August 16, 2023- the court accepted CODELCO’s exception of incompetence. The opposing party appealed the decision before the Court of Appeals of Copiapó. The Court upheld the judgment on August 20, 2024, in favor of CODELCO. Indak submitted an appeal on points of law (casación) before the Supreme Court and it is pending the admissibility of this resource. CODELCO filed an application against the admissibility. If the Supreme Court decides the resource is admissible there will be a public hearing prior to the final decision of the Supreme Court.

In April 2018, Trébol Minerals S.A. filed a civil claim against CODELCO’s El Salvador Division claiming payment of unpaid services, damages, loss of profits and moral damages, plus interest thereon, in the amount of approximately U.S.$10.2 million. The evidence period has ended and a final ruling is pending.

On June 30, 2016, the Union of Independent Workers, along with a group of artisanal fishermen, divers of Caleta de Horcón and other residents of the boroughs of Quintero and Puchuncaví filed a lawsuit before the Second Environmental Court against the Ministry of the Environment and eleven companies located in the industrial area of the Quintero bay, including CODELCO, seeking mitigation, remediation and restoration of alleged environmental damage caused by pollution that has affected the Quintero bay over the past decades. The discovery period has since ended and a final ruling is pending.

On March 25, 2024, Liebherr Chile SpA (“Liebherr”) filed an arbitration claim against CODELCO, seeking the termination of a certain contract for the rendering of maintenance services for mining trucks and compensation for damages. Liebherr demands that the contract be terminated due to CODELCO’s alleged breach and requests compensation amounting to CLP 38,014,000,000 (approximately U.S.$38,000,000), including loss of profits and direct damages for spare parts or stock and labor costs. In its subsidiary claims, Liebherr requests specific performance of the contract. CODELCO has filed a counterclaim requesting that the contract be terminated due to Liebherr’s material breaches and confirming that no pending obligations remain.

On August 22, 2024, the SMA filed two charges against CODELCO’s Ministro Hales Division, citing a failure to implement environmental measures related to the Talabre tailings dam. CODELCO has launched a Compliance Program (PdC) with 11 actions totaling U.S.$42,000,000 to address the issues raised by the SMA. This program advances and strengthens environmental controls for seepage management at the Talabre Tailings Dam, while permanent solutions are implemented through the Environmental Impact Study for the Future Ministro Hales Development Project and the Talabre Thickened Tailings Project. SMA is analyzing the submitted document. A final decision is still pending.

In November 2024, the Chilean SMA filed a charge against CODELCO’s Potrerillos Smelter, located in Diego de Almagro, Atacama Region, for failing to implement inline connection of the continuous monitoring system for sulfur dioxide (SO₂) emissions, as required by SMA instructions related to the Supreme Decree No. 28 (2013). The SMA has initiated a sanctioning process in line with Chilean environmental regulations. CODELCO submitted a written statement of defense. A final decision is still pending. The sanctions that may be applied by the agency, includes revocation of the RCA, closure, or fines of up to 5,000 UTA (approximately U.S.$4,300,000.00).

CODELCO believes that it has meritorious defenses to the claims against it and, accordingly, is vigorously defending its rights and interests in these proceedings.

For additional details related to CODELCO’s litigation and contingencies and amounts of probable loss with respect to lawsuits and legal actions, see note 29 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Copper Prices and Inventories on Commodities Exchanges

Source: Metal Exchanges: London, COMEX and Shanghai.

Historically, copper prices have been subject to wide fluctuations and are affected by numerous factors, including international economic and political conditions, levels of supply and demand, the availability and costs of substitutes, inventory levels maintained by producers and others and actions of participants in the commodities markets. To a lesser extent, copper prices are also subject to the effects of inventory carrying costs and currency exchange rates. In addition, the market prices of copper have occasionally been subject to rapid short-term changes. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO’s Operations—CODELCO’s business is highly dependent upon the price of copper.”

Opportunities for Copper

Since 2005, copper prices have experienced significant volatility. LME copper prices averaged 384.5 in 2023 compared to 399.0 cents per pound in 2022 and 422.6 cents per pound in 2021. While higher copper prices in 2020 compared to prices in 2021 reflected an increased in global demand, higher expectations on China and disruptions on the supply side, lower prices in 2023 and 2024 reflected a slowdown in the economy, mainly in China, impacting on the global growth. See “Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO’s Operations—CODELCO’s business is highly dependent upon the price of copper.”

There is also increased general use of copper tubing, particularly in air conditioning systems. The quantity of copper consumed in electrical applications in cars, trains and other vehicles has also increased. In the electricity generation and transmission area, the control of energy losses and a growing concern for higher energy efficiency are factors that have tended to increase demand for copper, becoming the main copper usage. The termination of widespread substitution of aluminum for copper in overhead high-voltage transmission lines also bodes well for the metal’s future.

Historically, demand and supply of copper have demonstrated continued growth during periods of oversupply as well as periods of overconsumption. The following graph shows the historical development of copper supply, demand and stocks in the world from 2000 to 2029 (in thousands of metric tons):

REGULATORY FRAMEWORK

Overview of the Regulatory Regime

CODELCO is a mining, industrial and commercial state-owned enterprise of indefinite duration with its own legal personality and capital. CODELCO's relationship with the Government of Chile is conducted through the Ministry of Mining. CODELCO was incorporated pursuant to Decree Law 1,350 of 1976, as amended by Law 20,392. CODELCO is governed by Decree Law 1,350 and by Decree No. 146 of August 12, 1991, as amended (to conform the same with Law 20,392) by Decree No. 3 of January 13, 2012 issued jointly by the Ministries of Finance and Mining, and published in the Official Gazette on July 4, 2012, which sets forth CODELCO's current bylaws, and the general legal framework applicable to private companies regarding public disclosure (rules applicable to publicly held companies), and other applicable regulations. CODELCO's principal corporate purpose is to exercise all rights acquired by Chile pursuant to the nationalization of the Chilean mining industry, namely mining, exploration and the development of mining deposits and other rights belonging to Chile at the time of CODELCO's incorporation in 1976.

CODELCO is subject to the oversight of: (i) the Chilean securities authority, the CMF, on the same terms as publicly held corporations (CODELCO is registered under the Securities Registry No. 785 of the CMF) and (ii) the Chilean Commission of Copper (Comisión Chilena del Cobre, or "COCHILCO") or the governmental agencies that, among other authorities, are responsible for examining the compliance with certain regulations applicable to CODELCO's activities and report the relevant findings to its Chief Executive Officer. Furthermore, other government agencies in charge of specific areas, such as taxes and customs, exercise their legal authorities with respect to CODELCO as they do in regard to any other company of the Chilean private sector. The House of Deputies (Cámara de Diputados) of the Chilean Congress also maintains an overarching authority to oversee CODELCO in the exercise of its constitutional duties.

Chilean law requires CODELCO to obtain the approval of the Ministry of Finance before it can assume any financial indebtedness and before it can acquire assets outside Chile with financial or payment terms exceeding one year. Although CODELCO is 100% owned by it, the Government of Chile is not legally liable for CODELCO's obligations unless expressly guaranteed by the Government of Chile, nor do such obligations form any part of the direct public debt of the Government of Chile. A constitutional amendment would be required to allow private participation in CODELCO's ownership.

Each year, the Board of Directors must approve the BDP report of the Company for the following three years, subject to the approval of the Ministries of Finance and Mining. This plan must include the annual investment and financing amounts in addition to the annual profits that the Company is estimated to generate during the period. The Ministries of Finance and Mining jointly issue a decree pursuant to which a portion of CODELCO's profit may be allocated by CODELCO to the creation of capitalization and reserve funds.

CODELCO's Board of Directors must also submit its proposed annual budget to the Ministries of Finance and Mining for approval. In addition, Decree Law 1,350 requires CODELCO to include as part of its proposed annual budget a debt amortization budget that includes interest and principal payments on CODELCO's debts, including the notes. CODELCO's budget and financial statements are subject to both internal and external controls. CODELCO's Board of Directors is responsible for monitoring its operations, and CODELCO retains independent auditors to audit its consolidated financial statements and an internal comptroller to review its finances, accounting and administration.

CODELCO's Board of Directors approved corporate governance guidelines consistent with its high transparency, probity and accountability standards which: (i) establish limits and controls on the use of resources of the Board of Directors; (ii) implement a transparent and traceable system for the handling of hiring requests, promotions and redundancies of CODELCO's officers and employees; (iii) regulate the relationships between members and management of the Board of Directors with related parties; and (iv) establish guidelines for corporate speakers. CODELCO's Board of Directors also agreed to consider directives that: (i) regulate lobbying activities within CODELCO; (ii) strengthen and reform internal audit systems; and (iii) strengthen policies to avoid any conflicts of interest.

Mining Regulations

Legal framework. CODELCO's exploration, mining, milling, smelting and refining activities are subject to Chilean laws and regulations which are generally applicable to all Chilean companies in the mining sector. The legal framework which regulates CODELCO as a holder of mining concessions is contained in the Chile's Constitution, the Constitutional Law Governing Mining Concessions (Law No. 18,097 of January 21, 1982) and the Mining Code (Law No. 18,248 of October 14, 1983). Under Chilean mining law, the state is the owner of all mineral and fossil substances located in their natural deposit, regardless of who owns the surface land in which such substances are located. Private persons and companies may obtain mining concessions for exploration and exploitation. These concessions are granted by judicial resolutions in accordance with the Mining Code.

Mining concessions are transferable and mortgageable and regulated by the same civil law that regulates real estate rights generally. As a general rule, the owner of a mining concession may occupy as much of the surface land as is necessary for mining activities upon the creation of a mining easement or upon other authorization given by the land owner, such as a lease agreement or an occupation authorization. Mining easements can be obtained by way of direct negotiation with the surface land owner (Voluntary Easement Agreement) or by way of a judicial lawsuit for mining easement before the relevant court. Regardless of how the mining easement is obtained, the servient estate (the property burdened by the easement) has the right to be compensated for any damages caused by the imposed easements and the mining activities that may affect the property. Exploitation concessions have an indefinite duration. Exploration concessions are granted for two years and may be extended for a maximum of four additional years subject to providing evidence of having undertaken exploration works, having obtained an environmental approval for an exploration project, or having submitted an exploration project for environmental impact assessment. Prior to the expiration of the exploration concession, the owner has priority in applying for exploitation concessions over the area comprised by exploration concessions.

As a result of the amendments introduced by Law No. 21,420, as of January 1, 2025, owners of mining concessions must pay an annual fee equivalent to approximately U.S.$4.2 per hectare in the case of exploration concessions and approximately U.S.$7.0 per hectare in the case of exploitation concessions during the first five years of the concession, progressively increasing thereafter until U.S.$16 per hectare as of the thirty first year of the concession. However, holders of exploitation mining concessions can apply for a reduced licenses of approximately U.S.$7 per hectare, by providing evidence to the Geology and Mining National Service ("SNGM") of being effectively undertaking mining works on the concession, or that such mining concessions are part of a project that either has an environmental approval or has been submitted for environmental impact assessment. Exploitation fees, within certain limits, may be credited to income taxes originated through the exploitation of the concession. Payments of the annual fees must be made in March of each year. Failure to make the annual fee payments may result in the loss of title to the concession through its auction.

CODELCO owns mining concessions granted by the Constitution and the Chilean Ordinary Courts for its exploration and exploitation operations. Some of these concessions were previously held by foreign private mining companies before being transferred to Chile in 1971 and subsequently to CODELCO upon its incorporation in 1976 (Chuquicamata, Salvador, Andina and El Teniente Divisions). CODELCO's principal and actual mining concessions are those which give rights to the mineral deposits of the Chuquicamata, El Teniente, Andina, Salvador, Radomiro Tomic, Gabriela Mistral and Mina Ministro Hales Divisions. CODELCO's concessions relating to land that is currently being mined essentially grant an indefinite right to conduct mining operations in that land, provided that annual concession fees are paid. In 2021, CODELCO paid total concession fees of U.S.$7.28 million and in 2022, CODELCO paid total concession fees of U.S.$8.01 million. In 2023, CODELCO paid total concession fees of U.S.$7.92 million and as of September 30, 2024, CODELCO paid total concession fees of U.S.$14.82 million.

Pursuant to the Mining Code, all mining concessions, as well as certain raw materials, assets and other property permanently dedicated to the exploration or extraction of minerals cannot be subject, except in extremely limited circumstances, to an order of attachment. In addition, pursuant to the Constitution, mining concessions corresponding to mining deposits exploited by CODELCO upon its incorporation in 1976 cannot be subject to attachment nor to any act of disposition by CODELCO. As a result, the rights of holders to attach property of CODELCO in the event of a default under the notes would be limited by such provisions. See "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to the Offering—In case of a default under the notes, the ability of holders to attach property of CODELCO may be limited by Chilean law."

On February 4, 2022, Law No. 21,420 was enacted, amending the Mining Code in the following matters:

- Increased the duration of an exploration mining concession from two to four years.
- Introduced a new legal framework of annual mining licenses.
- Established new reporting obligations to holders of mining concessions regarding the delivery of geological information. The law provides that upon extinction or at the end of their term (in the case of exploration concessions) or every two years (in the case of exploitation concessions), the holder must submit to the SNGM all the geological information obtained from exploration works performed in them. Fines up to approximately U.S.$7,500 will be imposed to those who do not deliver the information obtained.
- Introduced the SIRGAS datum regarding the U.T.M. coordinates of the mining concessions. The regulation will establish the procedure to follow, however, the entry into force of the change is postponed until a definitive consensus is reached between the involved parties.
- On January 26, 2023, Law No. 21,536 was published, which postponed the entry into force of the mining provisions of Law No. 21,420, setting forth that the amendments to the Mining Code introduced by Law No. 21,420 shall enter into force on January 1, 2024, and that all legal terms set forth in said amendments shall begin as of that date.
- On December 30, 2023, Law No. 21,649 was enacted, which amended Law No. 21,420, which in turn amended the Mining Code as of January 1, 2024, and other mining legal provisions in order to generate a more harmonious regulatory framework in line with the practical reality of mining in Chile. Among the main aspects of these provisions are:
 - Regarding exploration mining concessions, Law No. 21,649: (i) keeps the four-year duration of the exploration mining concession (as was amended by Law No. 21,420), (ii) entitles holders of exploration mining concessions to request, for one time, the extension of their exploration mining concessions for an additional period of up to four years, provided that the requirements established by law are met; (iii) determines that the holder of an exploration concession is banned from applying for a new exploration concession over all or part of the same area, as of the date of filing of the relevant claim until one year after its expiration, either by itself or through a third party, penalizing the contravention of its prohibition with the loss of the preferential right to obtain an exploitation mining concession over the area; (iv). establishes a legal procedure to report contraventions of the aforementioned prohibition, providing that a third party, who was successful in obtaining a favorable court decision through this process, may seek an exploration mining concession for the area subject to the reported contravention. This party can also leverage the filing date of the reported exploration mining concession if specific conditions are met; and (v) establishes that mining concessions that expire during 2024, and for which holders intend to extend for another four years, will be extended until December 31, 2024.
 - Regarding mining licenses, Law No. 21,649 modifies the following: (i) it increases the mining license for exploration mining concessions; (ii) it progressively increases the mining license for exploitation mining concessions; (iii) it specifies the conditions under which the holder of an exploitation mining concession is eligible to request a reduced mining license, a requirement to be substantiated annually. These conditions encompass the initiation of ongoing and permanent activities facilitating the continuous development of mining operations and holding mining concessions affiliated with projects that have been granted an Environmental Qualification Resolution or have been submitted for qualification through the Environmental Impact Assessment System, and, for small-scale mining endeavors, eligibility is contingent upon the initiation of the application process for any of the permits referred to in the Mining Safety Regulations; and (iv) it includes a provision to confer a benefit on individuals, legal mining companies (sociedades legales mineras), mining cooperatives, and limited liability individual companies with mining concessions covering less than 500 hectares. This benefit entails the assumption that eligibility for reduced mining licenses extends for a duration of five years, provided that the eligibility conditions outlined in (iii) herein are met.

- Regarding the geological information, Law No. 21,649: (i) considers as confidential information for a period of four years, the geological information provided to the SNGM by holders of mining concessions who have carried out advanced exploration activities, given its strategic and commercially sensitive nature for its owner; (ii) determines the time and manner in which the holder of a mining concession shall deliver a report with the obtained geological information to the SNGM; and (iii) increases the amount of the fine to approximately U.S.$91,500 (instead of the current U.S.$7,500 fine) in case of non-compliance with this reporting obligation. This fine could be doubled if the SNGM requires the geological information and it is not provided, along with disqualifying the mining concessionaire from accessing the benefit of the reduced mining license.
- Regarding the change of datum, Law No. 21,649: (i) eliminates all references in the Mining Code to the SIRGAS datum relating U.T.M coordinates, stating that the datum shall be defined in a specific regulation ; (ii) eliminates the cause for expiry of mining concessions due to the lack of registration of the new coordinates in the SIRGAS datum; and (iii) establishes a rule of general application with the procedure by which the transformation of the coordinates of existing concessions shall be carried out if a change of datum is decided in the future, as well as defining that in the event of a change of datum, the registration of the new coordinates shall be done only in the National Registry of Mining Concessions kept by the National Geology and Mining Service and not in the Mines Property Registry kept by the relevant Custodians of Mines, thus facilitating the procedure and avoiding unnecessary costs.
- Regarding possessory actions, Law No. 21,420 introduced an additional provision to article 94 of the Mining Code, stating that holders of mining concessions who submit a new construction complaint must demonstrate that they hold in rem rights, such as easements or other legal claims, over the concerned land for the complaint to be accepted, and Law No. 21,649 introduced additional provisions to article 94 of the Mining Code, specifying that the relevant court has the option to order the suspension or cessation of construction activities. This discretion is contingent upon the claimant furnishing evidence of holding an in rem right over the land, along with supporting documentation that substantiates the severe and imminent risk associated with not issuing the suspension or cessation order. Law No. 21,649 also provides that in the event of a suspension of the works, the developer has the option of lifting the suspension by providing a bond to cover the costs of demolition or compensation for damages, the amount of which will be determined by the court, and any issues pertaining to the bond will be addressed as a distinct procedural matter; and if a possessory action is filed against the holder of a mining concession, the same rules will apply.

Environmental Regulations

CODELCO's operations are subject to national, regional and local regulations as well as international treaties subscribed by the Government of Chile and enacted as Chilean domestic law regarding the protection of the environment, natural resources and the effect of the environment on human health and safety, including laws and regulations concerning water, air and noise pollution, the handling, disposal and transportation of hazardous waste and occupational health and safety.

The General Environmental Law (Law No. 19,300), enacted in March 1994 and modified by Law No. 20,417, enacted in 2010, establishes the general environmental legal framework in Chile, including the establishment of a range of environmental management mechanisms known as the Environmental Impact Assessment System (Sistema de Evaluación de Impacto Ambiental), the Emission Standards and the Environmental Quality Standards, among others. Chilean environmental laws and regulations, and its enforcement, have become increasingly stringent since 2010 and even more in recent years due to recent changes. Such amendments include, among other significant modifications, the creation of a new institutional framework comprised by: (i) the Ministry of the Environment (Ministerio del Medio Ambiente); (ii) the Council of Ministers for Sustainability (Consejo de Ministros para la Sustentabilidad); (iii) the Environmental Assessment Service (Servicio de Evaluación Ambiental); (iv) the Superintendence of the Environment (Superintendencia del Medio Ambiente); (v) the Environmental Courts (Tribunales Ambientales) and (vi) the Biodiversity and Protected Areas Service (Servicio de Biodiversidad y Áreas Protegidas), each of which are in charge of designing, evaluating and enforcing laws and regulations relating to projects and activities that could have an environmental impact. These institutions are fully operational with the exception of the Biodiversity and Protected Areas Service which is in development. Recent legal and regulatory changes are likely to impose additional restrictions or costs on CODELCO and also increased fines due to non-compliance with such laws and regulations, relating to environmental litigation and protection of the environment, particularly those related to flora and fauna, wildlife protected areas, water quality standards, mine closure, air emissions, and soil pollution. Since the Superintendence of the Environment became fully operational on December 28, 2012, infringement of environmental regulations may result in fines of up to approximately U.S.$8.7 million, the closure of facilities and the revocation of environmental approvals. As described in more detail below, CODELCO incurs, and may be required in the future to incur, substantial capital and operating costs related to environmental compliance. However, many of these costs are inextricably intertwined with the operation of CODELCO's business as a whole.

The General Environmental Law, as complemented by additional regulations, enables the Government of Chile to: (i) bring administrative and judicial proceedings against companies that violate environmental laws; (ii) close non complying facilities; (iii) revoke required operating licenses; (iv) require that companies to submit their projects for environmental evaluation as required by applicable law; and (v) impose sanctions and fines when companies act negligently, recklessly or deliberately in connection with environmental matters. The General Environmental Law also grants citizens the right to bring civil actions against companies that are not in compliance with environmental laws and regulations when such companies have caused "environmental damage," as defined in such law, after such non compliance has been established by a judicial proceeding.

Since 2013, the Superintendence of the Environment has initiated sanctioning proceedings against CODELCO on seven occasions: Two against Ventanas Division (2016 and 2021), two against Salvador Division (2021 and 2024), one against Andina Division (2020), one against Ministro Hales Division (2024) and one against El Teniente Division (2016).

- Ventanas Division: In one case, a Compliance Program was submitted and approved by the authority, cancelling the charges, while in the other case, CODELCO submitted discharges which were accepted by the authority.
- Salvador Division: The first proceeding is being reviewed in court, whereas the second has been recently initiated on November 4, 2024.
- Andina Division: The proceeding was suspended in 2021.
- Ministro Hales Division: A Compliance Program was submitted on September 10, 2024, and it is currently being reviewed by the Superintendence of the Environment.
- El Teniente Division: In this case, a fine was paid regarding infringements of forestry and soil management plans regarding Carén Tailings Dam.

The General Environmental Law and its regulations contain certain rules on Environmental Impact Assessment, which have been in effect since April 1997, and that provide that CODELCO must evaluate the environmental impact of any future project or activity listed in article 10 of Law No. 19,300 by means of an environmental impact declaration or an environmental impact study depending on the significance of the environmental impacts associated. CODELCO has conducted these environmental impact declarations and studies pursuant to the General Environmental Law.

Chile has adopted environmental regulations requiring companies operating in Chile, including CODELCO, to undertake programs to reduce, control and/or eliminate certain environmental impacts. CODELCO has undertaken a number of environmental initiatives to comply with such regulations. As of September 30, 2024, CODELCO has implemented a strategic change process in all divisions to manage the aspects and risks associated with environmental matters, under a corporate management system issued by the parent company level, ISO 14001 certified and Copper Mark registered. From 2012 to 2022, CODELCO invested U.S.$5.6 billion in environmental projects, including the expansion of the Talabre, Ovejera and Carén Tailings dams in the Chuquicamata, Andina and El Teniente Divisions and various projects in Chuquicamata, Potrerillos and Caletones smelters in order to comply with the new regulation regarding atmospheric emissions. Additionally, as part of its pollution abatement efforts, CODELCO continues to implement water recovery systems, the costs of which are also budgeted in CODELCO's pollution abatement plan, to conserve resources and minimize pollution of natural water sources.

To protect and improve environmental air quality in the country, the Ministry of the Environment has the authority to declare certain areas to be “latent zones” (zonas latentes) or “saturated zones” (zonas saturadas). Latent zones are areas in which there exists a high risk of excessive pollution – the pollutant concentration in air water or soil is greater than 80.0% of the corresponding quality standard in a certain area – and in which further emissions are highly restricted. Saturated zones are areas in which an excessive level of pollution already has been reached – the concentration of the air pollutant exceeds 100% of the corresponding quality standard for a pollutant in a certain area – and in which emissions are required to be reduced and mitigation measures are required to be implemented. In connection with the declaration of a latent or saturated zone, the Ministry of the Environment may initiate an investigation and public-consultation process to develop a prevention or decontamination plan, as the case may be. The whole process for the approval of these plans may take more than two years. Upon publication of either type of plan, emission reduction targets and other environmental remediation actions may be required of specific industries located within the latent or saturated zone. Measures included in the pollution prevention or reduction plans governing CODELCO’s operations are subject to change and may become more stringent if compliance with applicable air quality standards is not achieved.

The area surrounding the Chuquicamata, Potrerillos, Caletones and Ventanas smelting facilities have been declared saturated zones for particulate matter (PM₁₀ and/or MP_{2.5}) and sulfur dioxide (SO₂). These areas are subject to decontamination plans. The Ventanas decontamination plan has been recently reviewed by government authorities. CODELCO estimates that the cost of complying with this new standard will be U.S.$27.0 million, which will be incurred over a period of approximately four years. In addition, in October 2023, the environmental authority initiated the review of the Chuquicamata, Potrerillos and Caletones decontamination plans. In 2024, the Ministry of the Environment enacted a provisional PM10 decontamination plan for the borough of Calama, which requires dust mitigation efforts for Chuquicamata, Ministro Hales and Radomiro Tomic mines. In parallel, a Permanent Decontamination Plan for the borough of Calama is being prepared, which could result in new and more dust mitigation efforts for these mines.

In 2013, Supreme Decree No. 28 of the Ministry of the Environment, on Emission Standard for Smelting Plants was enacted, which establishes maximum parameters of emission for PM₁₀, SO₂, arsenic (As) and mercury (Hg) generated by smelting plants. Certain aspects of the regulation became effective immediately while other provisions of the new emission standards came into force at a later date—within three years in the case of Ventanas smelter, and within five years in Chuquicamata, Potrerillos and Caletones smelters. The cost of complying with this new standard was U.S.$2.4 billion, which was incurred over a period of approximately five years. This regulation is currently under routine review by the Ministry of the Environment, which is conducted every five years. The preliminary draft has not yet been published.

Supreme Decree No. 90/2001 of the General Secretary of the Presidency, which sets forth the standards for discharges of liquid waste into surface water bodies, went into effect in 2006. CODELCO has invested significant amounts to reduce liquid waste emissions to date and expects that it will continue to incur costs related to compliance with Supreme Decree No. 90/2001. In February 2023, a water quality standard was published for the Aconcagua River basin, where the Andina mine operates and discharges liquid waste. In October 2024, a water quality standard was also published for the Quintero – Puchuncaví bay, where Ventanas Refinery operates and discharges liquid waste. Both facilities are studying the implementation of liquid waste recycling effort to achieve zero discharge of liquid waste. In addition, the authorities are developing water quality standards for other water bodies that CODELCO currently or may in the future discharge into, such as the Cachapoal river. Such standards could require CODELCO to incur additional costs to manage liquid waste discharges.

Regulations were enacted in February 2004 governing safety standards for mining operations. Pursuant to these regulations, all mining companies, including CODELCO, were required to provide closure plans for their mining facilities, demonstrating compliance with safety standards. These plans must be updated every five years and must consider the requirements set forth in the environmental authorization issued for the respective facility, if any. SERNAGEOMIN has approved the closure plans CODELCO prepared for all of its facilities.

A new mining closure regulation, Law No. 20,551, which includes health, safety and environmental requirements along with mandatory provisions that require financial guarantees, was enacted in 2011, and became effective in 2012. According to this law, CODELCO and other mining companies in Chile were required to submit an assessment of the closure expenses of all its mines to the SERNAGEOMIN before 2014. Once the assessment of closure expenses was approved, CODELCO had to provide the financial guarantee between the sixth months since the approval and two-thirds of the project life (less than 20 years), or 15 years of the project life (more than 20 years). CODELCO has obtained the approval of the closure plans for all of its Divisions from SERNAGEOMIN and has provided the financial guarantees in the term established by the law. CODELCO had total provisions amounting to U.S.$2.3 billion for future decommissioning and site restoration costs primarily related to tailing dams, closures of mine operations and other mining assets, including potential new governmental regulations. Currently, an update of the regulation of tailings dams (Decree No. 248) is taking place.

On June 20, 2020, Law No. 21,169 entered into force, which introduced the following amendments, among others: (i) the recognition of policies issued by Chilean insurance companies within the A.1 credit rating category, provided that they are unable to raise exceptions that condition or defer the payment of the indemnity to Sernageomin; and (ii) the obligation to request Sernageomin's authorization to make changes or alterations in the identity and validity of the A.1 financial instruments that comprise the guarantee.

On February 13, 2018, the Environmental Court (Tribunal Ambiental) in Antofagasta, Chile issued an interim decision which could potentially reduce the availability of a minor source of water to CODELCO in the city of Calama. As of the date of this offering memorandum, CODELCO: (i) is not a party to this legal proceeding; and (ii) has not been contacted by any party or served by the Environmental Court. If and when CODELCO becomes a party to this proceeding, CODELCO expects to: (a) enforce all its available legal remedies against any adverse decision; and (b) implement operational mitigation measures, if necessary. In August 2018, the Environmental Court voided its previous interim decision and subsequently during the month of August 2018 the Superintendence of the Environment desisted from its original action giving rise to such interim decision.

On December 15, 2023, the Office of the General Comptroller confirmed (toma de razón) Supreme Decree No. 30/2023 of the Ministry of the Environment, which amends the Regulations of the Environmental Impact Assessment System (SEIA) in order to adapt such regulations to the requirements of the Framework Law on Climate Change and the Escazú Agreement. The approved modifications include, among others, the following: (i) amendment to the minimum contents of the Environmental Impact Declarations (DIA) and Environmental Impact Studies (EIA). The climate change factor is added transversally in the analysis that the proponents must carry out regarding the impact of their projects on the different components of the environment; (ii) the duty to present a summary of the DIA and that the general background section and the summaries of the DIA and EIA must be written in language understandable to the public, and the names of the projects must clearly reflect the type of project involved; (iii) the possibility of reviewing the Environmental Approval Resolutions (RCA) is reinforced, which would take place when, during the execution of a project, the variables observed in the monitoring plans evolve differently from what was projected, considering the influence of climate change; (iv) a "participatory monitoring" (monitoreo participativo) may be included by the proponents in the DIA or EIA, which consists of a process to incorporate the community in the follow-up of the development phases of a project through the delivery of information, reports, training, field visits, among other measures; and (v) the scope of the concept of "environmental burden" is broadened, in order to allow citizen participation in the process of granting DIAs, and for the purposes of analyzing the environmental burdens of a project, nearby communities will be understood as those that are located in or make use of the area where the environmental impacts are manifested. In addition, the term for citizens or organizations to request a citizen participation process within the processing of DIAs is extended from ten to thirty days.

Future legislative or regulatory developments, private causes of action or the discovery of new facts relating to environmental matters may impose new restrictions or result in additional costs that may have a material adverse effect on CODELCO's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects. See "Risk Factors—Risks Relating to CODELCO's Operations—CODELCO's compliance with environmental, health and safety laws may require increased costs, including capital commitments, and non-compliance may subject it to significant penalties."

New Economic Crimes Regulation

On August 17, 2023, Law No. 21,595 on economic crimes and offenses against the environment, was published and later amended by Law No. 21,694, published in the Official Gazette on September 4, 2024 (the "Economic Crimes Law"). This new law, inter alia, (i) systematizes a series of existing business-related offenses; (ii) creates new environmental crimes, including environmental pollution and negligent or imprudent pollution; (iii) penalizes new offenses based on money laundering; (iv) strengthens existing penalties by excluding from custodial sentences certain benefits that previously allowed economic crime offenders to avoid effective imprisonment, the confiscation of profits and fines; and (v) amends several provisions to the Corporate Criminal Liability Act (Law No. 20,393, of 2009, as amended) by expanding the catalogue of criminal offenses by corporations, easing the requirements to hold them liable, and establishing new penalties.

The implementation of a Crime Prevention Model (“CPM”) by CODELCO, prepared in accordance with the requirements set forth in the law, would relieve liability. On the contrary, if a court determines the inexistence or flawed implementation of a CPM, it may appoint a “supervisor” with the power to issue mandatory instructions to CODELCO to ensure proper functioning of the CPM.

Enforceability of Obligations

CODELCO’s commercial obligations are enforceable in the same manner as those of any privately owned company in Chile. Even though CODELCO is a state-owned enterprise, it is subject to the same laws and regulations applicable to all private Chilean corporations. This principle is consistent with the constitution of 1980, wherein Article 19, No. 21 states that if Chile and its bodies carry out commercial activities, they will be governed by common legislation applicable to private persons, unless a specific law approved by an absolute majority of representatives of the Chilean Congress dictates otherwise. No such law has been passed with respect to CODELCO.

Payment of Obligations

Article 23 of Decree Law 1,350 provides that CODELCO has the obligation to return the total proceeds of its exports to Chile, but has no obligation to convert the proceeds to Chilean pesos in excess of its peso requirements. The proceeds from its exports are deposited at the Central Bank of Chile, and withdrawals against such foreign exchange deposits are made to cover CODELCO’s expenses. In addition, Article 13 of Decree Law 1,350 directs CODELCO to prepare a Loan Amortization Budget which must include the payment of principal of CODELCO’s debts and related interest payments, including the notes. This budget, as part of the general budget of CODELCO, is approved annually by joint decree of the Ministry of Mining and the Ministry of Finance and may be amended to meet non-budgeted expenses, in accordance with the terms and conditions of Article 16 of Decree Law 1,350. The incurrence of any indebtedness by CODELCO must be authorized by an official letter from the Ministry of Finance. For loans with maturity at issuance of a duration of more than one year, this authorization is required to commence the relevant procedures.

Statutory Documents

The statutory documents of CODELCO are contained in Decree Law 1,350 published in the Official Gazette on February 28, 1976, as amended by Law 20,392, and Decree No. 146 published in the Official Gazette on October 25, 1991, as amended (to conform the same with Law 20,392) by Decree No. 3 of January 13, 2012 issued jointly by the Ministries of Finance and Mining, published in the Official Gazette on July 4, 2012. These gazettes may be seen on-line on the Library of the Chilean Congress website (<http://www.bcn.cl/>) or in a booklet that CODELCO will issue upon request, which contains free translations of the regulations into English.

MANAGEMENT

The Board of Directors is primarily responsible for the management and administration of CODELCO. The Board of Directors is composed of nine members, appointed as set forth in Law No. 20,392, (i) three directors are directly appointed by the President of Chile; (ii) four directors are appointed by the President of Chile from a short-list presented by the Council of Senior Public Management (Consejo de la Alta Dirección Pública), an entity within the National Civil Service Bureau that advises the President of Chile, ministers and heads of services departments on the appointment of high-ranking public positions; (iii) one director is appointed by the President of Chile from a short-list presented by the Federación de Trabajadores del Cobre (FTC); and (iv) one director is appointed by the President of Chile from a short-list presented by both the Federación de Sindicatos de Supervisores del Cobre (FESUC) and the Asociación Nacional de Supervisores del Cobre (ANSCO). All directors in CODELCO serve four-year terms and may be reelected for new terms. The Board is renewed on a staggered basis and may not be revoked in its entirety.

The Board of Directors is vested with all the management and asset-disposal authority, except to the extent that Chilean law or CODELCO's bylaws establish such authority within the exclusive province of the President of Chile (as discussed below), and other than the authority delegated to the Chief Executive Officer. The main responsibilities of the Board of Directors of CODELCO are to: (i) designate and remove the Chief Executive Officer; (ii) approve and send to the Ministry of Finance an estimate of the revenues and surplus earnings that it will transfer to the Government of Chile in the following year's budget; (iii) prepare the annual budget of CODELCO and send for the approval of the Ministry of Finance; and (iv) approve the BDP report of the Company for the following three-year period.

The President of Chile is vested with authority analogous to that of the shareholders of a corporation (sociedad anónima) under Chilean law, which may be delegated in whole or in part to the Ministers of Finance and Mining, jointly. Pursuant to such authority, the President of Chile: (i) participates in the designation of the Board of Directors by designating three directors without external input and by electing six directors on the basis of third-party short-lists; (ii) appoints the Chairman of the Board of Directors; and (iii) may approve and amend the bylaws of the Company, by means of an executive decree issued jointly by the Ministries of Finance and Mining. See "Risk Factors – Risks Relating to CODELCO's Relationship with the Government of Chile."

Senior management and administration of the Company are vested in its Board of Directors and Chief Executive Officer. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

In the ordinary course of its business, CODELCO engages in a variety of transactions on arm's-length terms with certain related parties. For information regarding these transactions, see note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

In its dealings with Cyprus El Abra Corporation (a subsidiary of Freeport-McMoRan Inc.), the partner in SCM El Abra, CODELCO acts through a subsidiary, as agent. CODELCO does not sell copper to Nordeutsche Affinerie Group, its partner in Deutsche Giessradht GmbH.

Pursuant to Article 147 of the Law No. 18,046 on Corporations (the "Corporations Act"), CODELCO may only enter into operations with related parties if its intent is to benefit the corporate interest, if its price, terms and conditions are consistent with those prevailing in the market when approved, and if it follows certain requirements and procedures established by the law, including the Norma de Carácter General No. 501 published by the CMF on January 8, 2024, (General Rule No. 501, hereinafter "NCG 501") by virtue of changes made the Chilean Corporations Act by Law No. 21,314 on Market Agents, of 2021. NCG 501 came into effect as of September 1, 2024, and establishes the minimum mentions that general habitual policies must contain and regulates the public disclosure of transactions with related parties ("OPR").

According to Article 146 of the Corporations Act, as amended, OPR of CODELCO include any and all negotiations, acts, contracts or operations in which the Company must take part, as well as:

- (i) one or more related persons to the Company, pursuant to the definition contained in Article 100 of Law No. 18,045 (the "Securities Market Law," as amended);
- (ii) a board member, manager, a main executive or a liquidator of CODELCO, acting directly or on behalf of any persons other than the Company, or their respective spouses or relatives up to the second degree (consanguinity or affinity);
- (iii) a corporation or partnership in which one of the persons mentioned in (ii) above are direct or indirect owners of 10.0% or more of its capital, board members, managers or main executives;
- (iv) those persons specifically established under CODELCO's bylaws or reasonably identified by the Directors' Committee, as applicable, even if the transaction with such persons (a) is not of a relevant amount, (b) is conducted on a regular basis (as per the regularity policy determined by the Board of Directors of CODELCO) or (c) is entered into with a subsidiary of CODELCO in which the Company holds a direct or indirect ownership interest of at least 95.0%; and
- (v) any company in which a board member, manager or main executive of CODELCO has served as a board member, manager, main executive or liquidator, during the last 18 months.

Article 100 of the Securities Market Law provides that the following persons constitute a related party: (i) the other entities of the business conglomerate to which a company belongs; (ii) parents, subsidiaries and equity-method investors and investees of a company; (iii) all directors, managers, officers and liquidators of a company, and their spouses or blood relatives to the second degree, or any entity controlled, directly or indirectly, by any of the abovementioned individuals; (iv) any person that, by their own actions or with other persons under a joint action agreement, may appoint at least one member of the management of a company or controls 10.0% or more of the capital or voting capital of a stock company; and (v) other entities or persons deemed a related party by the CMF.

The rules, requirements and procedures to approve operations with related parties apply both to the operations of CODELCO as well as to those of its subsidiaries, regardless of their legal nature, except for some exemptions set forth in Article 147 of the Corporations Act in which related-party transaction may be executed without the requirements referred to above, with the prior approval of the Board of Directors.

The breach of any of the restrictions on related party transactions will not affect the validity of the transaction. However, CODELCO or the President of Chile may demand from the breaching party, the reimbursement for an amount equivalent to the benefits gained by the breaching party resulting from the transaction. Additionally, CODELCO or the President of Chile may claim damages. Finally, the breaching party bears the burden of proof that the transaction was carried out according to the law.

CODELCO's policy for transactions with related parties is defined and governed by a specific internal regulation created pursuant to general policies established by the Board of Directors and in connection with the guidance provided by Decree Law 1,350 and the Corporations Act. CODELCO's internal regulation prescribes the manner in which transactions between CODELCO and related entities must be carried out and provides for sanctions if the requirements of the regulation are not met.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT AND EXCHANGE CONTROLS IN CHILE

As a general matter, the Central Bank of Chile is, among other things, responsible for monetary policies and for exchange controls in Chile. Most Chilean companies must inform the Central Bank of any international issue of bonds and if the proceeds of the issuance are not left abroad, should be brought into Chile through a bank or other participant in the Formal Exchange Market. Article 23 of Decree Law No. 1,350 provides that CODELCO has an obligation to return the total proceeds of its exports to Chile, but has no obligation to convert such proceeds to Chilean pesos beyond its peso requirements. These proceeds from its exports are deposited at the Central Bank of Chile, and withdrawals against such foreign exchange deposits are made to cover CODELCO's expenses. As a result, CODELCO does not require foreign exchange approval in connection with the issuance or placement of, or payments upon the notes. See "Regulatory Framework—Payment of Obligations."

DESCRIPTION OF NOTES

Each series of notes will be issued pursuant to an indenture, dated as of February 5, 2019 (the “base indenture”), among CODELCO and The Bank of New York Mellon, as trustee, paying agent, transfer agent and registrar (the “trustee”), as amended and supplemented by the fifteenth supplemental indenture, to be dated on or about January 13, 2025 (together with the base indenture, the “indenture”), between CODELCO and the trustee.

The following description of certain provisions of the notes and of the indenture is subject to and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the provisions of the notes and the indenture, copies of which will be available for inspection at the office of the trustee at 240 Greenwich Street, New York, New York 10286. CODELCO urges you to read the indenture because it, and not this description, defines your rights as holders of the notes issued under the indenture.

General

Each series of notes will be issued by CODELCO, and CODELCO will be liable therefor and obligated to perform all covenants and agreements to be performed by CODELCO pursuant to each series of notes and the indenture, including the obligations to pay principal, interest and Additional Amounts (as defined below under “Payment of Additional Amounts”), if any. The trustee under the indenture is The Bank of New York Mellon (the “trustee,” which term shall include any successor trustee under the indenture).

The indenture provides for the issuance by CODELCO from time to time of notes in one or more series up to an aggregate principal amount of notes as from time to time may be authorized by CODELCO, subject to all required government authorizations. Notes having the same date of maturity and Interest Payment Dates (as defined below), payable in the same currency, bearing interest at the same rate and the terms of which are otherwise identical, are referred to as a “series.” The notes offered hereby will be issued in two series.

Each series of notes will bear interest at the applicable rates per annum set forth on the cover page of this offering memorandum from the date of issuance. Interest on the 2035 notes will be payable semi-annually in arrears on January 13 and July 13 of each year, beginning on July 13, 2025, or, if any such date is not a Business Day (as defined below), on the next succeeding Business Day (the “2035 Interest Payment Dates”) to the person or persons (each, a “Holder”) in whose name such notes are registered in the Security Register (as defined below) at the close of business on December 29 and June 28, respectively, preceding the applicable Interest Payment Date (each a “2035 Record Date”). Interest on the 2055 notes will be payable semi-annually in arrears on January 13 and July 13 of each year, beginning on July 13, 2025, or, if any such date is not a Business Day (as defined below), on the next succeeding Business Day (the “2055 Interest Payment Dates”) to the person or persons (each, a “Holder”) in whose name such notes are registered in the Security Register (as defined below) at the close of business on December 29 and June 28, respectively, preceding the applicable Interest Payment Date (each a “2055 Record Date”). Interest on the notes will be calculated on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months. For the purposes hereof, the term “Business Day” means a day on which banks in The City of New York are not authorized or required by law or executive order to be closed.

Moneys paid by CODELCO to the trustee or any paying agent for the payment of principal of (and premium, if any) or interest on any of the notes and remaining unclaimed at the end of two years after the date on which such principal (and premium, if any) or interest shall have become due and payable (whether at maturity, upon call for redemption or otherwise) shall, together with interest made available for payment thereof, be repaid to CODELCO, whereupon all liability of the trustee or such paying agent with respect to such moneys shall cease.

The 2035 notes will mature on January 13, 2035 and the 2055 notes will mature on January 13, 2055. Neither series of notes will be redeemable prior to maturity except as described below and in the event of certain developments affecting taxation, in that case at a price equal to the outstanding principal amount thereof, together with any Additional Amounts and accrued interest to the redemption date. On the maturity date of any series of notes, CODELCO will be required to pay 100% of the then outstanding principal amount of such series of notes plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon and Additional Amounts, if any.

Ranking

The notes will constitute direct, general, unsecured, unconditional and unsubordinated obligations of CODELCO. The notes rank and will rank without any preference among them and equally with all other unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of CODELCO, other than certain obligations granted preferential treatment pursuant to Chilean law. It is understood that this provision will not be construed so as to require CODELCO to make payments under the notes ratably with payments being made under any other obligations. The indenture contains no restriction on the amount of additional indebtedness which may be incurred by CODELCO or its subsidiaries; however, as set forth under “—Limitation on Liens” below, the indenture contains certain restrictions on the ability of CODELCO and its subsidiaries to incur secured indebtedness.

Registration, Form and Delivery

The trustee will initially act as paying agent, transfer agent and registrar for each series of notes. Each series of notes will be issued upon the closing of this offering in definitive, fully registered form, without coupons, in denominations of U.S.$200,000 principal amount at maturity and multiples of U.S.$1,000 in excess thereof. The notes will be exchangeable, and transfers thereof will be registrable, at the office of the registrar for the notes. No charge will be made to holders of the notes in connection with any exchange or registration of transfer, but CODELCO may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge payable in that connection.

The trustee will maintain at its office in the City of New York, currently located at 240 Greenwich Street, New York, New York 10286, a security register (the “Security Register”) with respect to the notes. The name and address of the registered Holder of each note and the amount of each note will be recorded in the applicable Security Register, and the trustee and CODELCO may treat the person in whose name the note is registered as the owner of such note for all purposes. For so long as a series of notes are represented by one or more Global Notes, the registered owner of such a Global Note, in accordance with the terms of the indenture, may be treated at all times and for all purposes by CODELCO and the trustee as the sole owner with respect to such notes, with respect to all payments on such notes and for all other purposes under the terms of such notes and the indenture.

Each series of notes are being offered and sold in connection with the initial offering thereof solely to “qualified institutional buyers,” as that term is defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act, pursuant to Rule 144A, and in offshore transactions to persons other than “U.S. persons,” as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act, in reliance on Regulation S. Following the initial offering of the notes, the notes may be resold to qualified institutional buyers pursuant to Rule 144A, non-U.S. persons in reliance on Regulation S and pursuant to Rule 144 under the Securities Act, as described under “Transfer Restrictions.”

The Global Notes

Rule 144A Global Note

Each series of notes offered and sold to qualified institutional buyers pursuant to Rule 144A will initially be issued in the form of one or more registered notes in global form, without interest coupons. The Rule 144A Global Notes will be deposited on the date of the closing of the sale of the notes with, or on behalf of, The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”), and registered in the name of Cede & Co., as nominee of DTC, or will remain in the custody of the trustee as custodian for DTC. Interests in the Rule 144A Global Note will be available for purchase only by qualified institutional buyers.

Regulation S Global Note

Each series of notes offered and sold in offshore transactions to non-U.S. persons in reliance on Regulation S under the Securities Act will initially be issued in the form of one or more registered notes in global form, without interest coupons. The Regulation S Global Notes will be deposited upon issuance with, or on behalf of, a custodian for DTC.

Except as set forth below, each Rule 144A Global Note and the Regulation S Global Note (collectively the “Global Notes”) may be transferred, in whole and not in part, solely to another nominee of DTC or to a successor of DTC or its nominee. Beneficial interests in the Global Notes may not be exchanged for notes in physical, certificated form (referred to as “certificated notes”) except in the limited circumstances described below.

The notes will be subject to certain restrictions on transfer and will bear a restrictive legend as set forth under “Transfer Restrictions.”

All interests in the Global Notes are subject to the procedures and requirements of DTC. Those interests held through Euroclear or Clearstream are subject to the procedures and requirements of such systems.

Euroclear and Clearstream will hold interests in the Global Notes on behalf of their participants through customers’ securities accounts in their respective names on the books of their respective depositaries. Such depositaries, in turn, will hold such interests in the Global Notes in customers’ securities accounts in the depositaries’ names on the books of DTC.

Exchanges Among the Global Notes

Prior to the 40th day after the later of the commencement of the offering of the notes and the date of the closing of the sale of the notes (the period through and including the 40th day, the “restricted period”), transfers by an owner of a beneficial interest in the Regulation S Global Note to a transferee who takes delivery of this interest through the corresponding Rule 144A Global Note will be made only in accordance with applicable procedures and upon receipt by the trustee of a written certification from the transferor of the beneficial interest in the form provided in the indenture to the effect that such transfer is being made to a person whom the transferor reasonably believes is a qualified institutional buyer within the meaning of Rule 144A in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A. Such written certification will no longer be required after the expiration of the restricted period.

Transfers by an owner of a beneficial interest in the Rule 144A Global Note to a transferee who takes delivery of such interest through the corresponding Regulation S Global Note, whether before or after the expiration of the restricted period, will be made only upon receipt by the trustee of a certification from the transferor to the effect that such transfer is being made in accordance with Regulation S under the Securities Act.

Any beneficial interest in one of the Global Notes that is transferred to a person who takes delivery in the form of an interest in another Global Note will, upon transfer, cease to be an interest in such Global Note and become an interest in the other Global Note and, accordingly, will thereafter be subject to all transfer restrictions, if any, and other procedures applicable to beneficial interests in such other Global Note for as long as it remains such an interest.

Certain Book-Entry Procedures for the Global Notes

The descriptions of the operations and procedures of DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream set forth below are provided solely as a matter of convenience. These operations and procedures are solely within the control of the respective settlement systems and are subject to change by them from time to time. Neither CODELCO nor the initial purchasers take any responsibility for these operations or procedures, and investors are urged to contact the relevant system or its participants directly to discuss these matters.

DTC has advised CODELCO that it is (i) a limited purpose trust company organized under the laws of the State of New York, (ii) a “banking organization” within the meaning of the New York Banking Law, (iii) a member of the Federal Reserve System, (iv) a “clearing corporation” within the meaning of the Uniform Commercial Code, as amended, and (v) a “clearing agency” registered pursuant to Section 17A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”). DTC was created to hold securities for its participants and facilitates the clearance and settlement of securities transactions between participants through electronic book-entry changes to the accounts of its participants, thereby eliminating the need for physical transfer and delivery of certificates. DTC’s participants include securities brokers and dealers (including the initial purchasers), banks and trust companies, clearing corporations and certain other organizations. Indirect access to DTC’s system is also available to other entities such as banks, brokers, dealers and trust companies, or indirect participants that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with a participant, either directly or indirectly. Investors who are not participants may beneficially own securities held by or on behalf of DTC only through participants or indirect participants.

CODELCO expects that pursuant to procedures established by DTC (i) upon deposit of each Global Note, DTC will credit the accounts of participants designated by the initial purchasers with an interest in the Global Note and (ii) ownership of the notes will be shown on, and the transfer of ownership thereof will be effected only through, records maintained by DTC (with respect to the interests of participants) and the records of participants and the indirect participants (with respect to the interests of persons other than participants).

The laws of some jurisdictions may require that certain purchasers of securities take physical delivery of such securities in definitive form. Accordingly, the ability to transfer interests in the notes represented by a Global Note to such persons may be limited. In addition, because DTC can act only on behalf of its participants, who in turn act on behalf of persons who hold interests through participants, the ability of a person having an interest in notes represented by a Global Note to pledge or transfer such interest to persons or entities that do not participate in DTC's system, or to otherwise take actions in respect of such interest, may be affected by the lack of a physical definitive security in respect of such interest.

So long as DTC or its nominee is the registered owner of a Global Note, DTC or such nominee, as the case may be, will be considered the sole owner or holder of the notes represented by the Global Note for all purposes under the indenture. Except as provided below, owners of beneficial interests in a Global Note will not be entitled to have notes represented by such Global Note registered in their names, will not receive or be entitled to receive physical delivery of certificated notes, and will not be considered the owners or holders thereof under the indenture for any purpose, including with respect to the giving of any direction, instruction or approval to the trustee thereunder. Accordingly, each holder owning a beneficial interest in a Global Note must rely on the procedures of DTC and, if such holder is not a participant or an indirect participant, on the procedures of the participant through which such holder owns its interest, to exercise any rights of a holder of notes under the indenture or such Global Note. CODELCO understands that under existing industry practice, in the event that CODELCO requests any action of holders of notes, or a holder that is an owner of a beneficial interest in a Global Note desires to take any action that DTC, as the holder of such Global Note, is entitled to take, DTC would authorize the participants to take such action and the participants would authorize holders owning through such participants to take such action or would otherwise act upon the instruction of such holders. Neither CODELCO nor the trustee will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to, or payments made on account of, notes by DTC, or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records of DTC relating to such notes.

Payments with respect to the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on any notes represented by a Global Note registered in the name of DTC or its nominee on the applicable record date will be payable by the trustee to or at the direction of DTC or its nominee in its capacity as the registered holder of the Global Note representing such notes under the indenture. Under the terms of the indenture, CODELCO and the trustee may treat the persons in whose names the notes, including the Global Notes, are registered as the owners thereof for the purpose of receiving payment thereon and for any and all other purposes whatsoever. Accordingly, neither CODELCO nor the trustee has or will have any responsibility or liability for the payment of such amounts to owners of beneficial interests in a Global Note (including principal, premium, if any, and interest). Payments by the participants and the indirect participants to the owners of beneficial interests in a Global Note will be governed by standing instructions and customary industry practice and will be the responsibility of the participants or the indirect participants and DTC.

Transfers between participants in DTC will be effected in accordance with DTC's procedures, and will be settled in same-day funds. Transfers between participants in Euroclear or Clearstream will be effected in the ordinary way in accordance with their respective rules and operating procedures.

Subject to compliance with the transfer restrictions applicable to the notes, cross-market transfers between the participants in DTC, on the one hand, and Euroclear or Clearstream participants, on the other hand, will be effected through DTC in accordance with DTC's rules on behalf of Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, by its respective depository. However, such cross-market transactions will require delivery of instructions to Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, by the counterparty in such system in accordance with the rules and procedures and within the established deadlines of such system. Euroclear or Clearstream, as the case may be, will, if the transaction meets its settlement requirements, deliver instructions to its respective depository to take action to effect final settlement on its behalf by delivering or receiving interests in the relevant Global Notes in DTC, and making or receiving payment in accordance with normal procedures for same-day funds settlement applicable to DTC. Euroclear participants and Clearstream participants may not deliver instructions directly to the depositaries for Euroclear or Clearstream.

Because of time zone differences, the securities account of a Euroclear or Clearstream participant purchasing an interest in a Global Note from a participant in DTC will be credited, and any such crediting will be reported to the relevant Euroclear or Clearstream participant, during the securities settlement processing day (which must be a business day for Euroclear and Clearstream) immediately following the settlement date of DTC. Cash received in Euroclear or Clearstream as a result of sales of interest in a global security by or through a Euroclear or Clearstream participant to a participant in DTC will be received with value on the settlement date of DTC but will be available in the relevant Euroclear or Clearstream cash account only as of the business day for Euroclear or Clearstream following DTC's settlement date.

Although DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream have agreed to the foregoing procedures to facilitate transfers of interests in the Global Notes among participants in DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream, they are under no obligation to perform or to continue to perform such procedures, and such procedures may be discontinued at any time. Neither CODELCO nor the trustee will have any responsibility for the performance by DTC, Euroclear or Clearstream or their respective participants or indirect participants of their respective obligations under the rules and procedures governing their operations.

Certificated Notes

With respect to each series of notes, if (i) CODELCO notifies the trustee in writing that DTC is no longer willing or able to act as a depositary or DTC ceases to be registered as a clearing agency under the Exchange Act and a successor depositary is not appointed within 90 days of such notice or cessation; (ii) CODELCO, at its option, notifies the trustee in writing that it elects to cause the issuance of notes in definitive form under the indenture; or (iii) upon the occurrence of certain other events as provided in the indenture, then, upon surrender by DTC of the Global Notes, certificated notes will be issued to each person that DTC identifies as the beneficial owner of the notes represented by the Global Notes. Upon any such issuance, the trustee is required to register such certificated notes in the name of such person or persons (or the nominee of any thereof) and cause the same to be delivered thereto.

Neither CODELCO nor the trustee shall be liable for any delay by DTC or any participant or indirect participant in identifying the beneficial owners of the related notes and CODELCO and the trustee may conclusively rely on, and shall be protected in relying on, instructions from DTC for all purposes (including with respect to the registration and delivery, and the respective principal amounts, of the notes to be issued).

Covenants

CODELCO has agreed to restrictions on its activities for the benefit of holders of the notes. The following restrictions will apply to the notes:

Consolidation, Merger, Conveyance, Sale or Lease

Nothing contained in the indenture prevents CODELCO from consolidating with or merging into another corporation or conveying, transferring or leasing its properties and assets substantially as an entirety to any person, provided that: (i) the corporation formed by such consolidation or into which CODELCO is merged or the person which acquires by conveyance or transfer, or which leases, the properties and assets of CODELCO substantially as an entirety is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of Chile and expressly assumes, by supplemental indenture, the due and punctual payment of the principal of and interest and Additional Amounts, if any, on all outstanding notes and the performance of every covenant in the indenture on the part of CODELCO to be performed or observed; (ii) immediately after giving effect to such transaction no Event of Default (as defined below), and no event which, after notice or lapse of time or both, would become an Event of Default, shall have happened and be continuing; and (iii) CODELCO has delivered to the trustee an officers' certificate and an opinion of counsel, each stating that such consolidation, merger, conveyance, transfer or lease and such supplemental indenture complies with the foregoing provisions relating to such transaction.

Limitation on Liens

Nothing contained in the indenture restricts or prevents CODELCO or any Restricted Subsidiary (as defined below) from incurring any additional indebtedness; provided that neither CODELCO nor any Restricted Subsidiary will (i) issue, assume or guarantee any indebtedness for money borrowed (“Debt”) if such Debt is secured by a lien upon, or (ii) directly or indirectly secure any outstanding Debt by a lien upon, any Principal Property (as defined below) or upon any shares of stock of, or indebtedness of, any Restricted Subsidiary, now owned or hereafter acquired, without effectively providing that the notes shall be secured equally and ratably with such Debt, except that the foregoing restrictions shall not apply to (i) liens on any Principal Property acquired, constructed or improved after the date of issuance of the notes to secure or provide for the payment of the purchase price or cost of construction or improvements (including costs such as increased costs due to escalation, interest during construction and similar costs) thereof incurred after the date of the issuance of the notes, or existing liens on property acquired, provided such liens shall not apply to any property theretofore owned by CODELCO or any Restricted Subsidiary other than theretofore unimproved real property, (ii) liens on any Principal Property or shares of stock or indebtedness acquired from a corporation merged with or into CODELCO or a Restricted Subsidiary, (iii) liens to secure Debt of a Restricted Subsidiary to CODELCO or another Subsidiary, (iv) the sale or other transfer of any interest in property of the character commonly referred to as a “production payment,” (v) liens over any property at the time of acquisition of such property by CODELCO or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries which lien was not (or is not) created in connection with such acquisition, (vi) liens in existence on the date of the offering of the notes, (vii) liens on deposits to secure, or any lien otherwise securing, the performance of bids, statutory obligations, surety bonds, appeal bonds, performance bonds and other obligations of a like nature incurred in the ordinary course of business, (viii) liens created on any property to secure Debt incurred in connection with the financing of such property, the repayment of which Debt is to be made from the revenues arising out of, or other proceeds of realization from, such property, with recourse to those revenues and proceeds and other property used in connection with, or forming the subject matter of, such property, but without recourse to any other property of CODELCO or any Restricted Subsidiary and (ix) any extension, renewal or replacement (or successive extensions, renewals or replacements), in whole or in part, of any lien referred to in the foregoing clauses (i) to (iii) or (v), (vi) and (viii), inclusive of any Debt secured thereby, provided that the principal amount of Debt so secured thereby shall not exceed the principal amount of Debt so secured at the time of such extension, renewal or replacement and that such extension, renewal or replacement lien shall be limited to all or part of the property which secured the lien extended, renewed or replaced (plus improvements on or additions to such property). Notwithstanding the foregoing, CODELCO and one or more Restricted Subsidiaries may issue, assume or guarantee Debt secured by liens which would otherwise be subject to the foregoing restrictions in an aggregate principal amount which, together with the aggregate outstanding principal amount of all other Debt of CODELCO and its Restricted Subsidiaries that would otherwise be subject to the foregoing restrictions (not including Debt permitted to be secured under clauses (i) through (ix) above) and the aggregate value of the sale-and-lease-back transactions described under “—Limitation on Sale-and-Lease-Back Transactions” below (other than sale-and-lease-back transactions the proceeds of which have been applied as provided in clause (b) under “—Limitation on Sale-and-Lease-Back Transactions” below), does not at the time of issuance, assumption or guarantee thereof exceed 20.0% of Consolidated Net Tangible Assets.

“Consolidated Net Tangible Assets” means the total of all assets (including revaluations thereof as a result of commercial appraisals, price level restatement or otherwise) appearing on the consolidated balance sheet of CODELCO and its Subsidiaries as of the then most recent date filed by CODELCO with the CMF, but excluding goodwill, trade names, trademarks, patents, unamortized debt discount and all other like intangible assets (which term shall not be construed to include such revaluations), less the aggregate of the current liabilities of CODELCO and its Subsidiaries appearing on such balance sheet. The term “Principal Property” means any mineral property, concentrator, smelter, refinery or rod mill located within Chile, of CODELCO or any Subsidiary except any such property, plant or facility which the Board of Directors by resolution declares is not of material importance to the total business conducted by CODELCO and its Subsidiaries as an entity. The term “Subsidiary” means any corporation more than 50.0% of the outstanding voting stock of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by CODELCO and of which CODELCO has the power to direct the management. The term “Restricted Subsidiary” means (i) any Subsidiary which owns, directly or indirectly, any Principal Property and (ii) any Subsidiary which owns, directly or indirectly, any stock or debt of a Restricted Subsidiary.

Limitation on Sale-and-Lease-Back Transactions

The indenture provides that neither CODELCO nor any Restricted Subsidiary will enter into any arrangement with any person (other than CODELCO or a Restricted Subsidiary), or to which any such person is a party, providing for the leasing to CODELCO or a Restricted Subsidiary for a period of more than three years of any property or assets which has been or is to be sold or transferred by CODELCO or such Restricted Subsidiary to such person or to any person (other than CODELCO or a Restricted Subsidiary) to which funds have been or are to be advanced by such person on the security of the leased property or assets unless either (i) CODELCO or such Restricted Subsidiary would be entitled, pursuant to the provisions described under “—Limitation on Liens” above, to incur Debt in a principal amount equal to or exceeding the value of such sale-and-lease-back transaction, secured by a lien on the property or assets to be leased, without equally and ratably securing the notes, or (ii) CODELCO, during or immediately after the expiration of six months after the effective date of such transaction (whether made by CODELCO or a Restricted Subsidiary), applies to the voluntary retirement of indebtedness of CODELCO (including the notes) maturing by its terms more than one year after the original creation thereof (“Funded Debt”) an amount equal to the value of such transaction, less an amount equal to the sum of (a) the principal amount of notes delivered, within six months after the effective date of such arrangement, to the trustee for retirement and cancellation and (b) the principal amount of other Funded Debt voluntarily retired by CODELCO within such six-month period, in each case excluding retirements of notes and other Funded Debt as a result of conversions or pursuant to mandatory sinking fund or mandatory prepayment provisions or by payment at maturity.

Periodic Reports

CODELCO will furnish, to the noteholders and to prospective purchasers of notes, upon request to the trustee, any information required to be delivered pursuant to Rule 144A(d)(4) under the Securities Act so long as the notes are not freely transferable under the Securities Act.

Events of Default

An Event of Default with respect to each series of notes is defined in the indenture as being any of the following (each an “Event of Default”): (i) default for 30 days in payment of any interest on such notes; (ii) default in payment of principal of such notes; (iii) default in the performance, or breach, of any covenant or warranty or obligation of CODELCO in the indenture and continuance of such default or breach for a period of 60 days after written notice is given to CODELCO by the trustee or to CODELCO and the trustee by the holders of at least 33 1/3% in aggregate principal amount of the notes; (iv) default under any bond, debenture, note or other evidence of indebtedness for money borrowed, or under any mortgage, indenture or instrument under which there may be issued or by which there may be secured or evidenced any indebtedness for money borrowed by CODELCO or any Subsidiary, whether such indebtedness now exists or shall hereafter be created, in an aggregate principal amount exceeding U.S.$50.0 million (or its equivalent in any other currency or currencies) which default (x) shall constitute the failure to pay any portion of the principal of such indebtedness when due and payable, whether at maturity, upon redemption or acceleration or otherwise, or (y) shall have resulted in such indebtedness becoming or being declared due and payable prior to the date on which it would otherwise become due and payable, in either case, if such default shall continue for more than 30 Business Days and within such 30 Business Days the time for payment of such amount has not been expressly extended (provided that if such default under such indenture or instrument shall be remedied or cured by CODELCO or waived by the holders of such indebtedness, then the event of default with respect to the notes shall be deemed likewise to have been remedied, cured or waived); and (v) certain events of bankruptcy or insolvency of CODELCO or any Significant Subsidiary. “Significant Subsidiary” is defined in the indenture as a Subsidiary, the total assets of which exceed 10.0% of the total assets of CODELCO and its subsidiaries on a consolidated basis as of the end of the most recently completed year. The trustee shall not be charged with knowledge of any Event of Default with respect to the notes unless a written notice of such default or Event of Default shall have been given to an officer of the trustee who has direct responsibility for the administration of the indenture and the notes by CODELCO or any holder of notes.

The indenture provides that (i) if an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default described in clause (v) above) shall have occurred and be continuing with respect to the notes, either the trustee or the holders of not less than 33 1/3% of the total principal amount of the notes of such series then outstanding may declare the principal of all such outstanding notes and the interest accrued thereon, if any, to be due and payable immediately and (ii) if an Event of Default described in clause (v) above shall have occurred, the principal of all such outstanding notes and the interest accrued thereon, if any, shall become and be immediately due and payable without any declaration or other act on the part of the trustee or any holder of such notes. The indenture provides that the notes owned by CODELCO or any of its affiliates shall be deemed not to be outstanding for certain purposes, including declaring the acceleration of the maturity of the notes. Upon the satisfaction by CODELCO of certain conditions, including (i) the payment of all fees and expenses of the trustee, (ii) CODELCO's deposit with the trustee of a sum sufficient to pay all outstanding amounts then due on the applicable notes (other than principal due by virtue of the acceleration) together with interest on such amounts through the date of the deposit and (iii) all Events of Default (other than non-payment of principal that became due by virtue of the acceleration upon the event of default) have been cured or waived, the declaration described in clause (i) of this paragraph may be annulled by the holders of a majority of the total principal amount of the applicable notes then outstanding. Past defaults, other than non-payment of principal, interest and compliance with certain covenants, may be waived by the holders of a majority of the total principal amount of the applicable notes outstanding.

The trustee must give to the holders of the notes notice of all uncured defaults known to it with respect to the notes within 30 days after a Responsible Officer of the trustee has received written notification of such a default (unless such default shall have been cured); provided, however, that, except in the case of default in the payment of principal, interest or Additional Amounts, the trustee shall be protected in withholding such notice if it in good faith determines that the withholding of such notice is in the interest of the holders of the notes. "Responsible Officer" is defined in the indenture as any officer of the trustee with direct responsibility for the administration of the indenture and, with respect to a particular corporate trust matter, any other officer to whom such matter is referred because of his knowledge of and familiarity with the particular subject.

No holder of notes may institute any proceeding, judicial or otherwise, under the indenture unless (i) such holder shall have given the trustee written notice of a continuing Event of Default with respect to the notes of that series, (ii) the holders of not less than 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % of the total principal amount of the notes of that series then outstanding shall have made written request to the trustee to institute proceedings in respect of the Event of Default, (iii) such holder or holders shall have offered the trustee such reasonable indemnity as the trustee may require, (iv) the trustee shall have failed to institute an action for 60 days thereafter and (v) no inconsistent direction shall have been given to the trustee during such 60-day period by the holders of a majority of the total principal amount of the notes of such series. Such limitations, however, do not apply to any suit instituted by a holder of a note for enforcement of payment of the principal or interest on the notes on or after the respective stated maturity expressed in such notes.

The indenture provides that, subject to the duty of the trustee during default to act with the required standard of care, the trustee will be under no obligation to exercise any of its rights or powers under the indenture at the request or direction of any holders of the notes, unless such holders shall have offered to the trustee reasonable indemnity.

CODELCO is required to furnish to the trustee annually a statement as to the performance by CODELCO of certain of its obligations under the indenture and as to any default in such performance.

Payment of Additional Amounts

All payments of principal and stated interest under each series of notes by CODELCO will be made without deduction or withholding for or on account of any present or future taxes, assessments, duties or governmental charges of whatever nature imposed or levied by or on behalf of Chile or any political subdivision or territory or possession thereof or therein (the "Taxing Jurisdiction") unless the withholding or deduction of such taxes, assessments, duties or governmental charges is required by law or regulation or by the official interpretation thereof. In that event, CODELCO will pay to each Holder of a note such additional amounts ("Additional Amounts") as may be necessary in order that each net payment on such note after such deduction or withholding will not be less than the amount provided for in such note to be then due and payable; provided, however, that the foregoing obligation to pay Additional Amounts will not apply to:

- (i) any tax, assessment, duty or other governmental charge that would not have been so deducted or withheld but for (i) the existence of any present or former connection between the Holder or the beneficial owner of the note (or between a fiduciary, settlor, beneficiary, member or shareholder of, or possessor of a power over, such Holder or beneficial owner, if such Holder or beneficial owner is an estate, trust, partnership or corporation) and the Taxing Jurisdiction imposing such tax, assessment, duty or other governmental charge (including, without limitation, such Holder or beneficial owner (or such fiduciary, settler, beneficiary, member, shareholder or possessor) being or having been a citizen or resident thereof or being or having been engaged in a trade or business or present therein or having, or having had, a permanent establishment therein) other than the mere receipt of payments in respect of a note or the holding or ownership of a note or beneficial interest therein; or (ii) the presentation of a note (where presentation is required) for payment on a date more than 30 days after the date on which such payment became due and payable or the date on which payment thereof is duly provided for, whichever occurs later;

(ii) any estate, inheritance, gift, sales, transfer, personal property, capital gains, excise or similar tax, assessment, duty or other governmental charge;

(iii) any tax, assessment, duty or other governmental charge that is payable other than by withholding from payments of (or in respect of) principal of, or any interest on, the notes;

(iv) any tax, assessment, duty or other governmental charge that would not have been imposed but for the failure to comply with certification, information or other reporting requirements concerning the nationality, residence or identity of the Holder or beneficial owner of the note, if compliance is required by statute or by regulation of the Taxing Jurisdiction as a precondition to relief or exemption from all or part of such tax, assessment, duty or other governmental charge, or to a reduction in the applicable tax rate, and proper notice has been sent to the Holder or beneficial owner; or

(v) any combination of items (i), (ii), (iii), and (iv) above.

Nor shall Additional Amounts be paid with respect to any payment of the principal of or any interest on any note to any Holder or beneficial owner that is a fiduciary or partnership or other than the sole beneficial owner of such note to the extent such payment would be required by the laws of the Taxing Jurisdiction to be included in the income for tax purposes of a beneficiary or settlor with respect to such fiduciary or a member of such partnership or a beneficial owner who would not have been entitled to such Additional Amounts had it been a Holder of such note.

If CODELCO pays Additional Amounts in respect of the Chilean withholding tax on payments of interest or premium, if any, made by CODELCO in respect of each series of notes to a Foreign Holder (as defined in “Taxation”) assessed at a rate of 4.0%, and a refund is provided with respect to such withholding tax, CODELCO shall have the right to receive and be entitled to such funds from the relevant Taxing Jurisdiction.

Redemption

CODELCO will not be permitted to redeem the notes before their stated maturity, except as set forth below. The notes will not be entitled to the benefit of any sinking fund—meaning that CODELCO will not deposit money on a regular basis into any separate account to repay your notes. In addition, you will not be entitled to require CODELCO to repurchase your notes from you before the stated maturity.

Optional Redemption

CODELCO may redeem on one or more occasions some or all of the notes before they mature.

Prior to October 13, 2034 (three months prior to their maturity date of the 2035 notes) (the “2035 Par Call Date”), CODELCO may redeem the 2035 notes at its option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time, at a redemption price (expressed as a percentage of principal amount and rounded to three decimal places) equal to the greater of:

(1) (a) the sum of the present values of the remaining scheduled payments of principal and interest thereon discounted to the redemption date (assuming the notes matured on the 2035 Par Call Date) on a semi-annual basis (assuming a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months) at the Treasury Rate plus 25 basis points less (b) interest accrued to the date of redemption, and

(2) 100% of the principal amount of the 2035 notes to be redeemed,

Prior to July 13, 2054 (six months prior to their maturity date of the 2055 notes) (the “2055 Par Call Date”), CODELCO may redeem the 2055 notes at its option, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time, at a redemption price (expressed as a percentage of principal amount and rounded to three decimal places) equal to the greater of:

(1) (a) the sum of the present values of the remaining scheduled payments of principal and interest thereon discounted to the redemption date (assuming the notes matured on the 2055 Par Call Date) on a semi-annual basis (assuming a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months) at the Treasury Rate plus 30 basis points less (b) interest accrued to the date of redemption, and

(2) 100% of the principal amount of the 2055 notes to be redeemed, plus, in either case, accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the redemption date.

On or after the 2035 Par Call Date and the 2055 Par Call Date, as applicable, CODELCO may redeem each series of notes, in whole or in part, at any time and from time to time, at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of the notes being redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to the redemption date.

“Treasury Rate” means, with respect to any redemption date, the yield determined by CODELCO in accordance with the following two paragraphs.

The Treasury Rate shall be determined by CODELCO after 4:15 p.m., New York City time (or after such time as yields on U.S. government securities are posted daily by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System), on the third Business Day preceding the redemption date based upon the yield or yields for the most recent day that appear after such time on such day in the most recent statistical release published by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System designated as “Selected Interest Rates (Daily) - H.15” (or any successor designation or publication) (“H.15”) under the caption “U.S. government securities—Treasury constant maturities—Nominal” (or any successor caption or heading). In determining the Treasury Rate, CODELCO shall select, as applicable: (1) the yield for the Treasury constant maturity on H.15 exactly equal to the period from the redemption date to the applicable Par Call Date (the “Remaining Life”); or (2) if there is no such Treasury constant maturity on H.15 exactly equal to the Remaining Life, the two yields – one yield corresponding to the Treasury constant maturity on H.15 immediately shorter than and one yield corresponding to the Treasury constant maturity on H.15 immediately longer than the Remaining Life – and shall interpolate to the applicable Par Call Date on a straight-line basis (using the actual number of days) using such yields and rounding the result to three decimal places; or (3) if there is no such Treasury constant maturity on H.15 shorter than or longer than the Remaining Life, the yield for the single Treasury constant maturity on H.15 closest to the Remaining Life. For purposes of this paragraph, the applicable Treasury constant maturity or maturities on H.15 shall be deemed to have a maturity date equal to the relevant number of months or years, as applicable, of such Treasury constant maturity from the redemption date.

If on the third Business Day preceding the redemption date H.15 or any successor designation or publication is no longer published, CODELCO shall calculate the Treasury Rate based on the rate per annum equal to the semi-annual equivalent yield to maturity at 11:00 a.m., New York City time, on the second Business Day preceding such redemption date of the United States Treasury security maturing on, or with a maturity that is closest to, the Par Call Date, as applicable. If there is no United States Treasury security maturing on the applicable Par Call Date but there are two or more United States Treasury securities with a maturity date equally distant from the applicable Par Call Date, one with a maturity date preceding the applicable Par Call Date and one with a maturity date following the applicable Par Call Date, CODELCO shall select the United States Treasury security with a maturity date preceding the applicable Par Call Date. If there are two or more United States Treasury securities maturing on the applicable Par Call Date or two or more United States Treasury securities meeting the criteria of the preceding sentence, CODELCO shall select from among these two or more United States Treasury securities the United States Treasury security that is trading closest to par based upon the average of the bid and asked prices for such United States Treasury securities at 11:00 a.m., New York City time. In determining the Treasury Rate in accordance with the terms of this paragraph, the semi-annual yield to maturity of the applicable United States Treasury security shall be based upon the average of the bid and asked prices (expressed as a percentage of principal amount) at 11:00 a.m., New York City time, of such United States Treasury security, and rounded to three decimal places.

CODELCO's actions and determinations in determining the redemption price shall be conclusive and binding for all purposes, absent manifest error. CODELCO will notify the trustee of the redemption price promptly after the calculation thereof and the trustee shall have no duty to determine, or verify the calculation of, the redemption price.

Notice of any redemption will be mailed or electronically delivered (or otherwise transmitted in accordance with the depository's procedures) at least 10 days but not more than 60 days before the redemption date to each holder of notes to be redeemed. For so long as the notes are listed on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of the Euro MTF market so require, CODELCO will cause notices of redemption to be announced through the Luxembourg Stock Exchange.

In the case of a partial redemption, selection of definitive notes for redemption will be made by lot. No notes of a principal amount of U.S.$1,000 or less will be redeemed in part. If any note in definitive form is to be redeemed in part only, the notice of redemption that relates to such note will state the portion of the principal amount of the note to be redeemed. A new definitive note in a principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion of such note will be issued in the name of the holder of such note upon surrender for cancellation of the original definitive note. For so long as the notes are held by DTC (or another depository), the redemption of the notes shall be done in accordance with the policies and procedures of the depository, which may be made on a pro rata pass-through distribution of principal basis.

Unless CODELCO defaults in payment of the redemption price, on and after the redemption date interest will cease to accrue on the notes or portions thereof called for redemption.

Tax Redemption

Each series of notes may be redeemed at the election of CODELCO, in whole, but not in part, by the giving of notice as provided in "—Notices" below (which notice shall be irrevocable), at a price equal to the outstanding principal amount thereof, together with any Additional Amounts and accrued and unpaid interest to the redemption date, if, as a result of any change in, or amendment to, the laws (or any regulations or rulings promulgated thereunder, including a holding by a court of competent jurisdiction) of the Taxing Jurisdiction, or any change in the official application, administration or interpretation of such laws, regulations or rulings in such Taxing Jurisdiction, CODELCO has or will become obligated to pay Additional Amounts on the applicable notes in excess of the Additional Amounts that would be payable were payments of interest on the notes subject to the 4.0% of Chilean Interest Withholding Tax, as defined below ("Excess Additional Amounts"), and if such change or amendment is announced or becomes effective on or after the date of the agreement to purchase the notes and such obligation cannot be avoided by CODELCO taking measures it considers reasonable and that are available to it (for this purpose, reasonable measures shall not include any change in CODELCO's or any successor's jurisdiction of incorporation or organization or location of its principal executive or registered office); provided, however, that no such notice of redemption shall be given earlier than 60 days prior to the earliest date on which CODELCO would be obligated to pay such Excess Additional Amounts, were a payment in respect of the notes then due. Prior to the giving of notice of redemption of such notes, CODELCO will deliver to the trustee an officers' certificate and a written opinion of recognized Chilean counsel independent of CODELCO to the effect that all governmental approvals necessary for CODELCO to effect such redemption, if any, have been or at the time of redemption will be obtained and in full force and effect and that CODELCO is entitled to effect such a redemption, and setting forth in reasonable detail the circumstances giving rise to such right of redemption. See "Taxation—Chilean Taxation."

Notices

For so long as the notes are outstanding in global form, notices to be given to holders will be given to the depository, in accordance with its applicable procedures as in effect from time to time. If notes are issued in individual definitive form, notice to holders of the notes will be given by mail to the addresses of such holders as they appear in the security register. In addition, so long as the notes are listed on the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and the rules of such exchange so require, notices will also be published in a leading newspaper having general circulation in Luxembourg (which is expected to be Luxemburger Wort) or on the website of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (www.luxse.com). Any such notice will be deemed to have been delivered on the date of first publication.

Replacement of Notes

In case of mutilated, destroyed, lost or stolen notes, application for replacement thereof may be made to the trustee or CODELCO. Any such note shall be replaced by the trustee in compliance with such procedures, and on such terms as to evidence and indemnification, as the trustee or CODELCO may require and subject to any applicable law or regulation. All such costs as may be incurred in connection with the replacement of any notes shall be borne by the applicant. Mutilated notes must be surrendered before new ones will be issued.

Modification of the Indenture

CODELCO and the trustee may, without the consent of the holders of notes, amend, waive or supplement the indenture or the notes for certain specified purposes, including among other things: (i) to evidence CODELCO's succession by another corporation, and the assumption by such party of CODELCO's obligations; (ii) to add to CODELCO's covenants or surrender any of its rights or powers for the benefit of all or any series of notes; (iii) to cure any ambiguity, defect or inconsistency in the indenture; (iv) to provide for the issuance of any new series of securities, and/or add to the rights of any holders of any series of notes; (v) to provide for the appointment of a successor trustee; (vi) to add any additional Events of Default for the benefit of any or all series; (vii) to provide for the issuance of securities in bearer form; and (viii) to make any other change to the indenture as shall not adversely affect the interests of any holder of the notes.

In addition, with certain exceptions, the indenture and the notes may be modified by CODELCO and the trustee with the consent of the holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the notes of the series affected thereby then outstanding, but no such modification may be made without the consent of the holder of each outstanding note affected by the modification which would:

- (i) change the maturity of any principal of, or any premium on, or any installment of interest on, any note, or reduce the principal amount thereof or the rate of interest or any premium (or Additional Amounts, if any) payable thereon, or change the method of computing the amount of principal thereof or interest or premium (or Additional Amounts, if any) payable thereon on any date, or change any place of payment where, or the coin or currency in which, the principal or interest (including Additional Amounts) on any note are payable, or impair the right of holders to institute suit for the enforcement of any such payment on or after the date when due;
- (ii) reduce the percentage in aggregate principal amount of outstanding notes of such series, where the consent of holders is required for any such modification or for any waiver of compliance with certain provisions of the indenture or certain defaults thereunder and their consequences provided for in the indenture; or
- (iii) modify provisions relating to waiver of certain defaults, waiver of certain covenants and the provisions summarized in this paragraph, including provisions governing the amendment of the indenture, except to increase any such percentage or to provide that certain other provisions of the indenture cannot be modified or waived without the consent of the holder of each outstanding note affected by the modification.

The indenture provides that the notes owned by CODELCO or any of its affiliates shall be deemed not to be outstanding for, among other purposes, consent to any such modification.

Defeasance and Covenant Defeasance

With respect to each series of notes, CODELCO, at its option, at any time upon the satisfaction of certain conditions described below, may elect to be discharged from its obligations with respect to the notes. In general, upon a defeasance, CODELCO shall be deemed to have paid and discharged the entire indebtedness represented by the applicable notes and to have satisfied all of its obligations under such notes, except for: (i) the rights of holders of notes to receive, solely from the trust fund established for such purposes, payments in respect of the principal of, and interest, and Additional Amounts, if any, on the notes when such payments are due; (ii) certain provisions relating to ownership, registration and transfer of the notes; (iii) the covenant relating to the maintenance of an office or agency in New York City, and (iv) certain provisions relating to the rights, powers, trusts, duties and immunities of the trustee.

In addition, CODELCO, at its option, at any time, upon the satisfaction of certain conditions described below, may discharge its obligation to comply with the covenants specified above under “—Consolidation, Merger, Conveyance, Sale or Lease,” “—Limitation on Liens” and “—Limitation on Sale-and-Lease-Back Transactions.” In order to cause a defeasance or covenant defeasance with respect to the notes, CODELCO will be required to (i) deposit funds or obligations issued by the United States in an amount sufficient to provide for the timely payment of principal, interest and all other amounts due under the notes with the trustee, and (ii) satisfy certain other conditions, including delivery to the trustee of an opinion of independent tax counsel of recognized standing to the effect that beneficial owners of notes will not recognize income, gain or loss for U.S. federal income tax purposes as a result of such deposit and defeasance and will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on the same amount and in the same manner and at the same times as would have been the case if such deposit and defeasance had not occurred. Such opinion of counsel in the case of defeasance must refer to and be based upon a ruling of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (“IRS”) or a change in applicable U.S. federal income tax law occurring after the date of the indenture.

Governing Law; Submission to Jurisdiction; Sovereign Immunity

The indenture provides that it and the notes will be governed by, and will be construed and interpreted in accordance with, the law of the State of New York. The indenture provides that CODELCO will maintain at all times during the life of the notes an office or agent in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, upon whom process may be served in any action arising out of or based on the notes which may be instituted in the Supreme Court of the State of New York or the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, in either case in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, by any holder of a note, and CODELCO will expressly accept the jurisdiction of any such court.

To the extent that CODELCO may be entitled, in any jurisdiction in which judicial proceedings may at any time be commenced with respect to the notes, to claim for itself or its revenues or assets any immunity from suit, jurisdiction, attachment in aid or execution of a judgment or prior to a judgment, execution of a judgment or any other legal process with respect to its obligations under the notes, and to the extent that in any such jurisdiction there may be attributed to CODELCO such an immunity (whether or not claimed), CODELCO will irrevocably agree not to claim and will irrevocably waive such immunity to the maximum extent permitted by law.

Article 226 of the Mining Code of Chile prohibits the attachment and judicial sale of a debtor’s mining concessions and installations and other goods permanently dedicated to exploration or extraction of minerals relating to those mining concessions, except with respect to mortgages. However, a debtor may consent to such attachment and sale, provided that the consent is given in the same judicial proceeding in which the attachment and sale is sought. The general waiver of immunity by CODELCO in the notes will not be effective with respect to immunity under Article 226. In addition, pursuant to the Constitution, mining concessions corresponding to mining deposits exploited by CODELCO upon its creation in 1976 may not be subject to attachment or to any act of disposition by CODELCO.

Further Issues of Notes

With respect to each series of notes, without the consent of the holders, CODELCO may create and issue additional notes with terms and conditions that are the same (or the same except as to scheduled interest payments prior to the time of issue of the additional notes) as the terms and conditions of such series of notes. CODELCO may consolidate the additional notes to form a single series with such notes; provided, however, that unless such additional notes are issued under a separate CUSIP number, such additional notes must be part of the same “issue” as the outstanding series of notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes, issued pursuant to a “qualified reopening” of the outstanding series of notes for U.S. federal income tax purposes, or issued with less than a de minimis amount of original issue discount.

TAXATION

General

The following is a summary of certain Chilean tax and U.S. federal income tax considerations (and certain EU-related tax consequences) relating to the purchase, ownership and disposition of notes. The summary does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all the tax considerations that may be relevant to a decision to purchase the notes, and, except to the extent certain EU-related tax consequences are described below, it does not describe any tax consequences arising under the laws of any national, state, or local taxing jurisdiction other than the United States and Chile.

This summary is based on the tax laws of Chile and the United States as in effect on the date of this offering memorandum, as well as regulations, rulings and decisions of Chile and the United States available on or before such date and now in effect, and the provisions of the Treaty (as defined below). All of the foregoing is subject to change, which may apply retroactively and could affect the continued validity of this summary.

Prospective purchasers of the notes should consult their own tax advisors as to the Chilean, United States or other tax consequences of the purchase, ownership and disposition of the notes, taking into account the application of the tax considerations discussed below to their particular situation, as well as the application of state, local, foreign or other tax laws.

Chilean Taxation

The following is a general summary of the material consequences under Chilean tax law, as currently in effect, of an investment in the notes made by a “Foreign Holder.”

On December 19, 2023, the Treaty to Avoid Double Taxation signed between Chile and the United States in 2010 (modified by two reservations in June 2023 by the U.S. Senate) (the “Treaty”), came into force, after the United States notified Chile of the completion of the approval procedure. The Treaty should not provide a more beneficial tax treatment on withholding taxes than the established Chilean domestic law regarding interest payments made under the notes to foreign holders.

For purposes of this summary, the term “Foreign Holder” means (i) an individual not resident or domiciled in Chile or (ii) a legal entity that is not incorporated under the laws of Chile, unless the notes are acquired by or assigned to a branch, agent, representative or a permanent establishment of such entity in Chile. For purposes of Chilean taxation, (a) an individual is a resident of Chile if such individual has remained in Chile, uninterruptedly or not, for a period or periods that in total exceed 183 days within a twelve-month period, and (b) an individual is domiciled in Chile if such individual resides in Chile with the actual or presumptive intention of remaining in Chile notwithstanding the time resided in Chile (the intention will be determined according to factual circumstances such as the acceptance of a long-term employment within Chile or the relocation of one’s family to Chile, or if he/she has a principal place of business in Chile).

Under Chile’s Income Tax Law, payments of interest or premium, if any, in respect of the notes to a Foreign Holder will generally be subject to a Chilean withholding tax assessed at a rate of 35.0%. However, interest and premium (analogous to interest) from bonds or debentures issued in foreign or local currency by companies incorporated in Chile (i.e., CODELCO) are subject to a reduced tax rate of 4.0% (the “Chilean Interest Withholding Tax”).

A Foreign Holder will not be subject to any Chilean taxes in respect of payments of principal made by CODELCO with respect to the notes.

As described above, CODELCO has agreed, subject to specific exceptions and limitations, to pay to the holders of notes Additional Amounts in respect of the Chilean Interest Withholding Tax in order that any interest or premium the Foreign Holder receives, net of the Chilean Interest Withholding Tax, equals the amount which would have been received by such Foreign Holder in the absence of such withholding. See “Description of Notes—Payment of Additional Amounts.”

The Income Tax Law provides that a Foreign Holder is subject to income tax on Chilean source income. Chilean source income is defined by the Income Tax Law as income arising from goods located in Chile or activities performed in Chile, regardless of the domicile or residence of the taxpayer. Article 11 of the Income Tax Law also states that bonds and other private or public securities issued in Chile by taxpayers domiciled, resident or established in Chile, such as CODELCO, will be deemed to be located in Chile. Consequently, as the notes are issued outside of Chile, capital gains arising from the disposition of the notes would not be deemed as Chilean source income. Therefore, any capital gains realized by a Foreign Holder on the sale or other disposition of the notes issued outside of Chile should not be subject to any Chilean taxes.

A Foreign Holder will not be liable for estate, gift, inheritance or similar taxes with respect to its holdings unless the notes held by a Foreign Holder are either located in Chile at the time of such Foreign Holder's death, or, if the notes are not located in Chile at the time of a Foreign Holder's death, if such notes were purchased or acquired with funds obtained from Chilean sources.

As a general rule, the issuance of the notes is subject to stamp tax at a rate of 0.066% per month or fraction thereof elapsed between the issuance and the maturity of the notes, calculated over the principal amount of the notes, with a maximum 0.8% stamp tax over the principal amount, which will be payable by CODELCO. If the stamp tax is not paid when due, Chile's stamp tax law imposes penalties (fines, interests, and inflation adjustments), which will also be payable by CODELCO. In addition, until such tax (and any penalty) is paid, Chilean courts would not enforce any action brought with respect to the notes. We have agreed to pay promptly such tax when due.

U.S. Federal Income Taxation

This summary of U.S. federal income tax considerations deals with U.S. Holders (as defined below) that will hold notes as capital assets and whose functional currency is the U.S. dollar. It does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all of the tax considerations that may be relevant to a particular investor's decision to purchase notes and generally does not address the tax treatment of U.S. Holders that may be subject to special tax rules, such as certain banks, tax-exempt entities, partnerships (or entities classified as partnerships for U.S. federal income tax purposes) or partners therein, insurance companies, regulated investment companies, dealers in securities or currencies, traders in securities electing to mark to market, U.S. expatriates, U.S. Holders holding the notes in connection with a trade or business conducted outside the United States, nonresident alien individuals present in the United States for 183 days or more during a taxable year, or persons that will hold notes as part of an integrated investment (including a "straddle") consisting of the notes and one or more other positions. This discussion only addresses U.S. Holders of notes that acquire such notes as part of the initial distribution at their "issue price," which will equal the first price to the public (not including bond houses, brokers or similar persons or organizations acting in the capacity of underwriters, placement agents or wholesalers) at which a substantial amount of the notes is sold for money.

As used in this section "—U.S. Federal Income Taxation", the term "U.S. Holder" means a beneficial owner of a note that is a citizen or resident of the United States or a U.S. domestic corporation or that otherwise will be subject to U.S. federal income taxation on a net income basis in respect of the notes.

This summary is based on the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), as amended to the date hereof, administrative pronouncements, judicial decisions, and final, temporary and proposed Treasury Regulations, changes to any of which subsequent to the date of this offering memorandum may affect the tax consequences described herein. Moreover, as described above, the Treaty may also affect the tax consequences described herein. Investors should consult their own tax advisors in determining the tax consequences to them of purchasing, owning, and disposing of the notes, including the application in their particular circumstances of the U.S. federal income tax considerations discussed below, as well as the application of state, local, non-U.S. or other tax laws, the alternative minimum tax or the Medicare tax on net investment income or the special timing rules prescribed under section 451(b) of the Code and possible changes in tax laws.

Payments of Interest and Additional Amounts.

The gross amount of stated interest and Additional Amounts (i.e., without reduction for Chilean taxes withheld) will be taxable to a U.S. Holder as ordinary interest income at the time it accrues or is actually or constructively received in accordance with the holder's method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

It is expected, and this discussion assumes, that the notes will be issued without original issue discount (“OID”) for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In general, however, if the notes are issued with OID at or above a de minimis threshold, a U.S. Holder will be required to include OID in gross income, as ordinary income, under a “constant-yield method” before the receipt of cash attributable to such income, regardless of the U.S. Holder’s regular method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

Subject to generally applicable limitations and conditions, Chilean interest withholding tax paid at the appropriate rate applicable to the U.S. Holder may be eligible for credit against such U.S. Holder’s U.S. federal income tax liability. These generally applicable limitations and conditions include new requirements adopted by the IRS in regulations promulgated in December 2021 and any Chilean tax will need to satisfy these requirements in order to be eligible to be a creditable tax for a U.S. Holder. In the case of a U.S. Holder that either (i) is eligible for, and properly elects, the benefits of the Treaty, or (ii) consistently elects to apply a modified version of these rules under recently issued temporary guidance and complies with specific requirements set forth in such guidance, the Chilean tax on interest generally will be treated as meeting the new requirements and therefore as a creditable tax. In the case of all other U.S. Holders, the application of these requirements to the Chilean tax on interest is uncertain and we have not determined whether these requirements have been met. If the Chilean tax is not a creditable tax for a U.S. Holder or the U.S. Holder does not elect to claim a foreign tax credit for any foreign income taxes, the U.S. Holder may be able to deduct the Chilean tax in computing the U.S. Holder’s taxable income for U.S. federal income tax purposes, subject to applicable limitations and requirements. Interest and Additional Amounts will constitute income from sources without the United States and, for U.S. Holders that validly claim foreign tax credits generally will constitute “passive category income” for foreign tax credit purposes.

The availability and calculation of foreign tax credits and deductions for foreign taxes may depend on a U.S. Holder’s particular circumstances and involve the application of complex rules to those circumstances. The temporary guidance discussed above also indicates that the Treasury and the IRS are considering proposing amendments to the December 2021 regulations and that the temporary guidance can be relied upon until additional guidance is issued that withdraws the temporary guidance. U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of these rules to their particular situations.

Taxation of Dispositions. A U.S. Holder will generally recognize taxable gain or loss upon the sale, exchange, redemption or other taxable disposition of the notes in an amount equal to the difference between the amount realized upon such sale, exchange, redemption or other disposition (less any accrued interest and, in the case of a redemption, any Additional Amounts with respect to accrued interest, which will be taxable in the manner described above under “—Taxation of Interest and Additional Amounts”) and such U.S. Holder’s adjusted tax basis in those notes. A U.S. Holder’s adjusted tax basis in a note will generally equal the cost of the note to such Holder reduced by any amortizable bond premium previously amortized and increased by amounts includible in income by the holder as market discount. Subject to the market discount rules discussed below, such gain or loss will be capital gain or loss, and will be long-term capital gain or loss if the notes are held for more than one year. Certain non-corporate U.S. Holders (including individuals) may be eligible for a preferential rate in respect of long-term capital gain. The deduction of capital losses is subject to limitations.

Specified Foreign Financial Asset Reporting. Certain U.S. Holders that own “specified foreign financial assets” with an aggregate value in excess of U.S.$50,000 on the last day of the taxable year or U.S.$75,000 at any time during the taxable year are generally required to file an information statement along with their tax returns, currently on IRS Form 8938, with respect to such assets. “Specified foreign financial assets” include any financial accounts held at a non-U.S. financial institution, as well as securities issued by a non-U.S. issuer (which would include the notes) that are not held in accounts maintained by financial institutions. Higher reporting thresholds apply to certain individuals living abroad and to certain married individuals. Regulations extend this reporting requirement to certain entities that are treated as formed or availed of to hold direct or indirect interests in specified foreign financial assets based on certain objective criteria. U.S. Holders who fail to report the required information could be subject to substantial penalties. In addition, the statute of limitations for assessment of tax would be suspended, in whole or part. Prospective investors should consult their own tax advisors concerning the application of these rules to their investment in the notes in their particular circumstances.

Information Reporting and Backup Withholding. Payments of interest and Additional Amounts on the notes and sales or redemption proceeds that are made within the United States or through certain U.S.-related financial intermediaries generally are subject to information reporting and to backup withholding unless the holder is an exempt recipient that, if required, establishes its exemption or (ii) in the case of backup withholding, the holder provides a correct taxpayer identification number and certifies that it is not subject to backup withholding.

Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules from a payment to a holder generally will be refunded (or credited against such holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, if any), provided the required information is properly furnished to the IRS on a timely basis.

The Proposed European Financial Transaction Tax

On February 14, 2013, the European Commission published a proposal for a directive for a common financial transaction tax (the "FTT") in Austria, Belgium, Estonia, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, Portugal, Slovakia, Slovenia and Spain (the "Participating Member States"). Political consensus on a final directive for the FTT has not yet been achieved. Additional EU Member States may decide to participate and/or certain of the Participating Member States (in addition to Estonia which meanwhile withdrew) may decide to withdraw.

Whether the FTT will ultimately be implemented and, if so, in what form, as well as the transactions that may be covered by it, is uncertain at this stage. If enacted, the FTT could apply under certain circumstances to transactions involving the notes. The mechanism by which the FTT would be applied and collected is not yet known, but if the FTT or any similar tax is adopted, transactions in the notes could be subject to higher costs, and the liquidity of the market for the notes may be diminished.

Prospective holders of the notes are advised to seek their own professional advice in relation to the consequences of the FTT that could be associated with subscribing for, purchasing, holding and disposing of the notes.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

Subject to the terms and conditions of the purchase agreement among CODELCO, BofA Securities, Inc., Citigroup Global Markets Inc., J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, and Santander US Capital Markets LLC, the initial purchasers have severally, and not jointly, agreed to purchase from the Company the following respective principal amounts of notes listed opposite their name below at the initial offering prices set forth on the cover page of this offering memorandum, less commissions:

Initial Purchasers	Principal Amount of 2035 notes	Principal Amount of 2055 notes
BofA Securities, Inc.	U.S.$	U.S.$
Citigroup Global Markets Inc.	U.S.$	U.S.$
J.P. Morgan Securities LLC	U.S.$	U.S.$
Santander US Capital Markets LLC	U.S.$	U.S.$
Total	U.S.$	U.S.$

The purchase agreement provides that the obligations of the several initial purchasers to purchase the notes offered hereby are subject to certain conditions precedent and that the initial purchasers will purchase all of the notes offered by this offering memorandum if any of these notes are purchased. The initial purchasers may use any of their affiliates to offer and sell any of the notes. The initial purchasers are offering the notes, subject to prior sale, when, as and if issued to and accepted by them, subject to approval of legal matters by their counsel, including the validity of the notes, and other conditions contained in the purchase agreement, such as the receipt by the initial purchasers of officer's certificates and legal opinions. The initial purchasers reserve the right to withdraw, cancel or modify offers to the public and to reject orders in whole or in part.

After the initial offering, the initial purchasers may change the offering price and other selling terms.

CODELCO has agreed to indemnify the initial purchasers against certain liabilities, including liabilities under the Securities Act, and to contribute to payments the initial purchasers may be required to make in respect of any of these liabilities.

The notes have not been registered under the Securities Act. Each initial purchaser has agreed that it will offer or sell the notes only (i) in the United States to qualified institutional buyers in reliance on Rule 144A under the Securities Act or (ii) in offshore transactions in reliance on Regulation S under the Securities Act. The notes being offered and sold pursuant to Regulation S may not be offered, sold or delivered in the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, any U.S. person, unless the notes are registered under the Securities Act or an exemption from, the registration requirements thereof is available. Resales of the notes are restricted as described under "Transfer Restrictions."

Until forty (40) days after the later of the commencement of the offering and the closing date, any offer or sale of notes within the United States by a broker-dealer (whether or not participating in this offering) may violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act, unless such offer or sale is made pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act or another available exemption from the registration requirements thereof. Terms used above have the meanings given to them by Regulation S and Rule 144A under the Securities Act.

CODELCO has agreed, that for a period of 30 days from the date of the purchase agreement, CODELCO will not, without prior consent of the initial purchasers, offer, sell or contract to sell, or otherwise dispose of (or enter into any transaction which is designed to, or might reasonably be expected to, result in the disposition (whether by actual disposition or effective economic disposition due to cash settlement or otherwise) by CODELCO or any affiliate of CODELCO or any person in privity with CODELCO or any of its affiliates), directly or indirectly, or announce any public or broadly marketed offering of, any U.S. dollar-denominated debt securities issued or guaranteed by CODELCO in the international capital markets (other than the notes).

Each series of notes are a new issue of securities without an established trading market. We intend to apply to list both series of notes on the Official List of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange; however, neither series of notes have been listed yet. Both series of notes are expected to trade on the Euro MTF market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange. See “General Information—Listing.” The initial purchasers may make a market in the notes after completion of the offering, but will not be obligated to do so and may discontinue any market-making activities at any time without notice. No assurance can be given as to the liquidity of the trading market for the notes or that an active market for the notes will develop. If an active public trading market for the notes does not develop, the market price and liquidity of the notes may be adversely affected. If notes of a series are traded, they may trade at a discount from their initial offering price, depending on prevailing interest rates, the market for similar securities, our operating performance and financial condition, general economic conditions and other factors.

In connection with the offering of each series of notes, the initial purchasers may engage in over-allotment, stabilizing transactions and syndicate covering transactions. Over-allotment involves sales in excess of the offering size, which creates a short position for the initial purchasers. Stabilizing transactions involve bids to purchase the notes in the open market for the purpose of pegging, fixing or maintaining the price of the notes. Syndicate covering transactions involve purchases of the notes in the open market after the distribution has been completed in order to cover short positions. Stabilizing transactions and syndicate covering transactions may cause the price of the notes to be higher than it would otherwise be in the absence of those transactions. If the initial purchasers engage in stabilizing or syndicate covering transactions, they may discontinue them at any time without notice.

The initial purchasers and their affiliates have performed and may in the future perform certain commercial banking, investment banking or advisory services for us from time to time for which they have received customary fees and expenses. The initial purchasers may, from time to time, continue to engage in transactions with and perform services for us in the ordinary course of their business.

In addition, in the ordinary course of their business activities, the initial purchasers and their affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers. Such investments and securities activities may involve securities and/or instruments of ours or our affiliates. Certain of the initial purchasers or their affiliates that have a lending relationship with us routinely hedge, and certain other of those initial purchasers or their affiliates that have a lending relationship with us may hedge, their credit exposure to us consistent with their customary risk management policies. Typically, such initial purchasers and their affiliates would hedge such exposure by entering into transactions which consist of either the purchase of credit default swaps or the creation of short positions in our securities, including potentially the notes offered hereby. Any such short positions could adversely affect future trading prices of the notes offered hereby. The initial purchasers and their affiliates may also make investment recommendations and/or publish or express independent research views in respect of such securities or financial instruments and may hold, or recommend to customer that they acquire, long and/or short positions in such securities and instruments.

Delivery of the notes is expected on or about January 13, 2025, which will be the third business day following the date of pricing of the notes (this settlement cycle being referred to as “T+3”). Under Rule 15c6-1 of the Exchange Act, trades in the secondary market generally are required to settle in one business day, unless the parties to any such trade expressly agree otherwise. Accordingly, purchasers who wish to trade notes prior to the business day prior to delivery of the notes hereunder will be required, by virtue of the fact that the notes initially may settle in T+3, to specify an alternate settlement cycle at the time of any such trade to prevent a failed settlement. Purchasers of the notes who wish to trade notes prior to the business day before their date of delivery hereunder should consult their own advisor.

Notice to Prospective Investors in Chile

The notes may not be offered or sold in Chile, directly or indirectly, by means of a “Public Offer” (as defined under Law No. 18,045 and regulations from the CMF). Chilean institutional investors (such as banks, pension funds and insurance companies) are required to comply with specific restrictions relating to the purchase of the notes. Pursuant to Chilean law, a public offering of securities is an offering that is addressed to the general public or to certain specific categories or groups thereof. Considering that the definition of public offering is quite broad, even an offering addressed to a small group of investors may be considered to be addressed to a certain specific category or group of the public and therefore be considered public under applicable law. On June 27, 2012, the CMF issued Norma de Carácter General No. 336 (General Rule No. 336, hereinafter “NCG 336”), which is intended to govern the private offering of securities in Chile. NCG 336 provides that the offering of securities that meet the conditions described therein shall not be considered public offerings in Chile and shall be exempted from complying with the general rules applicable to public offerings.

The following information is provided to prospective investors pursuant to NCG 336:

1. Date of commencement of the offer: January 8, 2025. The offer of the notes is subject to CMF rule (norma de carácter general) No. 336, dated June 27, 2012, as amended, issued by the CMF.
2. The subject matter of this offer are securities not registered with the securities registry (registro de valores) or the foreign securities registry (registro de valores extranjeros) kept by the CMF. As a consequence, the notes are not subject to the oversight of the CMF.
3. Since the notes are not registered in Chile, the issuer is not obliged to provide public information about the notes in Chile.
4. The notes shall not be subject to public offering in Chile unless registered with the relevant securities registry kept by the CMF.

Notice to Prospective Investors in China

The notes are not being offered or sold and may not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, in the People’s Republic of China (the “PRC”) (for such purposes, not including the Hong Kong and Macau Special Administrative Regions or Taiwan), except as permitted by the securities laws of the PRC.

GLOSSARY OF CERTAIN MINING TERMS

Andesite: A fine-grained volcanic rock, usually dark grey in color, with an average composition of 50.0-60.0% sulphur dioxide.

Anode Copper: Blister copper that has undergone further refinement to remove impurities. In an anode furnace, the blister copper is blown with air and a hydrocarbon redundant to upgrade its purity to approximately 99.5% copper. It is then cast into keystone-shaped slabs that are shipped to an electrolytic refinery.

Anodic Slime: A product with a high content of precious metals that settles on the bottom of an electrolytic cell in the copper refinery during the production of copper cathodes. The product is called anode, or anodic, slime due to its muddy appearance. Anode slimes have a high commercial value based on their precious metals content (silver, gold, platinum and palladium).

Blister Copper: Copper that has been cast after passing through a converter. Blister copper is approximately 99.0% copper and takes its name from the “blisters” that form on the surface during cooling.

Breccia: A rock conglomerate made up of highly angular coarse fragments.

Calcopyrite: A combination of copper and iron sulfide with a metallic yellow-gold color, containing 34.7% copper, 30.0% iron and 26.0% sulfur.

Cathode: Copper produced by an electrochemical refining process that has been melted and cast into cakes, billets, wire bars or rods usually weighing approximately 90kg.

Concentration: The process by which crushed and ground ore is separated into metal concentrates and reject material through processes such as flotation. Concentrates are shipped to a smelter for further processing.

Concentrator: A plant where concentration takes place.

Converter: A plant that conducts a principal phase of the smelting process, blowing oxygen-enriched air through, molten metal, causing oxidation and the removal of sulfur and other impurities. In the case of copper, the product of this process is blister copper.

Copper Concentrate: A product of the concentrator usually containing 25.0% to 30.0% copper. It is the raw feed material for smelting.

Copper Grade: The concentration of copper in a given volume of rock, usually expressed as a percentage.

Dacite: A fine-grained volcanic rock similar in composition to andesite but containing a greater abundance of quartz crystals that are frequently visible to the naked eye.

Development: Activities related to the building of infrastructure and the stripping and opening of mineral deposits, commencing when economically recoverable reserves can reasonably be estimated to exist and generally continuing until commercial production begins.

Diorite: A dark, coarsely crystalline igneous rock, similar in composition to granite that is composed principally of silica, alumina, calcium and iron.

Electrolytic Refining: Electrochemical refining of copper anodes. Copper anodes are placed between layers of refined copper sheets in a tank through which an acid copper sulfate solution is circulated. A low voltage current is introduced, causing the transfer of copper from the anodes to the pure copper sheets, and producing 99.98% copper cathodes. Impurities, often containing precious metals, settle to the bottom of the tank.

Electrowinning: The process of directly recovering copper from solution by the action of electric currents.

Exploration: Activities associated with ascertaining the existence, location, extent or quality of a mineral deposit.

Fine Copper: 99.99% pure copper obtained through metallurgical processes.

Flotation: A process of copper concentrate production in which mineral particles attach themselves to the bubbles in an oily froth and rise to the surface, where they are skimmed off. This process is used primarily for the concentration of sulfide ores.

Flux: A high grade silica, which reacts with iron oxides formed during smelting and converting stages to create a molten slag.

Geological Resources (measured, indicated and inferred): Concentrations or occurrences of materials in such form, quantity (tonnage and ore grade) and quality, based on specific geological evidence and knowledge, which allows for the calculation of the amount, ore grade and quality of the material with some level of confidence.

Grade A Copper: Electrolytic copper, in the form of cathodes, that (i) is at least 99.99% pure, (ii) meets the LME's highest standards for copper quality, and (iii) is named in the LME-approved list of brands of Grade A copper.

Indicated Resources (geological or mineral resources): Resources about which CODELCO's knowledge is substantial but less extensive than its knowledge of measured resources.

Inferred Resources (geological or mineral resources): Resources about which CODELCO's knowledge is only indirect.

Intrusion: A geologic processes in which magmatic material flows to the earth's surface through pre-existing rocks.

Leached Capping: An abundant mass of iron oxide concentrated in the upper zones of a porphyry copper deposit.

Leaching: The process of extracting a soluble metallic compound from an ore by selectively dissolving it in a suitable solvent.

Matte: A high density liquid that is produced during the concentrate fusion stage of the pyro-metallurgical process.

Matte Sulfide: A high density liquid containing copper and iron sulfides that is produced of the concentrate fusion stage of the pyro-metallurgical process.

Measured Resources (geological or mineral resources): Resources about which CODELCO's knowledge is both extensive and direct.

Milling: A treatment process in which ore is ground into a fine powder.

Mine: Mines are the source of mineral-bearing material found near the surface or deep in the ground.

Mineral Deposit: A mineralized underground body that has been probed by a sufficient number of closely-spaced drill holes and/or underground sampling measurements to support an estimate of sufficient tonnage and ore grade to warrant further exploration or development. Mineral deposits or mineralized materials do not qualify as commercially minable ore reserves (i.e., proved reserves or probable reserves), as prescribed under standards of the U.S. Bureau of Mines Circular 831 of 1980, until a final and comprehensive economic, technical, and legal feasibility study based upon the test results has been concluded.

Mineral Resources (measured, indicated and inferred): Geological resources about which CODELCO has achieved increased knowledge and which enable CODELCO to generate a long-term mining plan for the exploitation of such resources.

Mineralization: A deposit of rock containing one or more minerals for which the economics of recovery have not yet been established.

Molybdenum: A metallic element, grayish in color, that resembles chromium and tungsten in many properties, and is used especially in strengthening and hardening steel.

Ore: A mineral or aggregate of minerals from which metal can be economically mined or extracted.

Ore Grade: The average amount of metal expressed as a percentage or in ounces per metric ton.

Ore Deposit: Category including all geological resources, mineral resources and ore reserves.

Ore Reserves: The economically mineable part of a mineral resource.

Ounces: Unit of weight. A troy ounce equals 31,103 grams or 1.097 avoirdupois ounces.

Outokumpu Flash Furnace: Pyro-metallurgical technology used to smelt copper concentrate.

Overburden: The alluvium and rock that must be removed in order to expose an ore deposit.

Oxide Ore: Metalliferous minerals altered by weathering, surface waters, and their conversion, partly or wholly, into oxides, carbonates, or sulfates.

Pierce Smith Converter: Horizontal furnace to remove impurities from white metal by oxidation.

Porphyry: Rock with siliceous minerals and fine-medium grained size.

Porphyry-type Ore Body: Deposit of porphyritic rocks with economic mineralization.

Probable Ore Reserves: Ore reserves about which CODELCO's knowledge is substantial but less extensive than its knowledge of proved ore reserves.

Proved Ore Reserves: Ore reserves about which CODELCO's knowledge is both extensive and direct. Quantities of proved ore reserves are computed from dimensions revealed in outcrops, trenches, workings or drill holes, and grade and quality are computed from the results of detailed sampling. Sites for inspection, sampling and measurement of proved ore reserves are spaced so closely together, and the geologic character of the ore is so well defined, that its size, shape, depth and mineral content are well established.

Reclamation: The process of restoring mined land to a condition established by applicable law. Reclamation standards vary widely, but usually address issues of ground and surface water, topsoil, final slope gradients, overburden and revegetation.

Refining: The purification of crude metallic substances.

Reverberatory Furnace: A furnace with a shallow hearth and a ceiling that reflects flames toward the hearth or radiates heat toward the surface of the charge.

Rod Mill: A large rotating cylinder in which metal rods are used for grinding ore.

NOTES TO THE INTERIM CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
AS OF SEPTEMBER 30, 2024 (UNAUDITED) AND DECEMBER 31, 2023
(Monetary values in thousands of United States dollars, unless another currency or unit is indicated)

I. GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Corporate information

Corporación Nacional del Cobre de Chile (hereinafter referred to as “Codelco” or the “Corporation”), is, in Management’s opinion, the largest copper producer in the world. Codelco’s most important product is refined copper, primarily in the form of cathodes. The Corporation also produces copper concentrates, blister and anode copper and by-products such as molybdenum, anode slime and sulfuric acid.

The Corporation trades its products based on a policy aimed to sell refined copper to manufacturers or producers of semi-manufactured products.

These products contribute to diverse fields of community development, particularly those intended to improve areas such as public health, energy efficiency, and sustainable development, among others.

The Corporation is registered under Securities Registry No. 785 of the Chilean Commission for the Financial Market (the “CMF”) and is subject to its supervision. According to Article No. 10 of Law No. 20392 (related to the new Corporate Governance of Codelco), such supervision shall be on the same terms as publicly traded companies, notwithstanding the provisions in Decree Law (D.L.) No.1349 of 1976, which created the Comisión Chilena del Cobre (“Chilean Copper Commission”).

Codelco’s head office is in Santiago, Chile, at 1270 Huérfanos Street, telephone number (56-2) 26903000.

Codelco was incorporated through D.L. No. 1350 of 1976, which is the statutory decree applicable to the Corporation. In accordance with the statutory decree, Codelco is a government-owned mining, industrial and commercial company, which is a separate legal entity with its own equity. Codelco Chile currently carries out its mining business through its Chuquicamata, Radomiro Tomic, Ministro Hales, Gabriela Mistral, Salvador, Andina, El Teniente and Ventanas divisions.

The Corporation also carries out similar activities in other mining deposits in association with third parties.

During 2024, the Corporation enters the lithium business with the acquisition of Lithium Power International Limited “LPI”. This acquisition will make the Blanco Project viable through synergies with the Corporation's assets and permits in the Salar de Maricunga, and thus develop a world-class lithium project. Additionally, in May 2024, Codelco signed an association agreement with Sociedad Química y Minera de Chile S.A. (SQM), which establishes the conditions to implement a public-private partnership for the development of mining, productive and commercial activities related to the exploration and exploitation of certain mining properties located in the Salar de Atacama, Antofagasta Region.

In accordance with letter e) of Article 10 of Law No. 20392, Codelco is governed by its organic standards set forth in Decree Law No. 1350 (D.L. No. 1350) and that of its by-laws, and in matters not covered by them and, insofar as they are compatible and do not contradict the provisions of such standards, by the rules that govern publicly traded companies and the common laws as applicable to them.

In accordance with D.L. No. 1350 Section IV related to the Company's Exchange and Budget Regulations. Codelco's financial activities are conducted following an annual budgeting program that is composed of an Operations Budget, an Investment Budget, and a Debt Amortization Budget.

The income obtained by Codelco in each period is subject to the tax regime established in Article 26 of D.L. N°1,350, which refers to Decree Laws N° 824, on Income Tax, of 1974, and N°2398 (Article 2), of 1978, which are applicable to Codelco. It is also subject to the terms of Law No. 20026 of 2005 on Specific Tax on Mining, which was in force until December 31, 2023. As of January 1, 2024, the Corporation will begin to apply Law No. 21591 on mining royalties.

According to Law No. 13196, the return on foreign currency of the Corporation's foreign sales (real income), of its copper production, including its by-products, is taxed at 10%. The effectiveness of this obligation for Codelco is specified in the explanatory note in section III. 23 letter c) of this report.

The subsidiaries whose financial statements are included in these consolidated financial statements correspond to companies located in Chile and abroad, which are detailed in Note II.2.d.

The associates, all located in Chile, are detailed in the explanatory note in section III.9.

2. Basis of presentation of the consolidated financial statements

The interim consolidated statements of financial position as of September 30, 2024 and the consolidated statements of financial position as of December 31, 2023, the interim consolidated statement of income, comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the nine-month and three-month periods ended September 30, 2024 and 2023 have been prepared in accordance with International Accounting Standard No. 34 (IAS 34) " Interim Financial Reporting", incorporated in the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (hereinafter "IASB").

The consolidated financial statements (unaudited) of the Corporation are presented in thousands of United States dollar ("U.S. dollar").

Responsibility for information and estimates made

The Board of Directors of the Corporation has been informed of the information included in these interim consolidated financial statements (unaudited) and expressly declared its responsibility for the consistent and reliable nature of the information included as of September 30, 2024, which financial statements fully comply with IFRS. These unaudited interim consolidated financial statements as of September 30, 2024 were approved by the Board of Directors at a meeting held on October 30, 2024.

Accounting policies

These unaudited interim consolidated financial statements reflect the financial position of Codelco and subsidiaries as of September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, as well as the results of their operations, changes in equity and cash flows for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, and their related notes, all prepared and presented in accordance with IAS 34 "Interim financial information", considering the respective presentation regulations of the Financial Market Commission (CMF)".

II. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. Significant judgments and key estimates

These interim consolidated financial statements (unaudited), the use of certain critical accounting estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of assets and liabilities recognized as of the date of the financial statements and the amounts of revenue and expenses recognized during the reporting period is required. Such preparation also requires the Corporation's Management to exercise its judgment in the process of applying the Corporation's accounting policies. The areas involving a greater degree of judgment or complexity or areas in which the assumptions and estimates are significant for the consolidated financial statements are described as follows:

- a) Useful economic lives and residual values of property, plant and equipment: the useful lives and residual values of property, plant and equipment that are used for calculating depreciation are determined based on technical studies prepared by internal specialists. The technical studies consider specific factors related to the use of assets.

Where there are indications that the useful lives of these assets or their residual values may have changed from previous estimates, this should be done using technical estimates to determine the impact of any changes.

- b) Ore reserves: the measurements of ore reserves are based on estimates of the ore resources that are legally and economically exploitable and reflect the technical and environmental considerations of the Corporation regarding the amount of resources that could be exploited and sold at prices exceeding the total cost associated with the extraction and processing.

The Corporation applies judgment in determining the ore reserves, and as such, possible changes in these estimates might significantly impact the estimates of net revenues over time. In addition, these changes might lead to modifications in usage estimates, which might have an effect on depreciation and amortization expense, calculation of stripping cost adjustments, determination of impairment losses, expected future disbursements related to decommissioning and restoration obligations, long term defined benefits plans' accounting and the accounting for financial derivative instruments.

The Corporation estimates its reserves and mineral resources based on the information certified by the Competent Persons internal and external of the Corporation, who are defined and regulated according to Law No. 20235. These estimates correspond to the application of the Certification Code of Ore Reserves, Resources and Exploration, issued by the Mining Committee which was instituted through the law.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Corporation periodically reviews its estimation models, supported by experts who, in some divisions, also certify the reserves determined from these models.

- c) Impairment of non-financial assets: the Corporation reviews the carrying amount of its non-financial assets to determine whether there is any indication that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. If any such indicator exists, the recoverable amount of the assets is estimated to determine the extent of the impairment loss. In testing impairment, the assets are grouped into cash generating units ("CGUs") to which the assets belong, if applicable. The recoverable amount of these CGUs is calculated as the present value of the expected future cash flows from such assets, considering a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. If the recoverable amount of the assets is lower than their carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognized.

The Corporation defines the CGUs and also estimates the timing and cash flows that such CGUs will generate. Subsequent changes in the grouping of the CGU, or changes in the assumptions supporting the estimates of cash flows or the discount rate, may impact the carrying amounts of the corresponding assets.

Estimates of assumptions influencing the calculation of cash flows, such as the price of copper or treatment charges and refining charges, among others, are determined based on studies conducted by the Corporation using uniform criteria over different periods. Any change in these criteria may have an impact on the recoverable amount of the assets being tested for impairment.

The Corporation has assessed and defined that the CGUs are constituted at the level of each of its current operating divisions, with the exception of the Ventanas Division Smelter and Refinery operations, which are analyzed separately.

In assessing impairment in subsidiaries and associates, the Corporation uses the higher of value in use or fair value less costs to determine the recoverable amount. This recoverable amount may consider elements such as Life of Mine (LOM), reserves and/or mining resources, among others, for mining operation evaluations. In addition, the evaluation may incorporate market variables such as for example, the price of copper and other commodities, cost of production inputs, exchange rates, discount rates and other market information for long-term asset valuation.

- d) Provisions for decommissioning and site restoration costs: when a disruption is caused by the ongoing development or production of a mining property, an obligation to incur decommissioning and restoration costs arises. Costs are estimated based on a formal closure plan and are reassessed as of each reporting period or as of the date such obligations become known. The initial estimate of decommissioning and site restoration costs is recognized as property, plant, and equipment in accordance with IAS 16, and simultaneously a liability in accordance with IAS 37, is recorded.

For these purposes, a defined list of mine sites, facilities and other equipment are studied under this process, considering the engineering level profile, the cubic meters of assets that will be subject to removal and restoration, weighted by a structure of market prices of goods and services, reflecting the best current knowledge related to carrying out such activities, as well as techniques and more efficient construction procedures to date. In the process of valuation of these activities, the assumptions of the exchange rate for tradable goods and services are made, as well as a discount rate, which considers the time value of money and the risks associated with the liabilities, which is determined based, where applicable, on the currency in which disbursements are expected to be made.

The liability amounts recognized at the end of each reporting date represent management's best estimate of the present value of the future decommissioning and site restoration costs. Changes in the estimate of the liability because of changes in the estimated future costs or in the discount rate are added to or deducted from the respective asset cost. The amount deducted from the cost of the asset shall not exceed its carrying amount. If a decrease in the liability exceeds the carrying amount of the asset, the excess is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

If the adjustment results in an addition to the cost of the asset, Codelco considers whether this is an indicator that the new carrying amount of the asset may not be fully recoverable. If such an indicator exists, Codelco tests the asset for impairment by estimating its recoverable amount, and accounts for any impairment loss in accordance with IAS 36.

Costs arising from the installation of a plant or other site preparation work, discounted to their net present value, are provided for and capitalized at the beginning of each project as soon as the obligation to incur such costs arises. These decommissioning costs are charged to net income over the life of the mine, through depreciation of the corresponding asset. Depreciation expense is included in cost of sales, while the discount in the provision is included in finance costs.

- e) Provisions for employee benefits: Provisions for employee benefits related to severance payments and health benefits for services rendered by the employees are determined based on actuarial calculations using the projected unit credit method and are recognized in other comprehensive income or s (depending on the accounting standards applicable) on an accrual basis

The Corporation uses assumptions to determine the best estimate of future obligations related to these benefits. Such estimates, as well as assumptions, are determined by management using the assistance of external actuaries. These assumptions include demographic assumptions, discount rate and expected salary increases and rotation levels, among other factors.

- f) Accruals for open invoices: the Corporation uses information on future copper prices, through which it recognizes adjustments to its revenues and trade receivables, due to the conditions in provisional pricing arrangements. These adjustments are updated monthly, See Notes 2 q) "Revenue from contracts with customers" of Note 2 "Significant accounting policies" below.
- g) Fair value of derivatives and other financial instruments: management may use its judgment to choose an adequate and proper valuation method for financial instruments that are not quoted in an active market. In the case of derivative financial instruments, assumptions are based on observable market inputs, adjusted depending on factors specific to the instruments among others.
- h) Lawsuits and contingencies: The Corporation assesses the probability of lawsuits and contingency losses on an ongoing basis according to estimates performed by its legal advisors. For cases in which management and the Corporation's legal advisors believe that a loss is not probable of occurring or where probable, may not be estimated reliably, no provisions are recognized. When it is considered more likely than not that a loss is probable and it may be reliably estimated, a provision is recognized.
- i) Application of IFRS 16: includes the following:
- Estimation of the lease term
 - Determine if it is reasonably certain that an extension or termination option will be exercised.
 - Determination of the appropriate rate to discount lease payments
- j) Revenue recognition: the Corporation determines appropriate revenue recognition for its contracts with customers by analyzing the type, terms and conditions of each contract or agreement with a customer.

As part of the analysis, the management must make judgments about whether an agreement or contract is legally enforceable, and whether the agreement includes separate performance obligations. In addition, estimates are required to allocate the total price of the transaction to each performance obligation based on the stand-alone selling price of the promised goods or services underlying each performance obligation. (The Corporation applies the constraint on variable consideration as defined in IFRS 15, if applicable).

k) Stripping costs - Costs incurred in removing mine waste materials (overburden) in open pits that are in production, that provide access to mineral deposits, are recognized in property, plant, and equipment, when the following criteria set out in IFRIC 20 Stripping Costs in the Production Phase of a Surface Mine are met:

- It is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the stripping activity will flow to the entity.
- It is possible to identify the components of an ore body for which access has been improved because of the stripping activity, and
- The costs relating to that stripping activity can be measured reliably.

The stripping costs are amortized based on the production units of production extracted from the ore body related to the specific stripping activity which generated this amount.

Although the abovementioned estimates have been made based on the best information available as of the date of issuance of these interim consolidated financial statements (unaudited), it is possible that new developments could lead the Corporation to modify these estimates in the future. Such modifications, if any, would be adjusted prospectively, recognizing the effects of the change in estimate in future consolidated financial statements, as required by IAS 8 "Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors".

- c. Functional currency - The functional currency of Codelco is the U.S. dollar, which is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Corporation operates and the currency in which it receives its revenues.

The functional currency of subsidiaries, associates, and joint ventures is the currency of the primary economic environment in which those entities operate and the currency in which they receive their revenues. For those subsidiaries and associates that are an extension of the operations of Codelco (entities that are not self-sustaining and whose main transactions are with Codelco); the functional currency is also the U.S. dollar.

The presentation currency of Codelco's interim consolidated financial statements (unaudited) is the U.S. dollar.

- d. Basis of consolidation - The financial statements comprise the consolidated statements of the Corporation and its subsidiaries.

Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date of acquisition, being the date on which the Corporation obtains control, and continue to be consolidated until the date such control ceases. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement from the date the Corporation gains control until the date when the Corporation ceases to control the subsidiary.

The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared for the same reporting period as the Corporation, using consistent accounting policies.

All assets, liabilities, equity, income, expenses, and cash flows related to transactions between consolidated companies are fully eliminated on consolidation. The value of the non-controlling interest of shareholders in equity and in the results of subsidiaries is presented, respectively, as "Non-controlling interests" in the consolidated statement of financial position and "Income (loss) attributable to non-controlling interests" and "Comprehensive income (loss) attributable to non-controlling interests" in the consolidated statements of income.

For the purposes of these interim consolidated financial statements, subsidiaries, associates, acquisitions and disposals are defined as follows:

- Subsidiaries: A subsidiary is an entity over which the Corporation has control. Control is exercised if, and only if, the following elements are present: (i) power to govern the operating and financial policies to obtain benefits from their activities; (ii) exposure or rights to the variable returns of these companies; and (iii) ability to use the power to influence the amount of returns.

The Corporation reassesses whether it controls a subsidiary if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the elements of control listed above.

The consolidated financial statements include all assets, liabilities, revenues, expenses, and cash flows of Codelco and its subsidiaries, after eliminating all inter-company balances and transactions.

- Associates: An associate is an entity over which Codelco has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the associate but is not control or joint control over those policies.

Codelco's interest ownership in associates is recognized in the consolidated financial statements under the equity method. Under this method, the initial investment is recognized at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognize changes in Codelco's share of the comprehensive income of the associate, less any impairment losses or other changes to the investment in net assets of the associate.

The Corporation adjusts the proportional gains or losses obtained by the associate after acquisition to take into account the effects that may exist in the depreciation of the fair value of the assets considered at the date of acquisition.

- Acquisitions and disposals: The result of businesses acquired are incorporated in the consolidated financial statements from the date when control is obtained; the results of businesses sold during the period are included in the consolidated financial statements up to the effective date of disposal. Gains or losses on disposal is the difference between the sale proceeds (net of expenses) and the carrying amount of the net assets attributable to the ownership interest that has been sold (and, where applicable, the associated cumulative translation adjustment).

If control is lost over a subsidiary, the retained ownership interest in the investment will be recognized at its fair value.

At the acquisition date of an investment in a subsidiary, associate or joint venture, any excess of the cost of the investment (consideration transferred) plus the amount of the non-controlling interest in the acquiree plus the fair value of any previously held equity interest in the acquiree, where applicable, over Codelco's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and acquired liabilities is recognized as goodwill. Any excess of Codelco's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and acquired liabilities over the consideration transferred, after reassessment, is recognized immediately in profit or loss in the period in which the investment is acquired.

- e. Foreign currency transactions and reporting currency conversion - Transactions in currencies other than the Corporation's functional currency are recognized at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, foreign currency transactions denominated in foreign currencies are converted at the rates prevailing at that date. Gains and losses due to the effect of foreign currency transactions are included in the consolidated statement of income for the period within "Exchange gains (losses) in foreign currencies".

At the end of the reporting period, monetary assets and liabilities denominated in Unidades de Fomento ("UF") have been denominated in US$, considering the exchange rates in effect at the end of each period (9-30-2024: US$ 42,23; 12-31-2023: US$ 41.94; 9-30-2023 US$ 40,42). Expenses and income in local currency have been expressed in dollars at the observed exchange rate, corresponding to the date of the accounting record of each transaction.

The translation of the financial statements of subsidiaries, associates and jointly controlled entities, whose functional currency is different from Codelco's presentation currency, is performed as follows for consolidation purposes:

- Assets and liabilities are converted using the prevailing exchange rate on the reporting date.
- Income and expenses for each statement of income are translated at average exchange rates for the period.
- All resulting exchange differences are recognized in comprehensive income and accumulated in equity under the heading "Reserve on exchange differences on translation."

The exchange rates used in each reporting period were as follows:

Relationship	Closing exchange rates
	9-30-2024	12-31-2023	9-30-2023
USD / CLP	0.00111	0.00114	0.00112
USD / GBP	1.32994	1.27486	1.21536
USD / BRL	0.18356	0.20613	0.19560
USD / EURO	1.11558	1.10566	1.06697
USD / AUD	0.69277	0.68315	0.64306
USD / HKD	0.12868	0.12803	0.12771
USD / JPY	0.14283	0.14040	0.13707

- f. Offsetting balances and transactions - As a general standard, assets and liabilities, revenue, and expenses, are not offset in the financial statements, except for those cases in which offsetting is required or is allowed by a standard and the presentation reflects the substance of the transaction.

Income or expenses arising from transactions which, for contractual or legal reasons, permit the possibility of offsetting and which the Corporation intends to liquidate for their net value or realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously, are stated net in the statement of income.

- g. Property, plant and equipment and depreciation - Items of property, plant and equipment are initially recognized at cost. After initial recognition, they are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

The cost of property, plant and equipment includes the costs of expansion, modernization or improvements that represent an increase in productivity, capacity or efficiency, or an increase in the useful life of the assets, and are capitalized as an increase in the cost of the related assets.

The assets included in property, plant and equipment are depreciated, as a general rule, using the units of production method, when the activity performed by the asset is directly attributable to the mine production process. In other cases, a straight-line depreciation criterion is used.

The assets included in property, plant and equipment and certain intangibles (software) are depreciated over their economic useful lives, as described below:

Category	Useful life
Land	Not depreciated
Land on mine site	Unit of production
Buildings	Straight-line over 20-50 years
Buildings in underground mine levels	Units of production level
Vehicles	Straight-line over 3-7 years
Plant and equipment	Unit of production
Smelters	Unit of production
Refineries	Unit of production
Mining rights	Unit of production
Support equipment	Unit of production
Intangibles - software	Straight-line over 8 years
Open pit and underground mine development	Unit of production

Estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, and any change in estimates is recognized prospectively.

Additionally, depreciation methods and estimated useful lives of assets, especially plants, facilities and infrastructure may be revised at the end of each year or during the year according to changes in the structure of reserves of the Corporation and productive long-term plans updated as of that date.

This review may be made at any time if the conditions of ore reserves change significantly because of new known information, confirmed, and officially released by the Corporation.

The gain or loss resulting from the disposal or retirement of an asset is calculated as the difference between the price obtained on disposal and the value recorded in the books, recognizing the charge or credit to income for the period.

Construction in progress includes the amounts invested in the construction of property, plant and equipment and in mining development projects. Construction in progress is transferred to assets in operation once the testing period has ended and when they are ready for use; at that point, depreciation begins to be recognized.

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or construction of assets that require a substantial period before they are ready for use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of the corresponding items of property, plant, and equipment.

The ore deposits owned by the Corporation are recorded in the accounting records at US$1. Notwithstanding the above, those reserves and resources acquired as part of acquisition of entities accounted for as business combinations, are recognized at their fair value.

- h. Intangible assets - The Corporation initially recognizes these assets at acquisition cost. The cost is amortized systematically over their useful lives, except in the case of assets with indefinite useful lives, which are not amortized, and are assessed for impairment at least once a year and, in any case, whenever there is an indication that impairment may have occurred. At the end of each reporting period, these assets are measured at their cost less any accumulated amortization (when applicable) and any accumulated impairment losses.

The expenditures for the development of Technology and Innovation Projects are recognized as intangible assets at their cost and are considered to have indefinite useful lives. Recognition applies, if and only if, all the following have been demonstrated:

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale;
- The intention to complete the intangible asset is to use or sell it;
- The ability to use or sell the intangible asset;
- That the intangible asset will generate probable future economic benefits;
- The availability of adequate technical, financial, and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible asset; and
- The disbursement attributable to the intangible asset during its development can be reliably appraised

Research expenses for technology and innovation projects are recognized in profit or loss when incurred.

- i. Impairment of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets - Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets with finite useful lives are reviewed for impairment to verify whether there is any indication that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated to determine the extent of the impairment to be recorded.

For intangible assets with indefinite useful lives, their recoverable amounts are annually estimated at the end of each reporting period.

When an asset does not generate cash flows that are independent from other assets, Codelco determines the recoverable amount of the CGU to which the asset belongs.

The Corporation has defined each of its divisions as a cash generating unit

Recoverable amount of an asset is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. On the other hand, the fair value less cost of disposal is usually determined for operational assets considering the Life of Mine ("LOM"), based on a model of discounted cash flows, while the assets not included in LOM as resources and potential resources to exploit are measured by using a market model of multiples for comparable transactions.

If the recoverable amount of an asset or CGU is estimated to be less than it is carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss, reducing the carrying amount to its recoverable amount. In the event of a subsequent reversal of the impairment, the carrying amount is increased to the revised estimate of the recoverable amount, but to the extent that it does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment been previously recognized.

The estimates of future cash flow for a CGU are based on future production forecasts, future prices of basic products and future production costs. Under IAS 36 "Impairment of Assets", there are certain restrictions for future cash flows estimates related to future restructurings and future cost efficiencies. When calculating value in use, it is also necessary to base the calculations on the spot exchange rate at the date of calculation

- j. Expenditures for exploration and evaluation of mineral resources, mine development and mining operations - The Corporation has defined an accounting policy for each of these expenditures.

Development expenses for deposits under exploitation whose purpose is to maintain production levels are recognized in profit or loss when incurred.

Exploration and evaluation costs such as: drillings of deposits, including expenses necessary to locate new mineralized areas and engineering studies to determine their potential for commercial exploitation are recognized in profit or loss, normally at the pre-feasibility stage.

Pre-operating and mine development expenses (normally after feasibility engineering is reached) incurred during the execution of a project and until its start-up are capitalized and amortized in relation to the future production of the mine. These costs include stripping of waste material, constructing the mine's infrastructure and other works carried out prior to the production phase.

Finally, costs for defining of new areas or deposit areas in exploitation and of mining operations (PP&E) are recognized in property, plant and equipment and are amortized through profit or loss over the period during which the benefits are obtained.

- k. Income taxes and deferred taxes - Codelco and its Chilean subsidiaries recognize annually income taxes based on the net taxable income determined as per the standards established in the Income Tax Law and Article 2 of D.L. 2398, Codelco also recognizes the specific tax on mining activities referred to in Law No 20026 of 2005, until December 31, 2023, and the Mining Royalty Tax referred to in Law No. 21590, as from January 1, 2024. Its foreign subsidiaries recognize income taxes according to the tax regulations of the respective countries.

In addition, Codelco's taxable income in each period is subject to the tax regime established in Article 26 of D.L. No. 1350, and it must pay the encumbrances in March, June, September, and December of each year, based on a provisional tax calculation.

The deferred taxes arising from temporary differences and other events that create differences between the accounting and tax bases of assets and liabilities, are recorded in accordance with the standards established in IAS 12 "Income tax".

Deferred taxes are also recognized for undistributed profits of subsidiaries and associates, at the remittance tax rate on dividends paid by these companies to the Corporation.

- l. Inventories - Inventories are measured at cost when such does not exceed net realizable value. Net realizable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale (i.e., marketing, sales, and distribution expenses). Costs of inventories are determined according to the following methods:
 - Finished products and products in process: These inventories are measured at their average production cost determined using the absorption costing method, including labor, depreciation of fixed assets, amortization of intangibles and indirect costs of each period. Inventories of products in process are classified in current and non-current, according to the normal cycle of operation

- Materials in warehouse: These inventories are valued at acquisition cost and the Corporation determines an allowance for obsolescence considering that slow-moving materials in the warehouse remain in stock.
 - Materials in transit: These inventories are measured at cost incurred at the end of reporting period. Any difference because of an estimate of net realizable value of the inventories lower than its carrying amount is recognized in profit or loss.
- m. Dividends – In accordance with Article 6 of D.L. 1350, the Corporation has a mandatory obligation to distribute its net income as presented in the financial statements. The payment obligation is recognized on an accrual basis.
- n. Employee benefits - Codelco recognizes a provision for employee benefits when there is a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of services rendered by its employees.

The employment contracts stipulate, subject to compliance with certain conditions, the payment of an employee severance indemnity when an employment contract ends. In general, this corresponds to one monthly salary per year of service and considers the components of the final remuneration which are contractually defined as the basis for the indemnity. This employee benefit has been classified as a defined benefit plan.

Codelco has also agreed to post-employment medical care benefits for certain retirees. This employee benefit has been classified as a defined benefit plan.

These plans continue to be unfunded as of September 30, 2024.

The employee severance indemnity and the post-employment medical plan obligations are determined using the projected unit credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each reporting period. The defined benefit plan obligations recognized in the statement of financial position represent the present value of the accrued obligations. Actuarial gains and losses are recognized immediately in other comprehensive income and will not be reclassified to profit or loss.

The Corporation's management uses assumptions to determine the best estimate of these benefits. The assumptions include an annual discount rate, expected increases in salaries and turnover rate, among other factors.

In accordance with its operating optimization programs to reduce costs and increase labor productivity by incorporating new current technologies and/or better management practices, the Corporation has established employee retirement programs by amending certain employment contracts or collective union agreements to include benefits encouraging employees to early retire, for which the necessary provisions are made based on the accrued obligation at current value. In case of employee retirement programs which involve multi-year periods, the accrued obligations are updated using a discount rate determined based on financial instruments denominated in the same currency and similar maturities that will be used to pay the obligations.

- o. Provisions for decommissioning and site restoration costs - The Corporation recognizes a provision for the estimated future costs of decommissioning and restoration of mining projects in development or production when a mining activity causes a disruption under a constructive or legal obligation. Costs are estimated on the basis of a formal closure plan and cost estimates are annually reviewed.

Costs arising from the obligation to dismantle a plant installation or other site preparation work, discounted to their present value, are provided for and capitalized at the beginning of each project or at the origin of the constructive or legal obligation as soon as the obligation to incur such costs arises.

These decommissioning and restoration costs are recorded in income through the depreciation of the asset that gave rise to such cost, and the use of the provision is made when the decommissioning materializes. Subsequent changes in estimates of decommissioning-related liabilities are added to or deducted from the costs of the related assets in the period in which the adjustment is made.

Other restoration costs, outside the scope of IAS 16, Property, Plant and Equipment, are provided for at their present value against operating results and the use of the provision is made in the period in which the restoration work is performed.

The accretion of the discount on a closure liability due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance expense in the statement of income.

- p. Leases - The Corporation evaluates its contracts at initial application to determine whether they contain a lease. The Corporation recognizes a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability for lease with respect to all lease agreements in which Codelco is the lessee, except for short-term leases (defined as a lease with a lease term of twelve months or less) and leases of low-value assets. For these leases, the Corporation recognizes the lease payments as an operating cost on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which the economic benefits of the leased assets are consumed.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that have not been paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease. If this rate cannot be easily determined, the Corporation uses the incremental borrowing rate.

The incremental rate for loans used by Codelco is determined by estimating the interest rate that the Corporation would have to pay for borrowing the necessary funds to obtain an asset of an equivalent nature similar in value to the right-of-use asset of the respective lease, in a similar economic environment over a similar term.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability mainly include fixed payments, variable payments that depend on an index or a rate and the exercise price of a purchase option. Variable payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are excluded.

The lease liability is subsequently measured as follows: the carrying amount increased to reflect the interest on the lease liability (using the effective rate method) and the carrying amount is reduced to reflect the lease payments made.

The Corporation revalues the lease liability as to the discount rate (and makes the corresponding adjustments to the asset for respective right of use) through a modified discount rate when:

- There is a change in the term of the lease, or
- There is a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset, or
- There is a change in an index or rate which generates a change in cash flows.

Right-of-use assets comprise the amount of the present value of payments not made at the contract inception date, and lease payments made before or up to the inception date, less lease incentives received and any initial direct costs incurred plus other decommissioning and site restoration costs. The right-of-use assets are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated losses due to impairment.

When the Corporation incurs a cost obligation to dismantle or remove a leased asset, restore the location in which it is located or restore the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease, a provision is recognized and measured in accordance with IAS 37. Costs are included in the corresponding right-of-use asset unless those costs are incurred to produce inventories.

The right-of-use assets are depreciated during the shorter period between the term of the lease and the useful life of the underlying asset. If a lease transfers the ownership of the underlying asset or the cost of the right-of-use asset reflects that the Corporation expects to exercise its option to purchase, the right-of-use asset is depreciated over the useful life of the underlying asset. Depreciation is made from the start date of the lease.

The Corporation applies IAS 36 to determine if a right-of-use asset is impaired and recognizes any impairment loss identified, as described in the accounting policy for "Property, plant and equipment".

q. Revenue from Contracts with Customers - Revenue is recognized in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring goods or services to customers.

- Sale of mineral goods and / or by-products: Contracts with customers for the sale of mineral goods and / or by-products include the performance obligation for the delivery of the physical goods and the associated transportation service, at the place agreed with the customers. The Corporation recognizes revenue from the sale of goods when the performance obligation is satisfied according to the shipment or dispatch of the products, in accordance with the agreed conditions, such revenue being subject to variations related to the content and / or sale price at the date of its liquidation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, there are some contracts where the performance obligation is satisfied when there is receipt of the product instead of the buyer's corresponding destination, thus recognizing revenue at the time of said transfer. When services of transport of goods are provided, the Corporation recognizes revenue when the service obligation is satisfied.

Sales that have discounts associated with volume subject to compliance with goals are recognized net, estimating the probability that the volume target will be reached.

Sales contracts include a provisional price at the shipment date. The final price is generally based on the London Metals Exchange ("LME") price. Revenue from sales of copper is measured using estimates of the future spread of metal prices on the LME and/or the spot price at the date of shipment, with subsequent adjustments made upon final pricing recognized as revenue. The terms of sales contracts with customers contain provisional pricing arrangements whereby the selling price for metal concentrate is based on prevailing spot prices on a specified future date after shipment to the customer (the "quotation period"). Consequently, the final price is set at the dates indicated in the contracts. Adjustments to provisional sale prices occur based on movements in quoted market prices on the LME up to the date of final pricing. The period between provisional invoicing and final pricing is typically between one and nine months. Changes in fair value over the quotation period and until final pricing are estimated by reference to forward market prices for applicable metals.

As indicated in the note related to hedging policies in the market of metal derivatives, the Corporation enters into operations in the market of metal derivatives. Gains and losses from those which are fair value hedges contracts are recognized as revenues.

- Rendering of services: Additionally, the Corporation recognizes revenue for rendering services, which are mainly related to the processing of minerals bought from third parties. Revenue from rendering of services is recognized when the amounts can be measured reliably and when the services have been provided.
- r. Derivatives contracts - Codelco uses derivative financial instruments to reduce the risk of fluctuations in sales prices of its products and of exchange rates.

Derivatives are initially recognized at fair value at the date the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently measured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period.

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges is recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity under the item "Cash flow hedge reserve." The gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is immediately recognized in profit or loss and included in the "Finance cost" or "Finance income" line items, depending on the effect of such ineffectiveness. The amount recognized in comprehensive income is reclassified to income, in the same line in which the effects generated by the hedged item are recorded once the results of the hedged transactions are recorded in the same line or until the maturity date of such transactions.

A hedge is considered highly effective when it meets the requirements of IFRS 9. At the time of discontinuation of the hedge contract or the associated designated accounting and according to the circumstances of each case, the accumulated gain/loss on the derivative instrument remains in equity until the hedge transaction occurs, or if discontinuation is expected to occur, the amount in equity is reclassified to profit or loss.

The total fair value of hedging derivatives is classified as "non-current financial asset or liability", if the remaining maturity of the hedged item is greater than twelve months, and as "current financial asset or liability" if the remaining maturity of the hedged item is less than twelve months.

The derivative contracts held by the Corporation have been entered into to apply the risk hedging policies and are accounted for as indicated below:

- Hedging policies for exchange rate risk: The Corporation enters into exchange rate derivatives to hedge exchange rate variations between the U.S. dollar and the currencies of transactions the Corporation undertakes. In accordance with the policies established by the Board of Directors, these hedge transactions are only entered into when there are recognized assets or liabilities, forecasts of highly probable transactions or firm commitments. The Corporation does not enter into derivative transactions for non-hedging purposes.
- Hedging policies for metal market prices risk: In accordance with the policies established by the Board of Directors, the Corporation entered into derivative contracts to reduce the inherent risks in the fluctuations of metal prices.

Hedging policies seek to protect expected cash flows from product sales operations by adjusting, when necessary, physical sales contracts to its commercial policy. When the sales commitments are fulfilled and the metal derivative contracts are settled, there is an offset between the results of the sales transactions and the results of hedging using metal derivatives.

Hedging transactions carried out by the Corporation in the metal derivatives market are not undertaken for speculative purposes.

- Embedded derivatives: The Corporation has established a procedure that allows for evaluation of the existence of embedded derivatives in financial and non-financial contracts. Where there is an embedded derivative, and the host contract is not a financial instrument and the characteristics and risks of the embedded derivative are not closely related to the host contract, the derivative is required to be recognized separately.

- s. Segment reporting - The Corporation has defined its Divisions as its operating segments in accordance with the requirements of IFRS 8, Operating Segments. The mining deposits in operation, where the Corporation conducts its extractive and processing activities are managed by the following Divisions: Chuquicamata, Radomiro Tomic, Ministro Hales, Gabriela Mistral, Salvador, Andina and El Teniente. In addition, the smelting and refining activities are managed at the Ventanas Division. From June 2023 the Ventanas Division only manages the refining area. All these Divisions have a separate operational management, which reports to the Chief Executive Officer, through the North and South-Central Vice-President of Operations, respectively. Main revenue and expenses items controlled by the Head Office are allocated to the Divisions.
- t. Presentation of Financial Statements - For purposes of IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements, the Corporation presents its statement of financial position classified as "current and non-current" and its statements of income "by function" and cash flows using the direct method.
- u. Current and non-current financial assets - The Corporation determines the classification of its financial assets at the time of initial recognition and reviews it at each closing date. The classification depends on the business model in which the investments are managed and the contractual characteristics of their cash flows.

The Corporation's financial assets are classified into the following categories:

- At fair value through profit or loss:
Initial recognition: This category includes those financial assets that do not qualify in the business model to collect contractual cash flows, nor do such cash flows come exclusively from capital and interest. These instruments are initially recognized at fair value.

Subsequent recognition: Their subsequent recognition is at fair value, recording in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, in the line "Other gains (losses)" any changes in fair value.
- Amortized cost:
Initial recognition: This category includes those financial assets that qualify in the business model and that are held for the purpose of collecting contractual cash flows and that meet the "Solely Payment of Principal and Interest" (SPPI) criterion. This category includes certain Trade and other current receivables, and the loans included in other non-current financial assets.

Subsequent recognition: These (debt) instruments are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. The amortized cost of a financial asset is the amount at which the financial asset is measured at initial recognition minus the principal repayments, plus the cumulative amortization using the effective interest method of any difference between that initial amount and the maturity amount, adjusted for any impairment allowance.

Interest income is recognized in profit or loss and is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset. For financial assets measured at amortized cost that are not part of a designated hedging relationship, exchange differences are recognized in profit or loss in the "Foreign exchange difference" line item.

- At fair value through other comprehensive income:

Initial measurement: Financial assets that meet the criteria "Solely payments of principal and interest" (SPPI) are classified in this category and must be maintained within a business model both to collect the cash flows and to sell the financial assets. These instruments are initially recognized at fair value. In this section, investments in equity instruments are also included.

Subsequent recognition: Their subsequent valuation is at fair value. Interest income calculated using the effective interest rate method, foreign exchange gains and losses, impairment, and dividends are recognized in income. Other net gains and losses are recognized in other comprehensive income. On derecognition, the gains and losses accumulated in comprehensive income while for investments in equity instruments, their reclassification is recorded in retained earnings. Codelco has irrevocably elected to present subsequent changes in the fair value of the investment in equity instruments in other comprehensive income.

v. Financial liabilities - Financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value net of transaction costs. Subsequent to their initial recognition, the valuation of the financial liabilities will depend on their classification, within which the following categories are distinguished:

- Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss: This category includes financial liabilities defined as held for trading.

Changes in fair value associated with own credit risk are recorded in other comprehensive income unless doing so creates an accounting mismatch.

- Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost: This category includes all financial liabilities other than those measured at fair value through profit or loss.

The Corporation includes in this category bonds, obligations and other current payables.

These financial liabilities are measured using the effective interest rate method, recognizing interest expense based on the effective rate.

The method of the effective interest rate corresponds to the method of calculating the amortized cost of a financial liability and the allocation of interest expenses during the corresponding period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments through the expected life of the financial liability, or where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Trade and other current payables are financial liabilities that do not explicitly accrue interest and are recognized at their nominal value, which approximates its fair value.

Financial liabilities are derecognized when the liabilities are paid or expire.

- w. Impairment of financial assets - The Corporation measures the loss allowance at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses for certain of its trade receivables. For these, it uses the simplified approach as required under IFRS 9.

The provision matrix is based on the Corporation's historical credit loss experience over the expected life of such trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates considering the most relevant macroeconomic factors that affect bad debts.

Other accounts receivable and other financial assets are reviewed using reasonable and sustainable information that is available without cost or disproportionate effort in accordance with IFRS 9 to determine the credit risk of the respective financial assets. A provision for impairment losses on trade receivables and other financial assets is established when there is objective evidence that the amounts due may not be fully recovered.

- x. Statement of cash flows - The statement of cash flows reflects changes in cash that took place during the period, determined under the direct method. The Corporation has defined the following:
- Cash flows: Inflows and outflows of cash or cash equivalents, which are defined as highly liquid investments maturing in less than three months with a low risk of changes in value.
 - Operating activities: Are the principal revenue-producing activities of the Corporation and other activities that are not investing or financing activities.
 - Investing activities: These are the acquisition and disposal of long-term assets and other investments not included in cash and cash equivalents.
 - Financing activities: These are activities that result in changes in the size and composition of net equity and borrowings of the Corporation.

Bank overdrafts are classified as external resources in current liabilities.

- y. Law No. 13196 - Under this law, the return in foreign currency of sales abroad of the Corporation's actual income from its copper production, including by-products, is taxed at 10%. The amount recognized for this concept is presented in the statement of income within the line item "Other expenses by function." (Note III.23 letter c).
- z. Cost of sales - Cost of sales is determined according to the absorption costing method, including the direct and indirect costs, depreciation, amortization and any other expenses directly attributable to the production process.
- aa. Classification of current and non-current balances - In the consolidated statement of financial position, the balances are classified according to their maturities, that is, as current for those with a maturity equal to or less than twelve months and as non-current for those with a greater maturity. Where there are obligations whose maturity is less than twelve months, but whose long-term refinancing is insured upon a decision by the Corporation whose intention is to refinance, through credit agreements available unconditionally with long-term maturity, these could be classified as non-current liabilities.

3. New standards and interpretations adopted by the Corporation

The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are consistent with those applied in the preparation of the Corporation's annual consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2023, except for the adoption of new standards, interpretations and amendments, effective from January 1, 2024, which are:

a) Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-Current (Amendments to IAS 1)

The amendments aim to promote coherence in applying its requirements by helping companies to determine whether, in the statement of financial position, debts and other liabilities with an uncertain settlement date must be classified as current (maturing or potentially maturing in one year or less) or not current. It is important to note that this amendment must be applied retrospectively and early application is permitted.

b) Lease liability on a sale and leaseback (Amendments to IFRS 16)

The amendment clarifies how a lessee subsequently measures sale and leaseback transactions that meet the requirements of IFRS 15 to be accounted for as a sale.

c) Non-current liabilities with covenants (Amendments to IAS 1)

The amendment clarifies how the conditions that an entity must meet within twelve months after the reporting period affect the classification of a liability.

d) Suppliers' financial agreements (Amendments to IAS 7 and IFRS 7)

The amendments add disclosure requirements and "signaling" within the existing disclosure requirements, which request entities to provide qualitative and quantitative information on suppliers financing arrangements.

The application of these amendments had no impact on the Corporation's consolidated financial statements, but may affect the accounting for future transactions or arrangements.

4. New accounting pronouncements

(1) Trade receivables correspond to the sales of copper and its by-products, those that in general are sold in cash or bank credit notes.

(2) Other receivables mainly consist of the following items:

- Remaining tax credit susceptible to refund VAT and other taxes receivable, amounting to ThUS$241,637 and ThUS$ 414,058 as of September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively.
- Receivables owed by the Corporation's personnel, for short-term and long-term current loans of ThUS$83,923 and ThUS$75,741, respectively (as of December 31, 2023 ThUS$83,778 and ThUS$70,079, respectively), both deducted monthly from their salaries. Mortgage loans granted to the Corporation's personnel amounting to ThUS$24,187, which are mainly long-term, are with mortgage guarantees (as of December 31, 2023 ThUS$26,604).
- Advances to suppliers and contractors, to be deducted from the respective payment statements for ThUS$95,022 and ThUS$117,332 as of September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, respectively.
- Accounts receivable for factory services to ENAMI. These services for the year 2024 amounted to ThUS$1,127. Additionally, in order to complement the commercial commitments between Codelco and ENAMI, the Corporation purchases copper concentrate and by-products and sells cathodes to ENAMI. Both Codelco and ENAMI are companies owned by the State of Chile.

(3) The Corporation recognizes an expected credit loss provision based on its expected credit loss model.

The reconciliation of changes in the expected credit loss provision, were as follows:

90 days - 1 year	1,325	65
Over 1 year	325	652
Total unprovisioned past-due debt	2,601	7,590

b) Accruals for open sales invoices

The Corporation adjusts its revenues and trade receivable balances, based on future copper prices through the recognition of an accrual for open sales invoices.

When future price of copper is lower than the provisional invoicing price, the accrual is presented in the statement of financial position as follows:

- For those customers that have due balances with the Corporation, the accrual is presented as a deduction from the line item trade and other current receivables.
- For those customers that do not have due balances with the Corporation, the accrual is presented in the line item trade and other current payables.

When the future copper price is higher than the provisional invoicing price, the accrual is added to the line item trade and other current receivables.

Accordingly, as of September 30, 2024, a positive provision of ThUS$125,120 was recorded in the account Trade and other receivables for provisions for unfinished sales invoices. As of December 31, 2023 it was a positive provision of ThUS$83,778.

As of September 30, 2024 and December 31, 2023, the negative provision for unfinished invoices, associated with clients that do not maintain balances owed to Codelco, was reclassified to the Trade payables item of current liabilities, ThUS$3,464 and ThUS$1, respectively, which added to the balance presented in the Trade debtors and other accounts receivable item, total a positive net provision of ThUS$121,656 and ThUS$83,777, respectively.

3. Balances and transactions with related parties

a) Transactions with related persons

In accordance with Law on New Corporate Governance, the members of Codelco's Board are, in terms of transactions with related persons, subject to the provisions of Title XVI of Law on Corporations, which sets the requirements regarding transactions with related parties in publicly traded companies and their subsidiaries.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, pursuant to the provisions of the final paragraph of Article 147 b) of Title XVI, which contains exceptions to the approval process for transactions with related parties, the Corporation has established a general policy over customary transactions (which was communicated through a significant event notice to the CMF), that defines customary transactions as those carried out with its related parties in the normal course of business, which contributes to the social interest and are necessary to the normal development of Codelco's activities.

Likewise, consistent with the referred to above standard, the Corporation has implemented as part of its internal regulatory framework, a specific policy dealing with business between related persons and companies with Codelco's executives. Codelco's Corporate Policy No.18 ("CCP No. 18"), the latest version currently in force, was approved by the Chief Executive Officer and the Board of Directors.

Accordingly, Codelco without the authorization required in CCP No. 18 and of the Board of Directors, as required by Law or by the Corporation by-laws, shall not enter into any contracts or agreements involving one or more Directors, its Chief Executive Officer, the members of Division's Managing Committees, Vice-presidents, Legal Counsel, General Auditor, Division Chief Executive Officers, Advisors of Senior Management, employees who must make recommendations and/or have the authority to award tenders, assignments of purchases and/or contracting goods and services, and employees in management positions (up to fourth hierarchical level in the organization), including their spouses, children and other relatives up to second degree of relation, with a direct interest, represented by third parties or on behalf of another person. Likewise, CCP No. 18 requires administrators of Corporation's contracts to declare all related persons and disqualify himself/herself if any related persons are involved within the field of his/her job responsibilities.

This prohibition also includes the companies in which such administrators are involved through ownership or management, either directly or through representation of other natural persons or legal entities, as well as those individuals who also have ownership or management in those companies.

The Board of Directors has been informed and approved certain transactions as defined in CCP No. 18.

These operations include those shown in the following table, for the total amounts mentioned, which must be executed within the time periods specified in each contract:

Foreign subsidiaries and associates have applied the tax rates in force in their respective countries.

Article 2 of Decree Law 2398 establishes an additional 40% income tax rate on the Corporation's taxable income plus the share of retained earnings of companies not organized as corporations or joint stock companies and the dividends actually received from the latter.

On September 2, 2020, Law No. 21256 was published in the Official Journal, for the tax measures that are part of the emergency plan for economic reactivation. According to Article No. 3, added Article No. 23 bis of Law 21210, incorporating a temporary depreciation regime that allows full and instant depreciation of fixed assets and that is in force for acquisitions carried out between September 1, 2020, and December 31, 2022. As a state company, the Corporation as a taxpayer that pays taxes based on effective income and complete accounting, availed itself of the indicated benefit as of tax year 2022.

Mining Taxes

On August 10, 2023, Law No. 21591 on Mining Royalty was published in the Official Gazette, effective as of January 1, 2024. The law establishes that the new mining royalty tax is comprised of two components: The ad valorem component and the mining margin component. The ad valorem component corresponds to 1% of copper sales and applies to miners whose copper sales represent more than 50% of total sales. The mining margin component applies a rate of between 8% and 26% on mining operating margins in the range of 20% to 80%.

Codelco has recognized in its third quarter financial statements the following effects for each component of the new Mining Royalty:

- Mining Margin Component: For the third quarter, a net deferred tax liability of US$62,680 was determined, which is presented in income tax expenses.
- Ad Valorem Component: For this same period, an Ad Valorem component of ThUS$84,744 was determined as a higher liability for this concept. It is presented in current liabilities, other provisions, in the statement of financial position and in other expenses by function, in the statement of income (see notes 17 and 23, respectively).

As of September 30, 2024, Codelco holds a 34% interest in the capital stock of Planta Recuperadora de Metales SpA, with control remaining with LS-Nikko Copper Inc. based on the elements of control described in the shareholders' agreement.

The principal business activity of the company is the processing of intermediate products of the refining and processing of copper and other metals aiming to recover copper, other metals and other sub products, their transformation to commercial products and the selling and distribution of all classes of goods or inputs derived from such process.

Anglo American Sur S.A.

The principal activities of the Company are the exploration, extraction, exploitation, production, processing and trading of minerals, concentrates, precipitates, copper bars and all metallic and non-metallic minerals, all fossil substances and liquid and gaseous hydrocarbons. This includes the exploration, exploitation and use of all natural energy sources capable of industrial use and the products or by-products obtained, as well as any other related, connected or complementary activities on which the shareholders agree.

On August 24, 2012, Codelco recognized the acquisition of ownership interest in Anglo American Sur S.A. which resulted in the initial recognition of the cost of the investment for ThUS$ 6,490,000 that corresponded to the proportionate share (29.5%) of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities acquired.

In determining the share of the fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities acquired, the Corporation considered the resources and mineral reserves that could be measured reliably. As part of this updating process, and applying the valuation criteria indicated above, the fair value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed of Anglo American Sur S.A. as of that date amounted to US$ 22,646 million, which in the proportion acquired by Inversiones Mineras Becrux SpA (29.5%) results in an investment at fair value of US $ 6,681 million at the acquisition date.

The allocation of the purchase price at fair value between the identifiable assets and liabilities was prepared by management using its best estimate and considering all relevant and available information at the acquisition date of Anglo American Sur S.A.

The Corporation used a discounted cash flows model to estimate cash flow projections, based on the life of mine. These projections were based on estimated production and future prices of minerals, operating costs and capital costs, among other estimates made at the date of acquisition. Additionally, proven and probable resources to explore were not included in the mine plan, therefore, they were valued separately using a market model. Such resources are included in item "Mineral Resources."

As of December 31, 2015, the Corporation identified indicators of impairment in the operating units of Anglo American Sur S.A. Consequently, and with the purpose of making the corresponding adjustments to the investment in this associate, the Corporation estimated its recoverable amount, considering the additional value of the assets identified at the date of acquisition of the investment.

In determining the recoverable amount, the Corporation applied the methodology of fair value less costs of disposal. The recoverable amount of the operating units was determined based on the life of mine by using a discounted cash flow model whose main assumptions included ore reserves declared by the associate, copper price, supply costs, foreign exchange rates, discount rate and market information for the long-term asset valuation. The discount rate used was an annual rate of 8% after taxes.

Furthermore, the resources not included in the mining plan (LOM) have been valued using a multiples market approach for comparable transactions. Such methodology is consistent with the methodologies used at the acquisition date, which is described in the previous paragraph.

Following recognition of the equity in earnings of the associate in accordance with the above details.

As of September 30, 2024, control on Anglo American Sur S.A. is held by Inversiones Anglo American Sur S.A. with 50.06%, while one of the companies that make up the non-controlling interest is Inversiones Mineras Becrux SpA., which is controlled by Codelco with 67.80% of the shares, and which exercises significant influence over Anglo American Sur S.A. with 29.5%.

As of December 31, 2023, the Corporation performed an evaluation of the value of its investment associated with Anglo American Sur S.A. and determined that the recoverable amount of the asset is less than the carrying value recorded, recognizing an impairment of ThUS$ 522,448 on the identifiable assets of the associate, which is recognized under the line "Equity in earnings (losses) of associates and joint ventures accounted for using equity method" in the statements of comprehensive income for the year 2023. The aforementioned impairment loss resulted from lower projected production and cost performance.

The recoverable amount for impairment purposes mentioned above was calculated using the fair value methodology less costs of disposal. The recoverable amount of the operating units was determined based on the life of mine by using a discounted cash flow model whose main assumptions included ore reserves declared by the associate, copper price, supply costs, foreign exchange rates, discount rate and market information for the long-term asset valuation. The discount rate used was annual rate of 6.77% after taxes. Furthermore, the proven reserves not included in the mining plan (LOM), as well as the probable reserves to explore, have been valued using a multiples market approach for comparable transactions.

Subsequent to the recognition of the equity in earnings (losses) of the associate as detailed above, no indications are observed that would require additional impairment of the recoverable amount of the investment held in Anglo American Sur S.A.

14. Fair Value of financial assets and liabilities

The fair value of financial assets other than equity instruments approximates their carrying value. Regarding equity instruments, see note 15.

Regarding financial liabilities, the following table shows a comparison as of September 30, 2024 between the carrying amount and the fair value of financial liabilities other than those whose carrying amount is a reasonable approximation of fair value:

Comparison book value vs fair value As of September 30, 2024	Accounting treatment for valuation	Book value ThUS$	Fair value ThUS$
Financial liabilities
Bond obligations	Amortized cost	20,154,067	18,423,462

15. Market value hierarchy for items at market value

Each of the market values calculated for the Corporation's portfolio of financial instruments is supported by a calculation methodology and data inputs. An analysis of each of these methodologies has been carried out to determine to which of the following levels they can be assigned:

- Level 1 corresponds to fair value measurement methodologies using market shares (unadjusted) in active markets to which the Corporation has access at the measurement date and considering identical Assets and Liabilities.
- Level 2 corresponds to fair value measurement methodologies using quoted market price data, not included in Level 1, that are observable for the Assets and Liabilities measured, either directly (prices) or indirectly (derived from prices). For hybrid contracts without finalized price: sales of metals with provisional prices for the period are adjusted to the market price at the end of the period. Gains and losses arising from the market valuation of open sales are recognized through adjustments to revenue in the income statement and to trade accounts receivable in the balance sheet. The forward prices at the end of the period are used for the sales of copper. These forward prices are quoted market prices on the LME. For currency swaps: they are valued using a discounted cash flow analysis valuation model that includes observable credit spreads and using the yield curve applicable over the life of the instruments.
- Level 3 corresponds to fair value measurement methodologies using valuation techniques that include data on the Assets and Liabilities valued, which are not based on significant observable market data.

Based on the methodologies, inputs, and definitions described above, the following market levels have been determined for the Corporation's portfolio of financial instruments held as of September 30, 2024:

Financial assets and liabilities at fair value classified by hierarchy	9-30-2024
	Level 1 ThUS$	Level 2 ThUS$	Level 3 ThUS$	Total ThUS$
Financial assets:
Hybrid contracts with non-finalized price	-	1,536,007	-	1,536,007
Cross-currency swap	-	117,351	-	117,351
Mutual funds shares	19,897	-	-	19,897
Metal futures contracts	224	-	-	224
Investment in equity instruments (*)	-	-	-	-
Financial liabilities:
Metal futures contracts	27,280	6,238	-	33,518
Cross-currency swap	-	4,467	-	4,467

(*) The transaction price is generally the best evidence of the initial fair value of an equity financial instrument. However, the Corporation may determine that the fair value of its equity instruments is different from the transaction price. This may occur when models are used to estimate the initial fair value of financial instruments. For these cases, the Corporation will account for the difference between the transaction amount and the fair value as a gain or loss only if the fair value is supported by a quoted price in an active market (Level 1 fair value hierarchy) or based on a valuation technique that uses only data from observable markets (Level 2 fair value hierarchy). As of September 30, 2024, in relation to its investment in equity instruments detailed in note 11, the Corporation is in the post-closing adjustment stage of the acquisition transaction, common in these purchase transactions. Therefore, with the information available to date, the fair value of the investment cannot be reliably determined in accordance with IFRS provisions, making the transaction price its best approximation. No transfers were made between the different levels of the market hierarchy for the reporting period.

No transfers were made between the different levels of the market hierarchy for the reporting period.

(2) Corresponds to provisions related to sales, which consider freight, stowage and unstowage expenses.

(3) Corresponds to provisions for future closure costs related mainly to tailings dams, closure of mine sites and other assets. This cost value is calculated at discounted present value, using cash flows relating to plans with an evaluation horizon ranging from 10 to 60 years. The rates used to discount future cash flows are calculated based on the Life of Mine "LOM" of each of the operations, distinguishing rates in UF for those obligations in Chilean pesos and rates in U.S. dollars for those obligations in U.S. dollars. These discount rates include the risks associated to the liability being determined, except for those included in the cash flows.

Below is a table with the discount rates used:

18. Employee benefits

a. Provisions for post-employment benefits and other long-term benefits

Provision for post-employment benefits mainly corresponds to employee severance indemnities and medical care plans. The provision for severance indemnities recognizes the contractual obligation that the Corporation has with its employees/retirees. The provision for medical care plans recognizes the contractual obligation that the Corporation has with its retirees to cover their medical care costs. Both benefits operate within the regulatory framework set forth in the collective bargaining or other agreements between the Corporation and its employees.

These provisions are recorded in the statement of financial position at the present value of the estimated future obligations. The discount rate used is determined based on the rate of financial instruments corresponding to the same currency in which the obligations will be paid and with similar maturities.

The defined benefit obligations are denominated in Chilean pesos; therefore the Corporation is exposed to foreign exchange rate risk.

The results arising from adjustments and changes in actuarial variables are charged or credited to the statement of comprehensive income for the period in which they occur.

During the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2024, there were no relevant modifications to the post-employment benefit plans.

The following actuarial assumptions were used in the actuarial calculation of the defined benefit plans:

Assumptions	9-30-2024		12-31-2023
	Retirement plan	Health plan	Retirement plan	Health plan

Expected Retirement Age (Men)	60	60	60	60

The discount rates correspond to the rates in the secondary market of government bonds issued in Chile. The projected annual inflation corresponds to an awareness above the long-term target publicly declared by the Central Bank of Chile and is derived from the market expectation as of December 31, 2023. The rotation rates have been determined after reviewing the Corporation's own experience by studying the cumulative behavior of outflows over the last three years with respect to the current allocations. The expected rate of salary increases has been estimated using the long-term behavior of historical salaries paid by the Corporation. The mortality tables used were those issued by the CMF, which are considered an appropriate representation of the Chilean market given the lack of comparable statistical series to develop independent studies. The financial duration of the liabilities corresponds to the average maturity of the payment flows of the respective defined benefits.

28. Risk management

Corporación Nacional del Cobre de Chile has created instances within its organization that seek to generate strategies to minimize the financial risks to which it may be exposed.

The risks to which Codelco is exposed and a brief description of the management procedures that are carried out in each case, are described below.

a. Financial risks

- Exchange rate risk:

According to IFRS 7, exchange rate risk is understood to be the risk that arises from financial instruments that are denominated in foreign currencies, that is, a currency other than the Corporation's functional currency (US dollar).

Codelco's activities that generate this exposure correspond to funding in UF, accounts payable and receivable and provisions in Chilean pesos, other foreign currencies used in its business operations and obligations with employees.

Most transactions in currencies other than US$ are denominated in Chilean pesos. Also, there is another portion in Euro, which corresponds mainly to a long-term loan issued through the international market, which exchange rate risk is mitigated with hedging instruments (Swap).

Taking into consideration the financial assets and liabilities as of September 30, 2024 as the base, a fluctuation (positive or negative) of 10 Chilean pesos against the U.S. dollar (keeping the other variables constant), could affect profits before taxes by US$31 million in profit or loss, respectively. This result is obtained by identifying the main items (including assets and financial liabilities) denominated in foreign currencies in order to measure the impact on profit or loss that a variation of +/- 10 Chilean pesos would have in terms of US$, with respect to the closing exchange rate at the end of the reporting period.

There are operating and investment expenses that are subject to price-level restatements associated with inflationary adjustments in the economic environment in which the Corporation operates. The Corporation periodically monitors the effects of these price-level restatements on its results in order to detect unusual situations that could have a significant financial impact.

Based on current conditions, the Corporation has not entered into, nor does it intend to enter into, derivative contracts specifically to hedge the effects discussed in the preceding paragraph.

If financial assets and liabilities are considered as of September 30, 2024, a 1% fluctuation (positive or negative) in the value of UF in Chilean pesos (with all other variables held constant) could affect the pre-tax result by an estimated US$14 million loss or gain, respectively. This result is obtained by identifying the main items affected by exchange differences, both financial assets and liabilities, in order to measure the impact on income that a 1% variation in the value of the UF, used at the date of presentation of the financial statements, would have.

- Interest rate risk

This risk arises from interest rate fluctuations in Codelco's investment and financing activities. This movement can affect future cash flows or the market value of fixed rate financial instruments.

These rate variations refer to U.S. dollar variations, mostly with respect to the LIBOR rate. To manage this risk, Codelco maintains an adequate combination of fixed and variable rate debt, which is complemented by the possibility of using interest-rate derivatives to meet the strategic guidelines defined by Codelco's Vice-Presidency of Finance

It is estimated that, based on net debt at September 30, 2024, a one percentage point change in the interest rates of credit financial liabilities subject to variable interest rates would result in a change in annual interest expense of approximately US$10 million, before taxes. This estimation is made by identifying the liabilities assigned variable interest, accrued at the end of the financial statements, which may vary with a change of one percentage point in variable interest rates

The concentration of obligations that Codelco maintains at fixed and variable rates at September 30, 2024, corresponds to a total of ThUS$20,154,067 and ThUS$2,079,149, respectively.

b. Market risk.

- Commodity price risk:

As a result of its commercial operations and activities, the Corporation's income is mainly exposed to the volatility of copper prices and certain sub-products such as gold and silver.

Copper and molybdenum sales contracts generally establish provisional sales prices at the time of shipment of such products, while the final price will be considered based on a monthly average price determined by the market for future periods. At the reporting date, sales of provisionally priced products are adjusted to fair value and the effect is recorded in the results of operations for the period. Forward prices at the period-end are used for copper sales, while period-end average prices are used for molybdenum concentrate sales due to the absence of an assets futures market. (See Note 2.q) "Income from Activities Ordinary Procedures from Contracts with Customers" of section II "Main Accounting Policies").

As of September 30, 2024, if the future price of copper fluctuates by + / - 5% (with the other variables constant), the result would be +/- US$207 million before taxes as a result of setting the mark to market of sales revenue to provisional prices in effect as of September 30, 2024 (MTMF 439). For the estimate indicated, all of those physical sales contracts were valued according to the monthly average immediately following the close of the financial statements, and proceeds to be estimated regarding what the final settlement price would be if there is a difference of + / - 5% with respect to the future price known to date for this period

In order to protect cash flow and adjust, where necessary, its sales contracts to its trade policy, the Corporation holds operations in futures markets. At the end of the reporting period, these contracts are adjusted to fair value, recording this effect, at the settlement date of the hedging transactions as part of net product sales.

The Corporation has not entered into any hedging transactions with the specific purpose of hedging the price risk caused by fluctuations in prices of production inputs.

c. Liquidity risk

The Corporation ensures that it has sufficient resources, such as pre-approved credit lines (including refinancing), in order to meet short-term requirements, after considering the necessary working capital for its operations and any other commitments it has.

In this sense, the Corporation maintains resources at its disposal sufficient to meet its obligations, whether in cash, liquid financial instruments or credit facilities.

In addition, the Finance Department constantly monitors the Corporation's cash flow projections based on short- and long-term projections and available financing alternatives. In addition, the Corporation estimates that it has enough headroom to increase the level of borrowing for the normal requirements of its operations and investments established in its development plan.

In this context, according to current existing commitments with creditors, the cash requirements to cover financial liabilities classified by maturity and presented in the statement of financial position are detailed as follows:

Maturity of financial as of 30-09-2024	Less than 1 year ThUS$	Between one five years ThUS$	Over years ThUS$
Loans from financial entities	118,933	971,410	968,806
Bonds	874,859	3,892,035	15,387,173
Derivatives	28,110	8,238	3,637
Other financial liabilities	-	89,270	-
Total	1,021,902	4,960,953	16,379,616

d. Credit risk

This risk comprises the possibility that a third party does not fulfill its contractual obligations, thereby causing a loss for the Corporation.

Given the Corporation's sales policy, principally with cash and advance payments and bank letters of credit, the uncollectible of client debt balances is minimal. This is complemented by the familiarity the Corporation has with its clients and the length of time it has operated with them. Therefore, the credit risk of these transactions is not significant.

The indications with respect to the payment conditions to the Corporation are detailed in every sales contract and the negotiation management is under the charge of the Commercial Vice-Presidency.

In general, the Corporation's other accounts receivable have a high credit quality according to the Corporation's evaluations, based on each debtor's solvency analysis and payment history.

The maximum exposure to credit risk as of September 30, 2024 is represented by the financial asset items presented in the Corporation's Statement of Financial Position.

The Corporation's accounts receivable does not include customers with balances that could be classified as a significant concentration of debt and would represent a material exposure for Codelco. This exposure is distributed among many clients and other counterparties.

In the customer items, the provisions, which are not significant, are included based on the review of the outstanding balances and characteristics of the clients, destined to cover eventual insolvencies.

Explanatory note 2 "Trade and other receivables" shows past due and not provisioned balances.

The Corporation estimates that unimpaired amounts overdue over 30 days are recoverable based on clients' historical payment behavior and their existing credit ratings.

As of September 30, 2024 and 2023, there are no receivable balances that have been renegotiated.

Codelco works with major banks, which have high national and international ratings, and continually assesses them; therefore, the risk that could affect the availability of the Corporation's funds and financial instruments is not significant.

Also, in some cases, to minimize credit risk, the Corporation has contracted credit insurance policies through which it transfers to third parties the commercial risk associated with some aspects of its business.

During the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, no guarantees have been executed in relation to ensure the collection of third party debt.

Personnel loans mainly relate to mortgage loans, according to programs included in union agreements, which are paid for through payroll discounts.

e. Other relevant risks

As a complement to the management of financial risks, during the year 2023 the corporation focused on the development of the capacity for the surveillance of strategic risks, in order to keep their treatment and exposure levels updated. In addition, it has monitored and reported those situations in which risks were trending upwards, which has allowed us to provide a holistic view to the Board of Directors regarding the most relevant issues. Initiatives to strengthen the company's risk culture also continued.

This is reinforced by the current corporate governance through which systematic reviews are held in corporate risk committees and quarterly board committee meetings.

Our risk management program considers that risk predisposition and risks may change over time, requiring management actions to respond to these changes according to the context.

Information regarding the main risks considered by Codelco is included in the Annual Report as of 2022.

29. Derivatives contracts.

The Corporation has entered transactions to hedge cash flows, to minimize the risk of foreign exchange rate variations and sales price variations, detailed as follows:

a. Exchange rate hedge

The Corporation maintains an exposure associated with its foreign exchange hedging operations, the balance of which corresponds to a net deferred tax profit recognized in equity amounting to ThUS$ 5,210 as of September 30, 2024.

The following table shows details of the fair value and other information of the financial hedges contracted by the Corporation:

b. Cash flows hedging contracts and commercial policy adjustment

The Corporation trades in the copper, gold and silver derivative markets and records its results upon termination. These results are added to or deducted from sales revenues. As of September 30, 2024, these operations generated a lower net realized result of ThUS$13,943.

b.1. Commercial flexibility operations of copper contracts

Its objective is to adjust the price of sales to the Corporation's sales policy, which is defined according to the London Metal Exchange. As of September 30, 2024, the Corporation has copper derivative transactions associated with 270,135 metric tons of fine copper. These hedging transactions are performed as part of the Corporation's commercial policy.

The current contracts as of September 30, 2024, present a negative balance of ThUS$35,518 and their final result will only be known at their maturity, offsetting the hedging transactions with revenue from the sale of the hedged products.

Operations completed between January 1 and September 30, 2024, generated a net negative effect in results of ThUS$14,326, corresponding to values for physical sales contracts for a negative amount of ThUS$10,556 and values for physical purchase contracts for a negative amount of ThUS$3,770.

b.2. Trade operations of current gold and silver contracts.

As of September 30, 2024, the Corporation has derivative contracts for gold amounting to OZT 2,813 and silver amounting to OZT 59,050.

The contracts in force at September 30, 2024 show a positive exposure of ThUS$ 224, the final result of which will only be known at maturity of these operations, after offsetting between the hedging operations and the income from the sale of the hedged products. These hedging operations expire in November 2024.

As of September 30, 2024, the Corporation has completed gold and silver operations, which generated a net positive effect on income of ThUS$383 corresponding to the value of physical sales contracts.

b.3. Cash flow hedging operations backed by future production

The Corporation has no outstanding transactions as of September 30, 2024, arising from these operations, which protect future cash flows by locking in price levels for the sale of part of its production

The following tables set forth the maturities of metal hedging activities, as referred to in point b above:

30. Contingencies and restrictions

a) Lawsuits and contingencies

There are various lawsuits and legal actions initiated by or against the Corporation, which derive from its operations and the industry in which it operates. In general, these are civil, tax, labor and mining litigations, all related to the Corporation's activities.

In the opinion of Management and its legal advisors, the lawsuits where the Corporation is being sued and could have negative results do not represent significant loss contingencies or cash flows. Codelco defends its rights and makes use of all the corresponding legal and procedural instances and resources.

The most relevant lawsuits filed by Codelco relate to the following matters:

- Tax Proceedings: There is a tax proceeding for liquidation No.141 of tax year 2015 and Exempt Resolution No. 89 of 2016 issued by the Internal Revenue Service (SII), for which the Corporation presented the corresponding appeals, which were received and resolved in favor of the Tax and Customs Courts, a resolution that was appealed by the SII.

- Labor lawsuits: Labor proceedings brought by the workers against the Corporation, regard to occupational diseases, labor accidents and other matters.

- Mining proceedings and others arising from the operation: The Corporation has been participating, and will probably continue to participate, as plaintiff and defendant in given court proceedings involving its mining operation and activities, through which it seeks to exercise certain actions or set up certain defenses in relation to given mining concessions that have been established or are in the process of being established, as well as also with regard to its other activities. These proceedings currently do not involve any given amount and do not have any essential effect on Codelco's development.

As of September 30, 2024, there are arbitration lawsuits pending final judgment, between Codelco and Consorcio Belaz Movitec SpA. and Codelco and between and Obras Subterráneas S.A., Agencia en Chile (OSSA).

During the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2024, there are no lawsuits or other proceedings representing 10 percent or more of the Corporation's total outstanding lawsuits.

At the date of issuance of these interim consolidated financial statements, the Codelco faces various lawsuits and legal actions against it for a total of approximately ThUS$435,854 corresponding to 1,061 cases, with an estimated loss amount of ThUS$60,532. According to the estimate made by the legal advisors of the Corporation, 877 cases, which represent 82.66% of the universe, have associated probable loss results amounting to ThUS$60,532 (Additionally, with the same probable results, there are 3 cases for ThUS$10 ThUS arising from subsidiaries). There are also 135 cases, representing 11.72% for an amount of ThUS$ 327, for which it is less likely than not, that the ruling will be against the Corporation. For the remaining 49 cases, representing 4.62% for an amount of ThUS$ 21, the Corporation's legal advisors consider an unfavorable result to be remote.

For litigation with probable loss and its costs, there are the necessary provisions, which are recorded as contingency provisions.

b) Other commitments.

- i. Law No. 19993 dated December 17, 2004, authorized the purchase of the Refinery and Smelter Las Ventanas assets from ENAMI, establishing that the Corporation must ensure that the smelting and refining capacity required is maintained, without any restriction and limitation, for treating the products of the small and medium mining sector sent by ENAMI, under the form of toll production or another form agreed upon by the parties. (See paragraph described in number ix, where the modification of this law is mentioned).

- ii. Obligations with the public for bond issues means that the Corporation must meet certain restrictions related to limits on pledges and leaseback transactions on its principal assets and on its ownership interest in subsidiaries.

The Corporation has complied with these conditions as of September 30, 2024 and 2023.

- iii. On January 20, 2010, the Corporation signed two energy supply contracts with Colbún S.A., which includes energy and power sales and purchases for a total of 510 MW of power. The contract provides a discount for that unconsumed energy from Codelco's SIC divisions with respect to the amount of contracted power. The discount is equivalent to the value of the sale of that energy on the spot market.

The contracted power for supplying these Divisions is comprised by two contracts:

- Contract No.1 for 176 MW, current until December 2029.
- Contract No.2 for 334 MW, current until December 2044. This contract is based on energy production from Colbún's Santa María thermal power station, which is currently in operation. This plant is coal-fired, and therefore the electric energy tariff rate applied for the energy supplied to Codelco is linked to the price of coal.

Both of these contracts comply with Codelco's long-term energy and power requirements from the SIC of approximately 510 MW.

Through these contracts, which operate through take or pay, the Corporation agrees to pay for the contracted energy and Colbún undertakes to reimburse at market price the energy not consumed by Codelco

On October 27, 2022, Codelco signed an amendment to the contract, which, among other aspects, will allow replacing the coal-based electricity supply with a renewable energy supply. This transformation will be implemented gradually, and as of January 1, 2026 the contract will be for 1,000 GWh/year of renewable energy.

- iv. For the electric power supply of the Chuquicamata's work center, the following contracts are maintained:

For the electric power supply of the Chuquicamata's work center, there are three contracts:

- Contract with Engie for a 15-year term as from January 2010, that is maturing in December 2024, for 200 MW capacity, and another contract for a 200 MW capacity which was signed in January 2018 and will be effective as of January 2025 with maturity in December 2035.
- Contract with CTA effective as from 2012 for 80 MW capacity, maturity in 2032.

On May 3, 2024, Codelco signed amendment No. 5 to the contract with CTA, whereby the parties agree to commercial changes to the contract, along with decarbonization of the contract as of 2026.

- v. On August 26, 2011, Codelco signed two energy supply contracts with AESGener. The first one for the Minister Hales division for a 99 MW capacity and the second contract for the Radomiro Tomic work center, for a maximum capacity of 145 MW. Both contracts will mature in 2028.

In December 2022, the respective agreements were renegotiated and signed. The agreement implies the modification of the original contracts and a new renewable sources contract effective from 2023 to 2040.

- vi. On February 28, 2024, Codelco signed three corporate electricity supply contracts based on renewable energy with the companies Atlas Energía Dos SpA, Colbún S.A. and Innergex Energía Renovable SpA, which start their supply on January 1, 2026 and have a termination date of December 31, 2040. The contract with Atlas Energía Dos is for 375 GWh/year of energy, the contract with Colbún is for 1100 GWh/year of energy and finally the contract with Innergex Energía Renovable is for 350 GWh/year of energy.
- vii. On November 11, 2011, Law No. 20551 was published in the Official Journal, which regulates the tasks and closure of mining facilities. Additionally, on November 22, 2012, the Supreme Decree No. 41 of the Minister of Mining, which approves the Regulations of this Law, was published in the Official Gazette.

This law requires the Corporation, among other requirements, to provide financial guarantees to the State to ensure the implementation of closure plans. It also establishes the obligation to make contributions to a fund which aims to cover the costs of post-closure activities.

The Corporation, in accordance with the regulations, delivered in 2014 to the National Geology and Mining Service (SERNAGEOMIN) the mine closure plans for each of the eight divisions of Codelco. These closure plans were developed under the transitional regime of the Law, specified for mining companies affected by the general application procedure, which are those with extraction capacity > 10,000 tons/month, and that at the date of entry into force of the Law were in operation, and with a closure plan previously approved under the Mining Safety Regulation D.S. No. 132.

All these transitional closure plans were approved in 2015 in accordance with the provisions established in the Law.

The law also established the obligation to update these closure plans, under the conditions of the general regime of the law, which incorporates new and greater requirements for the closure plans, five years after its entry into force, i.e. in 2020 in the case of Codelco. This calendar was brought forward to 2019 due to operational particularities for the Chuquicamata and Ventanas Divisions, and postponed to 2021 by SERNAGEOMIN, due to the COVID19 pandemic for the entire industry, and therefore for all other divisions.

In compliance with this new schedule, Codelco approved in 2021 the updated closure plans for the El Teniente, Radomiro Tomic, Ministro Hales and Gabriela Mistral Divisions, and as of December 31, 2021, the approval of the updated plans for the Salvador and Andina Divisions is in process. During the year 2022, Codelco obtained the approval of the updated closure plans of the Salvador and Andina divisions. The Corporation has provided the corresponding guarantees committed in all the approved closure plans, in accordance with the latest updates in force.

As of September 30, 2024, the Corporation has agreed guarantees for an annual amount of UF 80,496,051 to comply with the aforementioned Law No. 20551 (see note No. 31).

- viii. On August 24, 2012, Codelco through its subsidiary Inversiones Mineras Nueva Acrux SpA (Nueva Acrux) (whose minority shareholder is Mitsui), signed a contract with Anglo American Sur S.A. Under this contract, Codelco agreed to sell a portion of its annual copper production to the mentioned subsidiary, who in turn agrees to purchase such production.

Such annual portion is determined by the share of Codelco's indirect subsidiary, Inversiones Mineras Becrux SpA (also shared ownership with Mitsui), maintained for the shares of Anglo-American Sur S.A.

In turn, the subsidiary Nueva Acrux agrees to sell to Mitsui, the products purchased under the agreement described in the preceding paragraphs.

The contract expiration will occur when the shareholders agreement of Anglo-American Sur S.A. ends or other events related to the completion of mining activities of the company take place.

- ix. On June 17, 2022, Codelco's Board of Directors agreed to move forward with preparations to cease operation of the Ventanas Smelter, subject to parliament amending Law No. 19993 within a limited period of time, whose scope referred exclusively to the smelter and not to the refinery or other operations of the Ventanas Division. For this measure to be carried out, it required the amendment and approval by the Executive and the Legislature of Law No. 19993, which obliged the Corporation to smelt the minerals of Empresa Nacional de Minería (ENAMI) at the Ventanas Smelter.

On March 6, 2023, Congress approved the modification of the aforementioned law, allowing this obligation to be fulfilled by other smelters and refineries of Codelco Chile.

Later, in May, the National Geology and Mining Service (Sernageomin) authorized Codelco the temporary closure plan for the Ventanas smelter, which will have an initial duration of two years, extendable for another three, during which time engineering will be developed and permits will be processed to move on to the definitive closure stage, which considers, among other actions, the dismantling of the smelter facilities.

On May 31, 2023, the Ventanas smelter furnaces were shut down.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards issued by the International Accounting Standards Board, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Corporation's ability to continue as a going concern for a foreseeable future.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Generally Accepted Auditing Standards in Chile will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the consolidated financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with Generally Accepted Auditing Standards in Chile, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Corporation's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Corporation's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and any internal control significant deficiency and material weakness that we identified during the audit.

CORPORACIÓN NACIONAL DEL COBRE DE CHILE
NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
AS OF DECEMBER 31, 2023 AND DECEMBER 31, 2022
(Monetary values in thousands of United States dollars, unless another currency or unit is indicated)

I. GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Corporate information

Corporación Nacional del Cobre de Chile (hereinafter referred to as “Codelco” or the “Corporation”), is, in Management’s opinion, the largest copper producer in the world. Codelco’s most important product is refined copper, primarily in the form of cathodes. The Corporation also produces copper concentrates, blister and anode copper and by-products such as molybdenum, anode slime and sulfuric acid.

The Corporation trades its products based on a policy aimed to sell refined copper to manufacturers or producers of semi-manufactured products.

These products contribute to diverse fields of community development, particularly those intended to improve areas such as public health, energy efficiency, and sustainable development, among others.

The Corporation is registered under Securities Registry No. 785 of the Chilean Commission for the Financial Market (the “CMF”) and is subject to its supervision. According to Article No. 10 of Law No. 20392 (related to the new Corporate Governance of Codelco), such supervision shall be on the same terms as publicly traded companies, notwithstanding the provisions in Decree Law (D.L.) No.1349 of 1976, which created the Comisión Chilena del Cobre (“Chilean Copper Commission”).

Codelco’s head office is in Santiago, Chile, at 1270 Huérfanos Street, telephone number (56-2) 26903000.

Codelco was incorporated through D.L. No. 1350 of 1976, which is the statutory decree applicable to the Corporation. In accordance with the statutory decree, Codelco is a government-owned mining, industrial and commercial company, which is a separate legal entity with its own equity. Codelco Chile currently carries out its mining business through its Chuquicamata, Radomiro Tomic, Ministro Hales, Gabriela Mistral, Salvador, Andina, El Teniente and Ventanas divisions.

The Corporation also carries out similar activities in other mining deposits in association with third parties.

In accordance with letter e) of Article 10 of Law No. 20392, Codelco is governed by its organic standards set forth in Decree Law No. 1350 (D.L. No. 1350) and that of its by-laws, and in matters not covered by them and, insofar as they are compatible and do not contradict the provisions of such standards, by the rules that govern publicly traded companies and the common laws as applicable to them.

In accordance with D.L. No. 1350 Section IV related to the Company's Exchange and Budget Regulations. Codelco's financial activities are conducted following an annual budgeting program that is composed of an Operations Budget, an Investment Budget, and a Debt Amortization Budget.

The income obtained by Codelco in each period is subject to the tax regime established in Article 26 of D.L. N°1,350, which refers to Decree Laws N° 824, on Income Tax, of 1974, and N°2,398 (Article 2), of 1978, which are applicable to Codelco. It is also subject to the terms of Law No. 20,026 of 2005 on Specific Tax on Mining, which was in force until December 31, 2023. As of January 1, 2024, the Corporation will begin to apply Law No. 21,591 on mining royalties.

According to Law No. 13196, the return on foreign currency of the Corporation's foreign sales (real income), of its copper production, including its by-products, is taxed at 10% and method of payment and the duration of this obligation for Codelco, which are detailed in Note III.22 letter c) of this report.

The subsidiaries whose financial statements are included in these consolidated financial statements correspond to companies located in Chile and abroad, which are detailed in Note II.2.d.

The associates, all located in Chile, are detailed in the explanatory note in section III.9.

In preparing these consolidated financial statements, the use of certain critical accounting estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of assets and liabilities recognized as of the date of the financial statements and the amounts of revenue and expenses recognized during the reporting period is required. Such preparation also requires the Corporation's Management to exercise its judgment in the process of applying the Corporation's accounting policies. The areas involving a greater degree of judgment or complexity or areas in which the assumptions and estimates are significant for the consolidated financial statements are described as follows:

- a) Useful economic lives and residual values of property, plant and equipment: the useful lives and residual values of property, plant and equipment that are used for calculating depreciation are determined based on technical studies prepared by internal specialists. The technical studies consider specific factors related to the use of assets.

Where there are indications that the useful lives of these assets or their residual values may have changed from previous estimates, this should be done using technical estimates to determine the impact of any changes.

- b) Ore reserves: the measurements of ore reserves are based on estimates of the ore resources that are legally and economically exploitable and reflect the technical and environmental considerations of the Corporation regarding the amount of resources that could be exploited and sold at prices exceeding the total cost associated with the extraction and processing.

The Corporation applies judgment in determining the ore reserves, and as such, possible changes in these estimates might significantly impact the estimates of net revenues over time. In addition, these changes might lead to modifications in usage estimates, which might have an effect on depreciation and amortization expense, calculation of stripping cost adjustments, determination of impairment losses, expected future disbursements related to decommissioning and restoration obligations, long term defined benefits plans' accounting and the accounting for financial derivative instruments.

The Corporation estimates its reserves and mineral resources based on the information certified by the Competent Persons internal and external of the Corporation, who are defined and regulated according to Law No. 20235. These estimates correspond to the application of the Certification Code of Ore Reserves, Resources and Exploration, issued by the Mining Committee which was instituted through the law.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Corporation periodically reviews its estimation models, supported by experts who, in some divisions, also certify the reserves determined from these models.

- c) Impairment of non-financial assets: the Corporation reviews the carrying amount of its non-financial assets to determine whether there is any indication that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. If any such indicator exists, the recoverable amount of the assets is estimated to determine the extent of the impairment loss. In testing impairment, the assets are grouped into cash generating units ("CGUs") to which the assets belong, if applicable. The recoverable amount of these CGUs is calculated as the present value of the expected future cash flows from such assets, considering a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. If the recoverable amount of the assets is lower than their carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognized.

The Corporation defines the CGUs and also estimates the timing and cash flows that such CGUs will generate. Subsequent changes in the grouping of the CGU, or changes in the assumptions supporting the estimates of cash flows or the discount rate, may impact the carrying amounts of the corresponding assets.

Estimates of assumptions influencing the calculation of cash flows, such as the price of copper or treatment charges and refining charges, among others, are determined based on studies conducted by the Corporation using uniform criteria over different periods. Any change in these criteria may have an impact on the recoverable amount of the assets being tested for impairment.

The Corporation has assessed and defined that the CGUs are constituted at the level of each of its current operating divisions, with the exception of the Ventanas Division Smelter and Refinery operations, which are analyzed separately.

In assessing impairment in subsidiaries and associates, the Corporation uses the higher of value in use or fair value less costs to determine the recoverable amount. This recoverable amount may consider elements such as Life of Mine (LOM), reserves and/or mining resources, among others, for mining operation evaluations. In addition, the evaluation may incorporate market variables such as for example, the price of copper and other commodities, cost of production inputs, exchange rates, discount rates and other market information for long-term asset valuation.

- d) Provisions for decommissioning and site restoration costs: when a disruption is caused by the ongoing development or production of a mining property, an obligation to incur decommissioning and restoration costs arises. Costs are estimated based on a formal closure plan and are reassessed as of each reporting period or as of the date such obligations become known. The initial estimate of decommissioning and site restoration costs is recognized as property, plant, and equipment in accordance with IAS 16, and simultaneously a liability in accordance with IAS 37, is recorded.

For these purposes, a defined list of mine sites, facilities and other equipment are studied under this process, considering the engineering level profile, the cubic meters of assets that will be subject to removal and restoration, weighted by a structure of market prices of goods and services, reflecting the best current knowledge related to carrying out such activities, as well as techniques and more efficient construction procedures to date. In the process of valuation of these activities, the assumptions of the exchange rate for tradable goods and services are made, as well as a discount rate, which considers the time value of money and the risks associated with the liabilities, which is determined based, where applicable, on the currency in which disbursements are expected to be made.

The liability amounts recognized at the end of each reporting date represent management's best estimate of the present value of the future decommissioning and site restoration costs. Changes in the estimate of the liability because of changes in the estimated future costs or in the discount rate are added to or deducted from the respective asset cost. The amount deducted from the cost of the asset shall not exceed its carrying amount. If a decrease in the liability exceeds the carrying amount of the asset, the excess is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

If the adjustment results in an addition to the cost of the asset, Codelco considers whether this is an indicator that the new carrying amount of the asset may not be fully recoverable. If such an indicator exists, Codelco tests the asset for impairment by estimating its recoverable amount, and accounts for any impairment loss in accordance with IAS 36.

Costs arising from the installation of a plant or other site preparation work, discounted to their net present value, are provided for and capitalized at the beginning of each project as soon as the obligation to incur such costs arises. These decommissioning costs are charged to net income over the life of the mine, through depreciation of the corresponding asset. Depreciation expense is included in cost of sales, while the discount in the provision is included in finance costs.

- e) Provisions for employee benefits: Provisions for employee benefits related to severance payments and health benefits for services rendered by the employees are determined based on actuarial calculations using the projected unit credit method and are recognized in other comprehensive income or s (depending on the accounting standards applicable) on an accrual basis

The Corporation uses assumptions to determine the best estimate of future obligations related to these benefits. Such estimates, as well as assumptions, are determined by management using the assistance of external actuaries. These assumptions include demographic assumptions, discount rate and expected salary increases and rotation levels, among other factors.

- f) Accruals for open invoices: the Corporation uses information on future copper prices, through which it recognizes adjustments to its revenues and trade receivables, due to the conditions in provisional pricing arrangements. These adjustments are updated monthly, See Notes 2 q) “Revenue from contracts with customers” of Note 2 “Significant accounting policies” below.
- g) Fair value of derivatives and other financial instruments: management may use its judgment to choose an adequate and proper valuation method for financial instruments that are not quoted in an active market. In the case of derivative financial instruments, assumptions are based on observable market inputs, adjusted depending on factors specific to the instruments among others.
- h) Lawsuits and contingencies: The Corporation assesses the probability of lawsuits and contingency losses on an ongoing basis according to estimates performed by its legal advisors. For cases in which management and the Corporation’s legal advisors believe that a loss is not probable of occurring or where probable, may not be estimated reliably, no provisions are recognized. When it is considered more likely than not that a loss is probable and it may be reliably estimated, a provision is recognized.
- i) Application of IFRS 16: includes the following:
- Estimation of the lease term
 - Determine if it is reasonably certain that an extension or termination option will be exercised.
 - Determination of the appropriate rate to discount lease payments
- j) Revenue recognition: the Corporation determines appropriate revenue recognition for its contracts with customers by analyzing the type, terms and conditions of each contract or agreement with a customer.

As part of the analysis, the management must make judgments about whether an agreement or contract is legally enforceable, and whether the agreement includes separate performance obligations. In addition, estimates are required to allocate the total price of the transaction to each performance obligation based on the stand-alone selling price of the promised goods or services underlying each performance obligation. (The Corporation applies the constraint on variable consideration as defined in IFRS 15, if applicable).

k) Stripping costs - Costs incurred in removing mine waste materials (overburden) in open pits that are in production, that provide access to mineral deposits, are recognized in property, plant, and equipment, when the following criteria set out in IFRIC 20 Stripping Costs in the Production Phase of a Surface Mine are met:

- It is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the stripping activity will flow to the entity.
- It is possible to identify the components of an ore body for which access has been improved because of the stripping activity, and
- The costs relating to that stripping activity can be measured reliably.

The stripping costs are amortized based on the production units of production extracted from the ore body related to the specific stripping activity which generated this amount.

Although the abovementioned estimates have been made based on the best information available as of the date of issuance of these consolidated financial statements (unaudited), it is possible that new developments could lead the Corporation to modify these estimates in the future. Such modifications, if any, would be adjusted prospectively, recognizing the effects of the change in estimate in future consolidated financial statements, as required by IAS 8 "Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors".

For the purposes of these consolidated financial statements, affiliates, associates, acquisitions and disposals are defined as follows:

- Affiliates: An affiliate is an entity over which the Corporation has control. Control is exercised if, and only if, the following elements are present: (i) power to govern the operating and financial policies to obtain benefits from their activities; (ii) exposure or rights to the variable returns of these companies; and (iii) ability to use the power to influence the amount of returns.

The Corporation reassesses whether it controls an affiliate if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the elements of control listed above.

The consolidated financial statements include all assets, liabilities, revenues, expenses, and cash flows of Codelco and its affiliates, after eliminating all inter-company balances and transactions.

- Associates: An associate is an entity over which Codelco has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the associate but is not control or joint control over those policies.

Codelco's interest ownership in associates is recognized in the consolidated financial statements under the equity method. Under this method, the initial investment is recognized at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognize changes in Codelco's share of the comprehensive income of the associate, less any impairment losses or other changes to the investment in net assets of the associate.

The Corporation adjusts the proportional gains or losses obtained by the associate after acquisition to take into account the effects that may exist in the depreciation of the fair value of the assets considered at the date of acquisition.

- Acquisitions and disposals: The result of businesses acquired are incorporated in the consolidated financial statements from the date when control is obtained; the results of businesses sold during the period are included in the consolidated financial statements up to the effective date of disposal. Gains or losses on disposal is the difference between the sale proceeds (net of expenses) and the carrying amount of the net assets attributable to the ownership interest that has been sold (and, where applicable, the associated cumulative translation adjustment).

If control is lost over a subsidiary, the retained ownership interest in the investment will be recognized at its fair value.

At the acquisition date of an investment in a subsidiary, associate or joint venture, any excess of the cost of the investment (consideration transferred) plus the amount of the non-controlling interest in the acquiree plus the fair value of any previously held equity interest in the acquiree, where applicable, over Codelco's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and acquired liabilities is recognized as goodwill. Any excess of Codelco's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and acquired liabilities over the consideration transferred, after reassessment, is recognized immediately in profit or loss in the period in which the investment is acquired.

- e. Foreign currency transactions and reporting currency conversion - Transactions in currencies other than the Corporation's functional currency are recognized at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, foreign currency transactions denominated in foreign currencies are converted at the rates prevailing at that date. Gains and losses due to the effect of foreign currency transactions are included in the consolidated statement of income for the period within "Exchange gains (losses) in foreign currencies".

At the end of the reporting period, monetary assets and liabilities denominated in Unidades de Fomento ("UF") have been denominated in US$, considering the exchange rates in effect at the end of each period (12-31-2023: US$ 41.94; 12-31-2022: US$ 41.02)

Expenses and income in local currency have been expressed in dollars at the observed exchange rate, corresponding to the date of the accounting record of each transaction.

The translation of the financial statements of affiliates associates and jointly controlled entities, whose functional currency is different from Codelco's presentation currency, is performed as follows for consolidation purposes:

- Assets and liabilities are converted using the prevailing exchange rate on the reporting date.
- Income and expenses for each statement of income are translated at average exchange rates for the period.
- All resulting exchange differences are recognized in comprehensive income and accumulated in equity under the heading "Reserve on exchange differences on translation."

The exchange rates used in each reporting period were as follows:

Relationship	Closing exchange rates
	12-31-2023	12-31-2022
USD / CLP	0.00114	0.00117
USD / GBP	1.27485	1.20802
USD / BRL	0.20613	0.18923
USD / EURO	1.10695	1.07021
USD / AUD	0.68315	0.68120
USD / HKD	0.12803	0.12820
USD / RMB	0.14040	0.14452

- f. Offsetting balances and transactions - As a general standard, assets and liabilities, revenue, and expenses, are not offset in the financial statements, except for those cases in which offsetting is required or is allowed by a standard and the presentation reflects the substance of the transaction.

Income or expenses arising from transactions which, for contractual or legal reasons, permit the possibility of offsetting and which the Corporation intends to liquidate for their net value or realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously, are stated net in the statement of income.

- g. Property, plant and equipment and depreciation - Items of property, plant and equipment are initially recognized at cost. After initial recognition, they are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

The cost of property, plant and equipment includes the costs of expansion, modernization or improvements that represent an increase in productivity, capacity or efficiency, or an increase in the useful life of the assets, and are capitalized as an increase in the cost of the related assets.

The assets included in property, plant and equipment are depreciated, as a general rule, using the units of production method, when the activity performed by the asset is directly attributable to the mine production process. In other cases, a straight-line depreciation criterion is used.

The assets included in property, plant and equipment and certain intangibles (software) are depreciated over their economic useful lives, as described below:

Category	Useful life
Land	Not depreciated
Land on mine site	Unit of production
Buildings	Straight-line over 20-50 years
Buildings in underground mine levels	Units of production level
Vehicles	Straight-line over 3-7 years
Plant and equipment	Unit of production
Smelters	Unit of production
Refineries	Unit of production
Mining rights	Unit of production
Support equipment	Unit of production
Intangibles - software	Straight-line over 8 years
Open pit and underground mine development	Unit of production

Estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, and any change in estimates is recognized prospectively.

Additionally, depreciation methods and estimated useful lives of assets, especially plants, facilities and infrastructure may be revised at the end of each year or during the year according to changes in the structure of reserves of the Corporation and productive long-term plans updated as of that date.

This review may be made at any time if the conditions of ore reserves change significantly because of new known information, confirmed, and officially released by the Corporation.

The gain or loss resulting from the disposal or retirement of an asset is calculated as the difference between the price obtained on disposal and the value recorded in the books, recognizing the charge or credit to income for the period.

Construction in progress includes the amounts invested in the construction of property, plant and equipment and in mining development projects. Construction in progress is transferred to assets in operation once the testing period has ended and when they are ready for use; at that point, depreciation begins to be recognized.

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or construction of assets that require a substantial period before they are ready for use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of the corresponding items of property, plant, and equipment.

The ore deposits owned by the Corporation are recorded in the accounting records at US$1. Notwithstanding the above, those reserves and resources acquired as part of acquisition of entities accounted for as business combinations, are recognized at their fair value.

- h. Intangible assets - The Corporation initially recognizes these assets at acquisition cost. The cost is amortized systematically over their useful lives, except in the case of assets with indefinite useful lives, which are not amortized, and are assessed for impairment at least once a year and, in any case, whenever there is an indication that impairment may have occurred. At the end of each reporting period, these assets are measured at their cost less any accumulated amortization (when applicable) and any accumulated impairment losses.

The expenditures for the development of Technology and Innovation Projects are recognized as intangible assets at their cost and are considered to have indefinite useful lives. Recognition applies, if and only if, all the following have been demonstrated:

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale;
- The intention to complete the intangible asset is to use or sell it;
- The ability to use or sell the intangible asset;
- That the intangible asset will generate probable future economic benefits;
- The availability of adequate technical, financial, and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible asset; and
- The disbursement attributable to the intangible asset during its development can be reliably appraised

Research expenses for technology and innovation projects are recognized in profit or loss when incurred.

- i. Impairment of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets - Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets with finite useful lives are reviewed for impairment to verify whether there is any indication that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated to determine the extent of the impairment to be recorded.

For intangible assets with indefinite useful lives, their recoverable amounts are annually estimated at the end of each reporting period.

When an asset does not generate cash flows that are independent from other assets, Codelco determines the recoverable amount of the CGU to which the asset belongs.

The Corporation has defined each of its divisions as a cash generating unit

Recoverable amount of an asset is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. On the other hand, the fair value less cost of disposal is usually determined for operational assets considering the Life of Mine ("LOM"), based on a model of discounted cash flows, while the assets not included in LOM as resources and potential resources to exploit are measured by using a market model of multiples for comparable transactions.

If the recoverable amount of an asset or CGU is estimated to be less than it is carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss, reducing the carrying amount to its recoverable amount. In the event of a subsequent reversal of the impairment, the carrying amount is increased to the revised estimate of the recoverable amount, but to the extent that it does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment been previously recognized.

The estimates of future cash flow for a CGU are based on future production forecasts, future prices of basic products and future production costs. Under IAS 36 "Impairment of Assets", there are certain restrictions for future cash flows estimates related to future restructurings and future cost efficiencies. When calculating value in use, it is also necessary to base the calculations on the spot exchange rate at the date of calculation

- j. Expenditures for exploration and evaluation of mineral resources, mine development and mining operations - The Corporation has defined an accounting policy for each of these expenditures.

Development expenses for deposits under exploitation whose purpose is to maintain production levels are recognized in profit or loss when incurred.

Exploration and evaluation costs such as: drillings of deposits, including expenses necessary to locate new mineralized areas and engineering studies to determine their potential for commercial exploitation are recognized in profit or loss, normally at the pre-feasibility stage.

Pre-operating and mine development expenses (normally after feasibility engineering is reached) incurred during the execution of a project and until its start-up are capitalized and amortized in relation to the future production of the mine. These costs include stripping of waste material, constructing the mine's infrastructure and other works carried out prior to the production phase.

Finally, costs for defining of new areas or deposit areas in exploitation and of mining operations (PP&E) are recognized in property, plant and equipment and are amortized through profit or loss over the period during which the benefits are obtained.

- k. Income taxes and deferred taxes - Codelco and its Chilean affiliates recognize annually income taxes based on the net taxable income determined as per the standards established in the Income Tax Law and Article 2 of D.L. 2398, Codelco also recognizes the specific tax on mining activities referred to in Law No 20026 of 2005, until December 31, 2023, and the Mining Royalty Tax referred to in Law No. 21,590, as from January 1, 2024. Its foreign affiliates recognize income taxes according to the tax regulations of the respective countries.

In addition, Codelco's taxable income in each period is subject to the tax regime established in Article 26 of D.L. No. 1350, and it must pay the encumbrances in March, June, September, and December of each year, based on a provisional tax calculation.

The deferred taxes arising from temporary differences and other events that create differences between the accounting and tax bases of assets and liabilities, are recorded in accordance with the standards established in IAS 12 "Income tax".

Deferred taxes are also recognized for undistributed profits of subsidiaries and associates, at the remittance tax rate on dividends paid by these companies to the Corporation.

- l. Inventories - Inventories are measured at cost when such does not exceed net realizable value. Net realizable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale (i.e., marketing, sales, and distribution expenses). Costs of inventories are determined according to the following methods:

- Finished products and products in process: These inventories are measured at their average production cost determined using the absorption costing method, including labor, depreciation of fixed assets, amortization of intangibles and indirect costs of each period. Inventories of products in process are classified in current and non-current, according to the normal cycle of operation
- Materials in warehouse: These inventories are valued at acquisition cost and the Corporation determines an allowance for obsolescence considering that slow-moving materials in the warehouse remain in stock.
- Materials in transit: These inventories are measured at cost incurred at the end of reporting period. Any difference because of an estimate of net realizable value of the inventories lower than its carrying amount is recognized in profit or loss.

- m. Dividends – In accordance with Article 6 of D.L. 1350, the Corporation has a mandatory obligation to distribute its net income as presented in the financial statements. The payment obligation is recognized on an accrual basis.

- n. Employee benefits - Codelco recognizes a provision for employee benefits when there is a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of services rendered by its employees.

The employment contracts stipulate, subject to compliance with certain conditions, the payment of an employee severance indemnity when an employment contract ends. In general, this corresponds to one monthly salary per year of service and considers the components of the final remuneration which are contractually defined as the basis for the indemnity. This employee benefit has been classified as a defined benefit plan.

Codelco has also agreed to post-employment medical care benefits for certain retirees. This employee benefit has been classified as a defined benefit plan.

These plans continue to be unfunded as of December 31, 2023.

The employee severance indemnity and the post-employment medical plan obligations are determined using the projected unit credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each reporting period. The defined benefit plan obligations recognized in the statement of financial position represent the present value of the accrued obligations. Actuarial gains and losses are recognized immediately in other comprehensive income and will not be reclassified to profit or loss.

The Corporation's management uses assumptions to determine the best estimate of these benefits. The assumptions include an annual discount rate, expected increases in salaries and turnover rate, among other factors.

In accordance with its operating optimization programs to reduce costs and increase labor productivity by incorporating new current technologies and/or better management practices, the Corporation has established employee retirement programs by amending certain employment contracts or collective union agreements to include benefits encouraging employees to early retire, for which the necessary provisions are made based on the accrued obligation at current value. In case of employee retirement programs which involve multi-year periods, the accrued obligations are updated using a discount rate determined based on financial instruments denominated in the same currency and similar maturities that will be used to pay the obligations.

- o. Provisions for decommissioning and site restoration costs - The Corporation recognizes a provision for the estimated future costs of decommissioning and restoration of mining projects in development or production when a mining activity causes a disruption under a constructive or legal obligation. Costs are estimated on the basis of a formal closure plan and cost estimates are annually reviewed.

Costs arising from the obligation to dismantle a plant installation or other site preparation work, discounted to their present value, are provided for and capitalized at the beginning of each project or at the origin of the constructive or legal obligation as soon as the obligation to incur such costs arises.

These decommissioning and restoration costs are recorded in income through the depreciation of the asset that gave rise to such cost, and the use of the provision is made when the decommissioning materializes. Subsequent changes in estimates of decommissioning-related liabilities are added to or deducted from the costs of the related assets in the period in which the adjustment is made.

Other restoration costs, outside the scope of IAS 16, Property, Plant and Equipment, are provided for at their present value against operating results and the use of the provision is made in the period in which the restoration work is performed.

The accretion of the discount on a closure liability due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance expense in the statement of income.

- p. Leases - The Corporation evaluates its contracts at initial application to determine whether they contain a lease. The Corporation recognizes a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability for lease with respect to all lease agreements in which Codelco is the lessee, except for short-term leases (defined as a lease with a lease term of twelve months or less) and leases of low-value assets. For these leases, the Corporation recognizes the lease payments as an operating cost on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which the economic benefits of the leased assets are consumed.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that have not been paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease. If this rate cannot be easily determined, the Corporation uses the incremental borrowing rate.

The incremental rate for loans used by Codelco is determined by estimating the interest rate that the Corporation would have to pay for borrowing the necessary funds to obtain an asset of an equivalent nature similar in value to the right-of-use asset of the respective lease, in a similar economic environment over a similar term.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability mainly include fixed payments, variable payments that depend on an index or a rate and the exercise price of a purchase option. Variable payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are excluded.

The lease liability is subsequently measured as follows: the carrying amount increased to reflect the interest on the lease liability (using the effective rate method) and the carrying amount is reduced to reflect the lease payments made.

The Corporation revalues the lease liability as to the discount rate (and makes the corresponding adjustments to the asset for respective right of use) through a modified discount rate when:

- There is a change in the term of the lease, or
- There is a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset, or
- There is a change in an index or rate which generates a change in cash flows.

Right-of-use assets comprise the amount of the present value of payments not made at the contract inception date, and lease payments made before or up to the inception date, less lease incentives received and any initial direct costs incurred plus other decommissioning and site restoration costs. The right-of-use assets are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated losses due to impairment.

When the Corporation incurs a cost obligation to dismantle or remove a leased asset, restore the location in which it is located or restore the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease, a provision is recognized and measured in accordance with IAS 37. Costs are included in the corresponding right-of-use asset unless those costs are incurred to produce inventories.

The right-of-use assets are depreciated during the shorter period between the term of the lease and the useful life of the underlying asset. If a lease transfers the ownership of the underlying asset or the cost of the right-of-use asset reflects that the Corporation expects to exercise its option to purchase, the right-of-use asset is depreciated over the useful life of the underlying asset. Depreciation is made from the start date of the lease.

The Corporation applies IAS 36 to determine if a right-of-use asset is impaired and recognizes any impairment loss identified, as described in the accounting policy for "Property, plant and equipment".

q. Revenue from Contracts with Customers - Revenue is recognized in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring goods or services to customers.

- Sale of mineral goods and / or by-products: Contracts with customers for the sale of mineral goods and / or by-products include the performance obligation for the delivery of the physical goods and the associated transportation service, at the place agreed with the customers. The Corporation recognizes revenue from the sale of goods when the performance obligation is satisfied according to the shipment or dispatch of the products, in accordance with the agreed conditions, such revenue being subject to variations related to the content and / or sale price at the date of its liquidation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, there are some contracts where the performance obligation is satisfied when there is receipt of the product instead of the buyer's corresponding destination, thus recognizing revenue at the time of said transfer. When services of transport of goods are provided, the Corporation recognizes revenue when the service obligation is satisfied.

Sales that have discounts associated with volume subject to compliance with goals are recognized net, estimating the probability that the volume target will be reached.

Sales contracts include a provisional price at the shipment date. The final price is generally based on the London Metals Exchange ("LME") price. Revenue from sales of copper is measured using estimates of the future spread of metal prices on the LME and/or the spot price at the date of shipment, with subsequent adjustments made upon final pricing recognized as revenue. The terms of sales contracts with customers contain provisional pricing arrangements whereby the selling price for metal concentrate is based on prevailing spot prices on a specified future date after shipment to the customer (the “quotation period”). Consequently, the final price is set at the dates indicated in the contracts. Adjustments to provisional sale prices occur based on movements in quoted market prices on the LME up to the date of final pricing. The period between provisional invoicing and final pricing is typically between one and nine months. Changes in fair value over the quotation period and until final pricing are estimated by reference to forward market prices for applicable metals.

As indicated in the note related to hedging policies in the market of metal derivatives, the Corporation enters into operations in the market of metal derivatives. Gains and losses from those which are fair value hedges contracts are recognized as revenues.

- Rendering of services: Additionally, the Corporation recognizes revenue for rendering services, which are mainly related to the processing of minerals bought from third parties. Revenue from rendering of services is recognized when the amounts can be measured reliably and when the services have been provided.
- r. Derivatives contracts - Codelco uses derivative financial instruments to reduce the risk of fluctuations in sales prices of its products and of exchange rates.

Derivatives are initially recognized at fair value at the date the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently measured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period.

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges is recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity under the item “Cash flow hedge reserve.” The gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is immediately recognized in profit or loss and included in the “Finance cost” or “Finance income” line items, depending on the effect of such ineffectiveness. The amount recognized in comprehensive income is reclassified to income, in the same line in which the effects generated by the hedged item are recorded once the results of the hedged transactions are recorded in the same line or until the maturity date of such transactions.

A hedge is considered highly effective when it meets the requirements of IFRS 9. At the time of discontinuation of the hedge contract or the associated designated accounting and according to the circumstances of each case, the accumulated gain/loss on the derivative instrument remains in equity until the hedge transaction occurs, or if discontinuation is expected to occur, the amount in equity is reclassified to profit or loss.

The total fair value of hedging derivatives is classified as “non-current financial asset or liability”, if the remaining maturity of the hedged item is greater than twelve months, and as “current financial asset or liability” if the remaining maturity of the hedged item is less than twelve months.

The derivative contracts held by the Corporation have been entered into to apply the risk hedging policies and are accounted for as indicated below:

- Hedging policies for exchange rate risk: The Corporation enters into exchange rate derivatives to hedge exchange rate variations between the U.S. dollar and the currencies of transactions the Corporation undertakes. In accordance with the policies established by the Board of Directors, these hedge transactions are only entered into when there are recognized assets or liabilities, forecasts of highly probable transactions or firm commitments. The Corporation does not enter into derivative transactions for non-hedging purposes.
- Hedging policies for metal market prices risk: In accordance with the policies established by the Board of Directors, the Corporation entered into derivative contracts to reduce the inherent risks in the fluctuations of metal prices.

Hedging policies seek to protect expected cash flows from product sales operations by adjusting, when necessary, physical sales contracts to its commercial policy. When the sales commitments are fulfilled and the metal derivative contracts are settled, there is an offset between the results of the sales transactions and the results of hedging using metal derivatives.

Hedging transactions carried out by the Corporation in the metal derivatives market are not undertaken for speculative purposes.

- Embedded derivatives: The Corporation has established a procedure that allows for evaluation of the existence of embedded derivatives in financial and non-financial contracts. Where there is an embedded derivative, and the host contract is not a financial instrument and the characteristics and risks of the embedded derivative are not closely related to the host contract, the derivative is required to be recognized separately.
- s. Financial information by segment – The Corporation has defined its Divisions as its operating segments in accordance with the requirements of IFRS 8, Operating Segments. The mining deposits in operation, where the Corporation conducts its extractive and processing activities are managed by the following Divisions: Chuquicamata, Radomiro Tomic, Ministro Hales, Gabriela Mistral, Salvador, Andina and El Teniente. In addition, the smelting and refining activities are managed at the Ventanas Division. From June 2023 the Ventanas Division only manages the refining area. All these Divisions have a separate operational management, which reports to the Chief Executive Officer, through the North and South-Central Vice-President of Operations, respectively. Income and expenses of the Head Office are allocated to the defined operating segments.

- t. Presentation of Financial Statements - For purposes of IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements, the Corporation presents its statement of financial position classified as "current and non-current" and its statements of income "by function" and cash flows using the direct method.
- u. Current and non-current financial assets - The Corporation determines the classification of its financial assets at the time of initial recognition and reviews it at each closing date. The classification depends on the business model in which the investments are managed and the contractual characteristics of their cash flows.

The Corporation's financial assets are classified into the following categories:

- At fair value through profit or loss:

Initial recognition: This category includes those financial assets that do not qualify in the business model to collect contractual cash flows, nor do such cash flows come exclusively from capital and interest. These instruments are initially recognized at fair value.

Subsequent recognition: Their subsequent recognition is at fair value, recording in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, in the line "Other gains (losses)" any changes in fair value.

- Amortized cost:

Initial recognition: This category includes those financial assets that qualify in the business model and that are held for the purpose of collecting contractual cash flows and that meet the "Solely Payment of Principal and Interest" (SPPI) criterion. This category includes certain Trade and other current receivables, and the loans included in other non-current financial assets.

Subsequent recognition: These (debt) instruments are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. The amortized cost of a financial asset is the amount at which the financial asset is measured at initial recognition minus the principal repayments, plus the cumulative amortization using the effective interest method of any difference between that initial amount and the maturity amount, adjusted for any impairment allowance.

Interest income is recognized in profit or loss and is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset. For financial assets measured at amortized cost that are not part of a designated hedging relationship, exchange differences are recognized in profit or loss in the "Foreign exchange difference" line item.

- At fair value through other comprehensive income:

Initial measurement: Financial assets that meet the criteria "Solely payments of principal and interest" (SPPI) are classified in this category and must be maintained within a business model both to collect the cash flows and to sell the financial assets. These instruments are initially recognized at fair value.

Subsequent recognition: Their subsequent valuation is at fair value. Interest income calculated using the effective interest rate method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognized in income. Other net gains and losses are recognized in other comprehensive income. On derecognition, the gains and losses accumulated in other comprehensive income for debt instruments are reclassified to income. Codelco did not irrevocably choose to designate any equity financial instruments (assets) at fair value with effect on other comprehensive income.

- v. Financial liabilities - Financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value net of transaction costs. Subsequent to their initial recognition, the valuation of the financial liabilities will depend on their classification, within which the following categories are distinguished:

- Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss: This category includes financial liabilities defined as held for trading.

Changes in fair value associated with own credit risk are recorded in other comprehensive income unless doing so creates an accounting mismatch.

- Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost: This category includes all financial liabilities other than those measured at fair value through profit or loss.

The Corporation includes in this category bonds, obligations and other current payables.

These financial liabilities are measured using the effective interest rate method, recognizing interest expense based on the effective rate.

The method of the effective interest rate corresponds to the method of calculating the amortized cost of a financial liability and the allocation of interest expenses during the corresponding period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments through the expected life of the financial liability, or where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Trade and other current payables are financial liabilities that do not explicitly accrue interest and are recognized at their nominal value, which approximates its fair value.

Financial liabilities are derecognized when the liabilities are paid or expire.

- w. Impairment of financial assets - The Corporation measures the loss allowance at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses for certain of its trade receivables. For these, it uses the simplified approach as required under IFRS 9.

The provision matrix is based on the Corporation's historical credit loss experience over the expected life of such trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates considering the most relevant macroeconomic factors that affect bad debts.

Other accounts receivable and other financial assets are reviewed using reasonable and sustainable information that is available without cost or disproportionate effort in accordance with IFRS 9 to determine the credit risk of the respective financial assets. A provision for impairment losses on trade receivables and other financial assets is established when there is objective evidence that the amounts due may not be fully recovered.

- x. Statement of cash flows - The statement of cash flows reflects changes in cash that took place during the period, determined under the direct method. The Corporation has defined the following:
- Cash flows: Inflows and outflows of cash or cash equivalents, which are defined as highly liquid investments maturing in less than three months with a low risk of changes in value.
 - Operating activities: Are the principal revenue-producing activities of the Corporation and other activities that are not investing or financing activities.
 - Investing activities: These are the acquisition and disposal of long-term assets and other investments not included in cash and cash equivalents.
 - Financing activities: These are activities that result in changes in the size and composition of net equity and borrowings of the Corporation.

Bank overdrafts are classified as external resources in current liabilities.

- y. Law No. 13196 - Under this law, the return in foreign currency of sales abroad of the Corporation's actual income from its copper production, including by-products, is taxed at 10%. The amount recognized for this concept is presented in the statement of income within the line item "Other expenses by function." (Note III.22 letter c)).
- z. Cost of sales - Cost of sales is determined according to the absorption costing method, including the direct and indirect costs, depreciation, amortization and any other expenses directly attributable to the production process.
- aa. Classification of current and non-current balances - In the consolidated statement of financial position, the balances are classified according to their maturities, that is, as current for those with a maturity equal to or less than twelve months and as non-current for those with a greater maturity. Where there are obligations whose maturity is less than twelve months, but whose long-term refinancing is insured upon a decision by the Corporation whose intention is to refinance, through credit agreements available unconditionally with long-term maturity, these could be classified as non-current liabilities.

3. New standards and interpretations adopted by the Corporation

The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are consistent with those applied in the preparation of the Corporation's annual consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2022, except for the adoption of new standards, interpretations and amendments, effective from January 1, 2023, which are:

a) Amendment to IFRS 17

Amends IFRS 17 to address concerns and implementation challenges identified after the publication of IFRS 17 Insurance Contracts in 2017. The main changes include:

- i. Deferral of the date of initial application of IFRS 17 for two years for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2023.
- ii. Additional scope exclusion for credit card contracts and similar contracts that provide insurance coverage, as well as optional scope exclusion for loan contracts that transfer significant insurance risk
- iii. Recognition of insurance acquisition cash flows related to expected contract renewals, including transition provisions and guidance for insurance acquisition cash flows recognized in an acquired business.
- iv. Clarification of the application of IFRS 17 in financial statements that permit an accounting policy choice at a reporting entity level
- v. Clarification of the application of the contractual service margin (CSM) attributable to the investment performance service and the investment-related service and changes to the related disclosure requirements
- vi. Extension of risk mitigation option to include reinsurance contracts held and non-financial derivatives
- vii. Amendments to Requiring an entity that at initial recognition recognizes losses on onerous insurance contracts issued to also recognize a gain on reinsurance contracts held
- viii. Simplified presentation of insurance contracts in the statement of financial position for entities to present insurance contract assets and liabilities in the statement of financial position determined using portfolios of insurance contracts rather than groups of insurance contracts
- ix. Additional transition relief for business combinations and additional transition relief for the date of application of the risk mitigation option and the use of the fair value transition approach.

b) Information to disclose on accounting policies. (Amendments to IAS 1 and IFRS 2 document)

The amendments require an entity to disclose its material accounting policies. The additional amendments explain how an entity can identify a material accounting policy. Examples are added of when an accounting policy is likely to be material. To support the amendment, the Board has also developed guidance and examples to explain and demonstrate the application of the "four-step materiality process" described in the IFRS 2 Practice Statement.

c) Definition of accounting estimates (amendments to IAS 8)

The amendments replace the definition of a change in accounting estimates. According to the new definition, accounting estimates are "monetary amounts in the financial statements that are subject to measurement uncertainty". Entities develop accounting estimates if accounting policies require financial statement items to be measured in a manner that involves measurement uncertainty. The amendments clarify that a change in accounting estimate resulting from new information or new developments is not the correction of an error.

d) Deferred Taxes Related to Assets and Liabilities Arising from a One-Time Transaction. (Amendments to IAS 12)

The amendments clarify that the exemption from initial recognition does not apply to transactions in which equal amounts of deductible and taxable temporary differences arise on initial recognition.

The application of these amendments had no impact on the Corporation's consolidated financial statements, but may affect the accounting for future transactions or arrangements.

4. New accounting pronouncements

The following new standards, amendments and interpretations had been issued by the IASB, but their application is not yet mandatory:

New IFRS	Date of mandatory application	Summary
Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-Current (Amendments to IAS 1)	Annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2024	The amendments aim to promote coherence in applying its requirements by helping companies to determine whether, in the statement of financial position, debts and other liabilities with an uncertain settlement date must be classified as current (maturing or potentially maturing in one year or less) or not current. It is important to note that this amendment must be applied retrospectively and early application is permitted.

Initial Application of IFRS 17 and IFRS 9 - Comparative Information (Amendment to IFRS 17)	An entity that chooses to apply the amendment shall apply it when it first applies IFRS 17.	The amendment allows entities applying IFRS 17 and IFRS 9 for the first time to present comparative information on a financial asset as if the classification and measurement requirements of IFRS 9 had been previously applied to that financial asset.
Lease liability on a sale and leaseback (Amendments to IFRS 16)	Annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2024	The amendment clarifies how a lessee subsequently measures sale and leaseback transactions that meet the requirements of IFRS 15 to be accounted for as a sale.
Non-current liabilities with covenants (Amendments to IAS 1)	Annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2024	The amendment clarifies how the conditions that an entity must meet within twelve months after the reporting period affect the classification of a liability.
Suppliers' financial agreements (Amendments to IAS 7 and IFRS 7)	Annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2024	The amendments add disclosure requirements and "signaling" within the existing disclosure requirements, which request entities to provide qualitative and quantitative information on suppliers financing arrangements.

General requirements for disclosure of financial information related to sustainability (IFRS S1)	Annual periods beginning on January 1, 2024 Early application is permitted.	This Standard requires disclosure of information about all risks and opportunities related to sustainability that could reasonably be expected to affect an entity's cash flows, access to finance or cost of capital in the short, medium or long term. For the purposes of this Standard, these risks and opportunities are collectively referred to as "sustainability-related risks and opportunities that could reasonably be expected to affect the entity's prospects". This Standard also prescribes how financial disclosures related to sustainability should be prepared and reported. It establishes general requirements for the content and presentation of those disclosures so that the information disclosed is useful to key users in making decisions related to the provision of resources to the entity.
Climate-related disclosures (IFRS S2)	Annual periods beginning on January 1, 2024 Early application is permitted.	This Standard requires disclosure of information about risks and opportunities related to climate that could reasonably be expected to affect an entity's cash flows, access to finance or cost of capital in the short, medium or long term. For the purposes of this Standard, these risks and opportunities are collectively referred to as "climate-related risks and opportunities that could reasonably be expected to affect the entity's prospects".

Lack of interchangeability Amendments to IAS 21)	Annual filing and reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2025. Not yet approved for use in the EU.	The amendments contain guidance to specify when a currency is exchangeable and how to determine the exchange rate when it is not.
Modifications to SASB standards to improve their international applicability	Annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2025. Will not be approved for use in the EU.	The amendments remove and replace jurisdiction-specific references and definitions in the SASB standards, without materially altering industries, topics or metrics.

Management is currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of these new regulations and modifications. It is not expected to have a significant impact on the consolidated financial statements.

Additionally, in order to complement the commercial commitments between Codelco and ENAMI, the Corporation purchases copper concentrate and by-products and sells cathodes to ENAMI. Both Codelco and ENAMI are companies owned by the State of Chile.

(3) The Corporation recognizes an allowance for doubtful accounts based on its expected credit loss model.

The reconciliation of changes in the allowance for doubtful accounts for the years ended December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2022, were as follows:

90 days - 1 year	66	1,114
Over 1 year	652	201
Total unprovisioned past-due debt	7,696	7,015

b) Accruals for open sales invoices

The Corporation adjusts its revenues and trade receivable balances, based on future copper prices through the recognition of an accrual for open sales invoices.

When future price of copper is lower than the provisional invoicing price, the accrual is presented in the statement of financial position as follows:

- For those customers that have due balances with the Corporation, the accrual is presented as a deduction from the line item trade and other current receivables.
- For those customers that do not have due balances with the Corporation, the accrual is presented in the line item trade and other current payables.

When the future copper price is higher than the provisional invoicing price, the accrual is added to the line item trade and other current receivables.

Accordingly, as of December 31, 2023, a positive provision of ThUS$83,778 was recorded in the account Trade and other receivables for provisions for unfinished sales invoices. As of December 31, 2022 it was a positive provision of ThUS$31,327.

As of December 31, 2023, ThUS$ 1 of negative provision for open invoices associated with customers who do not have balances due to Codelco was reclassified to Trade payables of current liabilities, which added to the balance presented in Trade and other receivables, totaled a net positive provision of ThUS$ 83,777. As of December 31, 2022, the reclassification of negative unfinished invoices, associated with customers who do not maintain balances due to Codelco, was ThUS$1,458, which added to the balance presented in Trade and other receivables, totaled a positive net provision of ThUS$29,869.

3. Balances and transactions with related parties

a) Transactions with related persons

In accordance with Law on New Corporate Governance, the members of Codelco's Board are, in terms of transactions with related persons, subject to the provisions of Title XVI of Law on Corporations, which sets the requirements regarding transactions with related parties in publicly traded companies and their subsidiaries.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, pursuant to the provisions of the final paragraph of Article 147 b) of Title XVI, which contains exceptions to the approval process for transactions with related parties, the Corporation has established a general policy over customary transactions (which was communicated through a significant event notice to the CMF), that defines customary transactions as those carried out with its related parties in the normal course of business, which contributes to the social interest and are necessary to the normal development of Codelco's activities.

Likewise, consistent with the referred to above standard, the Corporation has implemented as part of its internal regulatory framework, a specific policy dealing with business between related persons and companies with Codelco's executives. Codelco's Corporate Policy No.18 ("CCP No. 18"), the latest version currently in force, was approved by the Chief Executive Officer and the Board of Directors.

Accordingly, Codelco without the authorization required in CCP No. 18 and of the Board of Directors, as required by Law or by the Corporation by-laws, shall not enter into any contracts or agreements involving one or more Directors, its Chief Executive Officer, the members of Division's Managing Committees, Vice-presidents, Legal Counsel, General Auditor, Division Chief Executive Officers, Advisors of Senior Management, employees who must make recommendations and/or have the authority to award tenders, assignments of purchases and/or contracting goods and services, and employees in management positions (up to fourth hierarchical level in the organization), including their spouses, children and other relatives up to second degree of relation, with a direct interest, represented by third parties or on behalf of another person. Likewise, CCP No. 18 requires administrators of Corporation's contracts to declare all related persons and disqualify himself/herself if any related persons are involved within the field of his/her job responsibilities.

This prohibition also includes the companies in which such administrators are involved through ownership or management, either directly or through representation of other natural persons or legal entities, as well as those individuals who also have ownership or management in those companies.

The Board of Directors has been informed and approved certain transactions as defined in CCP No. 18.

These operations include those shown in the following table, for the total amounts mentioned, which must be executed within the time periods specified in each contract:

The Corporation has applied a rate of 25% to calculate deferred income tax and first category income tax. As a state company, the Corporation is classified as those companies of article 14 letter G of the Income Tax Law, incorporated in the Tax Reform Law No. 21210 of February 24, 2020, maintaining the General Regime of Taxation. Meanwhile, the national subsidiaries and associates, by default, have applied the Partially Integrated taxation system with a rate of 27% for both years. Foreign subsidiaries and associates have applied the tax rates in force in their respective countries.

Article 2 of Decree Law No. 2398 establishes an additional 40% income tax rate on the Corporation's taxable income plus the share of retained earnings of companies not organized as corporations or joint stock companies and the dividends actually received from the latter.

On September 2, 2020, Law No. 21256 was published in the Official Journal, for the tax measures that are part of the emergency plan for economic reactivation. According to Article No. 3, added Article No. 23 bis of Law No. 21210, incorporating a temporary depreciation regime that allows full and instant depreciation of fixed assets and that is in force for acquisitions carried out between September 1, 2020, and December 31, 2022. As a state company, the Corporation as a taxpayer that pays taxes based on effective income and complete accounting, availed itself of the indicated benefit as of tax year 2022.

Mining Taxes

On August 10, 2023, Law No. 21,591 on Mining Royalty was published in the Official Gazette, effective as of January 1, 2024.

The law establishes that the new mining royalty tax is comprised of two components: The ad valorem component and the mining margin component. The ad valorem component corresponds to 1% of copper sales and applies to miners whose copper sales represent more than 50% of total sales. The mining margin component applies a rate of between 8% and 26% on mining operating margins in the range of 20% to 80%. The compound base of the mining margin component is determined in a manner similar to the current Specific Tax on Mining Activities (IEAM). For this portion the Corporation will continue to assess deferred taxes. In addition, the regulation establishes a Maximum Potential Tax Burden, which will adjust the Mining Royalty tax, in the event that it exceeds 46.5% of the Adjusted Taxable Mining Operating Income.

A rate of 5% has been determined for the last year of application of the IEAM. Similarly, an average deferred tax reversal rate of 8% has been estimated for the mining margin component of the new Mining Royalty.

The IEAM, contained in the Income Tax Law, is repealed as of January 1, 2024. This is in line with the entry into force of the Mining Royalty, which introduces a new mining taxation as of the same date.

On September 1, 2009, Codelco's Board of Directors authorized the incorporation of a new company aimed to develop studies allowing the continuity of the Inca de Oro Project, which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Codelco.

December 31, 2023, Codelco holds a 33.85% ownership interest in this company (PanAust IDO Ltda. has 66.15%).

Planta Recuperadora de Metales SpA

On December 3, 2012, Planta Recuperadora Metales SpA was incorporated by Codelco, with 100% ownership held by the Corporation.

In 2014, LS-Nikko Copper Inc. was incorporated into the ownership of this company.

As of December 31, 2023, Codelco holds a 34% interest in the capital stock of Planta Recuperadora de Metales SpA, with control remaining with LS-Nikko Copper Inc. based on the elements of control described in the shareholders' agreement.

The principal business activity of the company is the processing of intermediate products of the refining and processing of copper and other metals aiming to recover copper, other metals and other sub products, their transformation to commercial products and the selling and distribution of all classes of goods or inputs derived from such process.

Anglo American Sur S.A.

The principal activities of the Company are the exploration, extraction, exploitation, production, processing and trading of minerals, concentrates, precipitates, copper bars and all metallic and non-metallic minerals, all fossil substances and liquid and gaseous hydrocarbons. This includes the exploration, exploitation and use of all natural energy sources capable of industrial use and the products or by-products obtained, as well as any other related, connected or complementary activities on which the shareholders agree.

On August 24, 2012, Codelco recognized the acquisition of ownership interest in Anglo American Sur S.A. which resulted in the initial recognition of the cost of the investment for ThUS$ 6,490,000 that corresponded to the proportionate share (29.5%) of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities acquired.

In determining the share of the fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities acquired, the Corporation considered the resources and mineral reserves that could be measured reliably. As part of this updating process, and applying the valuation criteria indicated above, the fair value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed of Anglo American Sur S.A. as of that date amounted to US$ 22,646 million, which in the proportion acquired by Inversiones Mineras Becrux SpA (29.5%) results in an investment at fair value of US $ 6,681 million at the acquisition date.

The allocation of the purchase price at fair value between the identifiable assets and liabilities was prepared by management using its best estimate and considering all relevant and available information at the acquisition date of Anglo American Sur S.A.

The Corporation used a discounted cash flows model to estimate cash flow projections, based on the life of mine. These projections were based on estimated production and future prices of minerals, operating costs and capital costs, among other estimates made at the date of acquisition. Additionally, proven and probable resources to explore were not included in the mine plan, therefore, they were valued separately using a market model. Such resources are included in item "Mineral Resources."

As of December 31, 2015, the Corporation identified indicators of impairment in the operating units of Anglo American Sur S.A. Consequently, and with the purpose of making the corresponding adjustments to the investment in this associate, the Corporation estimated its recoverable amount, considering the additional value of the assets identified at the date of acquisition of the investment.

In determining the recoverable amount, the Corporation applied the methodology of fair value less costs of disposal. The recoverable amount of the operating units was determined based on the life of mine by using a discounted cash flow model whose main assumptions included ore reserves declared by the associate, copper price, supply costs, foreign exchange rates, discount rate and market information for the long-term asset valuation. The discount rate used was an annual rate of 8% after taxes.

Furthermore, the resources not included in the mining plan (LOM) have been valued using a multiples market approach for comparable transactions. Such methodology is consistent with the methodologies used at the acquisition date, which is described in the previous paragraph.

As of December 31, 2023, control on Anglo American Sur S.A. is held by Inversiones Anglo American Sur S.A. with 50.06%, while one of the companies that make up the non-controlling interest is Inversiones Mineras Becrux SpA., which is controlled by Codelco with 67.80% of the shares, and which exercises significant influence over Anglo American Sur S.A. with 29.5%.

As of December 31, 2023, the Corporation performed an evaluation of the value of its investment in the associate Anglo American Sur S.A. and determined that the recoverable amount of the asset is less than the carrying value recorded, recognizing an impairment of ThUS$ 522,448, which is recognized under the caption "Equity in earnings (losses) of associates and joint ventures accounted for using equity method" in the statement of comprehensive income for the year 2023. The aforementioned impairment loss resulted from lower than projected production and cost performance.

The recoverable amount of the investment in the associate was calculated using the fair value methodology less costs of disposal. The recoverable amount of the operating assets was determined based on the life of mine by using a discounted cash flow model whose main assumptions included ore reserves declared by the associate, copper price, supply costs, foreign exchange rates, discount rate and market information for the long-term asset valuation. The discount rate used was an annual rate of 6.77% after taxes. Furthermore, the resources not included in the mining plan (LOM), as well as the potential resources to explore, have been valued using a multiples market approach for comparable transactions.

Subsequent to the recognition of the equity in earnings (losses) of the associate as detailed above, no indications are observed that would require additional impairment of the recoverable amount of the investment held in Anglo American Sur S.A.

Kairos S.A.

As of December 31, 2023, the control of the company lies in Honeywell Chile S.A. which owns 60% of the shares while Codelco owns the remaining 40%.

13. Fair Value of financial assets and liabilities

The carrying amount of financial assets is a reasonable approximation to their fair value, therefore, no additional disclosures are required in accordance with IFRS 7.

Regarding financial liabilities, the following table shows a comparison as of December 31, 2023 between the carrying amount and the fair value of financial liabilities other than those whose carrying amount is a reasonable approximation of fair value:

Comparison book value vs fair value As of December 31, 2023	Accounting treatment for valuation	Book value ThUS$	Fair value ThUS$
Financial liabilities
Bond obligations	Amortized cost	18,717,055	16,989,826

14. Market value hierarchy for items at market value

Each of the market values calculated for the Corporation's portfolio of financial instruments is supported by a calculation methodology and data inputs. An analysis of each of these methodologies has been carried out to determine to which of the following levels they can be assigned:

- Level 1 corresponds to fair value measurement methodologies using market shares (unadjusted) in active markets to which the Corporation has access at the measurement date and considering identical Assets and Liabilities.
- Level 2 corresponds to fair value measurement methodologies using quoted market price data, not included in Level 1, that are observable for the Assets and Liabilities measured, either directly (prices) or indirectly (derived from prices). For hybrid contracts without finalized price: sales of metals with provisional prices for the period are adjusted to the market price at the end of the period. Gains and losses arising from the market valuation of open sales are recognized through adjustments to revenue in the income statement and to trade accounts receivable in the balance sheet. The forward prices at the end of the period are used for the sales of copper. These forward prices are quoted market prices on the LME. For currency swaps: they are valued using a discounted cash flow analysis valuation model that includes observable credit spreads and using the yield curve applicable over the life of the instruments.
- Level 3 corresponds to fair value measurement methodologies using valuation techniques that include data on the Assets and Liabilities valued, which are not based on significant observable market data.

Based on the methodologies, inputs, and definitions described above, the following market levels have been determined for the Corporation's portfolio of financial instruments held as of December 31, 2023:

Financial assets and liabilities at fair value classified by hierarchy	12-31-2023
	Level 1 ThUS$	Level 2 ThUS$	Level 3 ThUS$	Total ThUS$
Financial assets:
Hybrid contracts with non-finalized price		2,061,207		2,061,207

Metal futures contracts	5			5
Financial liabilities:
Metal futures contracts	3,810	1,577		4,887

here were no transfers between the different levels of market hierarchy for the reporting period.

(2) Corresponds to sales-related accruals, which includes charges for freight, loading, and unloading.

(3) Corresponds to provisions for future closure costs related mainly to tailings dams, mine site closures and other assets. This cost value is calculated at discounted present value, using flows associated with plans with an evaluation horizon ranging from 10 to 60 years. The rates used to discount future cash flows are calculated based on the Life of Mine "LOM" of each of the operations, distinguishing rates in UF for those obligations in Chilean pesos and rates in U.S. dollars for those obligations in U.S. dollars. These discount rates include the risks associated with the liability being determined, except those included in the cash flows.

Below is a table with the discount rates used:

17. Employee benefits

a. Provisions for post-employment benefits and other long-term benefits

Provision for post-employment benefits mainly corresponds to employee severance indemnities and medical care plans. The provision for severance indemnities recognizes the contractual obligation that the Corporation has with its employees/retirees. The provision for medical care plans recognizes the contractual obligation that the Corporation has with its retirees to cover their medical care costs. Both benefits operate within the regulatory framework set forth in the collective bargaining or other agreements between the Corporation and its employees.

These provisions are recorded in the statement of financial position at the present value of the estimated future obligations. The discount rate used is determined based on the rate of financial instruments corresponding to the same currency in which the obligations will be paid and with similar maturities.

The defined benefit obligations are denominated in Chilean pesos; therefore the Corporation is exposed to foreign exchange rate risk.

The results arising from adjustments and changes in actuarial variables are charged or credited to the statement of comprehensive income for the period in which they occur.

During the year ended December 31, 2023, there were no relevant modifications to the post-employment benefit plans.

The following actuarial assumptions were used in the actuarial calculation of the defined benefit plans:

Assumptions	12-31-2023		12-31-2022
	Retirement plan	Health plan	Retirement plan	Health plan
Annual nominal discount rate	5.44%	5.44%	5.33%	5.33%

Voluntary Annual Turnover Rate for Retirement (Women)	5.90%	5.90%	6.00%	6.00%
Salary Increase (real annual average)	4.55%	-	4.64%	-
Future rate of long-term inflation	3.00%	3.00%	3.60%	3.60%
Expected inflation health care rate	-	5.78%	-	6.40%
Mortality tables used for projections	CB20-RV20	CB20-RV20	CB14-RV14	CB14-RV14
Average duration of future cash flows (years)	10.55	17.16	8.50	15.40
Expected Retirement Age (Men)	60	60	60	60
Expected Retirement Age (Women)	58	58	58	58

The discount rates correspond to the rates in the secondary market of government bonds issued in Chile. The projected annual inflation corresponds to an awareness above the long-term target publicly declared by the Central Bank of Chile and is derived from the market expectation as of December 31, 2023. The rotation rates have been determined after reviewing the Corporation's own experience by studying the cumulative behavior of outflows over the last three years with respect to the current allocations. The expected rate of salary increases has been estimated using the long-term behavior of historical salaries paid by the Corporation. The mortality tables used were those issued by the CMF, which are considered an appropriate representation of the Chilean market given the lack of comparable statistical series to develop independent studies. The financial duration of the liabilities corresponds to the average maturity of the payment flows of the respective defined benefits.

21. Asset impairment

As indicated in note 29 letter b) point x), the corporation made progressed in cease operation of the Ventanas Smelter, which as of December 31, 2021 was part, together with the Ventanas Refinery, of a single cash-generating unit called the Ventanas Division. The Corporation is evaluating the assets of both operations separately, leading to the definition that the Ventanas Smelter and Ventanas Refinery are, as of December 31, 2022, separate cash-generating units under IAS 36.

As of December 31, 2022, the Corporation performed a calculation of the recoverable amount of its Ventanas Smelter cash-generating unit, for purposes of testing the assets associated with the cash-generating unit for impairment. Since such recoverable amount is zero, when compared to the carrying amount of the cash-generating unit's assets of ThUS$89,410, an impairment was determined for such amount, which was recorded in Other expenses in the statements of comprehensive income for the year 2022.

The recoverable amount determined corresponds to the value in use using a discount rate of 7.28% per year before taxes. The main variables used to determine the recoverable amount of this asset correspond to the price of rhenium, exchange rates and discount rates.

Also, as of December 31, 2022, the Corporation calculated the recoverable amount of its cash-generating unit related to the Ventanas refinery in order to test the assets associated with such cash-generating unit for impairment. The result of this calculation led to the conclusion that the recoverable amount is higher than the carrying amount of the cash-generating unit's assets and, therefore, there is no impairment loss.

As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, there are no indications of additional impairments or reversals of impairment for other cash-generating units or associates.

27. Risk management

Corporación Nacional del Cobre de Chile has created instances within its organization that seek to generate strategies to minimize the financial risks to which it may be exposed.

The risks to which Codelco is exposed and a brief description of the management procedures that are carried out in each case, are described below.

a. Financial risks

- Exchange rate risk:

According to IFRS 7, exchange rate risk is understood to be the risk that arises from financial instruments that are denominated in foreign currencies, that is, a currency other than the Corporation's functional currency (US dollar).

Codelco's activities that generate this exposure correspond to funding in UF, accounts payable and receivable and provisions in Chilean pesos, other foreign currencies used in its business operations and obligations with employees.

Most transactions in currencies other than US$ are denominated in Chilean pesos. Also, there is another portion in Euro, which corresponds mainly to a long-term loan issued through the international market, which exchange rate risk is mitigated with hedging instruments (Swap).

Taking into consideration the financial assets and liabilities as of December 31, 2023 as the base, a fluctuation (positive or negative) of 10 Chilean pesos against the U.S. dollar (keeping the other variables constant), could affect profits before taxes by US$ 41 million in profit or loss, respectively. This result is obtained by identifying the main items (including assets and financial liabilities) denominated in foreign currencies in order to measure the impact on profit or loss that a variation of +/- 10 Chilean pesos would have in terms of US$, with respect to the closing exchange rate at the end of the reporting period.

There are operating and investment expenses that are subject to price-level restatements associated with inflationary adjustments in the economic environment in which the Corporation operates. The Corporation periodically monitors the effects of these price-level restatements on its results in order to detect unusual situations that could have a significant financial impact.

Based on current conditions, the Corporation has not entered into, nor does it intend to enter into, derivative contracts specifically to hedge the effects discussed in the preceding paragraph.

If financial assets and liabilities are considered as of December 31, 2023, a 1% fluctuation (positive or negative) in the value of UF in Chilean pesos (with all other variables held constant) could affect the pre-tax result by an estimated US$ 20 million loss or gain, respectively. This result is obtained by identifying the main items affected by exchange differences, both financial assets and liabilities, in order to measure the impact on income that a 1% variation in the value of the UF, used at the date of presentation of the financial statements, would have.

- Interest rate risk

This risk arises from interest rate fluctuations in Codelco's investment and financing activities. This movement can affect future cash flows or the market value of fixed rate financial instruments.

These rate variations refer to U.S. dollar variations, mostly with respect to the LIBOR rate. To manage this risk, Codelco maintains an adequate combination of fixed and variable rate debt, which is complemented by the possibility of using interest-rate derivatives to meet the strategic guidelines defined by Codelco's Vice-Presidency of Administration and Finance

It is estimated that, based on net debt at December 31, 2023, a one percentage point change in the interest rates of credit financial liabilities subject to variable interest rates would result in a change in annual interest expense of approximately US$ 14 million, before taxes. This estimation is made by identifying the liabilities assigned variable interest, accrued at the end of the financial statements, which may vary with a change of one percentage point in variable interest rates.

The concentration of obligations that Codelco maintains at fixed and variable rates at December 31, 2023, corresponds to a total of ThUS$ 18,717,055 and ThUS$ 1,481,047, respectively.

b. Market risk.

• Commodity price risk:

As a result of its commercial operations and activities, the Corporation's income is mainly exposed to the volatility of copper prices and certain sub-products such as gold and silver.

Copper and molybdenum sales contracts generally establish provisional sales prices at the time of shipment of such products, while the final price will be considered based on a monthly average price determined by the market for future periods. At the reporting date, sales of provisionally priced products are adjusted to fair value and the effect is recorded in the results of operations for the period. Forward prices at the period-end are used for copper sales, while period-end average prices are used for molybdenum concentrate sales due to the absence of an assets futures market. (See Note 2.q) "Income from Activities Ordinary Procedures from Contracts with Customers" of section II "Main Accounting Policies").

As of December 31, 2023, if the future price of copper fluctuates by + / - 5% (with the other variables constant), the result would be +/- US$231 million before taxes as a result of setting the mark to market of sales revenue to provisional prices in effect as of December 31, 2023 (MTMF 546). For the estimate indicated, all of those physical sales contracts were valued according to the monthly average immediately following the close of the financial statements, and proceeds to be estimated regarding what the final settlement price would be if there is a difference of + / - 5% with respect to the future price known to date for this period

In order to protect cash flow and adjust, where necessary, its sales contracts to its trade policy, the Corporation holds operations in futures markets. At the end of the reporting period, these contracts are adjusted to fair value, recording this effect, at the settlement date of the hedging transactions as part of net product sales.

The Corporation has not entered into any hedging transactions with the specific purpose of hedging the price risk caused by fluctuations in prices of production inputs.

c. Liquidity risk

The Corporation ensures that it has sufficient resources, such as pre-approved credit lines (including refinancing), in order to meet short-term requirements, after considering the necessary working capital for its operations and any other commitments it has.

In this sense, the Corporation maintains resources at its disposal sufficient to meet its obligations, whether in cash, liquid financial instruments or credit facilities.

In addition, the Finance Department constantly monitors the Corporation's cash flow projections based on short- and long-term projections and available financing alternatives. In addition, the Corporation estimates that it has enough headroom to increase the level of borrowing for the normal requirements of its operations and investments established in its development plan.

In this context, according to current existing commitments with creditors, the cash requirements to cover financial liabilities classified by maturity and presented in the statement of financial position are detailed as follows:

Maturity of financial liabilities as of 12-31-2023	Less than 1 year ThUS$	Between one five years ThUS$	Over years ThUS$
Loans from financial entities	18,190	970,896	493,961

Other financial liabilities	-	80,851	-
Total	852,121	4,630,687	14,918,430

d. Credit risk

This risk comprises the possibility that a third party does not fulfill its contractual obligations, thereby causing a loss for the Corporation.

Given the Corporation's sales policy, principally with cash and advance payments and bank letters of credit, the uncollectible of client debt balances is minimal. This is complemented by the familiarity the Corporation has with its clients and the length of time it has operated with them. Therefore, the credit risk of these transactions is not significant.

The indications with respect to the payment conditions to the Corporation are detailed in every sales contract and the negotiation management is under the charge of the Commercial Vice-Presidency.

In general, the Corporation's other accounts receivable have a high credit quality according to the Corporation's evaluations, based on each debtor's solvency analysis and payment history.

The maximum exposure to credit risk as of December 31, 2023 is represented by the financial asset items presented in the Corporation's Statement of Financial Position.

The Corporation's accounts receivable does not include customers with balances that could be classified as a significant concentration of debt and would represent a material exposure for Codelco. This exposure is distributed among many clients and other counterparties.

In the customer items, the provisions, which are not significant, are included based on the review of the outstanding balances and characteristics of the clients, destined to cover eventual insolvencies.

Explanatory note 2 "Trade and other receivables" shows past due and not provisioned balances.

The Corporation estimates that unimpaired amounts overdue over 30 days are recoverable based on clients' historical payment behavior and their existing credit ratings.

As of December 31, 2023 and 2022, there are no receivable balances that have been renegotiated.

Codelco works with major banks, which have high national and international ratings, and continually assesses them; therefore, the risk that could affect the availability of the Corporation's funds and financial instruments is not significant.

Also, in some cases, to minimize credit risk, the Corporation has contracted credit insurance policies through which it transfers to third parties the commercial risk associated with some aspects of its business.

During the years ended December 31, 2023 and 2022, no guarantees have been executed in relation to ensure the collection of third party debt.

Personnel loans mainly relate to mortgage loans, according to programs included in union agreements, which are paid for through payroll discounts.

e. Other relevant risks

In addition to exposure to financial risks, community relations, environmental, litigation and regulatory proceedings, during 2022 we defined strategic risks as risks or combination of risk events that may threaten the business model in the short or long term, structuring our model in a robust way to face the challenges that become more demanding each year, such as changes in social expectations, infrastructure and human development.

The model designed contemplates risks for at least the next three years and also some that would be relevant for a longer period. It also considers monitoring emerging risks which are permanently monitored by the industry.

Risks are permanently monitored to identify, address and oversee appropriate mitigation actions, with the support of the second line of defense established in Codelco's corporate governance mainly through corporate risk management, working to provide assurance on the status of controls or drive the necessary behavior to achieve the expected status.

These definitions also consider risk appetite as the nature and extent of risk that the Corporation is willing to accept in relation to the achievement of its business and objectives. The above factors in the probability and severity of the consequences of the materialization of a risk in the different areas of its impact.

Our risk management program considers that risk appetite and risks may change over time and may require management actions to respond to changes in the context. Information regarding the main risks considered by Codelco will be included in the Annual Report as of 2022.

28. Derivatives contracts.

The Corporation has entered transactions to hedge cash flows, to minimize the risk of foreign exchange rate variations and sales price variations, detailed as follows:

a. Exchange rate hedge

The Corporation maintains an exposure associated with its foreign exchange hedging operations, the balance of which corresponds to a net deferred tax profit recognized in equity amounting to ThUS$ 615 as of December 31, 2023.

b. Cash flows hedging contracts and commercial policy adjustment

The Corporation trades in the copper, gold and silver derivative markets and records its results upon termination. These results are added to or deducted from sales revenues. As of December 31, 2023, these operations generated a higher net realized result of ThUS$ 3,338.

b.1. Commercial flexibility operations of copper contracts

Its objective is to adjust the price of sales to the Corporation's sales policy, which is defined according to the London Metal Exchange. As of December 31, 2023, the Corporation has copper derivative transactions associated with 251,025 metric tons of fine copper. These hedging transactions are performed as part of the Corporation's commercial policy.

The current contracts as of December 31, 2023, present a negative balance of ThUS$ 4,885 and their final result will only be known at their maturity, offsetting the hedging transactions with revenue from the sale of the hedged products.

Operations completed between January 1 and December 31, 2023, generated a net positive effect in results of ThUS$ 2,803, corresponding to values for physical sales contracts for a positive amount of ThUS$ 3,746 and values for physical purchase contracts for a negative amount of ThUS$ 943.

b.2. Trade operations of current gold and silver contracts.

As of December 31, 2023, the Corporation has derivative contracts for gold at ThOZT 574 and for silver at ThOZT 41,317.

The contracts in force as of December 31, 2023 present a positive exposure of ThUS$ 3, the final result of which can only be known at the expiration of these operations, after the compensation between the hedging operations and the income from the sale of the protected products. These hedging operations expire up to February, 2024.

As of December 31, 2023, the Corporation has completed gold and silver operations, which generated a net positive effect on income of ThUS$535 corresponding to the value of physical sales contracts.

b.3. Cash flow hedging operations backed by future production

The Corporation has no outstanding transactions as of December 31, 2023, arising from these operations, which protect future cash flows by locking in price levels for the sale of part of its production

29. Contingencies and restrictions

a) Lawsuits and contingencies

There are various lawsuits and legal actions initiated by or against the Corporation, which derive from its operations and the industry in which it operates. In general, these are civil, tax, labor and mining litigations, all related to the Corporation's activities.

In the opinion of Management and its legal advisors, the lawsuits where the Corporation is being sued and could have negative results do not represent significant loss contingencies or cash flows. Codelco defends its rights and makes use of all the corresponding legal and procedural instances and resources.

The most relevant lawsuits filed by Codelco relate to the following matters:

- Tax Proceedings: There is a tax proceeding for liquidation No.141 of tax year 2015 and Exempt Resolution No. 89 of 2016 issued by the Internal Revenue Service (SII), for which the Corporation presented the corresponding appeals, which were received and resolved in favor of the Tax and Customs Courts, a resolution that was appealed by the SII.
- Labor lawsuits: Labor proceedings brought by the workers against the Corporation, regard to occupational diseases, labor accidents and other matters.
- Mining proceedings and others arising from the operation: The Corporation has been participating, and will probably continue to participate, as plaintiff and defendant in given court proceedings involving its mining operation and activities, through which it seeks to exercise certain actions or set up certain defenses in relation to given mining concessions that have been established or are in the process of being established, as well as also with regard to its other activities. These proceedings currently do not involve any given amount and do not have any essential effect on Codelco's development.

One of the arbitration lawsuits pending final judgment, as of December 31, 2023, is the one between Codelco and Consorcio Belaz Movitec SpA.

During the year ended December 31, 2023, there are no lawsuits or other proceedings representing 10 percent or more of the Corporation's total outstanding lawsuits.

At the date of issuance of these financial statements, Corporación Nacional del Cobre faces various lawsuits and legal actions against it for a total of approximately ThUS$ 419,248 corresponding to 1,125 cases for ThUS$ 73,719. According to the estimate made by the Corporation's legal advisors, there are 921 cases representing 81,87% of the total, on which a loss is probable for an amount of ThUS$ 72,775. There are also 145 cases, representing 12.89% for an amount of ThUS$361, on which there is a less than probable likelihood that the Corporation will get an unfavorable sentence. For the remaining 59 cases, representing 5.24% for an amount of ThUS$583, the Corporation's legal advisors believe that an unfavorable outcome is unlikely.

- Lawsuit under administrative law: On August 2, 2017, a Nullity in Public Law claim was filed in the 25th Civil Court of Santiago against Audit Report No. 900 of 2016, issued by the General Comptrollership of the Republic on May 10, 2017.

Once the discussion and evidence stage concluded, the Santiago Civil Court, on September 11, 2020, delivered its judgment in which it dismissed the annulment action filed by the Corporation, condemning it to the respective costs of said lawsuit.

On October 27, 2020, the Corporation filed appeals and cassation in the form of the sentence of the 25th Civil Court of Santiago, which dismissed the Public Law nullity action filed by the Codelco against Report No. 900 of 2016 of the Comptroller General of the Republic.

In December 2022, the Corporation established a collaboration commitment with the Comptroller General of the Republic (CGR) to reinforce the principle of probity in regulation, applicable to the company regarding operations with related parties, establishing a framework for any contracts with related parties, safeguarding the legal status of the company and its business line, in addition to reinforcing controls for sensitive operations. This agreement with the Comptroller's Office recognizes Codelco's good practices and also improves controls for related party transactions. As a result of this agreement, litigation with the regulator has been terminated.

For litigation with probable loss and its costs, there are the necessary provisions, which are recorded as contingency provisions.

b) Other commitments.

- i. Law No. 19993 dated December 17, 2004, authorized the purchase of the Refinery and Smelter Las Ventanas assets from ENAMI, establishing that the Corporation must ensure that the smelting and refining capacity required is maintained, without any restriction and limitation, for treating the products of the small and medium mining sector sent by ENAMI, under the form of toll production or another form agreed upon by the parties. (See paragraph described in number viii, where the modification of this law is mentioned).
- ii. Obligations with the public for bond issues means that the Corporation must meet certain restrictions related to limits on pledges and leaseback transactions on its principal assets and on its ownership interest in subsidiaries.

The Corporation has complied with these conditions as of December 31, 2023 and 2022.

- iii. On January 20, 2010, the Corporation signed two energy supply contracts with Colbún S.A., which includes energy and power sales and purchases for a total of 510 MW of power. The contract provides a discount for that unconsumed energy from Codelco's SIC divisions with respect to the amount of contracted power. The discount is equivalent to the value of the sale of that energy on the spot market.

The contracted power for supplying these Divisions is comprised by two contracts:

- Contract No.1 for 176 MW, current until December 2029.
- Contract No.2 for 334 MW, current until December 2044. This contract is based on energy production from Colbún's Santa María thermal power station, which is currently in operation. This plant is coal-fired, and therefore the electric energy tariff rate applied for the energy supplied to Codelco is linked to the price of coal.

Both of these contracts comply with Codelco's long-term energy and power requirements from the SIC of approximately 510 MW.

Through these contracts, which operate through take or pay, the Corporation agrees to pay for the contracted energy and Colbún undertakes to reimburse at market price the energy not consumed by Codelco

These contracts have maturity dates in 2029 and 2044.

On October 27, 2022, Codelco signed an amendment to the contract, which, among other aspects, will allow replacing the coal-based electricity supply with a renewable energy supply. This transformation will be implemented gradually, and as of January 1, 2026 the contract will be for 1,000 GWh/year of renewable energy.

- iv. For the electric power supply of the Chuquicamata's work center, the following contracts are maintained:

For the electric power supply of the Chuquicamata's work center, there are three contracts: Engie for a 15-year term from January 2010, that is maturing in December 2024, for 200 MW capacity, and another contract for a 200 MW capacity which was signed in January 2018 and will be effective as of January 2025 with maturity in December 2035. CTA effective from 2012 for 80 MW capacity, maturity in 2032.

- v. On August 26, 2011, Codelco signed two energy supply contracts with AESGener. The first one for the Minister Hales division for a 99 MW capacity and the second contract for the Radomiro Tomic work center, for a maximum capacity of 145 MW. Both contracts will mature in 2028.

In December 2022, the respective agreements were renegotiated and signed. The agreement implies the modification of the original contracts and a new renewable sources contract effective from 2023 to 2040.

- vi. On November 11, 2011, Law No. 20551 was published in the Official Journal, which regulates the tasks and closure of mining facilities. Additionally, on November 22, 2012, the Supreme Decree No. 41 of the Minister of Mining, which approves the Regulations of this Law, was published in the Official Gazette.

This law requires the Corporation, among other requirements, to provide financial guarantees to the State to ensure the implementation of closure plans. It also establishes the obligation to make contributions to a fund which aims to cover the costs of post-closure activities.

The Corporation, in accordance with the regulations, delivered in 2014 to the National Geology and Mining Service (SERNAGEOMIN) the mine closure plans for each of the eight divisions of Codelco. These closure plans were developed under the transitional regime of the Law, specified for mining companies affected by the general application procedure, which are those with extraction capacity > 10,000 tons/month, and that at the date of entry into force of the Law were in operation, and with a closure plan previously approved under the Mining Safety Regulation D.S. No. 132.

All these transitional closure plans were approved in 2015 in accordance with the provisions established in the Law.

The law also established the obligation to update these closure plans, under the conditions of the general regime of the law, which incorporates new and greater requirements for the closure plans, five years after its entry into force, i.e. in 2020 in the case of Codelco. This calendar was brought forward to 2019 due to operational particularities for the Chuquicamata and Ventanas Divisions, and postponed to 2021 by SERNAGEOMIN, due to the COVID19 pandemic for the entire industry, and therefore for all other divisions.

In compliance with this new schedule, Codelco approved in 2021 the updated closure plans for the El Teniente, Radomiro Tomic, Ministro Hales and Gabriela Mistral Divisions, and as of December 31, 2021, the approval of the updated plans for the Salvador and Andina Divisions is in process. During the year 2022, Codelco obtained the approval of the updated closure plans of the Salvador and Andina divisions. The Corporation has provided the corresponding guarantees committed in all the approved closure plans, in accordance with the latest updates in force.

As of December 31, 2023, the Corporation has agreed guarantees for an annual amount of UF 75,079,400 to comply with the aforementioned Law No. 20551 (see note No. 30).

- vii. On August 24, 2012, Codelco through its subsidiary Inversiones Mineras Nueva Acrux SpA (Nueva Acrux) (whose minority shareholder is Mitsui), signed a contract with Anglo American Sur S.A. Under this contract, Codelco agreed to sell a portion of its annual copper production to the mentioned subsidiary, who in turn agrees to purchase such production.

Such annual portion is determined by the share of Codelco's indirect subsidiary, Inversiones Mineras Becrux SpA (also shared ownership with Mitsui), maintained for the shares of Anglo-American Sur S.A.

In turn, the subsidiary Nueva Acrux agrees to sell to Mitsui, the products purchased under the agreement described in the preceding paragraphs.

The contract expiration will occur when the shareholders agreement of Anglo-American Sur S.A. ends or other events related to the completion of mining activities of the company take place.

- viii. On June 17, 2022, Codelco's Board of Directors agreed to move forward with preparations to cease operation of the Ventanas Smelter, subject to parliament amending Law No. 19,993 within a limited period of time, whose scope referred exclusively to the smelter and not to the refinery or other operations of the Ventanas Division. For this measure to be carried out, it required the amendment and approval by the Executive and the Legislature of Law No. 19,993, which obliged the Corporation to smelt the minerals of Empresa Nacional de Minería (ENAMI) at the Ventanas Smelter.

On March 6, 2023, Congress approved the modification of the aforementioned law, allowing this obligation to be fulfilled by other smelters and refineries of Codelco

Later, in May 2023, the National Geology and Mining Service (Sernageomin) authorized Codelco the temporary closure plan for the Ventanas smelter, which will have an initial duration of two years, extendable for another three, during which time engineering will be developed and permits will be processed to move on to the definitive closure stage, which considers, among other actions, the dismantling of the smelter facilities.

On May 31, 2023, the Ventanas smelter furnaces were shut down.

- On March 20, 2024, as an essential fact, it is reported, in relation to Corporación Nacional del Cobre de Chile ("Codelco") and its businesses, that:

By means of an essential fact dated December 27, 2023, Codelco reported the signing of a memorandum of understanding with Sociedad Química y Minera de Chile S.A. (MOU) for the negotiation of a public-private partnership for the operation, exploration and exploitation of mining properties leased to Corporación de Fomento de la Producción in the Salar de Atacama and the commercialization of the products derived from such exploitation. According to the MOU, the parties would seek to sign the definitive partnership documents no later than March 31, 2024.

On this date, the parties have entered into an amendment to the MOU to establish May 31, 2024 as the new deadline for agreeing and signing the definitive partnership documents, without prejudice to the parties' commitment to attempt to reach a full agreement and signature before that date. It should be reminded that, once the definitive partnership documents have been signed, certain conditions precedent (including those referred to in the MOU) must be met for the partnership to materialize and take effect.

The text of the amended MOU will be available to the public at www.codelco.com.

Management of the Corporation is not aware of other significant events of a financial nature or of any other nature that could affect these financial statements, occurring between January 1, 2024 and the date of issue of these consolidated financial statements as March 28, 2024.

(A free translation from the original in Spanish)

Santiago, March 30, 2023

Corporación Nacional del Cobre de Chile

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Corporación Nacional del Cobre de Chile and its subsidiaries, which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as of December 31, 2022, and 2021, and the related consolidated statements of income, comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements.

Management's responsibility for the consolidated financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards. This responsibility includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Chile. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

I. GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Corporate information

Corporación Nacional del Cobre de Chile (hereinafter referred to as “Codelco” or the “Corporation”), is, in Management’s opinion, the largest copper producer in the world. Codelco’s most important product is refined copper, primarily in the form of cathodes. The Corporation also produces copper concentrates, blister and anode copper and by-products such as molybdenum, anode slime and sulfuric acid.

The Corporation trades its products based on a policy aimed to sell refined copper to manufacturers or producers of semi-manufactured products.

These products contribute to diverse fields of community development, particularly those intended to improve areas such as public health, energy efficiency, and sustainable development, among others.

The Corporation is registered under Securities Registry No. 785 of the Chilean Commission for the Financial Market (the “CMF”) and is subject to its supervision. According to Article No. 10 of Law No. 20392 (related to the new Corporate Governance of Codelco), such supervision shall be on the same terms as publicly traded companies, notwithstanding the provisions in Decree Law (D.L.) No. 1349 of 1976, which created the Comisión Chilena del Cobre (“Chilean Copper Commission”).

Codelco’s head office is in Santiago, Chile, at 1270 Huérfanos Street, telephone number (56-2) 26903000.

Codelco was incorporated through D.L. No. 1350 of 1976, which is the statutory decree applicable to the Corporation. In accordance with the statutory decree, Codelco is a government-owned mining, industrial and commercial company, which is a separate legal entity with its own equity. Codelco Chile currently carries out its mining business through its Chuquicamata, Radomiro Tomic, Ministro Hales, Gabriela Mistral, Salvador, Andina, El Teniente and Ventanas divisions.

The Corporation also carries out similar activities in other mining deposits in association with third parties.

In accordance with letter e) of Article 10 of Law No. 20392, Codelco is governed by its organic standards set forth in Decree Law No. 1350 (D.L. No. 1350) and that of its by-laws, and in matters not covered by them and, insofar as they are compatible and do not contradict the provisions of such standards, by the rules that govern publicly traded companies and the common laws as applicable to them.

In accordance with D.L. No. 1350 Section IV related to the Company's Exchange and Budget Regulations. Codelco's financial activities are conducted following an annual budgeting program that is composed of an Operations Budget, an Investment Budget, and a Debt Amortization Budget.

The tax system applicable to Codelco's taxable income is in accordance with Article 26 of D. L. No.1350 which refers to Decree Law No. 824 on Income Tax of 1974 and Decree Law No. 2398 (Article 2) of 1978, as applicable. The Corporation's taxable income is also subject to a Specific Mining Tax in accordance with Law No. 20026 of 2005.

According to Law No. 13196, the return on foreign currency of the Corporation's foreign sales (real income), of its copper production, including its by-products, is taxed at 10% and method of payment and the duration of this obligation for Codelco, which are detailed in Note III.22 letter c) of this report.

The subsidiaries whose financial statements are included in these consolidated financial statements correspond to companies located in Chile and abroad, which are detailed in Note II.2.d.

The associates located in Chile and abroad, are detailed in the Explanatory Notes Section III of Note 9.

2. Basis of presentation of the consolidated financial statements

The consolidated statements of financial position as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, the consolidated statements of income, statements of comprehensive income, statements of changes in equity and cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021 have been prepared under International Accounting Standard No. 1 (IAS 1) "Presentation of Financial Statements", incorporated in the International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (hereinafter "IASB")

These consolidated financial statements include all information and disclosures required in annual financial statements.

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared from accounting records maintained by the Corporation.

The consolidated financial statements of the Corporation are presented in thousands of United States dollar ("U.S. dollar").

Responsibility for information and estimates made

The Board of Directors of the Corporation has been informed of the information included in these consolidated financial statements and expressly declared its responsibility for the consistent and reliable nature of the information included as of December 31, 2022, which financial statements fully comply with IFRS. These consolidated financial statements as of December 31, 2022 were approved by the Board of Directors at a meeting held on March 30, 2023.

Accounting policies

These consolidated financial statements reflect the financial position of Codelco and affiliates as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, as well as the results of their operations, changes in equity and cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, and their related notes, all prepared and presented in accordance with IAS 1 "Presentation of Financial Statements, considering the respective presentation regulations of the Financial Market Commission (CMF)".

II. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

1. Significant judgments and key estimates

In preparing these consolidated financial statements, the use of certain critical accounting estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of assets and liabilities recognized as of the date of the financial statements and the amounts of revenue and expenses recognized during the reporting period is required. Such preparation also requires the Corporation's Management to exercise its judgment in the process of applying the Corporation's accounting policies. The areas involving a greater degree of judgment or complexity or areas in which the assumptions and estimates are significant for the consolidated financial statements are described as follows:

- a) Useful economic lives and residual values of property, plant and equipment: the useful lives and residual values of property, plant and equipment that are used for calculating depreciation are determined based on technical studies prepared by internal specialists. The technical studies consider specific factors related to the use of assets.

Where there are indications that the useful lives of these assets or their residual values may have changed from previous estimates, this should be done using technical estimates to determine the impact of any changes

- b) Ore reserves: the measurements of ore reserves are based on estimates of the ore resources that are legally and economically exploitable and reflect the technical and environmental considerations of the Corporation regarding the amount of resources that could be exploited and sold at prices exceeding the total cost associated with the extraction and processing.

The Corporation applies judgment in determining the ore reserves, and as such, possible changes in these estimates might significantly impact the estimates of net revenues over time. In addition, these changes might lead to modifications in usage estimates, which might have an effect on depreciation and amortization expense, calculation of stripping cost adjustments, determination of impairment losses, expected future disbursements related to decommissioning and restoration obligations, long term defined benefits plans' accounting and the accounting for financial derivative instruments.

The Corporation estimates its reserves and mineral resources based on the information certified by the Competent Persons internal and external of the Corporation, who are defined and regulated according to Law No. 20235. These estimates correspond to the application of the Certification Code of Ore Reserves, Resources and Exploration, issued by the Mining Committee which was instituted through the law.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Corporation periodically reviews its estimation models, supported by experts who, in some divisions, also certify the reserves determined from these models.

- c) Impairment of non-financial assets: the Corporation reviews the carrying amount of its non-financial assets to determine whether there is any indication that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. If any such indicator exists, the recoverable amount of the assets is estimated to determine the extent of the impairment loss. In testing impairment, the assets are grouped into cash generating units ("CGUs") to which the assets belong, if applicable. The recoverable amount of these CGUs is calculated as the present value of the expected future cash flows from such assets, considering a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. If the recoverable amount of the assets is lower than their carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognized.

The Corporation defines the CGUs and also estimates the timing and cash flows that such CGUs will generate. Subsequent changes in the grouping of the CGU, or changes in the assumptions supporting the estimates of cash flows or the discount rate, may impact the carrying amounts of the corresponding assets.

Estimates of assumptions influencing the calculation of cash flows, such as the price of copper or treatment charges and refining charges, among others, are determined based on studies conducted by the Corporation using uniform criteria over different periods. Any change in these criteria may have an impact on the recoverable amount of the assets being tested for impairment.

The Corporation has assessed and defined that the CGUs are constituted at the level of each of its current operating divisions, with the exception of the Ventanas Division Smelter and Refinery operations, which are analyzed separately.

In assessing impairment in affiliates and associates, the Corporation uses the higher of value in use or fair value less costs to determine the recoverable amount. This recoverable amount may consider elements such as Life of Mine (LOM), reserves and/or mining resources, among others, for mining operation evaluations. In addition, the evaluation may incorporate market variables such as, for example, the price of copper and other commodities, cost of production inputs, exchange rates, discount rates and other market information for long-term asset valuation.

- d) Provisions for decommissioning and site restoration costs: when a disruption is caused by the ongoing development or production of a mining property, an obligation to incur decommissioning and restoration costs arises. Costs are estimated based on a formal closure plan and are reassessed as of each reporting period or as of the date such obligations become known. The initial estimate of decommissioning and site restoration costs is recognized as property, plant, and equipment in accordance with IAS 16, and simultaneously a liability in accordance with IAS 37, is recorded.

For these purposes, a defined list of mine sites, facilities and other equipment are studied under this process, considering the engineering level profile, the cubic meters of assets that will be subject to removal and restoration, weighted by a structure of market prices of goods and services, reflecting the best current knowledge related to carrying out such activities, as well as techniques and more efficient construction procedures to date. In the process of valuation of these activities, the assumptions of the exchange rate for tradable goods and services are made, as well as a discount rate, which considers the time value of money and the risks associated with the liabilities, which is determined based, where applicable, on the currency in which disbursements are expected to be made.

The liability amounts recognized at the end of each reporting date represent management's best estimate of the present value of the future decommissioning and site restoration costs. Changes in the estimate of the liability because of changes in the estimated future costs or in the discount rate are added to or deducted from the respective asset cost. The amount deducted from the cost of the asset shall not exceed its carrying amount. If a decrease in the liability exceeds the carrying amount of the asset, the excess is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

If the adjustment results in an addition to the cost of the asset, Codelco considers whether this is an indicator that the new carrying amount of the asset may not be fully recoverable. If such an indicator exists, Codelco tests the asset for impairment by estimating its recoverable amount, and accounts for any impairment loss in accordance with IAS 36.

Costs arising from the installation of a plant or other site preparation work, discounted to their net present value, are provided for and capitalized at the beginning of each project as soon as the obligation to incur such costs arises. These decommissioning costs are charged to net income over the life of the mine, through depreciation of the corresponding asset. Depreciation expense is included in cost of sales, while the discount in the provision is included in finance costs.

- e) Provisions for employee benefits: Provisions for employee benefits related to severance payments and health benefits for services rendered by the employees are determined based on actuarial calculations using the projected unit credit method and are recognized in other comprehensive income or s (depending on the accounting standards applicable) on an accrual basis

The Corporation uses assumptions to determine the best estimate of future obligations related to these benefits. Such estimates, as well as assumptions, are determined by management using the assistance of external actuaries. These assumptions include demographic assumptions, discount rate and expected salary increases and rotation levels, among other factors.

- f) Accruals for open invoices: the Corporation uses information on future copper prices, through which it recognizes adjustments to its revenues and trade receivables, due to the conditions in provisional pricing arrangements. These adjustments are updated monthly, See Notes 2 q) "Revenue from contracts with customers" of Note 2 "Significant accounting policies" below.
- g) Fair value of derivatives and other financial instruments: management may use its judgment to choose an adequate and proper valuation method for financial instruments that are not quoted in an active market. In the case of derivative financial instruments, assumptions are based on observable market inputs, adjusted depending on factors specific to the instruments among others.
- h) Lawsuits and contingencies: The Corporation assesses the probability of lawsuits and contingency losses on an ongoing basis according to estimates performed by its legal advisors. For cases in which management and the Corporation's legal advisors believe that a loss is not probable of occurring or where probable, may not be estimated reliably, no provisions are recognized. When it is considered more likely than not that a loss is probable and it may be reliably estimated, a provision is recognized.
- i) Application of IFRS 16: includes the following:
- Estimation of the lease term
 - Determine if it is reasonably certain that an extension or termination option will be exercised.
 - Determination of the appropriate rate to discount lease payments
- j) Revenue recognition: the Corporation determines appropriate revenue recognition for its contracts with customers by analyzing the type, terms and conditions of each contract or agreement with a customer.

As part of the analysis, the management must make judgments about whether an agreement or contract is legally enforceable, and whether the agreement includes separate performance obligations. In addition, estimates are required to allocate the total price of the transaction to each performance obligation based on the stand-alone selling price of the promised goods or services underlying each performance obligation. (The Corporation applies the constraint on variable consideration as defined in IFRS 15, if applicable).

k) Stripping costs - Costs incurred in removing mine waste materials (overburden) in open pits that are in production, that provide access to mineral deposits, are recognized in property, plant, and equipment, when the following criteria set out in IFRIC 20 Stripping Costs in the Production Phase of a Surface Mine are met:

- It is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the stripping activity will flow to the entity.
- It is possible to identify the components of an ore body for which access has been improved because of the stripping activity, and
- The costs relating to that stripping activity can be measured reliably.

The stripping costs are amortized based on the production units of production extracted from the ore body related to the specific stripping activity which generated this amount.

Although the abovementioned estimates have been made based on the best information available as of the date of issuance of these consolidated financial statements, it is possible that new developments could lead the Corporation to modify these estimates in the future. Such modifications, if any, would be adjusted prospectively, recognizing the effects of the change in estimate in future consolidated financial statements, as required by IAS 8 "Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors".

- c. Functional currency - The functional currency of Codelco is the U.S. dollar, which is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Corporation operates and the currency in which it receives its revenues.

The functional currency of subsidiaries, associates, and joint ventures is the currency of the primary economic environment in which those entities operate and the currency in which they receive their revenues. - d. Basis of consolidation - The financial statements comprise the consolidated statements of the Corporation and its affiliates.

Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date of acquisition, being the date on which the Corporation obtains control, and continue to be consolidated until the date such control ceases. Specifically, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the year are included in the consolidated statement from the date the Corporation gains control until the date when the Corporation ceases to control the subsidiary.

The financial statements of the subsidiaries are prepared for the same reporting period as the Corporation, using consistent accounting policies

All assets, liabilities, equity, income, expenses, and cash flows related to transactions between consolidated companies are fully eliminated on consolidation. The value of the non-controlling interest of shareholders in equity and in the results of affiliates is presented, respectively, as "Non-controlling interests" in the consolidated statement of financial position and "Income (loss) attributable to non-controlling interests" and "Comprehensive income (loss) attributable to non-controlling interests" in the consolidated statements of income.

For the purposes of these consolidated financial statements, subsidiaries, associates, acquisitions and disposals are defined as follows:

- Subsidiaries: A subsidiary is an entity over which the Corporation has control. Control is exercised if, and only if, the following elements are present: (i) power to govern the operating and financial policies to obtain benefits from their activities; (ii) exposure or rights to the variable returns of these companies; and (iii) ability to use the power to influence the amount of returns.

The Corporation reassesses whether it controls a subsidiary if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one or more of the elements of control listed above.

The consolidated financial statements include all assets, liabilities, revenues, expenses, and cash flows of Codelco and its subsidiaries, after eliminating all inter-company balances and transactions.

- Associates: An associate is an entity over which Codelco has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the associate but is not control or joint control over those policies.

Codelco's interest ownership in associates is recognized in the consolidated financial statements under the equity method. Under this method, the initial investment is recognized at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognize changes in Codelco's share of the comprehensive income of the associate, less any impairment losses or other changes to the investment in net assets of the associate.

The Corporation adjusts the proportional gains or losses obtained by the associate after acquisition to take into account the effects that may exist in the depreciation of the fair value of the assets considered at the date of acquisition.

- Acquisitions and disposals: the result of businesses acquired are incorporated in the consolidated financial statements from the date when control is obtained; the results of businesses sold during the period are included in the consolidated financial statements up to the effective date of disposal. Gains or losses on disposal is the difference between the sale proceeds (net of expenses) and the carrying amount of the net assets attributable to the ownership interest that has been sold (and, where applicable, the associated cumulative translation adjustment).

If control is lost over a subsidiary, the retained ownership interest in the investment will be recognized at its fair value.

At the acquisition date of an investment in a subsidiary, associate or joint venture, any excess of the cost of the investment (consideration transferred) plus the amount of the non-controlling interest in the acquiree plus the fair value of any previously held equity interest in the acquiree, where applicable, over Codelco's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and acquired liabilities is recognized as goodwill. Any excess of Codelco's share of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and acquired liabilities over the consideration transferred, after reassessment, is recognized immediately in profit or loss in the period in which the investment is acquired.

- e. Foreign currency transactions and reporting currency conversion - Transactions in currencies other than the Corporation's functional currency are recognized at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. At the end of each reporting period, foreign currency transactions denominated in foreign currencies are converted at the rates prevailing at that date. Gains and losses due to the effect of foreign currency transactions are included in the consolidated statement of income for the period within "Exchange gains (losses) in foreign currencies".

At the end of the reporting period, monetary assets and liabilities denominated in Unidades de Fomento ("UF") have been denominated in US$, considering the exchange rates in effect at the end of each period (12-31-2022: US$ 41.02; 12-31-2021: US$ 36.69)

Expenses and income in local currency have been expressed in dollars at the observed exchange rate, corresponding to the date of the accounting record of each transaction.

The translation of the financial statements of affiliated associates and jointly controlled entities, whose functional currency is different from Codelco's presentation currency, is performed as follows for consolidation purposes:

- Assets and liabilities are converted using the prevailing exchange rate on the reporting date.
- Income and expenses for each statement of income are translated at average exchange rates for the period.
- All resulting exchange differences are recognized in comprehensive income and accumulated in equity under the heading "Reserve on exchange differences on translation."

The exchange rates used in each reporting period were as follows:

Relationship	Closing exchange rates
	12-31-2022	12-31-2021
USD / CLP	0.00117	0.00118
USD / GBP	1.20802	1.34880
USD / BRL	0.18923	0.17957
USD / EURO	1.07021	1.13135
USD / AUD	0.68120	0.72480
USD / HKD	0.12820	0.12821
USD / RMB	0.14452	0.15680

- f. Offsetting balances and transactions - As a general standard, assets and liabilities, revenue, and expenses, are not offset in the financial statements, except for those cases in which offsetting is required or is allowed by a standard and the presentation reflects the substance of the transaction.

Income or expenses arising from transactions which, for contractual or legal reasons, permit the possibility of offsetting and which the Corporation intends to liquidate for their net value or realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously, are stated net in the statement of income.

- g. Property, plant and equipment and depreciation - Items of property, plant and equipment are initially recognized at cost. After initial recognition, they are measured at cost, less any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

The cost of property, plant and equipment includes the costs of expansion, modernization or improvements that represent an increase in productivity, capacity or efficiency, or an increase in the useful life of the assets, and are capitalized as an increase in the cost of the related assets.

The assets included in property, plant and equipment are depreciated, as a general rule, using the units of production method, when the activity performed by the asset is directly attributable to the mine production process. In other cases, a straight-line depreciation criterion is used.

The assets included in property, plant and equipment and certain intangibles (software) are depreciated over their economic useful lives, as described below:

Category	Useful life
Land	Not depreciated
Land on mine site	Unit of production
Buildings	Straight-line over 20-50 years
Buildings in underground mine levels	Units of production level
Vehicles	Straight-line over 3-7 years
Plant and equipment	Unit of production
Smelters	Unit of production
Refineries	Unit of production
Mining rights	Unit of production
Support equipment	Unit of production
Intangibles - software	Straight-line over 8 years
Open pit and underground mine development	Unit of production

Estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation method are reviewed at the end of each reporting period, and any change in estimates is recognized prospectively.

Additionally, depreciation methods and estimated useful lives of assets, especially plants, facilities and infrastructure may be revised at the end of each year or during the year according to changes in the structure of reserves of the Corporation and productive long-term plans updated as of that date.

This review may be made at any time if the conditions of ore reserves change significantly because of new known information, confirmed, and officially released by the Corporation.

The gain or loss resulting from the disposal or retirement of an asset is calculated as the difference between the price obtained on disposal and the value recorded in the books, recognizing the charge or credit to income for the period.

Construction in progress includes the amounts invested in the construction of property, plant and equipment and in mining development projects. Construction in progress is transferred to assets in operation once the testing period has ended and when they are ready for use; at that point, depreciation begins to be recognized.

Borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or construction of assets that require a substantial period before they are ready for use or sale are capitalized as part of the cost of the corresponding items of property, plant, and equipment.

The ore deposits owned by the Corporation are recorded in the accounting records at US$1. Notwithstanding the above, those reserves and resources acquired as part of acquisition of entities accounted for as business combinations, are recognized at their fair value.

- h. Intangible assets - The Corporation initially recognizes these assets at acquisition cost. The cost is amortized systematically over their useful lives, except in the case of assets with indefinite useful lives, which are not amortized, and are assessed for impairment at least once a year and, in any case, whenever there is an indication that impairment may have occurred. At the end of each reporting period, these assets are measured at their cost less any accumulated amortization (when applicable) and any accumulated impairment losses.

The main intangible assets are described as follows:

Research and Technological Development and Innovation Expenditures: The expenditures for the development of Technology and Innovation Projects are recognized as intangible assets at their cost and are considered to have indefinite useful lives.

Development expenses for technology and innovation projects are recognized as intangible assets at cost, if and only if, all the following have been demonstrated

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that it will be available for use or sale;
- The intention to complete the intangible asset is to use or sell it;
- The ability to use or sell the intangible asset;
- That the intangible asset will generate probable future economic benefits;
- The availability of adequate technical, financial, and other resources to complete the development and to use or sell the intangible asset; and
- The disbursement attributable to the intangible asset during its development can be reliably appraised

Research expenses for technology and innovation projects are recognized in profit or loss when incurred.

- i. Impairment of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets - Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets with finite useful lives are reviewed for impairment to verify whether there is any indication that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated to determine the extent of the impairment to be recorded.

For intangible assets with indefinite useful lives, their recoverable amounts are annually estimated at the end of each reporting period.

When an asset does not generate cash flows that are independent from other assets, Codelco determines the recoverable amount of the CGU to which the asset belongs.

The Corporation has defined each of its divisions as a cash generating unit

Recoverable amount of an asset is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. On the other hand, the fair value less cost of disposal is usually determined for operational assets considering the Life of Mine ("LOM"), based on a model of discounted cash flows, while the assets not included in LOM as resources and potential resources to exploit are measured by using a market model of multiples for comparable transactions.

If the recoverable amount of an asset or CGU is estimated to be less than it is carrying amount, an impairment loss is recognized immediately in profit or loss, reducing the carrying amount to its recoverable amount. In the event of a subsequent reversal of the impairment, the carrying amount is increased to the revised estimate of the recoverable amount, but to the extent that it does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment been previously recognized.

The estimates of future cash flow for a CGU are based on future production forecasts, future prices of basic products and future production costs. Under IAS 36 "Impairment of Assets", there are certain restrictions for future cash flows estimates related to future restructurings and future cost efficiencies. When calculating value in use, it is also necessary to base the calculations on the spot exchange rate at the date of calculation

- j. Expenditures for exploration and evaluation of mineral resources, mine development and mining operations - The Corporation has defined an accounting policy for each of these expenditures.

Development expenses for deposits under exploitation whose purpose is to maintain production levels are recognized in profit or loss when incurred.

Exploration and evaluation costs such as: drillings of deposits, including expenses necessary to locate new mineralized areas and engineering studies to determine their potential for commercial exploitation are recognized in profit or loss, normally at the pre-feasibility stage.

Pre-operating and mine development expenses (normally after feasibility engineering is reached) incurred during the execution of a project and until its start-up are capitalized and amortized in relation to the future production of the mine. These costs include stripping of waste material, constructing the mine's infrastructure and other works carried out prior to the production phase.

Finally, costs for defining of new areas or deposit areas in exploitation and of mining operations (PP&E) are recognized in property, plant and equipment and are amortized through profit or loss over the period during which the benefits are obtained.

- k. Income taxes and deferred taxes - Codelco and its Chilean subsidiaries recognize annually income taxes based on the net taxable income determined as per the standards established in the Income Tax Law and Article 2 of D.L. 2398, as well as the specific tax on mining referred to in Law No 20026 of 2005. Its foreign subsidiaries recognize income taxes according to the tax regulations in each country.

In addition, Codelco's taxable income in each period is subject to the tax regime established in Article 26 of D.L. No. 1350, which states that tax payments will be made on March, June, September, and December of each year, based on a provisional tax calculation.

The deferred taxes arising from temporary differences and other events that create differences between the accounting and tax bases of assets and liabilities, are recorded in accordance with the standards established in IAS 12 "Income tax".

Deferred taxes are also recognized for undistributed profits of subsidiaries and associates, originated by withholding tax rates on remittances of dividends paid out by such companies to the Corporation.

- l. Inventories - Inventories are measured at cost when such does not exceed net realizable value. Net realizable value represents the estimated selling price for inventories less all estimated costs of completion and costs necessary to make the sale (i.e., marketing, sales, and distribution expenses). Costs of inventories are determined according to the following methods:
- Finished products and products in process: These inventories are measured at their average production cost determined using the absorption costing method, including labor, depreciation of fixed assets, amortization of intangibles and indirect costs of each period. Inventories of products in process are classified in current and non-current, according to the normal cycle of operation
 - Materials in warehouse: These inventories are valued at acquisition cost and the Corporation determines an allowance for obsolescence considering that slow-moving materials in the warehouse remain in stock.
 - Materials in transit: These inventories are measured at cost incurred at the end of reporting period. Any difference because of an estimate of net realizable value of the inventories lower than its carrying amount is recognized in profit or loss.

- m. Dividends – In accordance with Article 6 of D.L. 1350, the Corporation has a mandatory obligation to distribute its net income as presented in the financial statements. The payment obligation is recognized on an accrual basis.
- n. Employee benefits - Codelco recognizes a provision for employee benefits when there is a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of services rendered by its employees.

The employment contracts stipulate, subject to compliance with certain conditions, the payment of an employee severance indemnity when an employment contract ends. In general, this corresponds to one monthly salary per year of service and considers the components of the final remuneration which are contractually defined as the basis for the indemnity. This employee benefit has been classified as a defined benefit plan.

Codelco has also agreed to post-employment medical care benefits for certain retirees. This employee benefit has been classified as a defined benefit plan.

These plans continue to be unfunded as of December 31, 2022.

The employee severance indemnity and the post-employment medical plan obligations are determined using the projected unit credit method, with actuarial valuations being carried out at the end of each reporting period. The defined benefit plan obligations recognized in the statement of financial position represent the present value of the accrued obligations. Actuarial gains and losses are recognized immediately in other comprehensive income and will not be reclassified to profit or loss.

The Corporation's management uses assumptions to determine the best estimate of these benefits. The assumptions include an annual discount rate, expected increases in salaries and turnover rate, among other factors.

In accordance with its operating optimization programs to reduce costs and increase labor productivity by incorporating new current technologies and/or better management practices, the Corporation has established employee retirement programs by amending certain employment contracts or collective union agreements to include benefits encouraging employees to early retire, for which the necessary provisions are made based on the accrued obligation at current value. In case of employee retirement programs which involve multi-year periods, the accrued obligations are updated using a discount rate determined based on financial instruments denominated in the same currency and similar maturities that will be used to pay the obligations.

- o. Provisions for decommissioning and site restoration costs - The Corporation recognizes a provision for the estimated future costs of decommissioning and restoration of mining projects in development or production when a mining activity causes a disruption under a constructive or legal obligation. Costs are estimated on the basis of a formal closure plan and cost estimates are annually reviewed.

Costs arising from the obligation to dismantle a plant installation or other site preparation work, discounted to their present value, are provided for and capitalized at the beginning of each project or at the origin of the constructive or legal obligation as soon as the obligation to incur such costs arises.

These decommissioning and restoration costs are recorded in income through the depreciation of the asset that gave rise to such cost, and the use of the provision is made when the decommissioning materializes. Subsequent changes in estimates of decommissioning-related liabilities are added to or deducted from the costs of the related assets in the period in which the adjustment is made.

Other restoration costs, outside the scope of IAS 16, Property, Plant and Equipment, are provided for at their present value against operating results and the use of the provision is made in the period in which the restoration work is performed.

The accretion of the discount on a closure liability due to the passage of time is recognized as a finance expense in the statement of income.

- p. Leases - The Corporation evaluates its contracts at initial application to determine whether they contain a lease. The Corporation recognizes a right-of-use asset and a corresponding liability for lease with respect to all lease agreements in which Codelco is the lessee, except for short-term leases (defined as a lease with a lease term of 12 months or less) and leases of low-value assets. For these leases, the Corporation recognizes the lease payments as an operating cost on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which the economic benefits of the leased assets are consumed.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that have not been paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease. If this rate cannot be easily determined, the Corporation uses the incremental borrowing rate.

The incremental rate for loans used by Codelco is determined by estimating the interest rate that the Corporation would have to pay for borrowing the necessary funds to obtain an asset of an equivalent nature similar in value to the right-of-use asset of the respective lease, in a similar economic environment over a similar term.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability mainly include fixed payments, variable payments that depend on an index or a rate and the exercise price of a purchase option. Variable payments that do not depend on an index or a rate are excluded.

The lease liability is subsequently measured as follows: the carrying amount increased to reflect the interest on the lease liability (using the effective rate method) and the carrying amount is reduced to reflect the lease payments made.

The Corporation revalues the lease liability as to the discount rate (and makes the corresponding adjustments to the asset for respective right of use) through a modified discount rate when:

- There is a change in the term of the lease, or
- There is a change in the assessment of an option to purchase the underlying asset, or
- There is a change in an index or rate which generates a change in cash flows.

Right-of-use assets comprise the amount of the present value of payments not made at the contract inception date, and lease payments made before or up to the inception date, less lease incentives received and any initial direct costs incurred plus other decommissioning and site restoration costs. The right-of-use assets are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated losses due to impairment.

When the Corporation incurs a cost obligation to dismantle or remove a leased asset, restore the location in which it is located or restore the underlying asset to the condition required by the terms and conditions of the lease, a provision is recognized and measured in accordance with IAS 37. Costs are included in the corresponding right-of-use asset unless those costs are incurred to produce inventories.

The right-of-use assets are depreciated during the shorter period between the term of the lease and the useful life of the underlying asset. If a lease transfers the ownership of the underlying asset or the cost of the right-of-use asset reflects that the Corporation expects to exercise its option to purchase, the right-of-use asset is depreciated over the useful life of the underlying asset. Depreciation is made from the start date of the lease.

The Corporation applies IAS 36 to determine if a right-of-use asset is impaired and recognizes any impairment loss identified, as described in the accounting policy for "Property, plant and equipment".

q. Revenue from Contracts with Customers - Revenue is recognized in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring goods or services to customers.

- Sale of mineral goods and / or by-products: Contracts with customers for the sale of mineral goods and / or by-products include the performance obligation for the delivery of the physical goods and the associated transportation service, at the place agreed with the customers. The Corporation recognizes revenue from the sale of goods when the performance obligation is satisfied according to the shipment or dispatch of the products, in accordance with the agreed conditions, such revenue being subject to variations related to the content and / or sale price at the date of its liquidation. Notwithstanding the foregoing, there are some contracts where the performance obligation is satisfied when there is receipt of the product instead of the buyer's corresponding destination, thus recognizing revenue at the time of said transfer. When services of transport of goods are provided, the Corporation recognizes revenue when the service obligation is satisfied.

Sales that have discounts associated with volume subject to compliance with goals are recognized net, estimating the probability that the volume target will be reached.

Sales contracts include a provisional price at the shipment date. The final price is generally based on the London Metals Exchange ("LME") price. Revenue from sales of copper is measured using estimates of the future spread of metal prices on the LME and/or the spot price at the date of shipment, with subsequent adjustments made upon final pricing recognized as revenue. The terms of sales contracts with customers contain provisional pricing arrangements whereby the selling price for metal concentrate is based on prevailing spot prices on a specified future date after shipment to the customer (the "quotation period"). Consequently, the final price is set at the dates indicated in the contracts. Adjustments to provisional sale prices occur based on movements in quoted market prices on the LME up to the date of final pricing. The period between provisional invoicing and final pricing is typically between one and nine months. Changes in fair value over the quotation period and until final pricing are estimated by reference to forward market prices for applicable metals.

As indicated in the note related to hedging policies in the market of metal derivatives, the Corporation enters into operations in the market of metal derivatives. Gains and losses from those which are fair value hedges contracts are recognized as revenues.

- Rendering of services: Additionally, the Corporation recognizes revenue for rendering services, which are mainly related to the processing of minerals bought from third parties. Revenue from rendering of services is recognized when the amounts can be measured reliably and when the services have been provided.
- r. Derivatives contracts - Codelco uses derivative financial instruments to reduce the risk of fluctuations in sales prices of its products and of exchange rates.

Derivatives are initially recognized at fair value at the date the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently measured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period.

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges is recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity under the item "Cash flow hedge reserve." The gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is immediately recognized in profit or loss and included in the "Finance cost" or "Finance income" line items, depending on the effect of such ineffectiveness. The amount recognized in comprehensive income is reclassified to income, in the same line in which the effects generated by the hedged item are recorded once the results of the hedged transactions are recorded in the same line or until the maturity date of such transactions.

A hedge is considered highly effective when it meets the requirements of IFRS 9. At the time of discontinuation of the hedge contract or the associated designated accounting and according to the circumstances of each case, the accumulated gain/loss on the derivative instrument remains in equity until the hedge transaction occurs, or if discontinuation is expected to occur, the amount in equity is reclassified to profit or loss.

The total fair value of hedging derivatives is classified as “non-current financial asset or liability”, if the remaining maturity of the hedged item is greater than 12 months, and as “current financial asset or liability” if the remaining maturity of the hedged item is less than 12 months.

The derivative contracts held by the Corporation have been entered into to apply the risk hedging policies and are accounted for as indicated below:

- Hedging policies for exchange rate risk: The Corporation enters into exchange rate derivatives to hedge exchange rate variations between the U.S. dollar and the currencies of transactions the Corporation undertakes. In accordance with the policies established by the Board of Directors, these hedge transactions are only entered into when there are recognized assets or liabilities, forecasts of highly probable transactions or firm commitments. The Corporation does not enter into derivative transactions for non-hedging purposes.
- Hedging policies for metal market prices risk: In accordance with the policies established by the Board of Directors, the Corporation entered into derivative contracts to reduce the inherent risks in the fluctuations of metal prices.

Hedging policies seek to protect expected cash flows from product sales operations by adjusting, when necessary, physical sales contracts to its commercial policy. When the sales commitments are fulfilled and the metal derivative contracts are settled, there is an offset between the results of the sales transactions and the results of hedging using metal derivatives.

Hedging transactions carried out by the Corporation in the metal derivatives market are not undertaken for speculative purposes.

- Embedded derivatives: The Corporation has established a procedure that allows for evaluation of the existence of embedded derivatives in financial and non-financial contracts. Where there is an embedded derivative, and the host contract is not a financial instrument and the characteristics and risks of the embedded derivative are not closely related to the host contract, the derivative is required to be recognized separately.
- s. Financial information by segment – The Corporation has defined its Divisions as its operating segments in accordance with the requirements of IFRS 8, Operating Segments. The mining deposits in operation, where the Corporation conducts its extractive and processing activities are managed by the following Divisions: Chuquicamata, Radomiro Tomic, Ministro Hales, Gabriela Mistral, Salvador, Andina and El Teniente. In addition, the smelting and refining activities are managed at the Ventanas Division. All these Divisions have a separate operational management, which reports to the Chief Executive Officer, through the North and South-Central Vice-President of Operations, respectively. Income and expenses of the Head Office are allocated to the defined operating segments.

- t. Presentation of Financial Statements - For purposes of IAS 1 Presentation of Financial Statements, the Corporation presents its statement of financial position classified as "current and non-current" and its statements of income "by function" and cash flows using the direct method.
- u. Current and non-current financial assets - The Corporation determines the classification of its financial assets at the time of initial recognition and reviews it at each closing date. The classification depends on the business model in which the investments are managed and the contractual characteristics of their cash flows.

The Corporation's financial assets are classified into the following categories:

- At fair value through profit or loss:
Initial recognition: This category includes those financial assets that do not qualify in the business model to collect contractual cash flows, nor do such cash flows come exclusively from capital and interest. These instruments are initially recognized at fair value.

Subsequent recognition: Their subsequent recognition is at fair value, recording in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, in the line "Other gains (losses)" any changes in fair value.
- Amortized cost:
Initial recognition: This category includes those financial assets that qualify in the business model and that are held for the purpose of collecting contractual cash flows and that meet the "Solely Payment of Principal and Interest" (SPPI) criterion. This category includes certain Trade and other current receivables, and the loans included in other non-current financial assets.

Subsequent recognition: These (debt) instruments are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. The amortized cost of a financial asset is the amount at which the financial asset is measured at initial recognition minus the principal repayments, plus the cumulative amortization using the effective interest method of any difference between that initial amount and the maturity amount, adjusted for any impairment allowance.

Interest income is recognized in profit or loss and is calculated by applying the effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount of a financial asset. For financial assets measured at amortized cost that are not part of a designated hedging relationship, exchange differences are recognized in profit or loss in the "Foreign exchange difference" line item.

- At fair value through other comprehensive income:

Initial measurement: Financial assets that meet the criteria "Solely payments of principal and interest" (SPPI) are classified in this category and must be maintained within a business model both to collect the cash flows and to sell the financial assets. These instruments are initially recognized at fair value.

Subsequent recognition: Their subsequent valuation is at fair value. Interest income calculated using the effective interest rate method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognized in income. Other net gains and losses are recognized in other comprehensive income. On derecognition, the gains and losses accumulated in other comprehensive income for debt instruments are reclassified to income. Codelco did not irrevocably choose to designate any equity financial instruments (assets) at fair value with effect on other comprehensive income.

v. Financial liabilities - Financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value net of transaction costs. Subsequent to their initial recognition, the valuation of the financial liabilities will depend on their classification, within which the following categories are distinguished:

- Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss: This category includes financial liabilities defined as held for trading.

Changes in fair value associated with own credit risk are recorded in other comprehensive income unless doing so creates an accounting mismatch.

- Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost: This category includes all financial liabilities other than those measured at fair value through profit or loss.

The Corporation includes in this category bonds, obligations and other current payables.

These financial liabilities are measured using the effective interest rate method, recognizing interest expense based on the effective rate.

The method of the effective interest rate corresponds to the method of calculating the amortized cost of a financial liability and the allocation of interest expenses during the corresponding period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments through the expected life of the financial liability, or where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount on initial recognition.

Trade and other current payables are financial liabilities that do not explicitly accrue interest and are recognized at their nominal value, which approximates its fair value.

Financial liabilities are derecognized when the liabilities are paid or expire.

- w. Impairment of financial assets - The Corporation measures the loss allowance at an amount equal to lifetime expected credit losses for certain of its trade receivables. For these, it uses the simplified approach as required under IFRS 9.

The provision matrix is based on the Corporation's historical credit loss experience over the expected life of such trade receivables and is adjusted for forward-looking estimates considering the most relevant macroeconomic factors that affect bad debts.

Other accounts receivable and other financial assets are reviewed using reasonable and sustainable information that is available without cost or disproportionate effort in accordance with IFRS 9 to determine the credit risk of the respective financial assets. A provision for impairment losses on trade receivables and other financial assets is established when there is objective evidence that the amounts due may not be fully recovered.

- x. Cash and cash equivalents - The statement of cash flows reflects changes in cash that took place during the period, determined under the direct method. The Corporation has defined the following:
- Cash flows: Inflows and outflows of cash or cash equivalents, which are defined as highly liquid investments maturing in less than three months with a low risk of changes in value.
 - Operating activities: Are the principal revenue-producing activities of the Corporation and other activities that are not investing or financing activities.
 - Investing activities: These are the acquisition and disposal of long-term assets and other investments not included in cash and cash equivalents.
 - Financing activities: These are activities that result in changes in the size and composition of net equity and borrowings of the Corporation.

Bank overdrafts are classified as external resources in current liabilities.

- y. Law No. 13196 - Under this law, the return in foreign currency of sales abroad of the Corporation's actual income from its copper production, including by-products, is taxed at 10%. The amount recognized for this concept is presented in the statement of income within the line item "Other expenses by function." (Note III.22 letter c)).
- z. Cost of sales - Cost of sales is determined according to the absorption costing method, including the direct and indirect costs, depreciation, amortization and any other expenses directly attributable to the production process.

aa. Classification of current and non-current balances - In the consolidated statement of financial position, the balances are classified according to their maturities, that is, as current for those with a maturity equal to or less than twelve months and as non-current for those with a greater maturity. Where there are obligations whose maturity is less than twelve months, but whose long-term refinancing is insured upon a decision by the Corporation whose intention is to refinance, through credit agreements available unconditionally with long-term maturity, these could be classified as non-current liabilities.

3. New standards and interpretations adopted by the Corporation

The accounting policies adopted in the preparation of the consolidated financial statements are consistent with those applied in the preparation of the Corporation's annual consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2021, except for the adoption of new standards, interpretations and amendments, effective from January 1, 2022, which are:

a) Reference to the Conceptual Framework - Amendments to IFRS 3:

Reference to Conceptual Framework 2018 instead of 1989. Additionally, for transactions within the scope of IAS 37 or IFRIC 21, an acquirer will apply IAS 37 or IFRIC 1 (instead of Conceptual Framework) to identify liabilities assumed in a business combination. Finally, a statement is added so that an acquirer does not recognize contingent assets acquired in a business combination.

b) Property, Plant and Equipment - Revenue before Intended Use (Amendments to IAS 16)

The income and costs from the sale of items produced while the asset is taken to the location and necessary condition of operation foreseen by the administration, are recognized in results. It is not allowed to affect the cost of the asset by revenues and costs of such sales.

c) Onerous Contracts – Costs of Fulfilling a Contract (Amendments to IAS 37)

It is specified that the cost of fulfilling a contract includes "costs that are directly related to the contract", which are those that either may be incremental costs of fulfilling that contract or an allocation of other costs that are directly related to fulfill the contracts.

d) Annual Improvements to IFRS Standards 2018-2020

a) IFRS 1 First-time Adoption of IFRS: Allows an affiliate to apply paragraph D16 (a) to measure cumulative translation differences using the amounts reported by its parent, based on the date of transition to IFRS of its parent.

b) IFRS 9 Financial Instruments: clarifies what fees are included when applying the "10 percent" test in paragraph B3.3.6.

c) IFRS 16 Leases: removes from Illustrative Example 13, the illustration of the reimbursement of improvements to the leased asset made by the lessor.

d) IAS 41 Agriculture: removes the requirement in paragraph 22 to exclude tax cash flows when measuring the fair value of a biological asset using the present value technique.

The application of these amendments had no impact on the Corporation's consolidated financial statements, but may affect the accounting for future transactions or arrangements.

4. New accounting pronouncements

The following new standards, amendments and interpretations had been issued by the IASB, but their application is not yet mandatory:

New IFRS	Date of mandatory application	Summary
IFRS 17, Insurance Contracts	Annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2023	Establishes the principles for the recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of insurance contracts, reinsurance contracts and investment contracts with discretionary participating features and supersedes IFRS 4 Insurance contracts.
Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-Current (Amendments to IAS 1)	Annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2024	The amendments aim to promote coherence in applying its requirements by helping companies to determine whether, in the statement of financial position, debts and other liabilities with an uncertain settlement date must be classified as current (maturing or potentially maturing in one year or less) or not current. It is important to note that this amendment must be applied retrospectively and early application is permitted.
Disclosures on accounting policies (Amendments to IAS 1 and IFRS 2 Practice Statement)	Annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2023	The amendments require an entity to disclose its material accounting policies. The additional amendments explain how an entity can identify a material accounting policy. Examples are added of when an accounting policy is likely to be material. To support the amendment, the Board has also developed guidance and examples to explain and demonstrate the application of the "four-step materiality process" described in the IFRS 2 Practice Statement

Definition of accounting estimates (amendments to IAS 8)	Annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2023	The amendments replace the definition of a change in accounting estimates. According to the new definition, accounting estimates are "monetary amounts in the financial statements that are subject to measurement uncertainty". Entities develop accounting estimates if accounting policies require that financial statement items be measured in a manner that involves measurement uncertainty. The amendments clarify that a change in the accounting estimate resulting from new information or new developments is not a correction of an error.
Deferred tax related to assets and liabilities arising from a single transaction. (amendments to IAS 12)	Annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2023	The amendments clarify that the exemption from initial recognition does not apply to transactions in which equal amounts of deductible and taxable temporary differences arise on initial recognition.
Initial Application of IFRS 17 and IFRS 9 - Comparative Information (Amendment to IFRS 17)	An entity that chooses to apply the amendment shall apply it when it first applies IFRS 17	The amendment permits entities applying IFRS 17 and IFRS 9 for the first time at the same time to present comparative information about a financial asset as if the classification and measurement requirements of IFRS 9 had been applied previously to that financial asset.

New IFRS	Date of mandatory application	Summary
Lease liability on a sale and leaseback (Amendments to IFRS 16)	Annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2024	The amendment clarifies how a lessee subsequently measures sale and leaseback transactions that meet the requirements of IFRS 15 to be accounted for as a sale.
Non-current liabilities with covenants (Amendments to IAS 1)	Annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2024	The amendment clarifies how the conditions that an entity must meet within twelve months after the reporting period affect the classification of a liability.

Management is currently evaluating the impact of the adoption of these new regulations and modifications. It is not expected to have a significant impact on the consolidated financial statements.

III. EXPLANATORY NOTES

1. Cash and cash equivalents

The detail of cash and cash equivalents as of December 31, 2022 and December 31, 2021, is as follows:

- (1) Trade receivables correspond to the sales of copper and its by-products, those that in general are sold in cash or through bank transfers.

(2) Other receivables mainly consist of the following items:

- Remaining tax credit susceptible to refund VAT and other taxes receivable, amounting to ThUS$ 216,218 and ThUS$ 132,674 as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.
- Receivables owed by the Corporation's personnel, for short-term and long-term current loans of ThUS$99,229 and ThUS$88,175, respectively (as of December 31, 2021 ThUS$117,081 and ThUS$99,448, respectively), both deducted monthly from their salaries. Mortgage loans granted to the Corporation's personnel amounting to ThUS$29,320, which are mainly long-term, are backed by mortgage guarantees (as of December 31, 2021 ThUS$28,086).
- Advances to suppliers and contractors, to be deducted from the respective payment statements for ThUS$101,665 and ThUS$185,051 as of December 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.
- Accounts receivable for services from the Ventanas Smelter to ENAMI. These services for the year 2022 amounted to ThUS$22,452. Additionally, in order to complement the commercial commitments between Codelco and ENAMI, the Corporation purchases copper concentrate and by-products and sells cathodes to ENAMI. Both Codelco and ENAMI are companies owned by the State of Chile.

(3) The Corporation recognizes an allowance for doubtful accounts based on its expected credit loss model.

The reconciliation of changes in the allowance for doubtful accounts for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, were as follows:

Item	12-31-2022 ThUS$	12-31-2021 ThUS$
Opening balance	19,257	16,979
Increases	9,872	2,278
Movement, subtotal	9,872	2,278
Closing balance	29,129	19,257

Ageing	12-31-2022 ThUS$	12-31-2021 ThUS$
Less than 90 days	5,760	4,030
90 days - 1 year	1,114	1,304
Over 1 year	206	5,977
Total unprovisioned past-due debt	7,080	11,311

b) Accruals for open sales invoices

The Corporation adjusts its revenues and trade receivable balances, based on future copper prices through the recognition of an accrual for open sales invoices.

When future price of copper is lower than the provisional invoicing price, the accrual is presented in the statement of financial position as follows:

- For those customers that have due balances with the Corporation, the accrual is presented as a deduction from the line item trade and other current receivables.
- For those customers that do not have due balances with the Corporation, the accrual is presented in the line item trade and other current payables.

When the future copper price is higher than the provisional invoicing price, the accrual is added to the line item trade and other current receivables.

Accordingly, as of December 31, 2022, a positive provision of ThUS$31,327 was recorded in the account Trade and other receivables for provisions for unfinished sales invoices. As of December 31, 2021 it was a positive provision of ThUS$ 187,541

As of December 31, 2022, ThUS$ 1,458 of negative provision for open invoices associated with customers who do not have balances due to Codelco was reclassified to Trade payables of current liabilities, which added to the balance presented in Trade and other receivables, totaled a net negative provision of ThUS$ 29,869.

3. Balances and transactions with related parties

a) Transactions with related persons

In accordance with Law on New Corporate Governance, the members of Codelco's Board are, in terms of transactions with related persons, subject to the provisions of Title XVI of Law on Corporations, which sets the requirements regarding transactions with related parties in publicly traded companies and their subsidiaries.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, pursuant to the provisions of the final paragraph of Article 147 b) of Title XVI, which contains exceptions to the approval process for transactions with related parties, the Corporation has established a general policy over customary transactions (which was communicated through a significant event notice to the CMF), that defines customary transactions as those carried out with its related parties in the normal course of business, which contributes to the social interest and are necessary to the normal development of Codelco's activities.

Likewise, consistent with the referred to above standard, the Corporation has implemented as part of its internal regulatory framework, a specific policy dealing with business between related persons and companies with Codelco's executives. Codelco's Corporate Policy No.18 ("CCP No. 18"), the latest version currently in force, was approved by the Chief Executive Officer and the Board of Directors.

Accordingly, Codelco without the authorization required in CCP No. 18 and of the Board of Directors, as required by Law or by the Corporation by-laws, shall not enter into any contracts or agreements involving one or more Directors, its Chief Executive Officer, the members of Division's Managing Committees, Vice-presidents, Legal Counsel, General Auditor, Division Chief Executive Officers, Advisors of Senior Management, employees who must make recommendations and/or have the authority to award tenders, assignments of purchases and/or contracting goods and services, and employees in management positions (up to fourth hierarchical level in the organization), including their spouses, children and other relatives up to second degree of relation, with a direct interest, represented by third parties or on behalf of another person. Likewise, CCP No. 18 requires administrators of Corporation's contracts to declare all related persons and disqualify himself/herself if any related persons are involved within the field of his/her job responsibilities.

This prohibition also includes the companies in which such administrators are involved through ownership or management, either directly or through representation of other natural persons or legal entities, as well as those individuals who also have ownership or management in those companies.

The Board of Directors has been informed and approved certain transactions as defined in CCP No. 18.

December 31, 2022, LS-Nikko Copper Inc, is the controlling shareholder of this company based on the control elements set out in the shareholders' agreement.

The principal business activity of the company is the processing of intermediate products of the refining and processing of copper and other metals aiming to recover copper, other metals and other sub products, their transformation to commercial products and the selling and distribution of all classes of goods or inputs derived from such process.

Anglo American Sur S.A.

The principal activities of the Company are the exploration, extraction, exploitation, production, processing and trading of minerals, concentrates, precipitates, copper bars and all metallic and non-metallic minerals, all fossil substances and liquid and gaseous hydrocarbons. This includes the exploration, exploitation and use of all natural energy sources capable of industrial use and the products or by-products obtained, as well as any other related, connected or complementary activities on which the shareholders agree.

On August 24, 2012, Codelco recognized the acquisition of ownership interest in Anglo American Sur S.A. which resulted in the initial recognition of the cost of the investment for ThUS$ 6,490,000 that corresponded to the proportionate share (29.5%) of the net fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities acquired.

In determining the share of the fair value of the identifiable assets and liabilities acquired, the Corporation considered the resources and mineral reserves that could be measured reliably. As part of this updating process, and applying the valuation criteria indicated above, the fair value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed of Anglo American Sur S.A. as of that date amounted to US$ 22,646 million, which in the proportion acquired by Inversiones Mineras Becrux SpA (29.5%) results in an investment at fair value of US $ 6,681 million at the acquisition date.

The allocation of the purchase price at fair value between the identifiable assets and liabilities was prepared by management using its best estimate and considering all relevant and available information at the acquisition date of Anglo American Sur S.A.

The Corporation used a discounted cash flows model to estimate cash flow projections, based on the life of mine. These projections were based on estimated production and future prices of minerals, operating costs and capital costs, among other estimates made at the date of acquisition. Additionally, proven and probable resources to explore were not included in the mine plan, therefore, they were valued separately using a market model. Such resources are included in item "Mineral Resources."

As of December 31, 2015, the Corporation identified indicators of impairment in the operating units of Anglo American Sur S.A. Consequently, and with the purpose of making the corresponding adjustments to the investment in this associate, the Corporation estimated its recoverable amount, considering the additional value of the assets identified at the date of acquisition of the investment.

In determining the recoverable amount, the Corporation applied the methodology of fair value less costs of disposal. The recoverable amount of the operating units was determined based on the life of mine by using a discounted cash flow model whose main assumptions included ore reserves declared by the associate, copper price, supply costs, foreign exchange rates, discount rate and market information for the long-term asset valuation. The discount rate used was annual rate of 8% after taxes.

Furthermore, the resources not included in the mining plan (LOM) have been valued using a multiples market approach for comparable transactions.

Such methodology is consistent with the methodologies used at the acquisition date, which is described in the previous paragraph.

As of December 31, 2022, control on Anglo American Sur S.A. is held by Inversiones Anglo American Sur S.A. with 50.06%, while one of the companies that make up the non-controlling interest is Inversiones Mineras Becrux SpA., which is controlled by Codelco with 67.80% of the shares, and which exercises significant influence over Anglo American Sur S.A. with 29.5%.

As of December 31, 2022, the Corporation evaluated the value of its investment in the associate Anglo American Sur S.A., determining that the recoverable amount of this asset approximates its book value, which is ThUS$2,827,107. The determination of the aforementioned recoverable amount is based on a valuation model that combines a discounted cash flow methodology for the valuation of proven and probable reserves and multiples of comparable transactions for the valuation of resources, which is sensitive to certain key assumptions and market variables. A reasonably possible change of a 5 % decrease in copper price projections could represent an impairment of the investment in the associate of ThUS$181,632. A reasonably possible increase in the discount rate of 100 bps could generate an impairment of the investment in the associate of ThUS$132,618.

Changes in the tax and regulatory framework or in the operation of the asset could generate future additional decreases or increases in the recoverable amount of the investment.

13. Fair Value of financial assets and liabilities

The carrying amount of financial assets is a reasonable approximation to their fair value, therefore, no additional disclosures are required in accordance with IFRS 7.

Regarding financial liabilities, the following table shows a comparison as of December 31, 2022 between the carrying amount and the fair value of financial liabilities other than those whose carrying amount is a reasonable approximation of fair value:

Comparison book value vs fair value As of December 31, 2022	Accounting treatment for valuation	Book value ThUS$	Fair value ThUS$
Financial liabilities:
Bond obligations	Amortized cost	15,979,672	14,469,694

14. Market value hierarchy for items at market value

Each of the market values calculated for the Corporation's portfolio of financial instruments is supported by a calculation methodology and data inputs. An analysis of each of these methodologies has been carried out to determine to which of the following levels they can be assigned:

- Level 1 corresponds to fair value measurement methodologies using market shares (unadjusted) in active markets to which the Corporation has access at the measurement date and considering identical Assets and Liabilities.
- Level 2 corresponds to fair value measurement methodologies using quoted market price data, not included in Level 1, that are observable for the Assets and Liabilities measured, either directly (prices) or indirectly (derived from prices). For hybrid contracts with no-finalized price: Provisionally priced metal sales for the period are marked-to-market at the end of the period. Gains and losses from the marking-to-market of open sales are recognized through adjustments to revenue in the income statement and trade receivables in the balance sheet. Forward prices at the end of the period are used for copper sales. These forward prices are quoted market prices on LME. For cross-currency swaps: These are valued using a discounted cash flow analysis valuation model which includes observable credit spreads and using the applicable yield curve for the duration of the instruments.
- Level 3 corresponds to fair value measurement methodologies using valuation techniques that include data on the Assets and Liabilities valued, which are not based on significant observable market data.

Based on the methodologies, inputs, and definitions described above, the following market levels have been determined for the Corporation's portfolio of financial instruments held as of December 31, 2022:

Financial assets and liabilities at fair value classified by hierarchy	12-31-2022
	Level 1 ThUS$	Level 2 ThUS$	Level 3 ThUS$	Total ThUS$

(2) Corresponds to provisions made for customs duties, freight for acquisitions and electricity, among others.

(3) Corresponds to provisions for future closure costs related mainly to tailings dams, mine site closures and other assets. This cost value is calculated at discounted present value, using flows associated with plans with an evaluation horizon ranging from 10 to 60 years. The rates used to discount future cash flows are calculated based on the Life of Mine "LOM" of each of the operations, distinguishing rates in UF for those obligations in Chilean pesos and rates in U.S. dollars for those obligations in U.S. dollars. These discount rates include the risks associated with the liability being determined, except those included in the cash flows.

Below is a table with the discount rates used:

17. Employee benefits

a. Provisions for post-employment benefits and other long-term benefits

Provision for post-employment benefits mainly corresponds to employee severance indemnities and medical care plans. The provision for severance indemnities recognizes the contractual obligation that the Corporation has with its employees/retirees. The provision for medical care plans recognizes the contractual obligation that the Corporation has with its retirees to cover their medical care costs. Both benefits operate within the regulatory framework set forth in the collective bargaining or other agreements between the Corporation and its employees.

These provisions are recorded in the statement of financial position at the present value of the estimated future obligations. The discount rate used is determined based on the rate of financial instruments corresponding to the same currency in which the obligations will be paid and with similar maturities.

The defined benefit obligations are denominated in Chilean pesos; therefore the Corporation is exposed to foreign exchange rate risk.

The results arising from adjustments and changes in actuarial variables are charged or credited to the statement of comprehensive income for the period in which they occur.

During the year ended of December 31, 2022, there were no relevant modifications to the post-employment benefit plans.

The following actuarial assumptions were used in the actuarial calculation of the defined benefit plans:

Assumptions	12-31-2022		12-31-2021
	Retirement plan	Health plan	Retirement plan	Health plan
Annual nominal discount rate	5.33%	5.33%	5.89%	5.89%

Average duration of future cash flows (years)	8.50	15.40	10.03	16.55
Expected Retirement Age (Men)	60	60	60	60
Expected Retirement Age (Women)	58	58	58	58

The discount rates correspond to the rates in the secondary market of government bonds issued in Chile. The projected annual inflation corresponds to an awareness above the long-term target publicly declared by the Central Bank of Chile and is derived from the market expectation as of December 31, 2022. The rotation rates have been determined after reviewing the Corporation's own experience by studying the cumulative behavior of outflows over the last three years with respect to the current allocations. The expected rate of salary increases has been estimated using the long-term behavior of historical salaries paid by the Corporation. The mortality tables used were those issued by the CMF, which are considered an appropriate representation of the Chilean market given the lack of comparable statistical series to develop independent studies. The financial duration of the liabilities corresponds to the average maturity of the payment flows of the respective defined benefits.

c) Provisions for early retirement plans and termination bonuses

In accordance with its operating optimization programs to reduce costs and increase labor productivity by incorporating new current technologies and/or better management practices, the Corporation has established employee retirement programs by amending certain employment contracts or collective union agreements to include benefits encouraging employees to early retire, for which the necessary provisions are made based on the accrued obligation at current value.

As of December 31, 2022 and 2021, there is a current balance of ThUS$64,654 for early retirement and conflict termination bonuses of which ThUS$48,266 correspond to the provision for the cost of the special retirement plan for workers of the Ventanas Smelter recognized in 2022 (for reasons explained in note No. 29 b) x)) and ThUS$4,346 correspond to conflict termination bonuses respectively. Related non-current balances amount to ThUS$7,703 and ThUS$7,518, respectively. The Corporation's total equity as of December 31, 2022 is ThUS$ 11,654,565 (ThUS$ 11,574,901 as of December 31)

In accordance with article 6 of Decree Law No. 1350 of 1976, it is established that, before March 30 of each year, the Board must approve the Corporation's Business and Development Plan for the next three-year period. Taking that plan as a reference and keeping in mind the Corporation's balance sheet for the immediately preceding year and aiming to ensure its competitiveness before June 30 of each year the amounts that the Corporation shall allocate to the formation of capitalization funds and reserves shall be determined by decree from the Ministries of Mining and Treasury.

Net income shown in the Statement of Financial Position, after deducting the amounts referred to in the previous paragraph, shall belong to the State and become part of the Nation's general income.

On June 22, 2022, the Ministry of Finance agreed with the Corporation to a four-year average reinvestment plan of 30% of profits between 2021 and 2024, which will significantly contribute to the financing of Codelco's investment plan, while considerably reducing its debt requirements. Consistent with the above, on the same date the Ministry of Finance issued exempt decree No. 194 authorizing the Corporation to allocate up to ThUS$582,750 of the net income from the balance sheet for the year 2021. These resources will be paid out of 2022 and 2023 earnings (see note No. 34), prior to the absorption of excess dividends paid in advance from previous years and interim dividends for 2022.

As of December 31, 2022, a capitalization and reserve fund has been created amounting to ThUS$345,589.

During the year ended December 31, 2021, payments were made to the Treasury for a total of ThUS$ 2,033,206 for advance dividends charged to the profits of the period, which discounted from the dividends paid in excess in 2020, reflect a balance in favor of ThUS$249,943 as of December 31, 2021 for such concept.

In the months of May and June 2022, dividends totaling ThUS$ 259,900 have been paid. As of December 31, 2022, no dividends payable are recognized in respect of earnings for the period from January to December 2022.

The Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity discloses the changes in the Corporation's equity.

The movement and composition of other equity reserves is presented in the Consolidated Statement of Changes in Equity.

Reclassification adjustments from other comprehensive income to income for the years meant a loss of ThUS$ 980 and a loss of ThUS$ 5,594 for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, respectively.

The breakdown of revenue is presented in explanatory note No.24 Operating Segments.

20. Expenses by nature

Expenses by nature for the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021 were as follows:

Item	1-1-2022 12-31-2022 ThUS$	1-1-2021 12-31-2021 ThUS$
Short-term benefits to employees	(1,429,458)	(1,414,643)

Materials, consumables and others	(6,806,225)	(6,652,509)
Total	(12,804,116)	(12,654,355)

(1) Depreciation includes the expense of Property, plant and equipment and right-of-use assets (see note 7b and note 8.1).

21. Asset impairment

As indicated in note 29 letter b) point x), the Corporation has declared its intention to move forward with preparations to cease operation of the Ventanas Smelter, which as of December 31, 2021 was part, together with the Ventanas Refinery, of a single cash-generating unit called the Ventanas Division. The Corporation is evaluating the assets of both operations separately, leading to the definition that the Ventanas Smelter and Ventanas Refinery are, as of December 31, 2022, separate cash-generating units under IAS 36.

As of December 31, 2022, the Corporation performed a calculation of the recoverable amount of its Ventanas Smelter cash-generating unit, for purposes of testing the assets associated with the cash-generating unit for impairment. Since such recoverable amount is zero, when compared to the carrying amount of the cash-generating unit's assets of US$89,410, an impairment was determined for such amount, which was recorded in Other expenses in the statements of comprehensive income for the year 2022 (note 22 letter b).

The recoverable amount determined corresponds to the value in use using a discount rate of 7.28% per year before taxes. The main variables used to determine the recoverable amount of this asset correspond to the price of rhenium, exchange rates and discount rates.

Also, as of December 31, 2022, the Corporation calculated the recoverable amount of its cash-generating unit related to the Ventanas refinery in order to test the assets associated with such cash-generating unit for impairment. The result of this calculation led to the conclusion that the recoverable amount is higher than the carrying amount of the cash-generating unit's assets and, therefore, there is no impairment loss.

As of December 31, 2021, the Corporation's subsidiary "Sociedad de Procesamiento de Molibdeno" tested the recoverable amount of its assets for impairment. The Company's projected cash flows are highly dependent on rhenium price projections, which were adjusted downward in 2021, based on actual market prices. A recoverable amount of US$237 million was determined, which when compared to the carrying amount of the cash generating unit's assets of US$362 million triggered an impairment of ThUS$125,483 (before tax), reducing Property, Plant and Equipment by ThUS$124,315 and Right-of-use assets by ThUS$1,168 as of December 31, 2021. The recoverable amount determined corresponds to the value in use using a discount rate of 7.24% per year before taxes. The main variables used to determine the recoverable amount of this asset correspond to the price of rhenium, exchange rates and discount rates.

As of December 31, 2022 and 2021, there are no indications of additional impairments or reversals of impairment for other cash-generating units or associates.

27. Risk management

Corporación Nacional del Cobre de Chile has created instances within its organization that seek to generate strategies to minimize the financial risks to which it may be exposed.

The risks to which Codelco is exposed and a brief description of the management procedures that are carried out in each case, are described below.

a. Financial risks

- Exchange rate risk:

According to IFRS 7, exchange rate risk is understood to be the risk that arises from financial instruments that are denominated in foreign currencies, that is, a currency other than the Corporation's functional currency (US dollar).

Codelco's activities that generate this exposure correspond to funding in UF, accounts payable and receivable and provisions in Chilean pesos, other foreign currencies used in its business operations and obligations with employees.

Most transactions in currencies other than US$ are denominated in Chilean pesos. Also, there is another portion in Euro, which corresponds mainly to a long-term loan issued through the international market, which exchange rate risk is mitigated with hedging instruments (Swap).

Taking into consideration the financial assets and liabilities as of December 31, 2022 as the base, a fluctuation (positive or negative) of 10 Chilean pesos against the U.S. dollar (keeping the other variables constant), could affect profits before taxes by US$ 33 million in profit or loss, respectively. This result is obtained by identifying the main items (including assets and financial liabilities) denominated in foreign currencies in order to measure the impact on profit or loss that a variation of +/- 10 Chilean pesos would have in terms of US$, with respect to the closing exchange rate at the end of the reporting period.

- Interest rate risk

This risk arises from interest rate fluctuations in Codelco's investment and financing activities. This movement can affect future cash flows or the market value of fixed rate financial instruments.

These rate variations refer to U.S. dollar variations, mostly with respect to the LIBOR rate. To manage this risk, Codelco maintains an adequate combination of fixed and variable rate debt, which is complemented by the possibility of using interest-rate derivatives to meet the strategic guidelines defined by Codelco's Vice-Presidency of Administration and Finance

It is estimated that, based on net debt at December 31, 2022, a one percentage point change in the interest rates of credit financial liabilities subject to variable interest rates would result in a change in annual interest expense of approximately US$ 10 million, before taxes. This estimation is made by identifying the liabilities assigned variable interest, accrued at the end of the financial statements, which may vary with a change of one percentage point in variable interest rates

The concentration of obligations that Codelco maintains at fixed and variable rates at December 31, 2022, corresponds to a total of ThUS$ 15,979,672 and ThUS$ 978,705, respectively.

b. Market risk.

• Commodity price risk:

As a result of its commercial operations and activities, the Corporation's income is mainly exposed to the volatility of copper prices and certain sub-products such as gold and silver.

Copper and molybdenum sales contracts generally establish provisional sales prices at the time of shipment of such products, while the final price will be considered based on a monthly average price determined by the market for future periods. At the reporting date, sales of provisionally priced products are adjusted to fair value and the effect is recorded in the results of operations for the period. Forward prices at the period-end are used for copper sales, while period-end average prices are used for molybdenum concentrate sales due to the absence of an assets futures market. (See Note 2.q) "Income from Activities Ordinary Procedures from Contracts with Customers" of section II "Main Accounting Policies").

As of December 31, 2022, if the future price of copper fluctuates by + / - 5% (with the other variables constant), the result would be US$285 million before taxes as a result of setting the mark to market of sales revenue to provisional prices in effect as of December 31, 2022 (MTMF 684). For the estimate indicated, all of those physical sales contracts were valued according to the monthly average immediately following the close of the financial statements, and proceeds to be estimated regarding what the final settlement price would be if there is a difference of + / - 5% with respect to the future price known to date for this period

In order to protect cash flow and adjust, where necessary, its sales contracts to its trade policy, the Corporation holds operations in futures markets. At the end of the reporting period, these contracts are adjusted to fair value, recording this effect, at the settlement date of the hedging transactions as part of net product sales.

The Corporation has not entered into any hedging transactions with the specific purpose of hedging the price risk caused by fluctuations in prices of production inputs.

c. Liquidity risk

The Corporation ensures that it has sufficient resources, such as pre-approved credit lines (including refinancing), in order to meet short-term requirements, after considering the necessary working capital for its operations and any other commitments it has.

In this sense, the Corporation maintains resources at its disposal sufficient to meet its obligations, whether in cash, liquid financial instruments or credit facilities.

In addition, the Finance Department constantly monitors the Corporation's cash flow projections based on short- and long-term projections and available financing alternatives. In addition, the Corporation estimates that it has enough headroom to increase the level of borrowing for the normal requirements of its operations and investments established in its development plan.

In this context, according to current existing commitments with creditors, the cash requirements to cover financial liabilities classified by maturity and presented in the statement of financial position are detailed as follows:

Maturity of financial liabilities as of 12-31-2022	Less than 1 year ThUS$	Between one five years ThUS$	Over years ThUS$
Loans from financial entities	8,545	373,994	596,166
Bonds	452,154	2,766,355	12,761,163
Derivatives	9,738	120,202	7,584
Other financial liabilities	-	63,659	-
Total	470,437	3,324,210	13,364,913

d. Credit risk

This risk comprises the possibility that a third party does not fulfill its contractual obligations, thereby causing a loss for the Corporation.

Given the Corporation's sales policy, principally with cash and advance payments and bank letters of credit, the uncollectible of client debt balances is minimal. This is complemented by the familiarity the Corporation has with its clients and the length of time it has operated with them. Therefore, the credit risk of these transactions is not significant.

The indications with respect to the payment conditions to the Corporation are detailed in every sales contract and the negotiation management is under the charge of the Commercial Vice-Presidency.

In general, the Corporation's other accounts receivable have a high credit quality according to the Corporation's evaluations, based on each debtor's solvency analysis and payment history.

The maximum exposure to credit risk as of December 31, 2022 is represented by the financial asset items presented in the Corporation's Statement of Financial Position.

The Corporation's accounts receivable does not include customers with balances that could be classified as a significant concentration of debt and would represent a material exposure for Codelco. This exposure is distributed among many clients and other counterparties.

In the customer items, the provisions, which are not significant, are included based on the review of the outstanding balances and characteristics of the clients, destined to cover eventual insolvencies.

Explanatory note 2 "Trade and other receivables" shows past due and not provisioned balances.

The Corporation estimates that unimpaired amounts overdue over 30 days are recoverable based on clients' historical payment behavior and their existing credit ratings.

As of December 31, 2022 and 2021, there are no receivable balances that have been renegotiated.

Codelco works with major banks, which have high national and international ratings, and continually assesses them; therefore, the risk that could affect the availability of the Corporation's funds and financial instruments is not significant.

Also, in some cases, to minimize credit risk, the Corporation has contracted credit insurance policies through which it transfers to third parties the commercial risk associated with some aspects of its business.

During the years ended December 31, 2022 and 2021, no guarantees have been executed in relation to ensure the collection of third party debt.

Personnel loans mainly relate to mortgage loans, according to programs included in union agreements, which are paid for through payroll discounts.

e. Other relevant risks

In addition to exposure to financial risks, community relations, environmental, litigation and regulatory proceedings, during 2022 we defined strategic risks as risks or combination of risk events that may threaten the business model in the short or long term, structuring our model in a robust way to face the challenges that become more demanding each year, such as changes in social expectations, infrastructure and human development.

The model designed contemplates risks for at least the next three years and also some that would be relevant for a longer period. It also considers monitoring emerging risks which are permanently monitored by the industry.

Risks are permanently monitored to identify, address and oversee appropriate mitigation actions, with the support of the second line of defense established in Codelco's corporate governance mainly through corporate risk management, working to provide assurance on the status of controls or drive the necessary behavior to achieve the expected status.

These definitions also consider risk appetite as the nature and extent of risk that the Corporation is willing to accept in relation to the achievement of its business and objectives. The above factors in the probability and severity of the consequences of the materialization of a risk in the different areas of its impact.

Our risk management program considers that risk appetite and risks may change over time and may require management actions to respond to changes in the context. Information regarding the main risks considered by Codelco will be included in the Annual Report as of 2022.

28. Derivatives contracts.

The Corporation has entered transactions to hedge cash flows, to minimize the risk of foreign exchange rate variations and sales price variations, detailed as follows:

a. Exchange rate hedge

The Corporation maintains an exposure associated with its foreign exchange hedging operations, the balance of which corresponds to a net deferred tax loss recognized in equity amounting to ThUS$5,034 as of December 31, 2022.

The following table shows details of the fair value and other information of the financial hedges contracted by the Corporation:

As of December 31, 2022, the Corporation has no cash collateral balances.

The current methodology for valuing currency swaps uses the bootstrapping technique based on mid-swap rates to construct (zero) curves in functional currencies other than the functional currency and USD, respectively, based on market information.

The notional amounts held by the Corporation for financial derivatives are detailed below:

b. Cash flows hedging contracts and commercial policy adjustment

The Corporation trades in the copper, gold and silver derivative markets and records its results upon termination. These results are added to or deducted from sales revenues. As of December 31, 2022, these operations generated a lower net realized result of ThUS$ 4,639.

b.1. Commercial flexibility operations of copper contracts

Its objective is to adjust the price of sales to the Corporation's sales policy, which is defined according to the London Metal Exchange. As of December 31, 2022, the Corporation has copper derivative transactions associated with 277,675 metric tons of fine copper. These hedging transactions are performed as part of the Corporation's commercial policy.

The current contracts as of December 31, 2022, present a negative balance of ThUS$ 3,438 and their final result will only be known at their maturity, offsetting the hedging transactions with revenue from the sale of the hedged products.

Operations completed between January 1 and December 31, 2022, generated a net negative effect in results of ThUS$ 4,539, corresponding to values for physical sales contracts for a negative amount of ThUS$ 4,764 and values for physical purchase contracts for a positive amount of ThUS$ 225.

b.2. Trade operations of current gold and silver contracts.

As of December 31, 2022, the Corporation does not have any gold and silver derivative contracts.

The operations completed between January 1 and December 31, 2022, generated a negative effect on results of ThUS$ 100, corresponding to values per physical sales contracts.

b.3. Cash flow hedging operations backed by future production

The Corporation has no outstanding transactions as of December 31, 2022, arising from these operations, which protect future cash flows by locking in price levels for the sale of part of its production

The following tables set forth the maturities of metal hedging activities, as referred to in point b above:

29. Contingencies and restrictions

a) Lawsuits and contingencies

There are various lawsuits and legal actions initiated by or against the Corporation, which derive from its operations and the industry in which it operates. In general, these are civil, tax, labor and mining litigations, all related to the Corporation's activities.

In the opinion of Management and its legal advisors, the lawsuits where the Corporation is being sued and could have negative results do not represent significant loss contingencies or cash flows. Codelco defends its rights and makes use of all the corresponding legal and procedural instances and resources.

The most relevant lawsuits filed by Codelco relate to the following matters:

- Tax Proceedings: There is a tax proceeding for liquidation No.141 of tax year 2015 and Exempt Resolution No. 89 of 2016 issued by the Internal Revenue Service (SII), for which the Corporation presented the corresponding appeals, which were received and resolved in favor of the Tax and Customs Courts, a resolution that was appealed by the SII.

- Labor lawsuits: Labor proceedings brought by the workers against the Corporation, regard to occupational diseases, labor accidents and other matters.

- Mining proceedings and others arising from the operation: The Corporation has been participating, and will probably continue to participate, as plaintiff and defendant in given court proceedings involving its mining operation and activities, through which it seeks to exercise certain actions or set up certain defenses in relation to given mining concessions that have been established or are in the process of being established, as well as also with regard to its other activities. These proceedings currently do not involve any given amount and do not have any essential effect on Codelco's development.

Some other procedures pending final judgment are the simultaneous claim for arbitration between Codelco, Santa Elvira S.A., Mining Services Group S.A. and Sociedad de Servicios para la Minería Limitada (collectively "Santa Elvira").

During the years ended December 31, 2022, there are no lawsuits or other proceedings representing 10 percent or more of the Corporation's total outstanding lawsuits.

At the date of issuance of these financial statements, the Codelco faces various lawsuits and legal actions against it for a total of approximately US$101,333 million corresponding to 980 cases. According to the estimate made by the legal advisors of the Corporation, 777 causes, which represent 79.29% of the universe, have associated probable loss results amounting to ThUS$67,640 (additionally, with the same probable outcome, there are 5 causes for ThUS$367 from subsidiaries). There are also 160 cases, representing 16.33% for an amount of ThUS$33,672, for which it is less likely than not, that the ruling will be against the Corporation. For the remaining 43 cases, representing 4.39% for an amount of ThUS$ 21, the Corporation's legal advisors consider an unfavorable result remote.

- Lawsuit under administrative law: On August 2, 2017, a Nullity in Public Law claim was filed in the 25th Civil Court of Santiago against Audit Report No. 900 of 2016, issued by the General Comptrollership of the Republic on May 10, 2017.

Once the discussion and evidence stage concluded, the Santiago Civil Court, on September 11, 2020, delivered its judgment in which it dismissed the annulment action filed by the Corporation, condemning it to the respective costs of said lawsuit.

On October 27, 2020, the Corporation filed appeals and cassation in the form of the sentence of the 25th Civil Court of Santiago, which dismissed the Public Law nullity action filed by the Codelco against Report No. 900 of 2016 of the Comptroller General of the Republic.

In December 2022, the Corporation established a collaboration commitment with the Comptroller General of the Republic (CGR) to reinforce the principle of probity in regulation, applicable to the company regarding operations with related parties, establishing a frame for any contracts with related parties, safeguarding the legal status of the company and its business line, in addition to reinforcing controls for sensitive operations. This agreement with the Comptroller's Office recognizes Codelco's good practices and also improves controls for related party transactions. As a result of this agreement, litigation with the regulator has been terminated.

For litigation with probable loss and its costs, there are the necessary provisions, which are recorded as contingency provisions.

b) Other commitments.

i. On May 31, 2005, Codelco, through its subsidiary Codelco International Ltd. signed an agreement with Minmetals to form a company, CuPIC, in which both companies have an equal equity interest. In addition, the terms of a 15-year sales contract for cathodes to the associated company were agreed, as well as a purchase contract from Minmetals to the latter for the same term and equal monthly shipments until completing the total amount of 836,250 metric tons. Each shipment shall be paid for by the buyer at a price formed by a fixed re-adjustable component plus a variable component, which depends on current copper prices at the time of shipment.

During the first quarter of 2006 and on the basis of the negotiated financial terms, financing contracts were formalized with the China Development Bank allowing CuPIC to make the US$550 million advance payment to Codelco in March 2006.

With regard to financial obligations incurred by the associate CuPIC with the China Development Bank, Codelco Chile and Codelco International Ltd, must meet certain commitments, mainly relating to the delivery of financial information. In addition, Codelco Chile must maintain 51% ownership of Codelco International Limited.

According to the Sponsor Agreement, dated March 8, 2006, the Codelco International Ltd. subsidiary gave its participation in CuPIC as a guarantee to the China Development Bank.

Subsequently, on March 14, 2012, CuPIC paid off its debt to the abovementioned bank. As of December 31, 2017 Codelco, does not hold any indirect guarantee regarding its participation in this associated company.

On December 17, 2015, the Company's management presented a restructuring for the Supply Contract, which implies the removal of its share in CUPIIC.

- On April 7, 2016, the Corporation formalized the removal of its share in CUPIIC, of which Codelco retained 50% ownership through the subsidiary Codelco International. Until that date, Codelco shared the ownership of the Company in the same proportion with the company Album Enterprises Limited (a subsidiary of Minmetals).

In order to realize the above-mentioned term of the shareholding, Codelco signed a set of agreements which formalized primarily the following issues:

- Copper sales contract modifications from Codelco to CUPIC signed in 2006, which establishes the reduction of half of the outstanding tonnage to deliver to this company and in which Codelco pays to CUPIC the amount of ThUS$99,330.
- Reduction of share capital in CuPIC, equivalent to the 50% of the Codelco International shares in said company and by which CuPIC repays to Codelco the amount of ThUS$99,330.
- Waiver of Codelco to any dividends associated with the profits generated by CuPIC from January 1, 2016 and the date of signing the agreement.
- Additionally, the cessation of dividends reception as a consequence of the removal of the Codelco share in the ownership of CuPIC since 2016, led to a reduction of the net profit estimated by Codelco until the end of the contract signed with that company.

At the close of the first semester of 2021, the Corporation delivered the last shipment associated with this sales contract.

- ii. Regarding the financing agreement signed on August 23, 2012, between the subsidiary, GacruX Inversiones SpA and Mitsui & Co. Ltd. for the acquisition of the 24.5% stake in Anglo American Sur S.A. which was subsequently amended on October 31, 2012, a pledge is included over the shares that the subsidiary has on Acrux Inversiones SpA (shared participation with Mitsui and minority shareholder in Anglo American Sur S.A.), in order to ensure compliance with the obligations that the financial agreement contemplates.

This pledge extends to the right to collect and receive from Acrux dividends which have been agreed in the corresponding meetings of shareholders of the company and any other distributions paid or payable to GacruX respect of the pledged shares.

On December 22, 2017 according to archive No. 12326 / 2017, it was established that, GacruX, the Creditor and the Guarantee Agent, the latter representing the Guaranteed Parties, modified, by virtue of the Merger, the Contract of Pledge and the Modified Pledge Agreement as to the pledge on transferable securities and the commercial pledge, as well as the restrictions and prohibitions established in the Pledge Contract and in the Modified Pledge Contract, making it subject to , by virtue of the Merger, two thousand thirteen million two hundred and forty-five thousand four hundred and seventy-three shares pledge issued by BecruX, owned by GacruX, hereinafter the "Pledged BecruX Shares."

On May 20, 2021, as a result of the prepayment of the obligations indicated above (see note 12), the pledges indicated in the preceding paragraph were raised.

- iii. Law No. 19993 dated December 17, 2004, authorized the purchase of the Refinery and Smelter Las Ventanas assets from ENAMI, establishing that the Corporation must ensure that the smelting and refining capacity required is maintained, without any restriction and limitation, for treating the products of the small and medium mining sector sent by ENAMI, under the form of toll production or another form agreed upon by the parties.

- iv. Obligations with the public for bond issues means that the Corporation must meet certain restrictions related to limits on pledges and leaseback transactions on its principal assets and on its ownership interest in subsidiaries.

The Corporation has complied with these conditions as of December 31, 2022 and 2021.

- v. On January 20, 2010, the Corporation signed two energy supply contracts with Colbún S.A., which includes energy and power sales and purchases for a total of 510 MW of power. The contract provides a discount for that unconsumed energy from Codelco's SIC divisions with respect to the amount of contracted power. The discount is equivalent to the value of the sale of that energy on the spot market.

The contracted power for supplying these Divisions is comprised by two contracts:

- Contract No.1 for 176 MW, current until December 2029.
- Contract No.2 for 334 MW, current until December 2044. This contract is based on energy production from Colbún's Santa María thermal power station, which is currently in operation. This plant is coal-fired, and therefore the electric energy tariff rate applied for the energy supplied to Codelco is linked to the price of coal.

Both of these contracts comply with Codelco's long-term energy and power requirements from the SIC of approximately 510 MW.

Through these contracts, which operate through take or pay, the Corporation agrees to pay for the contracted energy and Colbún undertakes to reimburse at market price the energy not consumed by Codelco

These contracts have maturity dates in 2029 and 2044.

On October 27, 2022, Codelco signed an amendment to the contract, which, among other aspects, will allow replacing the coal-based electricity supply with a renewable energy supply. This transformation will be implemented gradually, and as of January 1, 2026 the contract will be for 1,000 GWh/year of renewable energy.

- vi. On November 6, 2009, Codelco signed the following long-term electric energy supply contracts with ELECTROANDINA S.A. (associate until January 2011), which matured in August 2017.

For the electric power supply of the Chuquicamata's work center, there are three contracts: Engie for a 15-year term from January 2010, that is maturing in December 2024, for 200 MW capacity, and another contract for a 200 MW capacity which was signed in January 2018 and will be effective as of January 2025 with maturity in December 2035. CTA effective from 2012 for 80 MW capacity, maturity in 2032.

- vii. On August 26, 2011, Codelco signed two energy supply contracts with AESGener. The first one for the Minister Hales division for a 99 MW capacity and the second contract for the Radomiro Tomic work center, for a maximum capacity of 145 MW. Both contracts will mature in 2028.

In December 2022, the respective agreements were renegotiated and signed. The agreement implies the modification of the original contracts and a new renewable sources contract effective from 2023 to 2040.

- viii. On November 11, 2011, Law No. 20551 was published in the Official Journal, which regulates the tasks and closure of mining facilities. Additionally, on November 22, 2012, the Supreme Decree No. 41 of the Minister of Mining, which approves the Regulations of this Law, was published in the Official Gazette.

This law requires the Corporation, among other requirements, to provide financial guarantees to the State to ensure the implementation of closure plans. It also establishes the obligation to make contributions to a fund which aims to cover the costs of post-closure activities.

The Corporation, in accordance with the regulations, delivered in 2014 to the National Geology and Mining Service (SERNAGEOMIN) the mine closure plans for each of the eight divisions of Codelco. These closure plans were developed under the transitional regime of the Law, specified for mining companies affected by the general application procedure, which are those with extraction capacity > 10,000 tons/month, and that at the date of entry into force of the Law were in operation, and with a closure plan previously approved under the Mining Safety Regulation D.S. No. 132.

All these transitional closure plans were approved in 2015 in accordance with the provisions established in the Law.

The law also established the obligation to update these closure plans, under the conditions of the general regime of the law, which incorporates new and greater requirements for the closure plans, five years after its entry into force, i.e. in 2020 in the case of Codelco. This calendar was brought forward to 2019 due to operational particularities for the Chuquicamata and Ventanas Divisions, and postponed to 2021 by SERNAGEOMIN, due to the COVID19 pandemic for the entire industry, and therefore for all other divisions.

In compliance with this new schedule, Codelco approved in 2021 the updated closure plans for the El Teniente, Radomiro Tomic, Ministro Hales and Gabriela Mistral Divisions, and as of December 31, 2021, the approval of the updated plans for the Salvador and Andina Divisions is in process. During the year 2022, Codelco obtained the approval of the updated closure plans of the Salvador and Andina divisions. The Corporation has provided the corresponding guarantees committed in all the approved closure plans, in accordance with the latest updates in force.

As of December 31, 2022, the Corporation has agreed guarantees for an annual amount of UF 63,322,955 to comply with the aforementioned Law No. 20.551 (see note No. 30).

- ix. On August 24, 2012, Codelco through its subsidiary Inversiones Mineras Nueva Acrux SpA (Nueva Acrux) (whose minority shareholder is Mitsui), signed a contract with Anglo American Sur S.A. Under this contract, Codelco agreed to sell a portion of its annual copper production to the mentioned subsidiary, who in turn agrees to purchase such production.

Such annual portion is determined by the share of Codelco's indirect subsidiary, Inversiones Mineras Becrux SpA (also shared ownership with Mitsui), maintained for the shares of Anglo-American Sur S.A.

In turn, the subsidiary Nueva Acrux agrees to sell to Mitsui, the products purchased under the agreement described in the preceding paragraphs.

The contract expiration will occur when the shareholders agreement of Anglo-American Sur S.A. ends or other events related to the completion of mining activities of the company take place.

x. On June 17, 2022, Codelco's Board of Directors agreed to move forward with preparations to cease operation of the Ventanas Smelter, subject to parliament amending Law No. 19993 within a limited period of time, a decision that applies exclusively to the smelter and not to the refinery or other operations of the Ventanas Division. This measure will require the amendment and approval by the Executive and the Legislature of Law No. 19993, which obliges the Corporation to smelt the minerals of Empresa Nacional de Minería (ENAMI) at the Ventanas Smelter.

As of December 31, the bill to amend the aforementioned law is advancing in the National Congress in its various legislative stages.

In the event that Law No. 19993 is modified, Codelco will be able to prepare and submit to Sernageomin a new closure plan for the Ventanas Smelter and move forward:

- a) Initiate proceedings before Sernageomin to obtain a permit for the temporary stoppage of the smelter.
- b) Obtain environmental and sectoral permits from the relevant authorities for the definitive closure of the smelter.
- c) Proceed with the dismantling of the plant, reuse of infrastructure, remediation, reclamation of areas and post-closure monitoring.
- d) Execution of the special voluntary severance plan for employees.

Neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries has, to the knowledge of the Company, engaged in any dealings or transactions with or for the benefit of a Sanctioned Person, or with or in a Sanctioned Country, since April 24, 2019, that have resulted in a violation of Sanctions by, or the imposition of Sanctions against, the Company or the Initial Purchasers, nor does the Company or any of its subsidiaries have any plans to engage in dealings or transactions with or for the benefit of a Sanctioned Person, or with or in a Sanctioned Country, that would result in a violation of Sanctions by, or would reasonably be expected to result in the imposition of Sanctions against, the Company or the Initial Purchasers.

(ll) No labor disturbance by or dispute with employees of the Company or any of its subsidiaries exists or, to the best knowledge of the Company, is contemplated or threatened, and the Company is not aware of any existing or imminent labor disturbance by, or dispute with, the employees of any of the Company’s subsidiaries’ principal suppliers, contractors or customers, except (x) as would not have a material adverse effect on the condition (financial or otherwise), earnings, business or properties of the Company and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, whether or not arising from transactions in the ordinary course of business and (y) as set forth in or contemplated in each of the

(mm) The Company and its subsidiaries have insurance covering their respective properties, operations, personnel and businesses, which insurance is in amounts and insures against such losses and risks as are adequate to protect the Company and its subsidiaries and their respective businesses, except where any failure to have such insurance would not result in a material adverse effect on the condition (financial or otherwise), earnings, business or properties of the Company and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, whether or not arising from transactions in the ordinary course of business; and neither the Company nor any of its subsidiaries has (i) received notice from any insurer or agent of such insurer that capital improvements or other expenditures are required or necessary to be made in order to continue such insurance or (ii) any reason to believe that it will not be able to renew its existing insurance coverage as and when such coverage expires or to obtain similar coverage at reasonable cost from similar insurers as may be necessary to continue its business at a cost that would not result in a material adverse effect on the condition (financial or otherwise), earnings, business or properties of the Company and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, whether or not arising from transactions in the ordinary course of business.

(nn) Except as would not reasonably be expected to, individually or in the aggregate, result in a material adverse effect on the condition (financial or otherwise), earnings, business or properties of the Company and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, the Company and its subsidiaries' information technology assets and equipment, computers, systems, networks, hardware, software, websites, applications, data, and databases (collectively, "IT Systems") are adequate for, and operate and perform as required in connection with the operation of the business of the Company and its subsidiaries as currently conducted. 2. Purchase and Sale. (a) Subject to the terms and conditions and in reliance upon the representations and warranties herein set forth, the Company agrees to sell to each Initial Purchaser, and each Initial Purchaser agrees, severally and not jointly, to purchase from the Company, at a purchase price of (i) 99.883% of the principal amount of the 2035 Notes, plus accrued interest, if any, from January 13, 2025 to the Closing Date (as defined below), and (ii) 99.882% of the principal amount of the 2055 Notes, plus accrued interest, if any, from January 13, 2025 to the Closing Date (as defined below), the principal amount of Securities set forth opposite such Initial Purchaser's name in SCHEDULE I hereto.

(b) The Company acknowledges and agrees that the Initial Purchasers are acting solely in the capacity of an arm's length contractual counterparty to the Company with respect to the offering of Securities contemplated hereby (including in connection with determining the terms of the offering) and not as a financial advisor or a fiduciary to, or an agent of, the Company or any other person. Additionally, no Initial Purchaser is advising the Company or any other person as to any legal, tax, investment, accounting or regulatory matters in any jurisdiction. The Company shall consult with its own advisors concerning such matters and shall be responsible for making its own independent investigation and appraisal of the transactions contemplated hereby, and the Initial Purchasers shall have no responsibility or liability to the Company with respect thereto. Any review by the Initial Purchasers of the Company, the transactions contemplated hereby or other matters relating to such transactions will be performed solely for the benefit of the Initial Purchasers and shall not be on behalf of the Company. The Company acknowledges that none of the activities of the Initial Purchasers in connection with the offering of Securities constitutes a recommendation, investment advice or solicitation or any action by the Initial Purchasers with respect to the Company.

3. Delivery and Payment. Delivery of and payment for the Securities shall be made at 10:00 A.M., New York City time, on January 13, 2025 or at such time on such later date as the Representatives shall designate, which date and time may be postponed by agreement between the Representatives and the Company or as provided in Section 8 hereof (such date and time of delivery and payment for the Securities, including as so postponed, being herein called the "Closing Date"). Delivery of the Securities shall be made to the Representatives for the respective accounts of the several Initial Purchasers against payment by the several Initial Purchasers through the Representatives of the purchase price thereof to or upon the order of the Company by wire transfer payable in same-day funds to the account specified by the Company.

Delivery of the Securities shall be made through the facilities of The Depository Trust Company (“DTC”) unless the Representatives shall otherwise instruct.

4. Offering by the Initial Purchasers. Each Initial Purchaser, severally and not jointly, represents and warrants to and agrees with the Company that:

(a) It has not offered or sold, and will not offer or sell, any Securities except (i) to persons it reasonably believes to be qualified institutional buyers (as defined in Rule 144A under the Act) and that, in connection with each such sale, it has taken or will take reasonable steps to ensure that the purchaser of such Securities is aware that such sale is being made in reliance on Rule 144A; or (ii) in accordance with the restrictions set forth in Exhibit A hereto.

(b) Neither it nor any person acting on its behalf has made or will make offers or sales of the Securities in the United States by means of any form of general solicitation or general advertising (within the meaning of Regulation D) in the United States or in any manner involving a public offering within the meaning of Section 4(a)(2) of the Act.

(c) Unless it has obtained or will obtain the prior written consent of the Company, it has not used, and will not use, or authorize use of, any written communication that constitutes an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy the Securities other than: (i) the Preliminary Memorandum; (ii) the Time of Sale Memorandum; (iii) the Final Memorandum; (iv) any Additional Written Offering Communications identified in SCHEDULE II hereto; and (v) any Bloomberg or other customary electronic communications providing certain ratings or proposed terms of the Securities or relating to marketing, administrative or procedural matters in connection with the offering of the Securities.

5. Covenants of the Company. The Company agrees with each Initial Purchaser that:

(b) Before amending or supplementing the Preliminary Memorandum, the Time of Sale Memorandum or the Final Memorandum, the Company will furnish to the Initial Purchasers a copy of each such proposed amendment or supplement and will not use any such proposed amendment or supplement to which the Initial Purchasers reasonably object.

(c) The Company will furnish to each Initial Purchaser a copy of each proposed Additional Written Offering Communication to be prepared by or on behalf of, used by, or referred to by the Company and agrees not to use or refer to any proposed Additional Written Offering Communication to which the Initial Purchasers reasonably object.

(d) If at any time prior to the completion of the sale of the Securities by the Initial Purchasers (as determined by the Representatives), any event occurs as a result of which the Time of Sale Memorandum or the Final Memorandum, as then amended or supplemented, would include any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, or if it should be necessary to amend or supplement the Time of Sale Memorandum or the Final Memorandum to comply with applicable law, the Company promptly: (i) will notify the Representatives of any such event; (ii) subject to the requirements of paragraph (b) of this Section 5, will prepare an amendment or supplement that will correct such statement or omission or effect such compliance; and (iii) will supply any supplemented or amended Time of Sale Memorandum or the Final Memorandum to the several Initial Purchasers and counsel for the Initial Purchasers without charge in such quantities as they may reasonably request.

(e) The Company will arrange, if necessary, for the qualification of the Securities for sale by the Initial Purchasers under the laws of such jurisdictions as the Initial Purchasers may reasonably designate and will maintain such qualifications in effect so long as required for the sale of the Securities; provided that in no event shall the Company be obligated to qualify to do business in any jurisdiction where it is not now so qualified or to take any action that would subject it to service of process in suits, other than those arising out of the offering or sale of the Securities, in any jurisdiction where it is not now so subject. The Company will promptly advise the Representatives of the receipt by the Company of any notification with respect to the suspension of the qualification of the Securities for sale in any jurisdiction or the initiation or threatening of any proceeding for such purpose.

(f) During the period of one year after the Closing Date, the Company will not resell, and will not permit any person that is an affiliate (as defined in Rule 144 under the Act) at the time of any contemplated resale or that has been an affiliate within the three months preceding such time to resell, any of the Securities that have been reacquired by any of them, except for Securities purchased by the Company or any of its affiliates and resold in a transaction registered under the Act or in reliance of Regulation S.

(g) Neither the Company, nor any of its Affiliates, nor any person acting on its or their behalf will, directly or indirectly, make offers or sales of any security, or solicit offers to buy any security, under circumstances that would require the registration of the Securities under the Act.

(h) Neither the Company, nor any of its Affiliates, nor any person acting on its or their behalf will, directly or indirectly, make offers or sales of the Securities in Chile or to any resident of Chile, except as permitted by applicable Chilean law.

(i) Neither the Company, nor any of its Affiliates, nor any person acting on its or their behalf will engage in any form of general solicitation or general advertising (within the meaning of Regulation D) in connection with any offer or sale of the Securities in the United States or in any manner involving a public offering within the meaning of Section 4(a)(2) of the Act.

(j) So long as any of the Securities are “restricted securities” within the meaning of Rule 144(a)(3) under the Act, the Company will, unless it becomes subject to and complies with Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act, or becomes exempt from such reporting requirements pursuant to, and complies with, Rule 12g3-2(b) under the Exchange Act, provide to each holder of such restricted securities and to each prospective purchaser (as designated by such holder) of such restricted securities, upon the request of such holder or prospective purchaser, any information required to be provided by Rule 144A(d)(4) under the Act. This covenant is intended to be for the benefit of the holders, and the prospective purchasers designated by such holders, from time to time of such restricted securities.

(k) Neither the Company, nor any of its Affiliates, nor any person acting on its or their behalf will engage in any directed selling efforts (as defined in Regulation S) with respect to the Securities.

(l) The Company will cooperate with the Representatives and use its best efforts to permit the Securities to be eligible for clearance and settlement through DTC, including its indirect participants, Euroclear Bank S.A./N.V. (“Euroclear”) and Clearstream Banking, S.A. (“Clearstream”).

(m) The Company will use its best efforts to effect the listing of the Securities on the Euro MTF market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and for so long as the Securities are outstanding, will file with the Euro MTF market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange and any other governmental agency, authority or instrumentality in Luxembourg as may be required, such reports, documents, agreements and other information which may, from time to time, be required to be so filed; provided that the Company may, in its reasonable discretion, de-list the Securities in the event that any European or national legislation becomes effective in Luxembourg in a manner that would require the Company to publish or produce financial statements according to accounting principles or standards that are different from IFRS or that would otherwise impose requirements that the Company determines, in its reasonable discretion, are not reasonable.

(n) The Company will not for a period of 30 days following the Execution Time, without the prior written consent of the Representatives, offer, sell or contract to sell, or otherwise dispose of (or enter into any transaction which is designed to, or might reasonably be expected to, result in the disposition (whether by actual disposition or effective economic disposition due to cash settlement or otherwise) by the Company or any Affiliate of the Company or any person in privity with the Company or any Affiliate of the Company), directly or indirectly, or announce any public or broadly marketed offering of, any U.S. dollar-denominated debt securities issued or guaranteed by the Company in the international capital markets (other than the Securities).

(o) The Company will not take, directly or indirectly, any action designed to cause or result in, or that has constituted or which might reasonably be expected to constitute or cause or result in, under the Exchange Act or otherwise, the stabilization or manipulation of the price of any security of the Company to facilitate the sale or resale of the Securities.

(p) The Company agrees either to pay directly or to reimburse the Initial Purchasers, as the case may be, for the reasonable and documented expenses relating to the following matters: (i) the issuance of the Securities and the fees and expenses of the Trustee (including, without limitation, the fees of counsel for such trustee); (ii) the preparation, printing and reproduction of each of the Preliminary Memorandum and Final Memorandum and each amendment or supplement to either of them, including the pricing term sheet prepared by the Company and any Additional Written Offering Communications identified in SCHEDULE II hereto; (iii) the printing (and reproduction) and delivery (including postage, air freight charges and charges for counting and packaging) of such copies of each of the Preliminary Memorandum and Final Memorandum, and all amendments or supplements to either of them, as may, in each case, be reasonably requested for use in connection with the offering and sale of the Securities; (iv) the preparation, printing, authentication, issuance and delivery of certificates for the Securities, including any stamp or transfer taxes in connection with the original issuance and sale of the Securities; (v) the printing (and reproduction) and delivery of this Agreement, any blue sky memorandum and all other agreements or documents printed (or reproduced) and delivered in connection with the offering of the Securities; (vi) any registration or qualification of the Securities for offer and sale under the securities or blue sky laws of the several states (including filing fees and the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel for the Initial Purchasers relating to such registration and qualification); (vii) the listing of the Securities with the Euro MTF market of the Luxembourg Stock Exchange (including the fees of the agent retained in connection with such listing); (viii) the approval of the Securities for book-entry transfer by DTC, Euroclear and Clearstream; (ix) the rating of the Securities by rating agencies; (x) the expenses incurred by the Company or the Initial Purchasers in connection with presentations to prospective purchasers of the Securities; (xi) the fees and expenses of the Company's accountants; (xii) the fees and expenses of counsel (including local and special United States and Chilean counsels) for the Company; (xiii) all other reasonable and documented expenses incurred by the Initial Purchasers in connection with the offering and sale of the Securities, except for the fees and expenses of counsels (including United States and Chilean counsels) for the Initial Purchasers; and (xiv) all other fees and expenses incident to the performance by the Company and the Initial Purchasers of their obligations hereunder; provided that, if the offering of the Securities (A) is not completed within twelve months because any condition to the obligations of the Initial Purchasers set forth in Section 6 hereof is not satisfied, because of any termination pursuant to Section 9 hereof or because of any refusal, inability or failure on the part of the Company to perform any agreement herein or comply with any provision hereof other than by reason of a default by any of the Initial Purchasers, the Company shall pay directly all costs and expenses contemplated by this Section 5(p) or, to the extent the Initial Purchasers have borne such costs and expenses, shall reimburse the Initial Purchasers severally through the Representatives; and (B) is completed, the Initial Purchasers shall pay for all such costs and expenses of this Section 5(p) pro rata in proportion to each Initial Purchaser's commitment to purchase Securities as listed in SCHEDULE I hereto in accordance with Section 2(a) and this Section 5(p) (except for the costs and expenses contemplated by 5(p)(ix), 5(p)(xi) and 5(p)(xii), which shall be paid directly by the Company whether or not the offering of the Securities is completed), and the Company shall cover such costs and expenses of this Section 5(p) pursuant to Section 2(a).

(r) The Company will not take any action or omit to take any action (such as issuing any press release relating to any Securities without an appropriate legend) which may result in the loss by any of the Initial Purchasers of the ability to rely on any stabilization safe harbor provided by the Financial Conduct Authority under the U.K. Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (the “FSMA”).

6. Conditions to the Obligations of the Initial Purchasers. The obligations of the Initial Purchasers to purchase the Securities on the Closing Date shall be subject to the accuracy of the representations and warranties of the Company contained herein at the Execution Time and the Closing Date, to the accuracy of the statements of the Company made in any certificates pursuant to the provisions hereof, to the performance by the Company of its obligations hereunder and to the following additional conditions:

(xviii) the Company has validly and irrevocably waived pursuant to Section 17 hereof and to the provisions of the Indenture and the Securities for itself and its revenues and assets, to the full extent permitted by Chilean law, any immunity from suit, jurisdiction, attachment in aid or execution of a judgment or prior to a judgment, execution of a judgment or any other legal process with respect to its obligations, respectively, under this Agreement, the Indenture and the Securities that it may be entitled or become entitled whether or not claimed, including sovereign immunity, except that (i) for the attachment and judicial sale of mining concessions and installations and other goods permanently dedicated to exploration or extraction of minerals relating to such mining concessions, except with respect to mortgages, the consent of the Company will be required and shall be given in the same judicial proceeding in which the attachment and sale is sought (as set forth in Article 226 of the Mining Code of Chile); and (ii) pursuant to the Chilean Constitution, the mining concessions corresponding to mining deposits exploited by the Company upon its creation in 1976 cannot be subject to attachment nor to any act of disposition by the Company. Each such waiver is binding under Chilean law and remains in full force and effect; and

(xix) this Agreement, the Indenture and the Securities are in proper legal form under the laws of Chile for the enforcement thereof against the Company in Chile without the need to obtain any other consent, approval or authorization, to file any notification or to take any further action on the part of the Initial Purchasers or the Trustee and to ensure the legality, validity, enforceability or admissibility in evidence of any of this Agreement, the Indenture and the Securities, and except for their translation into Spanish for their presentation to a Chilean court and subject to the payment of the applicable stamp tax, if any (and applicable readjustments and penalties, if any), it is not necessary that any other document be filed or recorded with any court or other authority in Chile or that any stamp or similar tax be paid on or in respect of any such document or the Securities.

In rendering such opinion, such counsel may rely (A) as to matters involving the application of laws of any jurisdiction other than Chile, to the extent they deem proper and specified in such opinion, upon the opinion of other counsel of good standing whom they believe to be reliable and who are satisfactory to counsel for the Initial Purchasers; and (B) as to matters of fact, to the extent they deem proper, on certificates of responsible officers of the Company and public officials. References to the Final Memorandum in this Section 6(d) include any amendment or supplement thereto at the Closing Date.

(e) The Representatives shall have received from Allen Overy Shearman Sterling US LLP, U.S. counsel for the Representatives, such opinion or opinions, dated the Closing Date and addressed to the Representatives, with respect to the issuance and sale of the Securities, the Indenture, the Time of Sale Memorandum and the Final Memorandum (as amended or supplemented at the Closing Date) and other related matters as the Representatives may reasonably require, and the Company shall have furnished to such counsel such documents as they request for the purpose of enabling them to pass upon such matters.

(f) The Representatives shall have received from Garrigues Chile Limitada, special Chilean counsel for the Representatives, such opinion or opinions, dated the Closing Date and addressed to the Representatives, with respect to the issuance and sale of the Securities, the Indenture, the Time of Sale Memorandum, the Final Memorandum (as amended or supplemented at the Closing Date) and other related matters as the Representatives may reasonably require, and the Company shall have furnished to such counsel such documents as they request for the purpose of enabling them to pass upon such matters.

(g) The Company shall have furnished to the Representatives a certificate of the Company, signed by the Head of Finance of the Company, dated the Closing Date, to the effect that the signatory of such certificate has carefully examined each of the Time of Sale Memorandum, the Final Memorandum, any amendment or supplement to the Final Memorandum and this Agreement and that:

(i) the representations and warranties of the Company in this Agreement are true and correct in all material respects on and as of the Closing Date with the same effect as if made on the Closing Date, and the Company has complied with all the agreements and satisfied all the conditions on its part to be performed or satisfied hereunder at or prior to the Closing Date; and

(ii) since the date of the most recent financial statements included in each of the Time of Sale Memorandum and the Final Memorandum (exclusive of any amendment or supplement thereto), there has been no development giving rise to a current or prospective material adverse change in the condition (financial or otherwise), earnings, business or properties of the Company and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, whether or not arising from transactions in the ordinary course of business, except as set forth in or contemplated by each of the Time of Sale Memorandum and the Final Memorandum (exclusive of any amendment or supplement thereto).

(h) At the Execution Time and at the Closing Date, the Company shall have requested and caused PricewaterhouseCoopers Consultores, Auditores y Compañía Limitada, independent audit firm with respect to the Company, to furnish to the Representatives letters, dated respectively as of the Execution Time and as of the Closing Date, in form and substance satisfactory to the Representatives, containing statements and information of the type ordinarily included in accountants' "comfort letters" to underwriters with respect to the full-years 2021, 2022 and 2023, the interim unaudited consolidated financial statements as of and for the nine months ended September 30, 2024 and 2023, and certain financial and other information contained in each of the Preliminary Memorandum and the Final Memorandum; provided that the letter delivered on the Closing Date shall use a “cut-off date” not earlier than three business days prior to the date thereof.

References to the Final Memorandum in this Section 6(h) include any amendment or supplement thereto at the date of the applicable letter.

(i) Subsequent to the Execution Time or, if earlier, the dates as of which information is given in each of the Time of Sale Memorandum and the Final Memorandum (exclusive of any amendment or supplement thereto), there shall not have been (i) any change or decrease specified in the letter or letters referred to in paragraph 6(h) of this Section 6; or (ii) any change, or any development involving a prospective change, in or affecting the condition (financial or otherwise), business or properties of the Company and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, whether or not arising from transactions in the ordinary course of business, except as set forth or contemplated in the Time of Sale Memorandum and the Final Memorandum (exclusive of any amendment or supplement thereto) the effect of which, in any case referred to in clause (i) or (ii) above, is, in the reasonable judgment of the Representatives, so material and adverse as to make it impractical or inadvisable to proceed with the offering, sale or delivery of the Securities as contemplated by the Time of Sale Memorandum and the Final Memorandum (exclusive of any amendment or supplement thereto).

(j) Subsequent to the Execution Time, there shall not have been any decrease in the rating accorded the Company or any of the Company’s foreign-currency denominated debt securities by any “nationally recognized statistical rating organization” (as such term is defined in Section 3(a)(62) of the Exchange Act) or any notice given of any intended or potential decrease in any such rating or of a possible change in any such rating that does not indicate the direction of the possible change.

(k) At the Execution Time and on the Closing Date, the Representatives shall have received a written certificate executed by the Chief Financial Officer of the Company, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Representatives, with respect to certain financial information contained in the Offering Memorandum.

(l) Prior to the Closing Date, the Company shall have furnished to the Representatives such further information, certificates and documents as the Representatives may reasonably request.

If any of the conditions specified in this Section 6 shall not have been fulfilled in all material respects when and as provided in this Agreement, or if any of the opinions and certificates mentioned above or elsewhere in this Agreement shall not have been delivered in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to the Representatives and counsel for the Initial Purchasers, this Agreement and all obligations of the Initial Purchasers hereunder may be canceled at, or at any time prior to, the Closing Date by the Representatives. Notice of such cancellation shall be given to the Company in writing or by telephone or facsimile confirmed in writing.

The documents required to be delivered by this Section 6 will be delivered at the office of counsel for the Initial Purchasers, Allen Overy Shearman Sterling US LLP, at 599 Lexington Avenue, New York, New York 10022, on the Closing Date.

7. Indemnification and Contribution. (a) The Company agrees to indemnify and hold harmless each Initial Purchaser, the directors, officers, employees, affiliates and agents of each Initial Purchaser and each person who controls any Initial Purchaser within the meaning of either the Act or the Exchange Act against any and all losses, claims, damages or liabilities, joint or several, to which they or any of them may become subject under the Act, the Exchange Act or any other federal or state statutory law or regulation, at common law or otherwise, insofar as such losses, claims, damages or liabilities (or actions in respect thereof) arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in the Time of Sale Memorandum, any Additional Written Offering Communication prepared by or on behalf of, used by, or referred to by the Company, any “road show” as defined in Rule 433(h) under the Act (a “road show”), or the Final Memorandum or any information provided by the Company to any holder or prospective purchaser of Securities pursuant to Section 5(j), or in any amendment thereof or supplement thereto, or arise out of or are based upon the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, and agrees to reimburse each such indemnified party, for any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred by them in connection with investigating or defending any such loss, claim, damage, liability or action, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the Company will not be liable in any such case to the extent that any such loss, claim, damage or liability arises out of or is based upon any such untrue statement or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission made in the Time of Sale Memorandum or the Final Memorandum, or in any amendment thereof or supplement thereto, or in any Additional Written Offering Communication, in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished to the Company by or on behalf of any Initial Purchasers through the Representatives specifically for inclusion therein.

(b) Each Initial Purchaser severally and not jointly agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Company, each of its directors, each of its officers, and each person who controls the Company within the meaning of either the Act or the Exchange Act, to the same extent as the foregoing indemnity from the Company to each Initial Purchaser, but only with reference to information relating to such Initial Purchaser furnished to the Company in writing by or on behalf of such Initial Purchaser through the Representatives specifically for inclusion in the Time of Sale Memorandum, road show or the Final Memorandum (or in any amendment or supplement thereto). The indemnity agreement under this Section 7 will be in addition to any liability which any Initial Purchaser may otherwise have. The Company acknowledges that (i) the names of the Representatives set forth on the cover page, (ii) the statements set forth in the last paragraph of the cover page regarding delivery of the Securities and (iii) under the heading “Plan of Distribution”: (A) the names of the Representatives and the amounts in the table, (B) the single sentence following the second full paragraph regarding the purchase price, (C) the fifth sentence of the eighth paragraph regarding market making activities, (D) the ninth paragraph related to stabilization and syndicate covering transactions and (E) the third sentence of the eleventh paragraph regarding hedging activity, constitute the only information furnished in writing by or on behalf of the Initial Purchasers for inclusion in the Time of Sale Memorandum or the Final Memorandum (or in any amendment or supplement thereto).

(c) Promptly after receipt by an indemnified party under this Section 7 of notice of the commencement of any action, such indemnified party will, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against the indemnifying party under this Section 7, notify the indemnifying party in writing of the commencement thereof; but the failure so to notify the indemnifying party (i) will not relieve it from liability under paragraphs (a) or (b) above unless and to the extent it did not otherwise learn of such action and such failure results in the forfeiture by the indemnifying party of substantive rights and defenses; and (ii) will not, in any event, relieve the indemnifying party from any obligations to any indemnified party other than the indemnification obligation provided in paragraphs (a) or (b) above. The indemnifying party shall be entitled to appoint counsel of the indemnifying party's choice at the indemnifying party's expense to represent the indemnified party in any action for which indemnification is sought (in which case the indemnifying party shall not thereafter be responsible for the fees and expenses of any separate counsel (including local counsel) retained by the indemnified party or parties except as set forth below); provided, however, that such counsel shall be satisfactory to the indemnified party. Notwithstanding the indemnifying party's election to appoint counsel to represent the indemnified party in an action, the indemnified party shall have the right to employ separate counsel (including local counsel), and the indemnifying party shall bear the reasonable fees, costs and expenses of such separate counsel if (i) the use of counsel chosen by the indemnifying party to represent the indemnified party would present such counsel with a conflict of interest; (ii) the actual or potential defendants in, or targets of, any such action include both the indemnified party and the indemnifying party and the indemnified party shall have reasonably concluded that there may be legal defenses available to it and/or other indemnified parties which are different from or additional to those available to the indemnifying party; (iii) the indemnifying party shall not have employed counsel satisfactory to the indemnified party to represent the indemnified party within a reasonable time after notice of the institution of such action; or (iv) the indemnifying party shall authorize the indemnified party to employ separate counsel at the expense of the indemnifying party. It is understood, however, that the indemnifying party shall, in connection with any one such action or separate but substantially similar or related actions in the same jurisdiction arising out of the same general allegations or circumstances, be liable for the reasonable fees and expenses of only one such separate firm of attorneys (in addition to any local counsel) at any time for all such indemnified parties and controlling persons, which firm shall be designated in writing by the indemnified parties. An indemnifying party will not, without the prior written consent of the indemnified parties, settle or compromise or consent to the entry of any judgment with respect to any pending or threatened claim, action, suit or proceeding in respect of which indemnification or contribution may be sought hereunder (whether or not the indemnified parties are actual or potential parties to such claim or action) unless such settlement, compromise or consent (i) includes an unconditional release of each indemnified party from all liability arising out of such claim, action, suit or proceeding; and (ii) does not include any statement as to or any admission of fault, culpability or a failure to act by or on behalf of an indemnified party.

(d) In the event that the indemnity provided in paragraphs (a) or (b) of this Section 7 is unavailable to or insufficient to hold harmless an indemnified party for any reason, the Company and the Initial Purchasers agree to contribute to the aggregate losses, claims, damages and liabilities (including legal or other expenses reasonably incurred in connection with investigating or defending same) (collectively “Losses”) to which the Company and one or more of the Initial Purchasers may be subject in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative benefits received by the Company on the one hand and by the Initial Purchasers on the other from the offering of the Securities; provided, however, that in no case shall any Initial Purchaser (except as may be provided in any agreement among the Initial Purchasers relating to the offering of the Securities) be responsible for any amount in excess of the purchase discount or commission applicable to the Securities purchased by such Initial Purchaser hereunder. If the allocation provided by the immediately preceding sentence is unavailable for any reason, the Company and the Initial Purchasers shall contribute in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect not only such relative benefits but also the relative fault of the Company on the one hand and of the Initial Purchasers on the other in connection with the statements or omissions that resulted in such Losses, as well as any other relevant equitable considerations. Benefits received by the Company shall be deemed to be equal to the total net proceeds from the offering (before deducting expenses) received by it, and benefits received by the Initial Purchasers shall be deemed to be equal to the total purchase discounts and commissions in each case set forth on the cover of the Final Memorandum. Relative fault shall be determined by reference to, among other things, (i) whether any untrue or any alleged untrue statement of a material fact or the omission or alleged omission to state a material fact relates to information provided by the Company on the one hand or the Initial Purchasers on the other, (ii) the intent of the parties and (iii) their relative knowledge, access to information and opportunity to correct or prevent such untrue statement or omission. The Company and the Initial Purchasers agree that it would not be just and equitable if contribution were determined by pro rata allocation or any other method of allocation which does not take account of the equitable considerations referred to above. Notwithstanding the provisions of this paragraph (d), no person guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the Act) shall be entitled to contribution from any person who was not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation. For purposes of this Section 7, each person who controls an Initial Purchaser within the meaning of either the Act or the Exchange Act and each director, officer, employee, affiliate and agent of an Initial Purchaser shall have the same rights to contribution as such Initial Purchaser, and each person who controls the Company within the meaning of either the Act or the Exchange Act and each officer and director of the Company shall have the same rights to contribution as the Company, subject in each case to the applicable terms and conditions of this paragraph (d). Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 7, no Initial Purchaser shall be required to contribute any amount in excess of the discounts received by such Initial Purchaser in connection with the Securities distributed by it. The Initial Purchasers’ obligations to contribute pursuant to this Section 7 are several, and not joint, in proportion to their respective commitments as set forth opposite their names in SCHEDULE I.

8. Default by an Initial Purchaser. If any one or more Initial Purchasers shall fail to purchase and pay for any of the Securities agreed to be purchased by such Initial Purchaser hereunder and such failure to purchase shall constitute a default in the performance of its or their obligations under this Agreement, the remaining Initial Purchasers shall be obligated severally to take up and pay for (in the respective proportions which the principal amount of Securities set forth opposite their names in SCHEDULE I hereto bears to the aggregate principal amount of Securities set forth opposite the names of all the remaining Initial Purchasers) the Securities which the defaulting Initial Purchaser or Initial Purchasers agreed but failed to purchase; provided, however, that in the event that the aggregate principal amount of Securities which the defaulting Initial Purchaser or Initial Purchasers agreed but failed to purchase shall exceed 10% of the aggregate principal amount of Securities set forth in SCHEDULE I hereto, the remaining Initial Purchasers shall have the right to purchase all, but shall not be under any obligation to purchase any, of the Securities, and if such nondefaulting Initial Purchasers do not purchase all the Securities, this Agreement will terminate without liability to any nondefaulting Initial Purchaser or the Company. In the event of a default by any Initial Purchaser as set forth in this Section 8, the Closing Date shall be postponed for such period, not exceeding five Business Days, as the Representatives shall determine in order that the required changes in the Final Memorandum or in any other documents or arrangements may be effected. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall relieve any defaulting Initial Purchaser of its liability, if any, to the Company or any nondefaulting Initial Purchaser for damages occasioned by its default hereunder.

9. Termination. This Agreement shall be subject to termination in the absolute discretion of the Representatives, by notice given to the Company prior to delivery of and payment for the Securities, if at any time prior to such time (i) trading in securities generally on the Santiago Stock Exchange, the New York Stock Exchange or the Nasdaq National Market shall have been suspended or limited or minimum prices shall have been established on either such exchange or the Nasdaq National Market; (ii) trading of any securities issued or guaranteed by the Company shall have been suspended on any exchange or in any over-the-counter market; (iii) a banking moratorium shall have been declared in New York either by federal or New York state authorities or in Chile by the Chilean Central Bank or other competent government regulator; or (iv) there shall have occurred any outbreak or escalation of hostilities, declaration by the United States of a national emergency or war or other calamity or crisis the effect of which on financial markets is such as to make it, in the reasonable judgment of the Representatives, impracticable or inadvisable to proceed with the offering, sale or delivery of the Securities as contemplated by this Agreement, the Time of Sale Memorandum and the Final Memorandum (exclusive of any amendment or supplement thereto).

10. Representations, Covenants and Indemnities to Survive. The respective agreements, representations, warranties, indemnities and other statements of the Company or its officers and of the Initial Purchasers set forth in or made pursuant to this Agreement will remain in full force and effect, regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of the Initial Purchasers or the Company or any of the officers, directors or controlling persons referred to in Section 7 hereof, and will survive delivery of and payment for the Securities. The provisions of Sections 5(p) and 7 hereof shall survive the termination or cancellation of this Agreement.

11. Recognition of the U.S. Special Resolution Regimes.

(a) In the event that any Initial Purchaser that is a Covered Entity becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, the transfer from such Initial Purchaser of this Agreement, and any interest and obligation in or under this Agreement, will be effective to the same extent as the transfer would be effective under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime if this Agreement, and any such interest and obligation, were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States.

(b) In the event that any Initial Purchaser that is a Covered Entity or a BHC Act Affiliate of such Initial Purchaser becomes subject to a proceeding under a U.S. Special Resolution Regime, Default Rights under this Agreement that may be exercised against such Initial Purchaser are permitted to be exercised to no greater extent than such Default Rights could be exercised under the U.S. Special Resolution Regime if this Agreement were governed by the laws of the United States or a state of the United States.

12. Notices. All communications hereunder will be in writing and effective only upon receipt, and, if sent to the Representatives, will be mailed, delivered or telefaxed to BofA Securities, Inc., at 114 W 47th Street NY8-114-07-01, New York, New York 10036, Facsimile: 1-646-855-5958, Attention: High Grade Transaction Management/Legal, Email: dg.hg_ua_notices@bofa.com; Citigroup Global Markets Inc., at 388 Greenwich Street, New York, New York 10013, Attention: General Counsel, Facsimile: 1-646-291-1469; J.P. 13. Successors. This Agreement will inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the parties hereto and their respective successors and the officers and directors and controlling persons referred to in Section 7 hereof, and, except as expressly set forth in Section 5(j) hereof, no other person will have any right or obligation hereunder.

14. Jurisdiction. The Company agrees that any suit, action or proceeding against the Company brought by any Initial Purchaser, the directors, officers, employees, affiliates and agents of any Initial Purchaser, or by any person who controls any Initial Purchaser, arising out of or based upon this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby may be instituted in any New York state or U.S. federal court located in the Borough of Manhattan, the City of New York, New York, and waives, to the extent legally permitted, any objection which it may now or hereafter have to the laying of venue of any such proceeding, and irrevocably submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of such courts in any suit, action or proceeding. The Company has appointed Cogency Global Inc. as its authorized agent (the “Authorized Agent”) upon whom process may be served in any suit, action or proceeding arising out of or based upon this Agreement or the transactions contemplated herein which may be instituted in any state or federal court in the City of New York, New York, by any Initial Purchaser, the directors, officers, employees, affiliates and agents of any Initial Purchaser, or by any person who controls any Initial Purchaser, and expressly accepts the non-exclusive jurisdiction of any such court in respect of any such suit, action or proceeding. The Company hereby represents and warrants that the Authorized Agent has accepted such appointment and has agreed to act as said agent for service of process, and the Company agrees to take any and all action, including the filing of any and all documents that may be necessary to continue such appointment in full force and effect as aforesaid. Service of process upon the Authorized Agent shall be deemed, in every respect, effective service of process upon the Company. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any action arising out of or based upon this Agreement may be instituted by any Initial Purchaser, the directors, officers, employees, affiliates and agents of any Initial Purchaser, or by any person who controls any Initial Purchaser, in any court of competent jurisdiction in Chile. The Company hereby irrevocably waives trial by jury in any legal action or proceeding relating to this Agreement and for any counterclaim relating thereto. The Company acknowledges that each Initial Purchaser is entering into this Agreement in reliance upon such waiver.

15. Applicable Law. This Agreement and any claim, controversy or dispute arising under or related to this Agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York applicable to contracts made and to be performed within the State of New York.

16. Currency. Each reference in this Agreement to U.S. dollars (the “relevant currency”) is of the essence. To the fullest extent permitted by law, the obligation of the Company in respect of any amount due under this Agreement will, notwithstanding any payment in any other currency (whether pursuant to a judgment or otherwise), be discharged only to the extent of the amount in the relevant currency that the party entitled to receive such payment may, in accordance with its normal procedures, purchase with the sum paid in such other currency (after any premium and costs of exchange) on the Business Day immediately following the day on which such party receives such payment. If the amount in the relevant currency that may be so purchased for any reason falls short of the amount originally due, the Company will pay such additional amounts, in the relevant currency, as may be necessary to compensate for the shortfall. Any obligation of the Company not discharged by such payment will, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, be due as a separate and independent obligation and, until discharged as provided herein, will continue in full force and effect.

17. Waiver of Immunity. To the extent that the Company may be entitled in any jurisdiction in which judicial proceedings may at any time be commenced hereunder, to claim for itself or its revenues or assets any immunity, including sovereign immunity, from suit, jurisdiction, attachment in aid of execution of a judgment or prior to a judgment, execution of a judgment or any other legal process with respect to its obligations hereunder, and to the extent that in any such jurisdiction there may be attributed to the Company such an immunity (whether or not claimed), the Company hereby irrevocably agrees not to claim and irrevocably waives such immunity to the maximum extent permitted by law, except that (i) for the attachment and judicial sale of mining concessions and installations and other goods permanently dedicated to exploration or extraction of minerals relating to such mining concessions, except with respect to mortgages, the consent of the Company will be required and shall be given in the same judicial proceeding in which the attachment and sale is sought (as set forth in Article 226 of the Mining Code of Chile); and (ii) pursuant to the Chilean Constitution, the mining concessions corresponding to mining deposits exploited by the Company upon its creation in 1976 cannot be subject to attachment nor to any act of disposition by the Company. Each such waiver is binding under Chilean law and remains in full force and effect. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any action based on this Agreement may be instituted by the Initial Purchasers in any competent court in Chile.

18. Payment Free and Clear. All payments to be made by the Company under this Agreement shall be paid free and clear of, and without deduction or withholding for or on account of, any present or future taxes, levies, imposts, duties, fees, assessments or other charges of whatever nature (including any amounts that result from the payment of fees, compensation or reimbursement of costs contemplated in this Agreement or in the Indenture), imposed by Chile, or by any department, agency or other political subdivision or taxing authority thereof, and all interest, penalties or similar liabilities with respect thereto (collectively, “Chilean Taxes”). If any Chilean Taxes are required by law to be deducted or withheld in connection with such payments, the Company will pay such additional amounts as may be necessary so that the full amount of such payment is received by the Initial Purchasers, except that no additional amounts shall be paid with respect to any such taxes, levies, imposts, duties, fees, assessments or charges (i) imposed by reason of an Initial Purchaser or a current holder of any of the Securities having some connection with the jurisdiction imposing the tax other than solely as a result of its participation as an Initial Purchaser hereunder or (ii) imposed by the failure of an Initial Purchaser or a current holder of any of the Securities to comply with any certification, identification or other reporting requirement, if such compliance is required under applicable law as a precondition to relief or exemption from such taxes, levies, imposts, duties, fees, assessments or charges.

19. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall constitute an original and all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Counterparts may be delivered via facsimile, electronic mail (including any electronic signature covered by the U.S. federal ESIGN Act of 2000, Uniform Electronic Transactions Act, the Electronic Signatures and Records Act or other applicable law, e.g., www.docusign.com) or other transmission method and any counterpart so delivered shall be deemed to have been duly and validly delivered and be valid and effective for all purposes.

Selling Restrictions for Offers and Sales outside the United States

(1) (a) The Securities have not been and will not be registered under the Act and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Act. Each Initial Purchaser represents and agrees that, except as permitted by Section 4(a)(i) of the Agreement to which this is an exhibit, it has not offered or sold, and will not offer or sell, any Securities constituting part of its allotment to U.S. persons (which term shall not include dealers or other professional fiduciaries in the United States acting on a discretionary basis for foreign beneficial owners (other than an estate or trust)). Accordingly, each Initial Purchaser represents and agrees that neither it, nor any of its Affiliates nor any person acting on its or their behalf has engaged or will engage in any directed selling efforts with respect to the Securities. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by Regulation S.

(b) Each Initial Purchaser also represents and agrees that it has not entered and will not enter into any contractual arrangement with any distributor (as that term is defined by Regulation S) with respect to the distribution of the Securities, except with its Affiliates or with the prior written consent of the Company.

(2) Each Initial Purchaser, severally and not jointly, represents, warrants and agrees that:

(a) it has only communicated or caused to be communicated and will only communicate or cause to be communicated any invitation or inducement to engage in investment activity (within the meaning of Section 21 of the FSMA) received by it in connection with the issue or sale of any Securities which are the subject of the offering contemplated by the Offering Memorandum in circumstances in which Section 21(1) of the FSMA does not apply to the Company;

(b) it has complied and will comply with all applicable provisions of the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (the “FSMA”) with respect to anything done by it in relation to the Securities in, from or otherwise involving the United Kingdom;

(c) it has not offered, sold or otherwise made available and will not offer, sell or otherwise make available any notes to any retail investor in the European Economic Area. For the purposes of this provision:

A. the expression “retail investor” means a person who is one (or more) of the following:

- (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97 (as amended, the “Insurance Distribution Directive”), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or
- (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (as amended, the “Prospectus Regulation”); and

B. the expression “offer” includes the communication in any form and by any means of sufficient information on the terms of the offer and the notes to be offered so as to enable an investor to decide to purchase or subscribe the notes; and

(d) it has not offered, sold or otherwise made available and will not offer, sell or otherwise make available any notes to any retail investor in the United Kingdom. For the purposes of this provision:

A. the expression “retail investor” means a person who is one (or more) of the following:

- (i) a retail client as defined in point (8) of Article 2 of Regulation (EU) No 2017/565 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 (“EUWA”); or
- (ii) a customer within the meaning of the provisions of the FSMA and any rules or regulations made under the FSMA to implement the Insurance Distribution Directive (EU) 2016/97, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA; or

A securities rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to revision or withdrawal at any time.

This communication is intended for the sole use of the person to whom it is provided by the sender.

The Notes have not been registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), and are being offered only (i) to qualified institutional buyers under Rule 144A of the Securities Act and (ii) outside the United States in compliance with Regulation S under the Securities Act.

Delivery of the Notes is expected on or about January 13, 2025, which will be the third business day following the date of pricing of the Notes (this settlement cycle being referred to as "T+3"). Under Rule 15c6-1 of the Exchange Act, trades in the secondary market generally are required to settle in one business day, unless the parties to any such trade expressly agree otherwise. Accordingly, purchasers who wish to trade Notes prior to the delivery of the Notes may be required, by virtue of the fact that the Notes initially will settle in T+3, to specify an alternate settlement cycle at the time of any such trade to prevent a failed settlement. Purchasers of the Notes who wish to trade Notes prior to their date of delivery hereunder should consult their own advisor.

The information in this term sheet supplements the Preliminary Offering Memorandum and supersedes the information in the Preliminary Offering Memorandum to the extent inconsistent with the information in the Preliminary Offering Memorandum. Consequently, no key information document required by Regulation No 1286/2014/EU (as amended, the “PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling any securities or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling any securities or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.
